

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 323 - Repay his kindness!!

‘ For me!!‘

Xu Nuan turned around to see the person she was waiting for. The other employee that she had hired to work along with Hu Jun.

The man entered through the door, wearing a white shirt with dark brown trousers.

His hands were in his pant pockets as he made his way to them. His hair were neatly styled and his semi formal attire was making him look different from his usual-casual look.

Xu Nuan raised her brows, seeing him in a shirt and trousers. He could have worn anything as they don't have any dressing code but he chose to look a bit professional and of course handsome, impressive.

‘ Woo!! Someone is looking smoking hot, huh ?‘ Xu Nuan commented, making the man halt in his steps. He casually glanced at her and shook his head. .

He is already used to her way of talking now.

‘ You're on time. Let me introduce you guys to each other.‘ She said, ‘This is Hu Jun, he will be in charge of all the projects. You both need to know each other to work well together. Also, you can learn many things about games if you stay by his side.‘ She introduced Hu Jun to the man standing next to her.

Hu Jun smiled smugly upon hearing Xu Nuan's words and straightened his back to shake hands with the man.

' Well, I am indeed good when it comes to games.' Hu Jun said with a proud smile.

' Don't worry. I will make sure that you learn everything well. Btw....what was your name again ?' He asked while shaking hands with him.

' I haven't introduced myself yet.' The man replied indifferently and took his hand back.

Hu Jun laughed awkwardly and glanced at Xu Nuan with a frown. As expected, he is a smug handsome man with zero talent.

Was there a need for her to hire an extremely handsome man ?

' I am sure he doesn't know anything about this field of work. Hmph!' he calmed himself thinking that his looks are nothing but a beautiful trap.

Seeing the tension between the two men, Xu Nuan had to intervene and introduced the man to Hu Jun.

' He is Ye Yijun. You can call him Aurora too. From now on, He will be working with us and will handle all the administrative and financial work.'

' So you can be rest assured and just focus on completing the work. All the other stuff will be handled by him and me together.' She added.

' He is good at gaming and has a good foundation in this field of work. So there is no need for you to teach him everything from scratch.' She explained.

After hiring Hu Jun, she was aware that only Hu Jun won't be able to handle the work.

He can deal with the projects but she will need someone who can handle the financial work of the company for her.

At the moment, she is handling the administrative and financial aspects of the company herself but if they're planning to grow it into a big one, she will need more people to handle the work.

Who can be a better option than Aurora for her? He is not only good at gaming but seeing his skills, she knows that he is well trained in computers and has the required foundation for this kind of work.

Not only that, he is a sophomore in business studies and with his abilities and knowledge, she was sure that he can handle the finance department well too.

If she gives this responsibility to Hu Jun, he will definitely find a way to do something shady with it.

He is good at earning money but not managing it. So she just wants him to focus on doing more projects so that they can make enough revenue, enough for both companies.

When she offered Aurora to work together with her, she was expecting him to reject her offer.

After all, his family is not less than Gu Enterprises. Maybe better than them. His family business is flourishing and his family itself belongs to an elite class.

If he is going to join a company, he will rather join his father's company in the future. Why would he work with her?

Just when she was regretting the decision to ask him about this job and was preparing to leave, he said, ‘ Fine. But you will have to play games with me.’

‘ Hmm ? What kind of condition is that ? You could have asked me something better, salary or whatever. Why games ?’

‘ Because I don’t have anyone to play with.’ He responded coolly.

‘ Don’t you have friends and all ? Didn’t you used to play before ?’ She asked in confusion.

‘ I do. But they’re not as good as you at playing games.’

‘Oooo...so you’re complimenting me ? I never thought that I would get a compliment from the handsome hunk of the college. I am honoured.’ Xu Nuan said dramatically

‘ Well, I won’t question your strange request since it’s your choice. But don’t you dare ditch me later. And be prepared to be roasted by me since I will be your boss. Okay ?’ She teased him.

He scoffed at her and left after talking to her.

Xu Nuan didn’t mind him leaving in the conversation like this. His personality is a bit similar to Han Zihao when she met him for the first time, cold and aloof.

But if you get to know them, they start to open up to you and start to show their ‘real’ caring and considerate side.

After introducing them to each other, Xu Nuan stood there for a few minutes and then left to allow them to talk and get to know each other.

If they're going to work together, they need to get to know each other first.

Rather than going home, she took a taxi to go to a mall. She needed to buy a few clothes to look representable.

Since she is going to start her company, she needs to look presentable enough to work as the CEO of the company.

She can't wear the same clothes that she used to wear while working as a manager. She needs to upgrade her wardrobe.

Along with clothes, there are few things that she needs to buy.

Han Zihao has taken great care of her in the last few days, not only that, he cooked breakfast for her after she tortured him with her drunken habits.

She needs to repay him for his kindness, shouldn't she?

While she was on her way to the shopping mall, she picked up her phone and messaged Feng Sheng.

She can't be lousy when it comes to repaying his kindness, can she?
