Volume 1

Chapter 315 - Ideal Father!

Xie Ming smiled at Xu Nuan's reaction and quietly took her hand to check her pulse, meanwhile Xu Nuan continued her blabbering, 'OMG!! You're such a star. I loved that movie and loved you as the badass Empress.'

'I can't believe you're my doctor. I did hear the news that you have left the industry and became a doctor, however, even after years, it still feels unreal. You're such a beauty.' Xu Nuan said with sparkling eyes.

She was a trainee when she watched the movie with her members in the theatre and was cheering and sobbing whenever the Empress appeared on the screen. She was the reason that she chose a royal name for their group and used The Queens as their group name.

Han Zihao chuckled seeing Xu Nuan's loud reaction and was speechless at how she was swooning over the lady doctor. She used to be a superstar herself and yet she is fangirling over a doctor.

Han Zihao looked at Xie Ming, who was checking Xu Nuan's pulse silently and there was a frown on her forehead. 'Doctor, is everything alright?'

Xie Ming looked at him and let go of Xu Nuan's hand, 'Ms. Xu, when did you have your last period?'

Xu Nuan glanced at Han Zihao hesitantly before answering, ‘ Well, I...don’t know ? It’s been quite a while since I had my periods.’ she revealed.

Han Zihao froze upon hearing her answer. Is it....

Xie Ming saw Han Zihao’s widened mouth and chuckled, ‘ Mr. Han, it’s nothing like that. She is not pregnant.’

‘ ....’

Xu Nuan’s eyes widened in shock as she glared at Han Zihao who was caught off guard as well, ‘ What are you thinking ?’ She hit him gently.

‘ There can be many reasons for irregular periods, and stress is one of them.’ Xie Ming explained.

‘ Ms. Xu, even though periods can be irregular sometimes, it’s not good to take your health for granted. If you don’t even remember when you last had your periods, you should have visited the doctor sooner.’

Xu Nuan pursed her lips and nodded timidly. Well, she did ignored her health when preparing for the award show and handling college and work simultaneously.

Xie Ming sighed and wrote something on her notepad, ‘I will write some medicines for you. You can take them from our department’s pharmacy. They will help to boost your immunity and help in your periods as well. I have prescribed you oil too, this will help to remove the scar on your forehead. ‘

‘ However, these medicines won’t work if you don’t take care of yourself. Healthy and regular meals and 7-8 hours of sleep is the only way to improve your condition. No doctor can help you if you don't take care of yourself.'

Han Zihao nodded as he took the slip from her. This time he won't allow her to treat herself casually.

After they left the room and were standing at the Chinese medicine pharmacy in the corridor to take the medicines. Han Zihao looked at Xu Nuan, who was covered with the cardigan and said, ' You should go back and rest. I will come after getting the medicines.'

' It's okay. I'll wait. Moreover, I am tired of resting all day. I need to walk too.' she said while looking around. She was hugging her arms tight and was circling on her place playfully when her eyes stopped at a man who was going to the doctor's room.

He was wearing a formal suit, just like Han Zihao wears and was still wearing. It was her first time seeing a handsome man, whose looks are on par with him.

The man had his hair pushed back and was looking fine as hell.

' He is soo cute~' She murmured while looking at the man's back who had just entered the doctor's room.

Han Zihao frowned upon hearing her comment and pursed his lips. ' Did you just compliment other men in front of me?' He asked coldly.

Xu Nuan turned to him and blinked her eyes at him. Ah!!

She chuckled and leaned closer, ' Woo, are you jealous that I complimented someone else? Well, he is handsome too.'

' Handsome too? Who else are you complimenting now? Ward boy?' He asked sarcastically.

‘ Well, the ward boys here are cute too. Especially the one who pushed my wheelchair earlier.’ She giggled, making his expressions dark.

She slapped him on the arm and said, ‘ Stop frowning. I am just kidding.’

‘ I was calling cute to that little guy in that man’s arms. Didn’t you see him? He is damn cute.’ She said while looking towards Xie Ming’s room dreamily.

The boy seemed to be 2-3 years old and he was not only cute but also handsome. With his looks, he can even become a child model. There is no doubt that he got his parent’s gorgeous genes in him.

‘ As expected, he is a carbon copy of his parents,’ she said.

‘ Why do you think they’re his parents? They can have any relationship with him? Brother? Sister? Nephew?’ He said indifferently.

‘ They aren’t his parents? How do you know?’ She asked with a frown.

He shrugged his shoulders when a nurse stopped in her way upon hearing their conversation and said to Xu Nuan, ‘ They’re indeed his parents. His name is Jin Li Ming. Even though he is just 2 years old, he is so smart, just like her mother.’

‘ Is he Doctor Xie’s son? Aww, that’s so cute.’ Xu Nuan said, matching the high tone of the woman.

‘ And you know what, the man who just went in, he is Doctor Xie’s husband, Jin Liwei. Handsome isn’t it? Even though he is the President of a big corporation, he is a wife-slave when it comes to her.’

‘ While she works at the hospital, he always comes to pick her up from work, no matter how late it is. Since she is the Chief-head of the department, she has other duties to fulfill as well other than treating the patients. That’s why he sometimes brings Li Ming to see his mother as well.’

‘ Having a husband like him is every girl’s dream. All nurses swoon over him for his thoughtfulness and consideration towards his wife. Girl, you’re young too. You should not hurry to get married. You’re so pretty, you shouldn’t get married to just anyone. You deserve better.’

Han Zihao frowned at the nosy nurse’s words, who was filling her ears. On top of that, Xu Nuan was listening to her attentively and was nodding at her words infuriated him even more. Since when did she become so sociable ?

And....Why is complimenting other men when her boyfriend is standing right beside her ? What’s wrong with this gossipy aunty ?

‘ I will do that. My Mumma also taught me to know my worth and never settle for less. I have made a wrong decision once, I won’t repeat the same mistake. Thank you for worrying about me.’ Xu Nuan smiled at the woman.

‘ AH, I almost forgot that I have to bring these medicines to Ms. Xie. Girl, why do you talk so much ? You wasted my time.’ She scolded her before leaving.

Xu Nuan was speechless about what she just heard. Was she the one who disrupted her work and stopped her from gossiping with her ?

After the woman left, Han Zihao scoffed, ‘ You seem to be quite impressed by someone else’s husband.’ He stated.

‘ He does sound amazing. He is not only good-looking but caring as well. Do you know how difficult it is for a woman to manage kids and jobs at the same time, especially when the kid is a toddler? I have seen many women suffer just because their husband doesn’t do their part and expects women to do everything. So infuriating!’

He glanced at her, ‘ Why are you taking it on me? It’s not like I am the same as those men. I am good at household chores, I even cook better than you. I am sure I can take care of the kids better than you.’

Her cheeks turned red upon hearing his meaningful words and slapped him on the arm again, ‘ What are you saying? Who wants to have children with you? Don’t be so còcky, I might not even marry you.’

‘ Who says you need to get married to have children?’ he commented casually, earning a serious glare from her.

‘ Mr. Han, aren’t you becoming too open-minded these days? Sometimes I doubt if you’re the same person.’

He scoffed in disbelief and defended himself, ‘ Why are you so shocked? Didn’t I warn you that I am not that naive that I look? You’re the one who kept prying on me and now I have gotten into your trap, I have changed? I am afraid that soon you will say that you have gotten bored of me.’

She pursed her lips when he took the medicines from the pharmacist who was staring at them in amusement and walked away to the elevator, ‘ Well, it’s not even shocking to me. Because you’re boring from the start.’

‘ WHAT?’ He shouted in shock but she ignored him and kept walking away from him. However, since she was still weak, he caught up with her pace soon.

He pouted at her but didn't leave her alone. Seeing her struggling in walking without support, he held her by the arm and helped her back to the room. He was trying to keep quiet to not make her angry anymore, otherwise, she will get herself sick by getting angry at him only.

However, Xu Nuan had other plans. On their way back to the room, she gave him an earful to not tease her in the future or she will...she will cook in his house and ruin his beautiful kitchen.

That was the most fearful threat that she could give him. And it did work, like always.
