Chapter 1321: Power of the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet

The freezing air surrounding the mountains of ice eased the Mother of Bloodbath's burning sensation.

The ribbons of sunlight continuously melted the ice and generated even more vapors of frost that cooled down the heat caused by the sunlight again.

Once the ice fully melted, Lin Yuan waved the sword, and another huge wave turned to ice when it stopped five meters away from the Mother of Bloodbath.

As the master of the sacred sword, he was shocked by the scale of Attack of the Sea Leaping Whale in the sea.

He suddenly felt that he would be able to challenge Creation Breed feys.

Lin Yuan did not instruct the whale in the water to surface. The waves generated by the giant whale underwater were enough to produce large mountains of ice to solve the Mother of Bloodbath's high-temperature problem.

Although the Mother of Bloodbath's condition was worse for wear, it would not be reduced to ashes by the ribbons of sunlight.

The Mother of Bloodbath used the Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline in its body to absorb the energy within the ribbons of sunlight.

But the more energy the Mother of Bloodbath absorbed, the more doubtful it became. As far as its knowledge went, the sun's energy was mainly composed of light and heat. Yet, it found that it could only absorb the light-type energy during its transformation.

The fire-type energy quickly slipped away when it entered the Mother of Bloodbath's body. This meant that the Mother of Bloodbath could only absorb the light element from the sunlight.

The fire element seemed to be incompatible with the Mother of Bloodbath's body. It was futile no matter how hard it tried to hold on to the fire-elemental energy.

This did not fit with the legend of the Sky Sundial Jade Spider or the Mother of Bloodbath's memory of its bloodline!

With no one to guide it, the Mother of Bloodbath, who had always truded its way through life on its own, had no idea what was happening.

Just as the Mother of Bloodbath was about to drown in a river of confusion, it looked at Lin Yuan, who was standing directly underneath it to protect it.

An unspeakable sense of comfort and warmth washed over the Mother of Bloodbath. These uncontrollable emotions enlightened the Mother of Bloodbath about what it wanted to do for the rest of its life.

Since it had a goal, it could not die during the awakening of its Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline.

Since the giant waves could help with the Mother of Bloodbath's situation, Lin Yuan did not summon the giant whale out of the water.

He was terrified that an accident would happen out of the blue.

"What if more ribbons of sunlight descended? I need to be able to reduce the temperature immediately. If a fourth ribbon of sunlight descends, the Mother of Bloodbath's body will likely burn up into ashes."

Of course, this was the worst-case scenario.

As time went on, Lin Yuan realized that the Mother of Bloodbath's body would not be reduced to ashes while the ribbons of sunlight berated it even without Lin Yuan's help. This meant that the Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline in its body was growing and that its body was able to handle more and more.

But before Lin Yuan could let out a breath of relief, the sun seemed to go out of control, and six more beautiful ribbons of sunlight descended. The six new ribbons of sunlight combined with the original ribbons of sunlight to form a canopy.

This scene made Lin Yuan's soul leave his body.

Why did I have to jinx it? What was I thinking!?

The Mother of Bloodbath had only just managed to handle three ribbons of sunlight. Now that there were another six, there was no way it could hold on.

Just as the six ribbons of sunlight swarmed around the Mother of Bloodbath, Lin Yuan raised his sword.

At the same moment that Lin Yuan raised the light blue sword, the giant whale in the sea released another roar, and a whale that seemed large enough to cover the sky rose from the sea.

This giant whale was more than three times larger than an Island Whale, and it leaped over the Mother of Bloodbath's head.

When the giant whale reached the point above the Mother of Bloodbath's head, it suddenly turned to ice.

The frigid air released by the enormous whale caused the warm air above the sea to freeze.

The large wave caused by the giant whale's splashing tail created a cave of ice around the Mother of Bloodbath.

Alas, the six ribbons of sunlight were the true might of the natural world.

Although the Attack of the Sea Leaping Whale could summon Creation Breed-level power, it could not win against the six ribbons of sunlight.

The six ribbons of sunlight combined with the original three and formed a large pillar of light. The pillar of light started to spin and immediately melted the giant whale.

Before the melted giant whale could splatter all over the Mother of Bloodbath, it evaporated.

Lin Yuan had already produced his strongest attack. Now that the Attack of the Sea Leaping Whale had been overcome, Lin Yuan had no other way to lower the Mother of Bloodbath's temperature.

Lin Yuan screamed the Mother of Bloodbath's name just to see it holding up a wooden tablet containing the moonlight's chilling coldness.

The Mother of Bloodbath threw the wooden tablet at the pillar of light.

The Attack of the Sea Leaping Whale had given the Mother of Bloodbath some respite. During this time, the Mother of Bloodbath suddenly thought about the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet that the Moon Empress had given it.

At that time, the Moon Empress had only said that the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet would be able to help it successfully overcome Myth III to evolve to Creation Breed.

It had not wanted to use the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet during its evolution from Myth II to Myth III.

Moreover, Lin Yuan had gained Creation and even Immortal power. As such, the Mother of Bloodbath had assumed that it would have no need for the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet as Shadow, Endless Summer, or the Kill Food Sky Butterfly would be able to help it overcome the Trial of World Creation.

The Mother of Bloodbath was using the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet now because it had reached the pits of despair and the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet was the only thing the Mother of Bloodbath had that would be able to help.

The wood Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet was small and intricate. It was covered with faint swirls of moonlight.

This tablet released gossamer tissues of moonlight.

A moon smaller than the sun appeared in the sky, and ribbons of moonbeams descended.

Chapter 1322: Two Moons Share the Sky

The ribbons of moonbeams descended from the moon and crashed into the pillar of sunlight.

The pillar of sunlight caught every ribbon of moonbeam and was split back into the nine strips of sunlight.

Soon after, the moonbeams cascaded over the Mother of Bloodbath and covered it with a blanket of moonbeams.

The ribbons of moonbeams and sunlight were stuck in a stalemate so that only five ribbons of sunlight remained on the Mother of Bloodbath's body. Moreover, the moonbeam blanket covering the Mother of Bloodbath's body blocked the five chains of sunlight.

Under such conditions, the Mother of Bloodbath could absorb the chains of light energy without worry.

The arrival of the moon stunned every person watching the sun's strange activity and filled them with a thousand different emotions.

When Lin Yuan saw this, he immediately knew that the Moon Empress had given the Mother of Bloodbath the tablet it was using.

He had thought that he was going to lose the Mother of Bloodbath. But at the same moment he saw the moonbeams being released from the tablet, he heaved a breath of relief.

The chains of moonbeams had saved Lin Yuan many times in the Class 3 water world dimensional rift outside of the Royal Capital. Today, they were going to save someone that he cared about.

Apparently, no matter where he was, his Master was there with him. Although she was currently locked up for training, she had still taken care to make preparations for those around him.

Meanwhile, numerous spirit qi professionals had gathered in Raging Waves City. Since they had managed to arrive at such short notice, they were all the bigshots of Raging Waves City.

Wang Ce, the Raging Waves Guard Captain, was one of them. His face was currently twisted with anger as he continuously cursed the City Lord of Sky City to himself.

Sky City's City Lord, what the hell are you up to!?

The shores of Raging Waves City had suddenly changed half an hour ago, and the smallest waves crashing onto the harbor were 30 meters. There was also no shortage of waves that reached 200 meters.

Regardless of how strong or tall Raging Waves City's walls were, they could not stand against the continuous impact from the giant waves. Luckily, the Spirit Guards had led the Raging Waves Guard to set up a defensive line of feys outside of Raging Waves City to defend against the waves.

This ensured that Raging Waves City's walls did not sustain overly heavy damage. Nonetheless, Wang Ce could not take it.

If the City Lord found out that Wang Ce had allowed Sky City to go ahead after finding out that they were intentionally going to start trouble, the City Lord would probably report his mistake to Cicada Song.

As the Raging Waves Guard Captain, almost allowing Raging Waves City to become swallowed by a tsunami would warrant six months in the Sin Cleansing Pool.

Gu En shook his head at the furious Wang Ce who had brought up Cicada Song.

He knew that Wang Ce was a decent person. Hence, he did not want to do anything to Wang Ce, nor could he allow Wang Ce to disturb the situation.

Gu En sighed and said to the enraged Wang Ce, "You said that the Spirit Guards have stepped in to defend the outside of Raging Waves City. They are smarter than you and know where to be and where not to be. You should use your brain to think about what kind of person could activate the Spirit Guards and order them around.”

Gu En looked at the other people around him with a hostile expression and said in a less than friendly tone, “Everyone, I’m sure you have figured out the reason behind the sun’s strange activity. I have warned all of you once. If you take another step forward, I will not show mercy.”

Gu En did not instruct his fey to release its aura while he was speaking as he was afraid of interfering with the transformation of the spider-species fey into a Heavenly Family Fey.

In spite of this and the fact that they could not see his true power, the malevolent aura radiating from him was enough to send shivers up their backs.

Gu En was An He’s Path Protector who Long Lamplight had assigned to protect An He since he was young.

An He was an introvert and rarely left the comfort of four walls. As such, Gu En had not shown his face in public for almost 20 years.

Additionally, Gu En had always worn a cloak when he worked under Long Lamplight. Hence, he did not stand out at all when he removed his cloak and traveled around the Radiance Federation.

The people present had only heard of Gu En being uncloaked in rumors but had never heard of what he looked like or what his name was.

The people present exchanged glances and collectively decided to use brute force.

At this moment, the moon appeared in the sky and wiped out the idea of preying on the Heavenly Family Fey from the minds of these greedy people.

Since the Moon Empress was helping the Heavenly Family Fey, it meant that this matter was important to her. Who would dare to play tug-of-war with the Moon Empress?

The people who had decided to employ brute force shared glances with each other again before hurriedly turning to slink back to where they had come from.

At that moment, the moon and sun were equally matched.

It was as though the moon had angered the sun as it released several hundred more ribbons of sunlight.

By this time, the Mother of Bloodbath had become accustomed to the energy of the five ribbons of sunlight.

When the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet sensed the hundreds of ribbons of sunlight, it charged toward them. This caused cracks to appear in the tablet.

Red light shone through the cracks in the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet. The red cracks sped up the rate at which the cracks spread along the tablet.

A red moon emerged when the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet broke into two pieces. Along with the rising of the red moon came hundreds of rays of red moonbeams.

The red moonbeams intertwined with the hundreds of ribbons of sunlight.

The red moon rose until it was alongside the main world's moon.

The might of the two moons kept the sun down.

When the other people saw this, they did not know how to feel about it.

However, Shadow that had left Lin Yuan's shadow when he was using Attack of the Sea Leaping Whale was so shocked that its jaw almost hit the ground.

Wasn't this the red moon that had disappeared from the abyssal world? The loss of this red moon had caused the abyssal world to lose its sense of the passing of time. But now, Shadow was seeing it here.

Shadow was very familiar with the moonbeams that had descended from the moon as these moonbeams had captured it in the first place.

It knew that the person who had captured it was Lin Yuan's Master.

Chapter 1323: Secret of the Sky Sundial Jade Spider

A hundred dark green trees and a thousand chirping birds. Faint light dispersed throughout the blossoming branches of the trees. A shallow pond of red carp, a cliff covered with lush grass. This place was the epitome of a carefree paradise.

This place had many different geographical formations and was full of natural energy.

Rainy weather, snowy weather, clear weather, cloudy weather, sunny weather, and dark night coexisted. It was as though this paradise would become the entire natural environment when it was expanded.

13 extraordinary figures stood next to a middle-aged woman dressed in purple fur with 12 fox tails.

The woman held a crystal ball and was looking up at the sun and two moons hanging in the sky.

Her previous look of sorrow and anxiousness had been replaced by gratitude and nostalgia.

She sighed softly and said, "Our Heavenly Family Cottage owes the Radiance Federation too large of a favor. I can't believe the Moon Empress stepped in to save Jade Sundial and Blood New Moon's child."

It was as though the woman was looking at that young girl who insisted on taking the Sacred Cry Moon Beast. Now, that girl had grown up to become a member of royalty who could protect a federation.

After the splatter of so much blood, that young girl had long repaid the favor she owed. Now, it was the Heavenly Family Cottage's turn to owe that young girl a favor.

Ever since Blue Lotus, Blood New Moon, and White Phoenix went out on their mission, Purple Love had decided that the Heavenly Family Cottage would fight with Tower Canon to the end.

The Heavenly Family Cottage had not engaged in earthly matters or caused any trouble for close to a millennium.

However, the Fifth Page of Tower Canon had secretly killed a member of the Heavenly Family Cottage.

Now, the Heavenly Family Cottage had discovered her child because it was awakening its bloodline.

If Jade Sundial's power had not been diminished due to her pregnancy, there was no way that Fifth Page Truth would have dared to engage her.

Purple Love looked pained yet happy when she saw the moonbeams entangled with the sunlight.

She took out a tangerine handkerchief and held it up. The sun glowed with a gentle light.

The four corners of the handkerchief reached out as though to hug something. It was unknown if the handkerchief wanted to hug the sun or the tortured Mother of Bloodbath.

When Purple Love took out the handkerchief, the 13 figures behind her started crying.

A delicate young girl with light yellow hair gently wiped away a tear from the corner of her eye.

She was wearing an elegant light yellow dress that had a pair of flowers pressed onto the hem.

The girl's hand was too small, and so many tears were flowing down her face that one of the tears slid down her face and landed on her dress.

The girl's tear looked like a dew drop on her dress as it trickled down the forest of flowers on her dress.

The young girl looked like a veritable celestial being.

Yet, she was not the most eye-catching being amongst the 13 figures.

At that moment, a chilling yet concerned voice sounded beside the light yellow-haired girl, "Pear Drop, why are you always crying? You cry every time what happened to Sister Jade Sundial is mentioned. It would be fine if this was any other time. But now, it's a tremendously joyful occasion for Sister Jade Sundial and Blood New Moon's child has been found. Why are you crying?"

Pear Drop was crying out of sadness. But now, she started sobbing even harder as she wailed, "Wish Ice, I can't help it!"

The crying Pear Drop let out an uncontrollable hiccup amidst her weeping.

As she looked at Pear Drop, the short-haired woman with purple leather armor shook her head in vexation.

Wish Ice, you are an idiot!?

Wish Ice had been pining after Pear Drop for at least four centuries but had never confessed his feelings. Instead, he treated her more meanly than the others did.

Was this a dumb trick to hide his feelings? The short-haired woman with purple leather armor felt anxious on Wish Ice's behalf.

If Wish Ice continued along this trajectory, not only would he be unable to get Pear Drop to return his feelings, but Pear Drop might even end up resenting him.

The short-haired woman with purple leather armor gently patted Pear Drop's back to help with the hiccups and said sternly to Wish Ice, "Pear Drop's true body is the Plum Drop Pear Flower. So, obviously, she cries like the falling of pear flowers."

Wish Ice scoffed and turned his head as he chided himself.

Ah! I want to wipe Pear Drop's tears so badly. Since she's this sad, why doesn't she come to me to use my shoulder? I've already made my intentions so obvious. Why can't you feel it? I told you not to cry so that you'll think of coming to lean on my shoulder! If I use my chilly aura to freeze your tears, you won't be able to cry anymore! What a stupid woman!

Pear Drop knew that today was a joyous occasion and that crying would affect her companions' emotions.

She fought back her tears while saying to the short-haired woman with purple leather armor, "Thank you, Sister Ochre Deer."

The 13 people beside Purple Love were the members of the Heavenly Family Cottage who had not been sent out on missions yet.

The 13 members of Heavenly Family Cottage had their gazes fixated on the sun as they waited for the sun to form an eternal link to Jade Sundial and Blood New Moon's child, as that would mean that it had truly unlocked its Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline.

At that moment, a nine-tailed fox tunneled out of the irises beside Purple Love. It nuzzled Purple Love and asked, "Auntie Purple, the celestial phenomenon is a clear sign that the Moon Empress from the Radiance Federation is helping Auntie Jade Sundial and Uncle Blood New Moon's child. So, why did you say that there are others who are also helping Sister Blood Love?"

When the small fox mentioned the name Blood Love, Purple Love's eyes misted over.

Time had passed, and her friend had passed.

Purple Love looked at the tangerine handkerchief as though the bright, kind-eyed, lovely, and quiet girl was still there.

Jade Sundial was the second member of the Heavenly Family Cottage. This ranking did not represent her power but her age.

It could be said that the Heavenly Family Cottage had been built from the ground up by Purple Love and Jade Sundial.

They performed the parental roles in the Heavenly Family Cottage, and parents could never talk about their problems to their children.

Thus, no one knew better than Purple Love how badly Jade Sundial had wanted a child.

Chapter 1324: Everything is Strange About Tower Canon

No one knew better than Purple Love how much effort Jade Sundial had put into bearing a child.

Jade Sundial and Purple Love were looking down from a lofty peak together at that time.

Jade Sundial turned and said to Purple Love with a smile, "Sister Purple, you're my most treasured friend. No matter what last name my child comes to have, its name will be Love. It'll represent our sisterly relationship and my hopes for the little tyke."

When Purple Love remembered this, she almost collapsed. But to maintain her parental role, she forcefully slammed a lid over her emotions and stroked the fox beside her as she said, "Little Se, if that member of royalty from the Radiance Federation didn't help to keep the sun at bay, the nine belts of sunlight that descended would have been like a comfortable spring to a fey with the active Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline but a lethal blow to one without the active Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline. Blood Love would have been reduced into ashes."

The small fox shook its tail and made a mental note of what Purple Love said.

Suddenly, a thought struck the little fox, and it asked Purple Love anxiously, "Auntie Purple, we Heavenly Family Feys are feys that come from nature itself. Since both Sister Blood Love and Uncle Blood New Moon have the Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline, will everything still be okay? Uncle Blood New Moon talks about Auntie Jade Sundial and Sister Blood Love every day. Is it possible that he'll..."

The little fox snapped its jaw shut at this moment.

The members of the Heavenly Family Cottage behind the fox frowned. They all knew Blood New Moon well, and the situation that Little Se brought up was not unlikely.

...

Blood New Moon would be over the moon to know that his child was still alive and be more than ready to give up everything for his daughter.

Blood New Moon had awakened his Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline and combined it with his Blood Red Bird-Catching Spider bloodline. Now, he was the acknowledged 17th member of the Heavenly Family Cottage.

They had all formed deep bonds with Blood New Moon and did not want him to sacrifice himself.

The younger members were beside themselves with worry, but the older members were not ruffled at all. It was clear that the older members knew more.

Ochre Deer was one of the older members. She quickly calculated the time and said, "Sister Purple Love, judging from the time, Blue Lotus, White Phoenix, and Blood New Moon can't be in the Radiance Federation now even if they had rushed without stopping.

Continue reading on MYBOXNOVEL.COM

"Moreover, Blood New Moon left brimming with hate for Tower Canon. Sister Jade Sundial had watched Blue Lotus and White Phoenix grow up. Hence, they're carrying just as much resentment as Blood New Moon.

"After causing significant trouble for Tower Canon during their journey, there's no way they will make it to the Radiance Federation in time. Nonetheless, there's no point in us sitting around and worrying.

"Pear Drop is starting to cry again. Sister Purple Love, why don't you tell them about Sister Blood Jade Sundial so that they won't be so worried?"

Purple Love sighed softly.

Every time this matter was brought up, Purple Love felt as though the wound was being viciously ripped open anew.

But since Ochre Deer had spoken up, and looking at the worried expressions of the rest, Purple Love took a deep breath and said, "Wish Ice, I remember that you went around excitedly telling everyone that you became stronger when you barely beat Jade Sundial once during a spar."

Wish Ice immediately lowered his head. He was not ashamed but thinking about how Jade Sundial had kindly taken care of him like a warm and matronly older sister.

Purple Love went on to say, "Jade Sundial and I had always compared our power. In the beginning, we were equally matched in every fight."

She paused and continued before the rest could react. "Jade Sundial isn't like the rest of you. All of you only absorb one type of energy from the environment, but Jade Sundial can absorb two types of energy from the sun.

"As Jade Sundial continued to absorb the two types of energy from the sun, she slowly realized that they were extremely different despite coming from the same source. Light can produce heat and more. Heat can produce fire which can obscure or generate light. Light and heat are interlinked, and Jade Sundial realized that they can't be progressed together. Heat comes from fire, but light has far more potential than heat.

"Hence, Jade Sundial chose fire and locked light's potential in her bloodline to save it for her child. So, although it seems that Blood New Moon and Blood Love each have half of the Sky Sundial Jade Spider, Blood New Moon actually took the fire portion of the bloodline while Blood Love inherited the light portion.

"By splitting the bloodline, Jade Sundial created the opportunity for the Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline to exist in two entities. All of you stay here for now. Blood New Moon, White Phoenix, and Blue Lotus won't be able to repay such a colossal favor to the Radiance Federation.

“I’ll personally visit the Radiance Federation to visit the Moon Empress and that member of royalty. Before my return, Ochre Deer will be in charge of our Heavenly Family Cottage, and all decisions will go through her. At this point, our Heavenly Family Cottage cannot rest until Tower Canon is destroyed. For now, try not to leave on your own in case Tower Canon ambushes you.”

Purple Love narrowed her eyes. She had found Tower Canon’s base because of Jade Sundial.

At that time, Purple Love had already sustained a serious injury but still shot three purple crystal curses into First Page Fate. Even if First Page Fate had not died, he would still have been more seriously injured than her.

However, that day had not caused any repercussions. It was as though First Page Fate’s injuries were not an urgent matter to Tower Canon.

Additionally, Purple Love had crossed swords with all Eight Pages in her fit of rage, and they were all weaker than her.

Tower Canon was completely different from three centuries ago.

Even if First Page Crimson and Third Page Violet Light Green had died, Second Page Warbler Candle was so wicked that there was no way she would have died.

300 years would be nothing to Second Page Warbler Candle.

Purple Love felt that everything was strange about Tower Canon now. This was why she made sure to pass on words of advice before she left.

Chapter 1325: The Austerity and Worry in Night Leaning Moon’s Eyes

As Blue Lotus, Blood New Moon, and White Phoenix stood above the island and looked up at the sun, they felt as though they were riding on a rollercoaster. When the rollercoaster was going down, they felt like they were going to throw up at any moment.

The only thing more painful than being separated from one’s lover was being separated from one’s child.

Blood New Moon already knew what it was like to be apart from his lover forever. Even now, he dreamed of Jade Sundial every night. Yet now, he had to suffer the agony of being separated from his child.

No matter what happened, Blood New Moon could not allow the child he just found out was alive to die in the process of awakening her bloodline.

Jade Sundial had told Blood New Moon about the uniqueness of her bloodline. This was why Blood New Moon had not ended his life when he found out his daughter was still alive and was awakening her Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline.

After Blood New Moon unlocked his Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline, his power was a level lower than that of Blue Lotus and White Phoenix. But if he was intent on ending his life, they would be unable to stop him.

He had experienced the awakening of the Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline. Both he and his child had the Blood Red Bird-Catching Spider bloodline. He would be the best guide if he was by his child's side now.

Moreover, Blood New Moon could sacrifice himself at the right time to give his child the heat portion of the Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline. Although this would kill him and his child's potential would be impacted by the fusion of heat and light portions of the bloodline, at least his daughter would live.

Hundreds of ribbons of sunlight would fall after nine, and Blood New Moon felt a renewed sense of helplessness and deep despair. It was as though he was reliving the day he lost Jade Sundial.

It was this distress that led Blood New Moon to be grateful to the Moon Empress when he saw the two moons in the sky next to the sun.

Before White Phoenix and Blue Lotus could say anything, he placed his hand on their shoulders and said, "Blue Lotus. White Phoenix, let's continue rushing. We need to reach the Radiance Federation as soon as possible because I'm dying to see her."

Blood New Moon spoke with conviction, but his voice broke when he said the word 'her'. Although he was a father, he could not be sure if his child was a son or a daughter.

As such, he said with a strained voice, "How much hardship do you think that child has suffered ever since she was born? Do you think she resents me for not searching for her and allowing her to wander around alone? Do you think she blames me for not fulfilling my responsibility as a father?"

Blue Lotus and White Phoenix were at a loss for words,

Blood New Moon was right that this was a problem. The child was completely ignorant and did not even have a concept of what parents were. Before she reached Diamond grade, the clashing bloodlines in her body would cause her to be weak, and she must have experienced significant suffering in her life until now.

Continue reading on MYBOXNOVEL.COM

If Blood New Moon suddenly appeared in front of the child and claimed to be her father, would she truly accept him? He had feelings for her, but he was no different from a stranger to her.

Although Blue Lotus and White Phoenix shared this sentiment, they could not tell it to Blood New Moon.

Blood New Moon had just managed to calm down, and telling him such a thing right now might kill him!

Eventually, Blue Lotus said softly, "Blood New Moon, kinship comes from the bloodline. No matter what happened in the past, she will be able to accept you once you two meet. White Phoenix and I will tell her about how much she had a mother who greatly looked forward to her birth and split her bloodline into two for her. We'll also tell her about how delighted her father was when he found out she was still alive. Blood New Moon, since God allowed the two of you to reunite, you will have more than enough time together.”

Blue Lotus paused and looked enviously up at the two moons before continuing. “The Radiance Federation’s Moon Empress has become so powerful. What is that purple moon? Since the Moon Empress is the one who’s saving Little Love, I’m sure Little Love won’t be in any danger in the Radiance Federation. Don’t worry, Blood New Moon. We’ll go and see the Moon Empress when we arrive at the Radiance Federation. We can see if Sacred Cry is doing well too.”

Blood New Moon nodded but did not say anything else.

The three of them used their power to speed toward the Radiance Federation. They abandoned their plan to attack Tower Canon’s secret bases along the way.

The Moon Empress used ribbons of moonlight to keep the sunlight at bay, thereby saving Blood New Moon’s child. If he confirmed that his child was still alive when he arrived at the Radiance Federation, he was willing to do anything to repay the Moon Empress. Even if she wanted him to do something that threatened his life, he would not bat an eye.

Nonetheless, he still hoped that he could live and spend the rest of his life with his child. His child had already lost her mother, but she could still receive more love than any other fey had ever received.

Meanwhile...

The blazing sunlight had not stopped.

In the Spirit Guards’ land in the Royal Capital of the Radiance Federation, a woman with her face covered by a veil and dressed in a long black dress was standing on a swaying metal bridge.

Her eyes were fixed on the two moons in the sky, and her gaze was brimming with austerity and concern. There was also clear worry in her eyes.

The air around her fluctuated, and the sky darkened momentarily. It was as though the sun had turned into an eternal night for a split second.

At that moment, a solemn voice said from beside her, “Chief Guard, we just received word from Raging Waves City. Young Liege did not tell Elder Liu what he and Lord Lin Yuan were going to do on the island, but Elder Liu guessed that they could be going to collect something from the island. But the sea a distance away from Raging Waves City started behaving strangely, and huge waves appeared that threatened the safety of Raging Waves City.

“When the Raging Waves Guard went to check on the situation, they were blocked. According to the Raging Waves Captain’s description, Elder Liu is sure that the person who blocked them was Gu En.”

Chapter 1326: Hysterical Night Leaning Moon

Night Leaning Moon retracted her aura after hearing what Zuo Mings said. However, the worry and solemnness in her gaze did not lighten in the slightest.

A moment later, Night Leaning Moon said to Zuo Ming, "If something like this happens again, Elder Liu doesn't have to check with the higher-ups. Little Jie can have the final say on everything. Let him do whatever he wants.

"I heard that Ji Changdeng's youngest disciple An He doesn't play well with the other disciples of the members of royalty and always picks a fight with any he meets. A fight will definitely break out if Little Jie is alone with An He on the island. If they can't resolve their differences after the fight, it's possible that it will escalate to war.

"However, Xiyue's disciple is there too. Ji Changdeng wants to be on Xiyue's good side so badly that there's no way An He will touch Lin Yuan. I'm sure Ji Changdeng made sure his disciples knew of such trivial matters. You can tell Elder Liu not to worry about Little Jie and ask him to return from Raging Waves City as soon as possible."

Night Leaning Moon's tone changed to one that was deeper. She looked at Zuo Ming from the corner of her eye and said with a slight tremor in her voice, "Zuo Ming, how is the matter that I asked you to look into?"

Zuo Ming hesitated momentarily as he observed Night Leaning Moon's demeanor. Eventually, he said, "Chief Guard, I went to ask Cicada Song about this, but he sent me away without seeing me. Then, I went to see the elderly man as per your instructions. When he found out why I was there, he did not invite me to stay for tea and a round of chess like he usually does. Instead, he sighed and said that he was sleepy. Soon, he lay down on the chair and dozed off."

He did not say anything else. The matter that Night Leaning Moon had asked him to investigate concerned the Moon Empress and was extremely sensitive. Technically, Night Leaning Moon did not have the right to meddle in this matter.

Usually, regardless of whether the matter was credible, Cicada Song and that old man would have rushed to Night Leaning Moon in a frenzy to ask her if she had heard anything and why she was investigating this matter.

Yet, when they found out that she was trying to dig up information on the matter, they used dodge tactics rather than asking more or denying it outright. The unspoken meaning behind this result was clear.

Zuo Ming felt a shiver run up his back when he thought about the deep and long friendship between Night Leaning Moon and the Moon Empress.

He knew that Night Leaning Moon had to have confirmed her past decade of doubts and guesses based on Cicada Song and the old man's attitudes.

Night Leaning Moon closed her eyes that resembled the starry skies. When she opened her eyes again, all life in her gaze had gone still.

Her body started shaking like a leaf, and she clenched her fists so tightly that the grinding of the bones in her hands was audible.

She thought about how cautious the Moon Empress had become in the past decade and how it was as though she had lost her original outrageously brave spirit. She had even started to plan out every step of the way for Lin Yuan after accepting him as her disciple. It was as though she was preparing for her after-death affairs. She behaved completely differently from the person in Night Leaning Moon's memory.

The Moon Empress in Night Leaning Moon had heavenly grace and handled matters decisively. Even if she wanted to shelter her disciple, she would also want him to use his means to forge a future for himself.

The root of the Moon Empress' uncharacteristic behavior could be traced back to the fight with the Freedom Federation a decade ago.

The circumstances of the confrontation had been sealed in the imperial court.

When Night Leaning Moon learned of this, she used the excuse of providing key information from the Spirit Guards to read the sealed scroll.

During the fight a decade ago, she had been leading her subordinates to take down the carcinoma feys that had been causing trouble everywhere in the Radiance Federation. Thus, she was not clearly aware of what had happened during the fight.

But after she read the scroll, she realized that its contents appeared coherent, but too many important details had been glossed over. This should not be happening as the scroll was supposed to record the truth. All the signs pointed at the scroll having been tampered with.

It was a fact that the Moon Empress had used one attack to take down three of the Freedom Federation's top experts while sustaining a heavy attack on her own.

Night Leaning Moon had even gone to visit the injured Moon Empress. However, the Moon Empress had denied her visit and left Night Leaning Moon feeling extremely confused.

This confusion had continued to grow over the years. In the past year, Night Leaning Moon had managed to see more of the truth after piecing together information from her own investigation.

Asking Zuo Ming to go and see Cicada Song and the elderly man had been the final test.

A gust of wind blew by the metal bridge, causing it to sway. But in spite of the swaying bridge, Night Leaning Moon's body remained as straight as a board.

She glanced up at the sky before lowering her head and asking, "Zuo Ming, is Xie Dan leading the envoys from the Freedom Federation?"

All of Zuo Ming's hair stood on end. He had been by Night Leaning Moon's side for almost 40 years, and he felt he knew her well.

Night Leaning Moon was extremely cold and righteous. However, people like this would go hysterical when they snapped.

The members of royalty were the first to find out about the envoys from the Freedom Federation, and Zuo Ming had heard the news from Night Leaning Moon.

He read between the lines of what Night Leaning Moon asked and mustered his courage to reply, "Chief Guard, the person leading the team from the Freedom Federation is Xie Dan."

Zuo Ming asked experimentally, "Chief Guard, if you want to verify the matter regarding the Moon Empress, why don't you ask her yourself? Or, you can ask Cicada Song or that old man yourself too."

Night Leaning Moon gently shook her head and replied, "Xiyue is so proud that asking her anything now will be like touching a sore spot for her. Zuo Ming, go to my treasure vault and take out every precious item that can prolong lifespans and send all of them to Mystic Moon in the Radiant Moon Palace. He can decide what to do with them. I will be staying in the imperial court for some time. You and You Zhe can handle everything in the Spirit Guards as per usual."

As the ribbons of sunlight and moonbeams continued to keep each other in check, the nine ribbons of sunlight that the moonbeams had not blocked started to grow brighter.

Slowly, the tangerine belts of sunlight were replaced by white light.

The blinding white light abruptly took over the tangerine color around the Mother of Bloodbath.

Chapter 1327: Possibility of Three Moons

The white light shone from within the Mother of Bloodbath's body, and the tangerine light slowly faded away.

The Mother of Bloodbath's orange dress slowly became ivory. The thousands of spots of light on the dress added a royal aura to the Mother of Bloodbath. It was as though they were celebrating the birth of a fey that was beloved by the sun.

Lin Yuan watched as the Mother of Bloodbath's menacing aura slowly waned and became gentler. It now seemed like a gentle yet cold beauty.

However, Lin Yuan knew that this was only on the surface. The evolution of a fey's bloodline would change their appearance and aura, not their personality. Hence, the Mother of Bloodbath would retain its exact previous personality.

Lin Yuan had relaxed from the moment he saw the light from the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet as he knew that the moon would protect the Mother of Bloodbath from all external influence.

The Mother of Bloodbath only needed to rely on its own abilities to awaken its Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline.

Next, the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet had cracked, and a red moon had risen in the sky. This allowed Lin Yuan to witness how powerful the Moon Empress was.

Currently, the Moon Empress was not fighting against a person but the sky. Yet, she was still able to stand her ground.

The two moons were able to sustain the hundreds of belts of sunlight without any problem.

When Lin Yuan saw the red moon, he sensed through Shadow that it was the moon that had disappeared from the abyssal world.

Although the Class 6 abyss dimensional rift that opened in the Radiance Federation was not open to the public yet, the Moon Empress must have gone in many times.

Evidently, the Moon Empress had captured the red moon from the abyssal world and made it part of her power.

Lin Yuan thought about the light green moon that hung in the marsh world at night.

If the Moon Empress could steal the red moon from the abyssal world, she would have no problem stealing the light green moon from the marsh world.

Lin Yuan mentally subbed his hands together as he considered bringing the Moon Empress to the marsh world so that she could use its light green moon to increase her power. Then she would be able to wield three moons simultaneously.

Suddenly, Lin Yuan thought about the last question-and-answer session where he had asked the Moon Empress about Heavenly Family Feys. She had told him not to worry because she would always have his back. Now, he finally knew what she meant.

Lin Yuan had always been worried about two things when it came to the Mother of Bloodbath's awakening of its Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline.

Firstly, he was worried about whether it would be successful. But, the Moon Empress had given the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight Tablet to the Mother of Bloodbath. This took all the worry off of Lin Yuan's shoulders.

Additionally, Lin Yuan was worried that news of him having a Heavenly Family Fey would cause serious consequences when it was found out. It could potentially jeopardize the safety of Liu Jie, Wen Yu, Chu Ci, and the rest.

After all, Heavenly Family Feys were of utmost importance, and it was hard for them to avoid being targeted even if they had secure and powerful support.

But now, it was clear that he had been overly worried as the two moons were a message to the entire world that the Moon Empress was involved with this Heavenly Family Fey. This would cleanly solve all of Lin Yuan's problems.

No matter what faction or person had arrived at the Radiance Federation with the intention of targeting the Heavenly Family Fey, they would have to go through the Moon Empress first. It seemed that the Moon Empress had made all the preparations for Lin Yuan in advance without him knowing.

An He was currently instructing the Country Governor Kui with a flurry of emotions within him.

They were chasing away all the aquatic lifeforms that the Quiet Floating Hat Insect had not already blocked.

Liu Jie ordered the Insect Queen to order the Quiet Floating Hat Insect and Grounding Louse to continuously produce young that would eventually commit suicide.

The death of numerous Grounding Lice would turn its secretions into wind that would explode from the bottom of the sea.

The Country Governor Kui could already sense the earth elements from the bottom of the sea. When An He noticed this, he dove underwater to check on the situation.

Although he was an introvert, he had impressive sight. When he saw the calcified secretions that had turned into wind at the bottom of the sea, the Grounding Louse immediately came to his mind.

An He had not attended the Guard Ye Banquet and did not even know who Lin Yuan was. As such, he regarded it as bad luck that he was unaware of Lin Yuan's methods.

However, this discovery made him indignant. If the Grounding Louse's secretions had not calcified and blocked the earth elements at the bottom of the sea, the Country Governor Kiu would have been able to summon mountains that were thousands of meters tall from the bottom of the sea. They would have greatly increased the Country Governor Kui's defensive power.

An He would have been able to use the Country Governor Kui as a shield to defend against Lin Yuan's crows. If that had happened, victory could have been his.

Lin Yuan claimed that he would have been able to reproduce that attack. However, An He would only believe it if he saw it.

With the amount of power that Lin Yuan held at his age, he might not even be human.

If he could reproduce that attack, the other disciples of members of royalty that were around Lin Yuan's age would have essentially wasted their lives by not doing what he had been doing.

An He was angrily huffing away when what he saw next almost took his breath away.

Every wave summoned by Lin Yuan's sword would have destroyed at least a hundred of the Country Governor Kui's mountains. The giant whale that had leaped out of the ocean had truly startled An He and allowed him to accept his defeat.

If Lin Yuan had used that attack from the beginning, the Country Governor Kui would have died instantly.

An He stared at Lin Yuan with a completely different attitude than what he felt when the fight between him and Lin Yuan had just ended.

He had hoped to use the power he gained from the past two years of hard work to put Lin Yuan in his place during the Radiance Envoy selection. But now, he only hoped that his effort would allow him to keep up as close to Lin Yuan as possible.

At that moment, the sun goddess-like Mother of Bloodbath's eyes snapped open.

The next thing it would do would be the most important choice of its life.

The Mother of Bloodbath had already absorbed enough light energy from the sun. It would then absorb the World Grace from the World Cleansing. There was nothing stopping it from becoming a Heavenly Family Fey.

Chapter 1328: Organization of the Mother of Bloodbath's Bloodline

Currently, the Mother of Bloodbath still had its Blood Red Bird-Catching Spider bloodline along with its Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline. It would now have to decide how they could coexist in its body.

The percentage dominance that each of the bloodlines held would decide the direction of the Mother of Bloodbath's future transformations.

While the Mother of Bloodbath was thinking, Shadow had dispelled the Myth III World Cleansing, and the World Grace had already formed in the hole in the sky.

The Mother of Bloodbath had grown up without its parents and had had to watch every move it made as it grew up in the savage wild. Its life had only improved when it evolved to Gold grade and could hide from danger on Endless Summer's body.

Before the Mother of Bloodbath had reached Diamond grade, it had seen countless families living in Endless Summer's boughs.

Due to predators, some fey parents had to desperately fight for survival. The Mother of Bloodbath had learned from this that some parents were even willing to give up their lives to protect their children.

The Mother of Bloodbath had longed for family, but it could not be obtained through yearning.

But now, the Mother of Bloodbath could tangibly sense its parents through the Sky Sundial Jade Spider and Blood Red Bird-Catching Spider bloodline.

As such, the Mother of Bloodbath would rather suppress both bloodlines so that they each took up 50% of dominance.

Now that it had made its decision, the Mother of Bloodbath jumped into the air and made a beeline for the World Grace in the hole in the sky.

At that moment, several red gems appeared in the white crown on the Mother of Bloodbath's head. Soon, several large blood-colored patterns appeared on the Mother of Bloodbath's white dress.

The contrast of red and white gave the Mother of Bloodbath's gentle aura a more sultry edge.

As Lin Yuan looked at the Mother of Bloodbath's one white and one red eye, he felt its beauty could hypnotize the soul.

Suddenly, three Red Water Blood Snakes appeared from behind the Mother of Bloodbath. They had the Hornless Dragon bloodline that the Mother of Bloodbath's evolution had activated.

The same patterns that were on the Mother of Bloodbath's dress were also all over the Red Water Blood Snakes' bodies. However, their heads were still dark red like they used to be.

When the Red Water Blood Snake danced around, the nine belts of sunlight rapidly solidified in the Mother of Bloodbath's hand and turned into a bristled spike. This bristled spike was a weapon formed from the Mother of Bloodbath's own body.

The Mother of Bloodbath was a murderous fey, and its External Blood Bone allowed it to have elevated combat skills.

Now, the bristled spike formed from Body Weaponization raised the Mother of Bloodbath's attacking power and allowed it to have a specialty.

Lin Yuan used True Data to check on the Mother of Bloodbath.

[Fey Name]: Mother of Bloodbath

[Fey Species]: Tarantulas/Chelicerata

[Fey Grade]: Suzerain (10/10)

[Fey Type]: Natural (Light)/Blood

[Fey Quality]: Myth III

Abilities:

[Execution Sting]: Through the eight sharp chelicerae, the blood and light energy will be injected into the target to control their blood while simultaneously purifying them.

[Eyes of Senluo]: The spider eyes look directly at the core of the blood inside the target and anticipate the target's next movements based on the blood flow. At the same time, the spider eyes can look through the target to a certain extent.

[Funeral of Light]: After killing a target with a strong enough soul, the target's soul can be momentarily controlled by light energy. Once the light dries up with soul energy, the target can become a temporary controllable zombie.

[Spider Form Attachment]: Condense its own blood energy into a blood core which can overload the attacks from the outside world. When the spider core is shattered, the light energy within can restrain a target.

[Blood Control]: Call down belts of sunlight from the sun to restrain and attack targets while activating the blood energy in the target's body. The flow of fresh blood in the target's body can be momentarily controlled.

[Hug of Dawn's Light]: Take in energy from the sun and swallow it to temporarily increase its power. The light energy can also be used to slowly heal injuries.

Exclusive Skill:

[Desire Spider Form]: Increase its affinity for light energy so that the body will not reject excessive light energy but will transform it into hair that can store the light energy. After the devoured light energy tempers inside the body, light energy can be absorbed directly into the body.

[Concealed Spider Shadow]: Stop the flow of its own blood energy, conceal its aura, and transform it into the form of 'nothing'. It can then use the sun as its eyes to survey the surrounding environment.

[External Blood Bone]: The chelicerae will be fused into other young feys' bodies so they can become its blood bones. The strength of the external blood bone cannot be higher than the strength of the target being pierced. The dark-type curses or negative soul-type effects of the target can be purified.

Lin Yuan realized that the Mother of Bloodbath's abilities had changed completely. This was because it was no longer an ordinary fey but a Heavenly Family Fey. Hence, it would be considered bullying to compare its True Data to that of other feys.

Endless Summer had encountered a huge opportunity when it gained three tree cores and combined with the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow bloodline. Yet, it still could not be compared to the Mother of Bloodbath.

The only Heavenly Family Fey that Lin Yuan had encountered was Gray.

Gray's Cloud Morph was special and could not be perceived from an ordinary standpoint. But from its absorption of weather, it had proved the strength of Heavenly Family Feys to Lin Yuan.

The Mother of Bloodbath's True Data did not pale compared to Gray's True Data.

On the one hand, Lin Yuan was dumbfounded by the might of Heavenly Family Feys. But on the other hand, he knew that the Mother of Bloodbath's future would be one where it soared with flying colors.

Chapter 1329: Lin Yuan is Hugged

Lin Yuan had checked the Mother of Bloodbath's True Data on the way to Indigo Azure City. Hence, the memory of its original True Data was etched deeply in his mind.

The Mother of Bloodbath's original abilities and exclusive skill all surrounded the manipulation of blood energy. But now, it could also control light energy.

Before it unlocked its Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline, the Mother of Bloodbath's Normal ability Execution Sting used all eight of its sharp chelicerae to inject blood energy into a target. After which, it would be able to control the flow of the target's blood.

After it unlocked its Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline and light energy was added, Execution Sting could also purify targets.

Previously, due to the low number of contracted feys and the low grade of the feys, the spirit qi professionals relied on the feys' bodies or elemental attacks in combat. As such, their combat and attacking styles were simpler.

However, after spirit qi professionals grew and started to contract a higher number and more powerful feys, their combat styles relied more on matching main feys. Such combat styles would usually come with great benefits to the main feys that would significantly increase their strength. It was even possible that the main feys would be able to fight above their grade.

Execution Sting's effect of purifying a target would break the mold of many feys working together for one combat style.

This seemingly simple ability could turn the tables at key moments and secure victory.

The Mother of Bloodbath's Elite ability Senluo Eyes now had the ability to look through targets. The Mother of Bloodbath's main combat style focused on piercing its targets. By being able to see through a target, the Mother of Bloodbath would be able to choose the right place to attack its target that would cause the greatest damage.

Eight Direction Blood could change the blood in a target's body to injure it. It could also force blood out of the orifices in the target's body.

But now, Eight Direction Blood had been replaced by Funeral of Light. Funeral of Light could use light energy to control a target's soul after killing the target. Once the light energy dried up the target's soul, the target would become completely malleable and fall under the Mother of Bloodbath's control.

Funeral of Light was stronger than Eight Direction Blood from any angle. When the Mother of Bloodbath used Funeral of Light, it would be able to take control of every target it killed when it was faced with multiple enemies. As the battle progressed, the Mother of Bloodbath would be able to form an army.

Funeral of Light would use another method to make up for the Mother of Bloodbath's lack of group attack abilities.

Spider Form Attachment could now control targets using light energy after the small spiders that formed were shattered. This allowed Spider Form Attachment to become an ability that combined attack, defense, and control.

Blood Control had also changed significantly. Previously, it could temporarily manipulate a target by controlling their blood. But now, it could activate the sun to release ribbons of sunlight that could restrain or attack targets. This increased the Mother of Bloodbath's elemental effects and allowed it to handle any kind of battleground.

Blood Embrace had also changed completely into Hug of Dawn's Light.

Blood Embrace ingested blood energy to use it to heal the Mother of Bloodbath. It would allow the Mother of Bloodbath to absorb blood energy to increase its power quickly.

But now, Hug of Dawn's Light would allow the Mother of Bloodbath to absorb the sun's energy. When used in conjunction with Desire Spider Form, the Mother of Bloodbath would be able to store the remnants of light energy as hair. This would allow the Mother of Bloodbath to increase its grade as quickly as when it consumed Blood Brew Grapes. The Mother of Bloodbath would not have to worry about going bald as long as the sun was around. Rather, it might have to worry about whether its neck could hold up its overly heavy head.

Concealed Spider Shadow was largely similar to its original state as it still stopped blood flow in the Mother of Bloodbath's body. But now, the Mother of Bloodbath could use the sun as its eyes to survey the surrounding environment. This would enable the Mother of Bloodbath to change from a killer to a scout.

As for External Blood Bone, the only change was that when the external blood bone pierced a target's body, it could choose to eliminate all the dark-type curses of negative soul effects from the target. This essentially added a healing ability for the Mother of Bloodbath.

Being pierced by the External Blood Bone and bitten by the Red Water Blood Snakes was no different.

Among all the healing abilities and exclusive skills Lin Yuan had come across, External Blood Bone was the most vicious.

After awakening its Heavenly Family Fey bloodline, the Mother of Bloodbath became so strong that it shocked Lin Yuan.

While Lin Yuan was checking the Mother of Bloodbath's abilities and exclusive skills, it flew over to his side.

The Mother of Bloodbath's sharp eyes fixated on Lin Yuan, but it did not say a word.

Just as Lin Yuan was about to congratulate the Mother of Bloodbath for successfully transforming into a Heavenly Family Fey, the Mother of Bloodbath wrapped him in an embrace.

It hugged Lin Yuan tightly as though it was holding a precious treasure.

Lin Yuan was taken off guard by the Mother of Bloodbath's hug.

Chapter 1330: Change in the Blood Brew Grapevine

At that moment, the Mother of Bloodbath whispered into Lin Yuan's ear, "Thank you."

The Mother of Bloodbath suddenly jumped away from Lin Yuan as a blush spread across its face. The flush elevated the Mother of Bloodbath's beauty even more.

It was embarrassed by its sudden loss of control. It did not understand why it had hugged Lin Yuan so abruptly.

These feelings were clearly not meant to be expressed outwardly!

However, Lin Yuan's loyal determination and the way he was even willing to risk his life had given it new hope. Moreover, he had done everything in his power to help it during its transformation. This favor had transcended the level of being able to be repaid.

Ever since it became Lin Yuan's Path Protector, it had lost count of the number of times Lin Yuan had helped it. In fact, Lin Yuan had changed its life twice already.

Meanwhile, Lin Yuan did not find anything strange about the Mother of Bloodbath's hug as he chalked it up to the Mother of Bloodbath being too excited about awakening its Heavenly Family Fey bloodline.

Since the Mother of Bloodbath had released him before he could congratulate it, he decided to try and properly congratulate it again.

At that moment, Liu Jie, the Kill Food Sky Butterfly, and Shadow crowded around the Mother of Bloodbath to share in its joy.

The Mother of Bloodbath was terrified that Lin Yuan would mention the hug. If he did, it would not be able to offer an explanation. Thus, before Lin Yuan could even get a single word out, the Mother of Bloodbath jumped in and said, "Lin Yuan, while I was unlocking my bloodline, I absorbed the blood energy in the Crimson Tentacle Algae to adjust my bloodline. Now that I've awakened the Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline, I can't use blood energy to increase my power anymore. I will have to absorb light energy from the sun to increase my power from now on."

At this point, the Mother of Bloodbath felt slightly regretful. If the Sky Sundial Jade Spider bloodline did not prevent it from absorbing blood energy to increase its power, it could have already evolved to Creation Breed.

However, it was fine even if it had not evolved to Creation Breed. With its abilities and exclusive skills, it was confident that it would be able to evolve to Immortal soon.

Only by evolving to Immortal would it be able to call itself Lin Yuan's Path Protector.

It looked at the Blood Brew Grapevine that Lin Yuan had tossed to the ground but that it had not absorbed and said, "Lin Yuan, the Blood Brew Grapevine has reached Diamond X/Legend. It requires too many resources to nurture Heaven and Earth Feys, yet they don't have much combat ability.

"Even high-class Creation Masters find it difficult to sustain the nurturing of Heaven and Earth Fey. The Blood Brew Grapevine would never be able to reach Diamond X/Legend in the wild. If it had not had the luck to be picked up by a person, its leaves would have been immediately consumed by other feys when it reached Gold grade.

"There is still a significant amount of the Crimson Tentacle Algae's body left. A small amount of it will be able to transform the Blood Brew Grapevine."

Lin Yuan had wanted to congratulate the Mother of Bloodbath. But now that the Mother of Bloodbath had changed the topic and brought up a suggestion, he did not try to congratulate it again.

He looked at the pinnacle 6 Stars Crimson Tentacle Algae that was currently being torn apart by the Sawtooth Devour Ants and said with a smile, "I got the Blood Brew Grapevine for you in the first place. Now that you no longer need to absorb blood energy, it no longer has any use. But it shall have a chance to transform since you spoke up for it. Why don't you keep it so that it will follow you after it has been nurtured?"

The Mother of Bloodbath picked up the Blood Brew Grapevine from the ground.

Although the Blood Brew Grapevine was a plant and could not speak, it could still sense danger and kindness. Previously, it had regarded Lin Yuan as the nicest person in the world because he had been the one who evolved it to its current level.

But ever since Lin Yuan took it out of the fey storage box and it sensed Lin Yuan's intention to sacrifice it, the Blood Brew Grapevine had not stopped trembling.

Now that the Mother of Bloodbath had kindly pleaded for mercy on its behalf, the Blood Brew Grapevine immediately clung to it.

It tentatively wrapped its vine around the Mother of Bloodbath's hand and offered up a ripe branch of Blood Brew Grapes.

The Mother of Bloodbath smiled when it saw this. It gently stroked the Blood Brew Grapevine and plucked one of the Blood Brew Grapes.

The Blood Brew Grapes produced by the Diamond X/Legend Blood Brew Grapevine were considered treasured amongst blood-type feys. The blood energy in Blood Brew Grapes also had healing properties for non-blood-type feys.

As much as the Mother of Bloodbath liked the taste of Blood Brew Grapes, it would not eat any more now that it could no longer use it to increase its power.

After the Mother of Bloodbath stored away the Blood Brew Grapes, it also stored the Blood Brew Grapevine in the red crystal cluster Diamond fey storage box hanging on its ear.

Lin Yuan walked over to the Crimson Tentacle Algae.

Liu Jie ordered the Insect Queen to call the Sawtooth Devour Ant back.

Lin Yuan looked at the thickest red tentacle on the Crimson Tentacle Algae's body and slammed the sacred sword down on it, cleanly cleaving it off.

This tentacle was the Crimson Tentacle Algae's ortet. It could be turned into a precious instrument.

Lin Yuan was not a true Class 5 Creation Master and could not forge precious instruments. If he wanted to do so, he would either have to ask the Moon Empress or wait for Genius to reach Class 5.

The Sawtooth Devour Ants had broken up the rest of the Crimson Tentacle Algae's body into pieces, and Lin Yuan told the Mother of Bloodbath to store them to feed to the Blood Brew Grapevine.

After gathering his spoils, Lin Yuan ignored the smiling Silver Umber Black.

The Mother of Bloodbath had almost died because of Shark Awn. Although this was not Silver Umber Black's fault, it was still Silver Umber Black who had attracted Shark Awn.

Given that he had almost lost his friend, Lin Yuan found it difficult not to place blame on Silver Umber Black.

As Lin Yuan listened to the whale calls, he decided to go and collect the whale fall.

This whale fall could be the key to the Floating Island Whale's early hatching.
