

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 80 – Do you guys have to makeout here?

Han Liang drank half of his beer pint and looked around for Xu Nuan who was nowhere in sight. He was watching over her a while ago.

He remembered her getting off the dance floor and going towards the first floor but after that, he couldn't see her anywhere.

His eyes were searching for her as he looked at the crowd from the second floor while holding his pint of beer. He exited the private lounge long ago just to keep an eye on her.

As he was busy finding her, he didn't notice the unhappy shadow which was standing beside him.

'Where is she?' He heard a cold deep voice which startled him. He turned around and found Han Zihao looking at the crowd with stone-faced expressions, his eyes searching for Xu Nuan.

'Woah... Brother....You scared me.' Han Liang almost jumped on his feet and patted his chest as he got a big scare when Han Zihao appeared beside him out of nowhere.

He looked at him and frowned, 'But brother, why are here in the club in...these clothes?'

Han Zihao was wearing his black trousers and a white t-shirt when he saw his message. He was pondering over the decision to go or not for 10 minutes when he finally decided to leave and enjoy the night with his 'brother'.

Yes. He came because he also needed a drink. That's it. He didn't come because he wanted to drag her back to the home but to just have a drink.

He wore a long brown cardigan over it and left the house in a hurry.

Han Liang looked around and frowned as Han Zihao's clothes stood out among the crowd. Others were wearing flashy stylish clothes while he was standing there in his casual comfy clothes, looking ethereally handsome.

This made Han Liang's lips twitch. He is the star and always maintains his skin and body but he has to say that his brother looks more charming than him even in those casual clothes. He could see the girls around drooling over him.

'Where is she?' Han Zihao asked again and this time with a warning. He was trying to look for her but it was too dark and there were so many people in the club. The blinding lights were flashing to make it worse.

That's why he doesn't like such places. He never understood why people come to this place.

'Erm... actually...she was dancing with a guy, a while ago...but I can't find her anywhere now.' He said hesitantly while avoiding his gaze.

Han Zihao's expressions turned two shades of dark hearing that she was dancing with a guy. Although he doesn't know who was the guy since it was too dark and the photo that Han Liang sent was not that clear.

It can be anyone but he doesn't want that person to be Yuhan. He doesn't know why, but he doesn't like that guy a bit.

Han Liang's words made him knit his brows, 'So... you're saying that you missed her?' He asked in a low voice which made Han Liang shudder. Since they were standing close, he could hear his threatening tone in his words.

'Brother...it was not my fault. I was keeping an eye on her but she disappeared suddenly..it was like she vanished in thin air.' He exaggerated his words using hands' gestures making the other person's mood worsen.

Han Zihao pursed his lips and turned around to leave but Han Liang walked to him and tried to make him stay. ' Brother, please don't go yet. I can find her. I was not lying you know. She was here with a guy, that too a pretty one. You know that pretty guys are such a player. Moreover, from the way he looked at her, I am sure that he likes her. I hope he didn't take her to any hotel or somewhere...' his words, made Han Zihao stop in his steps as he turned around and glared at him.

He grabbed him by the collar and used all of his willpower to not punch his chatty brother in the face. ' You...if you want to stay alive then shut your mouth otherwise...' his words were interrupted when the door of the washroom behind him opened and a petite figure bumped into his back.

'Ah..why are you blocking the way to this washroom? Ah, it hurts...People don't know how to stand in the public space. Do you guys have to makeout in front of the ladies' room? You should guys just get a room, why disturb anyone for no reason?' he heard a girl complaining. However, her words made his mood worse. What? Makeout?

Han Liang also frowned. However, he covered his face, in case the girl recognized him and spread rumors about him. Being a star is not so easy.

Han Zihao frowned and turned around in annoyance. The second floor has VIP lounges, however, the area was narrow and compact.

As he turned around, he was shocked to see the Xu Nuan who was rubbing her nose, and tears were filled in her eyes. He stared at her in shock when he heard Han Liang's words.

'You...why are you coming from there?' He asked in shock.

Xu Nuan who was busy cursing the man whom she bumped into inwardly, however, she was forced to look up when she heard a familiar annoying voice.

When she looked up, her eyes fell on Han Zihao first, ignoring the existence of a certain someone. How come he is here?'

'You...are you following me?' She asked in a daze.

Han Zihao pursed his lips and stared at her in disbelief. She sure knows how to make the other person feel salty.

'Yah! Why are you coming from there? That washroom is under service right now?' Han Liang said, seeing that she wasn't even looking at him.

What are you saying? I just came...' Xu Nuan laughed hearing his words but when she turned around and looked at the sign outside the door, she froze.

[Ladies room under service. Please use the ladies' room on the first and third floors. Thank you.]

'So that's why no one came inside for half an hour?'

She sighed in relief that no one locked her inside thinking that it's empty. Otherwise, it would have been a great problem.

Han Zihao frowned when he noticed her pale complexion. Her one hand was placed lightly onto her abdomen while she was standing there weakly.

'And where is your boyfriend? He didn't leave you here alone, did he?' Han Liang commented which made her lips twitch.

'Why is he so noisy?'

She shook her head and controlled herself from punching him. She glanced at Han Zihao who was staring at her with concern.

'Why are you staring at me like this?' She asked in confusion.

'Are you sick? Why do you look like this?' He asked solemnly.

'Ah, that...I am not sick...I think so at least. It just..' she struggled with her words while trying to think if it will be right to call herself sick or not.

In the end, she sighed and said, 'I am not sick since this happens every month. It just...my periods came.' she said casually.

When she spoke, the music stopped and the people standing nearby heard her words.

Han Zihao's ears turned crimson and he tried to avoid her gaze to hide his embarrassment. It was his first time that a girl told him about her issues. Though he knows about it, he wasn't fully clueless but no one has ever discussed it with him.

However, his expression darkened seeing the people around them staring at her weirdly. A few men were standing around them who were laughing at her and staring at her with their disgusting gaze.

His jaw tightened as he removed his cardigan and put it on her shoulders, covering her. He held onto her shoulders and said, 'Come with me.'

Xu Nuan was stunned when he suddenly covered her with his cardigan. A smile appeared on her lips seeing his mannerly gestures.

'Aye! That's my man. He sure knows how to make someone's heart race.' she looked at him admiringly.

'Ah, wait. Yuhan. Where is Yuhan? I came here with him. I haven't told him anything yet. Let me inform him...' she remembered that she came with him. She tried to unlock her phone but he didn't stop and tightened his grip on her shoulders. 'Just go for now.'

His mood turned dark when he heard Yuhan's name. Why does she have to come with him? He couldn't help but feel uneasy seeing her eagerness to inform him. Huh. If he is waiting, then let him wait.

Han Liang stood in his place as he stared at the couple leaving without glancing back at him. He frowned as he realized that the drama he was expecting didn't happen. He wants his brother to scold her or something like that, but why does it feel that he brought them closer even before.

' Why everything went so smoothly ?' he sighed as the drama he was expecting didn't even happen.
