Volume 1

Chapter 307 - Girl Crush.

After the award ceremony, the next week was quite hectic for Xu Nuan. She had to deal with the after-effects of the milestone that girls have achieved by winning three major awards only after a few months of debuting.

Her small office that was already cramped, reception counter, and the practice room, all was packed with the gifts and bouquets for 'The Knights'. From small to human-sized bouquets, branded expensive bags, and jewelry, the girls were receiving all kinds of gifts from their fans, people they have worked with, or who wanted to work with them.

Many known veteran idols and musicians were also sending them gifts as a token of appreciation, congratulating them on their achievements.

' Manager Xu, there are 5 boxes of fan letters and soft toys that we received today. What should we do with them ?' Xu Nuan was going to her office when the receptionist stopped her to ask.

Xu Nuan sighed seeing the large boxes filled with letters and soft toys from the fans. They were receiving these kinds of boxes daily and it was getting difficult to manage all of them.

' Handover the letters to the girls. They love reading their fan's letters. After they're done, keep them in the storeroom. And for the soft toys, donate them to an orphanage.' she said. The girls have gotten a bunch of gifts already, at first they want to keep and cherish their fan's gifts but after one point, it becomes difficult to keep all of them at their place.

Although, everyone at the office told her to sell the toys as second-hand products and get some money. Some even suggested throwing them to avoid the hassle to manage the gifts. However, she never throws away her fan's gifts. How can she? It's not only their gifts but love and passion for them.

In her past life, she either takes them with her or asks Lin Hui to donate them all to an orphanage where they can come into use. She was doing the same here as well. She has already uploaded a post on the fan club of the Knights this morning that from now on all the toys and gifts from the fans will be donated to an orphanage.

She had written at the end of the post to not send material gifts to the girls as they might not be able to manage them all and the gifts will be donated to an orphanage in the name of the fans of The Knights. If they don't want their gifts to be donated to others, then don't send the gifts at all.

CEO Tang and Wang Meili told her that it's a stupid move and will only enrage the fans. However, the post surprisingly got the support of the fans and everyone appreciated their honesty and how transparent they're about their actions.

[ This post is made by The Knights' cute manager, right? She is so thoughtful. I am glad that the girls are in the right hands.]

[ It's my first time seeing a company revealing what they're going to do with all the gifts. Donating to an orphanage is such a good deed. Managing so many gifts is impossible, it's way better than throwing them away. Although I didn't send anything before, I think I am gonna start sending gifts from now on. We'll be doing a good thing indirectly this way.]

[ If this would have been someone else, I would have thought that it's a publicity stunt, but seeing how The Knights' manager treats them, they may be gonna do this with the gifts from now on.]

[ My brother also works in the same industry as a backup dancer. He told me that many companies either resell the gifts from the fans or throw them away to avoid the hassle of dealing with them. It's rare for them to go to these heights to take care of the gifts from the fans.]

[ I am a fan of The Knights, but now I am gonna stan their manager too. She is too pretty to be just a manager. Also, she knows how to take care of our feelings as fans.]

Pan Lan chuckled to see all the comments and turned to Xu Nuan who was checking the list of offers that they have received by now after the award ceremony, ' Xu Nuan, they're calling you pretty. Don't you think they're blind ?'

Xu Nuan frowned and took out the pen from her mouth and turned to Pan Lan. She checked her out and said, ' Well, if they stan you and call you girl crush, then they're surely blind.'

' Pfft, Xu Nuan, Good one.' Song Ai chuckled and showed her a thumbs up.

For the whole week, Xu Nuan didn't go to college and skipped all of the classes since she was swamped with work. Even though she didn't go to college, she knows that it's crazy at the college at the moment.

All of the classmates who have her number kept messaging her and asking for an autograph from The Knights. The news of her working as an artist manager of The Knight, which used to be a secret, has been revealed to everyone thanks to Song Ai's heartwarming speech.

The chaos at the school after Xingren's controversy finally cooled down and now they have another reason to hype things about.

She was busy with her work when her phone buzzed. She checked her phone and sighed to see a notification from the college forum group discussion.

[ Xu Nuan is so mysterious. At first, no one was aware that she and Xingren are related to each other, now we're finding out that she is the manager of a famous girl group. Damn!]

[ Everything is cool, but why is she working as a manager? Didn't she top the scholarship exam? She can easily get a job at a big company or she can even work at Gu Corporations. I don't understand her reasons.]

[ Xu Nuan is so cool. Despite having a wealthy background, she wants to start from scratch. She must be good at her job, that's why The Knights thanked her on the stage.]

[ I have been following The knights since the start and I must say that they sing very well and they have chosen all of their work projects wisely. Seems like Xu Nuan cannot be looked down on in terms of skills.]

[ But don't you think it will be difficult for Xu Nuan to work as a manager because of her family situation. If anyone finds out about the things that happened at the college regarding Xu Nuan and Xingren's controversy, things will become chaotic.]

[ Xingren has left the college because of Xu Nuan. She is such a bully, she is the one who made things difficult for Xingren and was making this difficult for her. I will tell everyone about her real actions.]

Xu Nuan frowned at the person pointing out the things that she hadn't thought about. She had forgotten about Xingren. Just like this person, there will be other people too who think like this.

It will be an issue indeed. If he keeps talking about it, people will unquestionably start spreading it. After all, every rumor starts with simple questions and discussion before it can turn into a huge gossip.

She sighed and felt somewhat irritated to be reminded of this kind of thing. She opened the website on her laptop and was planning to take down the post when someone else commented under the post.

[ The person who created this group discussion has been warned two times already to not discuss anyone's personal life in this forum. As a result of violating the forum rules, the post will be taken down immediately and the user will be banned for a year from using the forum. If this kind of attitude continues, the user can also be rusticated from the college for not following the rules and invading someone else's private space. - Aurora.]

Xu Nuan pursed her lips to see Aurora's comment who is the moderator of the forum and looks after the discussions going in the forum. This isn't the first time that someone has gossiped in this forum but it was the first time that he has spoken firmly for someone and has supported them.

He might show that he doesn't like her or care for her, but inwardly, he also treats her as a friend. Otherwise, why would he help her at the party the last time and also support her when everyone accused her of cheating in an exam.

Her lips stretched into a warm smile. He is a nice guy indeed. He is also good at his studies, good with games and computers too.

Hmm...She was thinking about something when she heard a knock on her office door. ' Xu Nuan, Mr. Tang has called you to his office.' the receptionist notified her.

‘ Okay. thanks.’ Xu Nuan smiled at her. She arranged her things and left for his office after closing her laptop.
