

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 57 - I am Jiang Yue

Han Zihao was stupefied when he heard her words. He stared at her in bafflement but his expressions slowly turned dark. Who is she to order him to forget about Jiang Yue? What right does she have?

He gritted his teeth and snatched the frame from her hands, he looked at her and asked, 'And what right do you have that you're telling me to do all this? I don't think we are close enough to share such things. I have no obligation to hear such things from you.'

He stared at her with his deep dark eyes that were saying to leave him alone. He wasn't liking the way this girl was intruding into his life. His life has been a peaceful one without any distractions but why does she make his life upside down.

Xu Nuan raised her brows and stared at him silently. She didn't say anything and was just looking at him in amusement because she didn't mind his words. She might not know the older version of Han Zihao which she has seen a few times but she knows the young version of Han Zihao very well. More than that he knows him himself.

He always tends to push people away when he is hurt or is going through difficulty. He doesn't like to share his problems with anyone and always prefers to stay alone. That's why she had such a hard time getting along with him when they were young, but when they did, he was the one who tends to follow her everywhere.

He was like a young nanny to her more than a friend. Sometimes she feels like laughing thinking about that time. If they had stayed for more years together, they would have become a couple.

...

She stared at him and sighed softly before speaking, 'Mr. Han, do you know how I can say such things so easily? Because I am Jiang Yue. The day I got into an accident and the day she got into one, our souls switched. Me, the Jiang Yue, took over Xu Nuan's body. Confused right? I am too. But that's the truth.' She shrugged her shoulders as she said that.

She stared at him and felt a little nervous. She was not planning to say this but unknowingly she was speaking the truth. Sometimes, her mouth just doesn't listen to her brain. She bit her lower lip when he didn't respond and stared at her coldly.

Finally, he spoke, which left her stupefied.

'You have read too many fantasies, right? My brother has also acted in one of those stupid dramas. What a lousy story. Did you think I would buy your fantasy story?' He knitted his brows and tried to control his urge to pull her ears.

She just loves to spout nonsense.

She looked at him and sighed. That's why she doesn't want to say it. She is saying the truth but no one will buy her story. But she can't blame him, if it was her in his place, then she won't be able to believe either.

'Han Zihao, I am letting you go right now because you don't know me. Ah, why am I so nice?' she thinks those words inwardly and sighed again before saying, 'Mr. Han, I am saying all this... because I think I like you. So from now on, I am going to chase you romantically. You can push me away all you want but....I WILL NEVER LEAVE YOU.' her lips curled up as she stared at him with her hands folded in front of her chest.

'So, with the right to like you, I am telling you to sort out your feelings for her. Because I don't want to feel jealous of a dead person.' She pursed her lips wondered, 'which is technically me', but anyway since he doesn't know that or doesn't want to believe her.

'_ _'

'Are you crazy? Are you even listening to yourself? You're a young girl, how can you talk like this?' Han Zihao was dumbfounded upon hearing her sudden confession. He wasn't even prepared for it.

How can she confess to him at a time like this?

She smirked and said, 'Yes. I am crazy. So don't you dare go on blind dates, otherwise, I won't leave you like this. I don't like my boyfriend going out with other girls while he is with me. I am not a nice girlfriend who will ignore such not so nice actions.'

'_ _'

Han Zihao was staring at her in shock, as his mouth was slightly parted with his brows knitted but he had no comeback for her aggressive words.

'You have seen cute sexy Xu Nuan by now, but if you dared to cheat on me, I will show you my true evil side. Believe me, you don't want to see that side of mine.' As said this, her lips curled up in a crescent smile. She flipped her hair back, revealing her pearly white neck as she continued, 'Also, don't take me as a young girl. I am not..a young girl. I am 21 years old and you're 29 years old. Although there is an 8 years old difference between us; when I have no problem with your old age, then why are you being so complicated?’ she shrugged her shoulders as she said casually.

He was wondering when he saw her sexy side? But nevermind, that’s not the point here. Did she just call him old again? Is this girl confessing to him or was insulting him?

He frowned seeing her smiling at him. Even though it was a beautiful smile that can cause people’s hearts to flutter but right now, it was nothing less than a creepy smile. He felt goosebumps seeing her creepy smile.

Xu Nuan smiled seeing him standing there in a daze and staring at her in utter shock. She smirked and patted his shoulder which startled him.

‘ Mr. Han, let’s go out. I am hungry. Do you want me to faint out of hunger just because you don’t like me? You know, if you treated me badly just because you don’t like me now, then I will do the same to you ten folds when you fall for me in the future.’ She smirked meaningfully and walked towards his desk again.

‘ _ _ ’
_

He pursed his lips and wondered how a girl could be so shameless. Was she confessing her feelings or was threatening him?

...

An hour later, they are sitting in the Jade Island hotel. This time they didn’t take the private room instead they were sitting in a restaurant with only a few tables filled.

Xu Nuan was sitting elegantly, with her legs crossed, clasped together, and was enjoying the sumptuous meal. Han Zihao was staring at her and was surprised how cleanly and elegantly she was eating.

The way she acts in such places is exactly the way any girl from an elite family does. But in her case, she wasn't faking it. She was enjoying the food to her heart's content, after all, they have 5 kinds of dishes placed on their table. If she was pretending to be a feminine high-class girl, then she would have ordered a few dishes and must be eating like a bird, just like other girls' acts when they are with him.

He shook his head and wondered why he was here. This girl was too dangerous. He wanted to send her back but how come he came here to have lunch with her? Maybe he was worried that she might really faint and then he will have to pay her hospital bills.

That must be the reason. It's because he is too warm-hearted and nothing else.