Chapter 891: The Crying Mother of Bloodbath

Even if spirit qi professionals utilized special feys to breathe underwater, the effects were limited.

The water world was an endless sea that had countless water world dimensional lifeforms swimming in it.

Spirit qi professionals were unable to venture too deeply into the water world. Once they ran out of oxygen, even the strongest spirit qi professionals would have to stay in the water world forever.

The bodies of water world dimensional lifeforms were useless to spirit qi professionals. If the water world dimensional lifeforms were removed from the water world, they would become burdens to the spirit qi professional.

The stench of rotting water world dimensional lifeforms was unbearable.

The subterranean world was much stronger than the water world. It had a large amount of metal spiritual ingredients which could be used to create different items and nurture feys.

As such, the metal spiritual ingredients were beneficial to spirit qi professionals.

However, it was just as difficult to explore the subterranean world as it was to explore the water world.

The subterranean world's environment was not friendly to spirit qi professionals.

In order to explore the subterranean world, one needed a fey that could provide light. This seemed like a waste of skills to most people.

There were also more dangers in the subterranean world than just subterranean dimensional lifeforms as earthquakes and rock slides were also common. Once an earthquake or rock slide occurred, the exploring spirit qi professional would definitely lose their life.

The abyssal and alien insect worlds were much less dangerous than the water and subterranean worlds.

The abyssal world seemed more suitable for spirit qi professionals to venture into because their lifeforms were powerful but few in number.

A spirit qi professional team might be able to launch an attack into the alien insect world, but the flood of alien insects would easily overwhelm the team.

Strange flames could also be found in the abyssal world. Many lifestyle-class spirit qi professionals required strange flames, and a large supply of strange flames from the abyssal world would be able to increase the power of lifestyle-class spirit qi professionals in the main world.

Although alien insects were also a rare resource that was comparable to strange flames, the flesh of alien insects was much less valuable than the flesh of abyssal dimensional lifeforms.

Abyssal monsters could be separated to produce spiritual ingredients, but they were of little use to Creation Masters.

Hence, abyssal monsters were the most expensive dimensional lifeform.

However, Lin Yuan felt that the most suitable dimensional world for exploration was the rare marsh world.

The marsh world had a similar environment to the main world.

Although the marsh world had marsh in its name, less than 60% of the world was marshland, and the remaining 40% was land.

The marsh world consisted of many small islands floating in a marsh.

The lifeforms in the marsh world were amphibious, but there was a large amount of earth-type elements in the marsh. Spirit qi professionals would be able to use earth-type feys in the marsh world.

The earth-type feys would be able to use the pure earth-type elements to combine the small islands into a large earth mass.

Although the marsh world was damp, it was very suitable for nurturing damp and climbing-type feys, insect-species feys, and plant-type feys.

Despite most of the dimensional lifeforms in the marsh dimensional rift having similar value to water world dimensional lifeforms, some marsh dimensional lifeforms such as the Medusa had earth-shattering value.

While Lin Yuan was thinking, Night Leaning Moon said, "The Class 6 abyss dimensional rift that opened in the Scorching Desert is now available to all veteran and top factions. However, all the factions will have to pool their resources in order to sustain the opening. Every faction that enters the abyssal world will have to provide 10 mid-grade strange flames per day."

After Night Leaning Moon finished speaking, Lin Yuan could clearly see the yearning bursting forth from the expressions of the veteran and top factions.

Evidently, they all wanted to expand their factions into the abyssal world.

Compared to the benefits of expanding into the abyssal world, 10 strange flames per day was nothing.

Hence, the price for a month in the abyssal world was 300 strange flames.

300 strange flames may seem like a lot, but as long as a faction dispatched enough people, it should be easy to collect more than enough.

Most of the major factions in the Radiance Federation had expanded to a respectable extent, and further expansion would result in them fighting over valuable resources with each other.

The opening of the abyssal world was a chance for the factions to break into another area for expansion.

The abyssal world was much larger than the abyssal world.

Just as Lin Yuan was thinking about whether to expand Sky City into the abyssal world, Genius said to Lin Yuan through their spiritual link, “Yuan, your phone has been ringing for five minutes in the Spirit Lock spatial zone. There have already been eight calls. Is it an emergency?”

Lin Yuan quickly summoned his phone from the Spirit Lock spatial zone and saw that the calls had all come from the Mother of Bloodbath.

He did not want to answer a call at this time, but since it came from the Mother of Bloodbath, Lin Yuan had a bad feeling about it.

The Mother of Bloodbath knew that he was attending the Guard Ye Banquet with Liu Jie and would not call him over a trivial matter.

Moreover, this was when Endless Summer could evolve to Creation Breed.

Lin Yuan anxiously picked up the call.

It was a severe matter for Myth Breed feys to undergo the Trial of World Creation to evolve to Creation Breed.

He picked up the call and heard the ever-calm Mother of Bloodbath sobbing on the other end.

“Lin Yuan, Sister Summer is in the remote area 3,000 kilometers away from the Royal Capital to prepare to undergo the Trial of World Creation. Although she used pure law power to evolve the Enlightenment Law, it’s much harder to evolve than other laws.. When the first trial descended, Sister Summer was seriously injured. I’m afraid that she won’t be able to handle the next two trials!”

Chapter 892: I’m With Master

Lin Yuan clenched his fist tightly as distress flooded him, and he thought, ?I can’t believe I guessed right.

Lin Yuan had seen several Myth Breed feys undergo World Cleansing, and each time, the fey had almost stepped through death’s door.

The dangers of the World Cleansing could not hold a candle to that of the Trial of World Creation.

The World Cleansing was like inching by death’s door, while the Trial of World Creation was like barging through Hell.

The dangers and difficulty of the Trial of World Creation were the reasons why there were so few Creation Breed feys.

Many pinnacle emperor-class experts had spent over 10 years building their power to enable their feys to undergo the Trial of World Creation. However, they were still unwilling to send their feys to undergo the Trial of World Creation for fear of the dangers.

Not every emperor-class expert could handle the possible loss of their fey after the failure of the Trial of World Creation.

If the emperor-class experts were adamant on their feys evolving to Creation Breed, they would spend a large sum to seek help from a thearch-class expert with Creation Breed feys.

Even with the help of a thearch-class expert, there was no guarantee that the fey would be able to safely overcome the Trial of World Creation.

There would always be feys that failed to overcome the Trial of World Creation.

The journey of evolution was like a pyramid. The feys on the lower levels would have to put their lives on the line in order to climb up to the peak.

The law of nature maintained a constant number of living creatures. This balance could only be the result of a cycle of birth and death.

The Moon Empress had explained Creation Breeds and the Trial of World Creation in detail to Lin Yuan in a previous question-and-answer session.

The World Cleansing was the first test that a fey had to overcome. The fey that was able to sustain the World Cleansing would gain a deeper understanding of its own law.

The World Grace would significantly improve a fey's law.

The Trial of World Creation used the power of world cleaving to splice the complete law in a pinnacle Myth III fey. After three trials of splicing, the broken laws would become strangely connected to form a law world.

Thus, the first obstacle of the Trial of World Creation was the pain of law splicing.

Although this pain would lead to a new lease of life, law power was the foundation of Myth Breed feys.

Additionally, there were two other trials that the fey would have to undergo while sustaining the pain of law splicing. Even for gifted feys, it was extremely difficult to handle.

After the three trials in the Trial of World Creation, the Creation World Ley Line would descend.

When the Creation World Ley Line was fused with the law world, all the injuries sustained during the Trial of World Creation would be healed.

The Mother of Bloodbath's call put Lin Yuan in a tough spot.

If it was an issue with resources such as a lack of Law Crystals with pure law power, Lin Yuan would be able to supply them easily.

Even if Lin Yuan had trouble supplying the resources, he would find a way to solve the shortage.

Unfortunately, this issue concerned the Trial of World Creation, and he would only be able to help Endless Summer safely overcome the Trial of World Creation if he had enough power.

Hence, he had no choice but to ask the Moon Empress for help.

Although Lin Yuan had always relied on his own hard work to improve himself, this determination was not as important as Endless Summer's life.

Lin Yuan quickly tried to comfort the Mother of Bloodbath. "Don't get yourself too worked up. I gave you some of the Ethereal Jellyfish's tentacles. Do you still have them?"

The Mother of Bloodbath sobbed and replied, "I have them. I've been keeping them in a Diamond fey storage box."

It took the three tentacles out of the red crystal-cluster earring Diamond fey storage box.

Lin Yuan sighed in relief when he heard that the Mother of Bloodbath still had the Ethereal Jellyfish's tentacles.

According to the Mother of Bloodbath, Endless Summer was in a remote area 3,000 kilometers outside of the Royal Capital.

Without the Ethereal Jellyfish's tentacles, he would not know where to find the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer even with the Moon Empress's help.

There was a half an hour interval in between each splice in the Trial of World Creation, and eight minutes had already passed since the Mother of Bloodbath had called Lin Yuan.

This meant that there were still 22 minutes to go before the next splice, which was enough time for Lin Yuan to use the Ethereal Jellyfish's tentacles to make several return trips.

Endless Summer must have sensed that it had broken through a barrier while using Law Crystals to temper the Enlightenment Law and dragged the Mother of Bloodbath to a remote area in a fit of delight to undergo the Trial of World Creation.

Lin Yuan had been greatly looking forward to Endless Summer evolving to Creation Breed.

Endless Summer had used a large number of Law Crystals and became anxious when it could not break through.

Lin Yuan sighed. Endless Summer was so carelessly taking on the Trial of World Creation because of all the pressure he had put on it.

While he was thinking, Lin Yuan said to the Mother of Bloodbath, "Good job holding on to the Ethereal Jellyfish's tentacles. I'll find a way to come over to help you now."

He thought about how the Mother of Bloodbath was wailing and went on to say, "I'm with Master."

He had added the last line in an attempt to put the Mother of Bloodbath at ease.

After hearing what Lin Yuan said, the Mother of Bloodbath's choking sobs seemed to quell.

If Lin Yuan can seek help from the Moon Empress, Sister Summer will definitely be able to safely overcome the Trial of World Creation.

Even though the Mother of Bloodbath's fright had decreased, it still could not relax.

When Endless Summer had sustained the first blow from the Trial of World Creation, the Mother of Bloodbath had tried to help take some of the damage.

Chapter 893: Kill Food Worm

Although the Mother of Bloodbath had only helped to take a small portion of the damage, it had sustained a serious internal injury.

The Mother of Bloodbath felt as though its internal organs were tangled with each other, and it was extremely excruciating.

The pain was so severe that the Mother of Bloodbath could no longer maintain its human form.

The Mother of Bloodbath fought through the pain and looked at Endless Summer's pained expression after almost being split in two from the first splice.

Although Endless Summer had also sustained a serious injury, it remained conscious.

At that moment, Endless Summer felt unspeakable regret.

Endless Summer had been caught up in its desire to evolve to Creation Breed. It felt that it had not been of much help to Lin Yuan ever since it became Lin Yuan's Protector. Rather, it had been Lin Yuan who had been continuously helping it.

Since it was part of Sky City's main fighting power, it had learned through the various confrontations with the Zheng family and Connected Beast Park that it would be extremely beneficial to Sky City if it evolved to Creation Breed.

Once it evolved to Creation Breed and gained the arch-class powers, Sky City would have the martial force to compete with top factions.

Despite already anticipating a major struggle, Endless Summer had never seen other feys experience the Trial of World Creation.

It did not expect its anticipations and reality to be so far apart.

The part that made Endless Summer feel the worst was that its carelessness had affected the Mother of Bloodbath.

The Mother of Bloodbath had been stained by the aura of the Trial of World Creation when it had taken on some of the damage from the first blow of the Trial of World Creation. Although the Mother of Bloodbath had already escaped as far from the Trial of World Creation as possible, it would continue to be attacked by the Trial of World Creation due to the aura of the Trial of World Creation.

It was only Suzerain/Myth II now, and there was no way that it would be able to handle the attacks from the Trial of World Creation.

The Trial of World Creation Cloud was preparing to launch its second strike, and Endless Summer was filled with sorrow.

Endless Summer had used almost all its strength to prevent the spliced Enlightenment Law from being dispersed and did not have the strength to manipulate the Enlightenment Law to defend against the second attack or use the power of the second attack to temper the spliced Enlightenment Law in order to connect the pieces.

At that moment, the Mother of Bloodbath flew up to Endless Summer and shouted, "Sister Summer, Lin Yuan is with the Moon Empress. He'll be here to help soon. You should collect the Enlightenment Law for now so that it won't be dispersed. There are still 20 minutes before the Trial of World Creation's second attack. That's enough time for Lin Yuan to arrive using the Ethereal Jellyfish's tentacles."

Before Endless Summer could let out a sigh of relief, something changed.

Black and brown energy with the energy of lightning shot out of the ground and hit the Trial of World Creation Cloud in the sky.

A brown and black furry worm tunneled out of the ground.

Even with only half its body out of the ground, it was already 30 meters tall when it straightened its body.

It was truly an enormous fey.

When the black and brown energy struck the Trial of World Creation Cloud, it was like water that had fallen into a pot of oil.

The Trial of World Creation Cloud immediately started to thrash wildly.

The second attack that should only arrive in 20 minutes was rapidly winding up.

Streaks of red lightning flashed within the cloud, and it seemed that the Trial of World Creation's second attack would be launching in less than five minutes.

The abrupt development made the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer's hearts plunge.

They sensed that this brown and black furry worm had reached Suzerain/Myth III.

Although it had not reached the pinnacle, it was close to that level.

The sight of the Myth III insect-species fey made the Mother of Bloodbath's expression change drastically from hope to devastation.

The Mother of Bloodbath's devastation did not come from the brown and black worm's grade but because it was the notorious Kill Food Worm.

The Kill Food Worm was very gifted and could consume almost any Law Crystal.

Despite only being able to consume a small amount of law energy with different roots, any consumption was considered impressive.

Usually, it was rare for a fey experiencing the Trial of World Creation in a remote area to be attacked by other feys.

The only feys that would possibly attack were feys that had comprehended the same type of laws.

It was extremely stupid to pick a fight with a Myth Breed fey for no reason.

Feys focused all their energy whenever they were trying to overcome the World Cleansing or Trial of World Creation.

If the fey committed suicide instead of overcoming the World Cleansing or Trial of World Creation, it would pull other feys in the vicinity into its suicidal attack.

However, the Kill Food Worm was different from other Myth Breed feys.

The Kill Food Worm was unintelligent, and some spent their entire lives only eating and fighting.

As an insect-species fey, the Kill Food Worm could not take human form even when it reached Myth III. The biggest reason was that it was still the Kill Food Sky Butterfly's larva even when it reached Suzerain/Myth III.

After the Kill Food Worm absorbed enough Law Crystals and reached pinnacle Suzerain/Myth III, it would spit out silk to build a cocoon to wrap itself inside.

After the Kill Food Worm finished transforming inside the larva, it would immediately undergo the Trial of World Creation.

Amongst all the feys in the world, only a few with elite bloodlines would definitely be able to overcome the Trial of World Creation without any dangers.

One of those feys was the Kill Food Sky Butterfly that could flawlessly sustain the three attacks of the Trial of World Creation.

The sturdy Kill Food Sky Butterfly's cocoon would split open when its law evolved to the law world.

The Creation Breed Kill Food Sky Butterfly would break out of its cocoon and fly up into the sky.

Chapter 894: Villain? What Kind of Villain Do You Want to Become?

The Mother of Bloodbath could not figure out why a fey as rare as the Kill Food Worm would appear at such a deserted area.

It was just like encountering a whale in a pit of manure.

The Kill Food Worm did not give the Mother of Bloodbath any time to react before it continued attacking the Trial of World Creation Cloud.

The terrifying Kill Food Worm greedily eyed the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer as though it had decided to make them into its snacks.

The Mother of Bloodbath knew that Endless Summer needed to invest all its energy into gathering the spliced Enlightenment Law, so it was the only one that could defend against the Kill Food Worm's attacks now.

Otherwise, the Trial of World Creation Cloud's second attack would arrive sooner than they expected.

The Mother of Bloodbath's true form was the size of a small mountain, and it lunged toward the Kill Food Worm as it activated Eyes of Senluo, Execution Sting, and Eight Direction Blood.

The Eyes of Senluo helped the Mother of Bloodbath to anticipate the Kill Food Worm's movements and dodge the imminent attacks.

The Mother of Bloodbath's eight legs dived down toward the Kill Food Worm. At that moment, the brown law power in the Kill Food Worm throbbed around its body and prevented the Mother of Bloodbath from piercing its body.

Instead, the Mother of Bloodbath used the chance to inject its own blood qi into the Kill Food Worm's body and used Blood Control to temporarily control the Kill Food Worm's movements. This led to the Kill Food Worm's attack missing.

In this moment of peril, the Mother of Bloodbath immediately activated the External Blood Bone, and three Red Water Blood Snakes emerged from the Mother of Bloodbath's red shadow.

The Red Water Blood Snakes collided against the Kill Food Worm.

Since the Red Water Blood Snakes had fused with the Mother of Bloodbath's fallen fangs, they were the Mother of Bloodbath's strongest attack weapons.

However, the three Red Water Blood Snakes attacks only left three bottle cap-sized holes in the Kill Food Worm's body.

This was an insignificant injury to the enormous Kill Food Worm.

The Mother of Bloodbath watched as the three holes in the Kill Food Worm healed, and it hurriedly seized the opportunity to inject its blood qi through the healing holes into the Kill Food Worm's body.

It circulated the power of its Blood Law and used Blood Control to temporarily control the Kill Food Worm again.

The Mother of Bloodbath manipulated the Kill Food Worm to release its stored energy into the ground underneath it because the Mother of Bloodbath knew that over 30 meters of the Kill Food Worm's body were still underground.

This attack was meant to use the Kill Food Worm's own energy to attack itself.

While Blood Control was in effect, the Mother of Bloodbath jumped out of the way.

The Kill Food Worm howled in pain, and a large patch of earth became brown mud that emanated a strange stench.

The Mother of Bloodbath knew that the mud was a result of the Kill Food Worm's blood oozing out of its body and mixing with the earth.

Now, the Kill Food Worm was livid, and it tunneled fully out of the ground. It coiled its body and was about to shoot toward the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer when an old woman riding on a huge avian-type fey appeared in the sky.

She angrily yelled, "Dominate Sky Snake Dove, stop the Kill Food Worm!"

The large avian-type fey whipped its tail, and a huge snakehead emerged from the long feathers.

The snakehead opened its mouth and shot out multiple chains.

The chains locked up the Kill Food Worm. No matter how much the Kill Food Worm struggled, it could not break free from the chains.

The silver-haired old woman arrived next to the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer in the blink of an eye.

She studied them for a moment before pursing her lips and saying, "I came to capture the Kill Food Worm that had escaped from Insect Valley Cage. Who would have thought that I would run into this pleasant surprise? I can't believe there are two uncontracted Myth Breed feys here."

The silver-haired old woman's words made the Mother of Bloodbath's expression turn grim.

It had assumed that the old woman had come to save it and Endless Summer. It did not expect the Kill Food Worm to belong to the old woman.

Nonetheless, the old woman's methods had shocked the Mother of Bloodbath.

Usually, when the Mother of Bloodbath activated the three Red Water Blood Snakes using External Blood Bone, they would be able to fight for an extended period against three feys of the same grade.

But due to the Kill Food Worm's elite bloodline, the Mother of Bloodbath had only managed to make three small holes in the Kill Food Worm's body.

However, this old woman had controlled the Kill Food Worm with one move.

Obviously, the old woman was a thearch-class expert.

The Mother of Bloodbath did not want to start trouble because any new development could cause the Trial of World Creation's attacks to descend prematurely.

As such, it could only pray that Lin Yuan would arrive in the next five minutes.

From the old woman's calculative gaze, the Mother of Bloodbath did not think that it was likely that she would be willing to help Endless Summer overcome the Trial of World Creation.

The Mother of Bloodbath also regretted immediately fusing the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight tablet that the Moon Empress had given it with its Blood Law.

Otherwise, it would now be able to use the power of combining the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight tablet and its Blood Law to help Endless Summer safely overcome the Trial of World Creation.

However, the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight tablet was now fully fused with the Blood Law, and it would not be able to use the Crescent Moon Radiant Sunlight tablet even if it sacrificed its life.

The silver-haired old woman pointed two fingers at the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless

Summer and said, "The both of you should know who I am. Now, I'm going to give you a precious opportunity. Join my Cage of Brahma Insects, and I'll help that tree transform into Creation Breed."

Neither the Mother of Bloodbath nor Endless Summer knew who this old woman was. They had been by Lin Yuan's side from the moment they left the Endless Forest and had not met many other experts.

However, they had heard of the Cage of Brahma Insects.

The Cage of Brahma Insects was one of the top three factions in the Radiance Federation, along with Rhine Lifeform and Whale Ocean Commerce.

These three factions securely held the top three positions for many years.

The Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer did not expect the old woman to be from Cage of Brahma Insects.

However, they declined her proposition without hesitation.

Lin Yuan had saved their lives, and they would never betray Lin Yuan even if it killed them.

The silver-haired old woman did not expect these two Myth Breed feys in such a dangerous situation to reject her proposition. Her expression hardened, and she sneered coldly. "If you don't join Cage of Brahma Insects, I won't mind becoming a villain."

At that moment, the space beside the Mother of Bloodbath rippled, and the silhouette of a young man stepped out of the spatial fluctuation.

The young man casually asked the old woman, "Villian? What kind of villain do you want to become?"

Chapter 895: Biting the Hand That Fed You

The silver-haired old woman instinctively answered, "I don't want to start any trouble. I can just wait for them to die from the Trial of World Creation to collect their Law Crystals."

While she spoke, the old woman's eyes widened as she noticed that the young man's clothes seemed familiar.

Realization dawned on her.

Isn't this the Moon Empress' Moonbeam Coronation Costume!?

The old woman had interacted with the Moon Empress several times before and had even been to Leaning Moon Mountain once to seek the Moon Empress' help in nurturing feys.

She had been to the Radiant Moon Palace multiple times to beg for the Law Crystals that the Dominate Sky Snake Dove needed to evolve to Creation Breed.

Although she had spent a large amount of rare spiritual ingredients and Law Crystals, the old woman was still extremely grateful to the Moon Empress.

The Dominate Sky Snake Dove's snakehead had been injured in the World Cleansing during its evolution from Myth II to Myth III, which prevented it from using body weaponization.

However, the Moon Empress had healed this injury on top of helping the Dominate Sky Snake Dove to evolve to Creation Breed.

But why was this young man wearing the Moon Empress' coronation costume?

At the old woman's level, she had seen more of the world than most people.

The quality of Lin Yuan's Moonbeam Coronation Costume told her that it was not a cheap knockoff because only the Moon Empress possessed most of the spiritual materials on the Moonbeam Coronation Costume.

The old woman did not believe that someone would be brave enough to secretly recreate the Moonbeam Coronation Costume because it was grievously disrespectful to the Moon Empress.

She carefully studied the Moonbeam Coronation Costume that Lin Yuan was wearing and noticed that it did not have the moonbeam coronation patterns.

This indicated that this was not the Moonbeam Coronation Costume.

However, this realization did not set the old woman at ease. Rather, it made her more nervous because she was certain that this young man was somehow connected to the Moon Empress.

This thought made the old woman break out in a cold sweat.

Lin Yuan stepped out of the spatial fluctuation and hurriedly took out a gold toad-shaped bag.

The gold toad-shaped bag looked like a small living gold toad.

This was the precious weapon made out of the Jeweled Cave Golden Toad's skin and stomach that had been Chef Supreme's greeting gift to Lin Yuan.

The golden toad opened its mouth, and an amiable-faced man appeared in the spatial fluctuation in front of Lin Yuan.

The old woman immediately bowed deeply to this man.

"Greetings, Lord Mystic Moon."

The silver-haired old woman had bowed so low and was dripping with sweat that a few drops of sweat splattered onto the dry ground.

Mystic Moon did not bother with this bowed old woman even though her enormous Creation Breed Dominate Sky Snake Dove was flying just overhead them.

He glanced at the Trial of World Creation Cloud and said to Lin Yuan, "Young Lord, the interior of your precious weapon sure is comfortable. Please leave the issue of the Trial of World Creation to me."

Lin Yuan was looking at the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer, who were in sorry states, and said to Mystic Moon, "Sorry to trouble you, Uncle Mystic."

The Mother of Bloodbath was still in its true form. Many parts of its body had been pierced, and it looked pathetic at the moment.

Although the Mother of Bloodbath had strong recovery abilities and the puncture wounds were already starting to heal, the Mother of Bloodbath was still covered in blood.

After seeing the Mother of Bloodbath's injuries, Lin Yuan looked toward the 30-meter-long worm. He was sure that the Mother of Bloodbath's injuries had been a result of this worm's sharp fur.

Endless Summer's injuries were much more severe as it had almost been split in half by the Trial of World Creation's attack.

If Endless Summer had not moved its double tree cores, they might have been reduced to ashes by the Trial of World Creation's attack.

The Sacred Sword Wielding Queen's sensing allowed Lin Yuan to learn that pieces of the Enlightenment Law were floating around Endless Summer.

Lin Yuan anxiously thought, ?Luckily I arrived in time, or else Endless Summer would be in big trouble.

The Trial of World Creation's first attack had already been enough to basically split Endless Summer's body in two.

It would be impossible for Endless Summer to safely overcome the Trial of World Creation's second attack with such injuries.

When the silver-haired old woman heard Mystic Moon address Lin Yuan as 'Young Lord', she immediately knew who Lin Yuan was.

The Moon Empress did not have any offspring. Hence, the only person in the Radiant Moon Palace who had the right to be called Young Lord by Mystic Moon was the Moon Empress' disciple.

However, the Guard Ye Banquet was taking place right at this time. The Moon Empress' disciple should be attending the Guard Ye Banquet now, so why was he in this remote area 3,000 kilometers outside of the Royal Capital?

The silver-haired old woman did not believe that Lin Yuan would be here for a casual stroll.

Clearly, he had brought Mystic Moon here to help the tree overcome the Trial of World Creation.

Unexpectedly, she had accidentally allowed the Kill Food Worm to escape and caused the Trial of World Creation to speed up. She had recklessly provoked the Moon Empress' disciple!

The old woman's head hung even lower as guilt and fear pressed down on her.

Unlike other top factions, Cage of Brahma Insects had become a top faction over a century ago.

Still, with more knowledge also came more fear, and the old woman's fear of the Moon Empress shook her to the bone.

Moreover, the Moon Empress had helped the old woman before. Yet, the old woman had caused trouble for the Moon Empress' disciple.

She was basically biting the hand that had fed her.

Compared to guilt, the silver-haired old woman felt much more terror.

In spite of Mystic Moon's amiable and gentle appearance, he was extremely merciless when it came to the members of the major factions.

She could not bear to imagine what consequences awaited her after this Trial of World Creation was over.

The Mother of Bloodbath forced itself to transform into a human and ferociously glared at the old woman.

A look of defeat crossed the Mother of Bloodbath's face.

Although it was Lin Yuan's Path Protector, Lin Yuan always protected it during the key moments.

As she looked at Lin Yuan, the Mother of Bloodbath could not help but feel a wave of warmth soothe its heart.

It was as though no problem in the world could not be solved with Lin Yuan around.

Chapter 896: Purple Afterglow Beauty Goddess Butterfly

When Endless Summer saw Lin Yuan rushing over with Mystic Moon, all its worries melted away.

With renewed focus, it went back to gathering the broken Enlightenment Law.

With Mystic Moon around, it could just do its best to gather the Enlightenment Law and await the next two trials of the Trial of World Creation.

Endless Summer sighed to itself. Lin Yuan has now granted me two opportunities to save myself. I'll never be able to repay Lin Yuan even if I give up my life. All I can do is spend the rest of my life fulfilling my duty of protecting Lin Yuan and Sky City.

At that moment, the chained-up Kill Food Worm struggled wildly and let out a cry.

It continuously spewed brown and black energy at the chains around its body. But despite its best efforts, the Kill Food Worm could not get free of its binds. Instead, it had ended up injuring itself further.

The Kill Food Worm's cry made the old woman want to scream vulgarities.

She was already trying to make her presence less noticeable. Yet, this Kill Food Worm was out to incur the Young Lord of the Radiant Moon Palace and Mystic Moon's ire again.

The silver-haired old woman felt that the Kill Food Worm she had valued so much was now her bad luck charm.

The Kill Food Worm could not be contracted before it evolved to the Kill Food Sky Butterfly.

Moreover, the Kill Food Sky Butterfly was a butterfly-species fey that continuously tried to become more beautiful. It would only submit to a butterfly-species fey that its genetic model deemed to be beautiful enough. The Kill Food Sky Butterfly would then service that beautiful fey for the rest of its life.

The silver-haired old woman had put so much effort into nurturing the Kill Food Worm because Cage of Brahma Insects had once nurtured a Blue Flash Butterfly that mutated into the Purple Light Goddess Butterfly.

The Blue Light Goddess Butterfly was one of the most beautiful butterfly-species feys. Amongst butterfly-species feys, the purple ones were considered more elite than the blue ones. The Purple Light Goddess Butterfly would even earn the protection and adoration of the Blue Light Goddess Butterfly.

The old woman felt that this Purple Light Goddess Butterfly would be able to gain the acknowledgment of the Kill Food Sky Butterfly.

However, the mutated Purple Light Goddess Butterfly could not compete with the genetically improved Blue Flash Purple Butterfly.

This was the difference between nature and nurture.

It was rumored that the Blue Flash Purple Butterfly would evolve into the Purple Afterglow Beauty Goddess Butterfly, which had the ability to win over the entire butterfly colony.

Even the three most elite bloodlines of the butterfly-species fey would succumb to the Purple Afterglow Beauty Goddess Butterfly. However, the old woman did not know if this rumor was true.

As the Kill Food Worm continued to struggle violently, the silver-haired old woman made a decision. She felt that this was the only way to earn the Young Lord of the Radiant Moon Palace's forgiveness.

The old woman had noticed how this young man in the Moonbeam Coronation Costume had the authority to order Mystic Moon around.

She shook her hand, and a tree core that emanated strong plant energy appeared in her hand.

The silver-haired old woman timidly padded over to Lin Yuan with her head lowered and presented the tree core to him with both hands.

"Lord, this is the tree core from the Creation Breed Sky-Covering Weeping Willow. If this little tree... I mean Lord Tree uses this tree core, it might be able to transform further after evolving to Creation Breed."

The silver-haired old woman had lived long enough and was also a thearch-class expert. Hence, she knew how to handle most situations.

She had not done anything to the tree or spider yet, so there was still a chance to salvage the situation.

Giving up the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow made the old woman feel like she was being stabbed.

But if it would save her from being blamed by the Young Lord of the Radiant Moon Palace for provoking him before she fully understood the situation, sacrificing this Sky-Covering Weeping Willow would be worth it.

She might even be able to use the opportunity to curry favor with the Young Lord.

The old woman did not put all her eggs into the basket of this Sky-Covering Weeping Willow.

Lin Yuan narrowed his eyes at the old woman.

She had kept her head lowered, but the arch-class experts had strong perceptions. As such, she did not miss Lin Yuan's eyes on her, and her chest throbbed.

Mystic Moon had been waiting for the Trial of World Creation's second attack to help Endless Summer over it. However, it was not such a simple matter.

Although it was possible to do so, Endless Summer would not be able to use the Trial of World Creation's attack to temper the spliced Enlightenment Law.

Mystic Moon needed to receive the Trial of World Creation's second attack and split it into hundreds of smaller attacks that could refine the Enlightenment Law one by one.

The Trial of World Creation Cloud would be launching the second attack in less than a minute. Bright silver patterns appeared all over Mystic Moon's exposed skin, and a wave of power that seemed powerful enough to attack the Trial of World Creation Cloud radiated from him.

An unspeakable might was intermixed with this wave of power.

This might was similar to that of dragon-species feys but much stronger than the might that Lin Yuan had experienced from main dragon-species feys.

In fact, they were leagues apart.

The aura emanating from Mystic Moon made the Dominate Sky Snake Dove anxiously transform into its human form, and it landed on the ground in a prone position.

Even the thrashing Kill Food Worm dared not move. However, it was not as submissive as the Dominate Sky Snake Dove as it stole glances at Mystic Moon.

Mystic Moon saw the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core and said to Lin Yuan, "Young Lord, this Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core will be of great help to Endless Summer. Endless Summer was lucky enough to fuse with a Lifeform Sacrificial Fire and grow a new tree core. The new tree core formed a special cycle with its previous tree core."

Mystic Moon scoffed and said, "With double tree cores, it's no wonder that it overestimated itself as being able to overcome the Trial of World Creation."

Although Mystic Moon spoke to Lin Yuan amicably, he was not warmly looking at Endless Summer.

In Mystic Moon's eyes, Endless Summer was a trouble-starting burden that did not know how to stay within its capabilities.

Chapter 897: Silver Beast Stretching Across the Sky

Mystic Moon had been feeling sympathy for Lin Yuan the entire time he was in the Jeweled Cave Golden Toad.

They had left when it was almost time for the prize presentation of the Arts Stage, Martial Stage, and Martial Arts Stage.

The prize presentation should have been Lin Yuan's moment of glory.

Unfortunately, Lin Yuan had no choice but to rush over to help Endless Summer undergo its Trial of World Creation.

It would take some time for Endless Summer to finish using the attack that had been split into hundreds of smaller attacks to temper the Enlightenment Law.

By the time Lin Yuan waited for Endless Summer to overcome the Trial of World Creation and rushed back to the Midnight Palace, the Martial Arts Stage's prize presentation would be over.

Although the Moon Empress would be standing in his stead and he would still be able to accept all the prizes, Mystic Moon still felt that Lin Yuan had lost a moment to bask in his well-deserved spotlight.

Still, given Mystic Moon's understanding of Lin Yuan, it was not unexpected for Lin Yuan to have made such a decision because he was a warm person that prioritized those he cared about.

Mystic Moon went on to say, "The Sky-Covering Weeping Willow is able to grow branches and foliage large enough to cover the sky because of the vast plant vitality and germination powers in its tree core.

"Even Creation Breed plant-type feys can't consume the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core. If greed got the better of them and they tried to consume the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core, the plant-type fey would explode after being exposed to the plant energy in the tree core.

"Technically, Endless Summer should also be unable to absorb the tree core. But because of the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire, it's now possible for Endless Summer to consume the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core. With the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire and the Trial of World Creation's cleansing to provide balance, Endless Summer might be able to have three tree cores and form a triple-core cycle.

"A fey's bloodline transforms drastically when it evolves to Creation Breed. Endless Summer's transformation will be even more radical with three tree cores. There's even a possibility of the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire and Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodlines combining to form a completely new type of fey."

Mystic Moon's explanation had been clear. Currently, Lin Yuan's True Data was still unable to check on the spiritual ingredients inside a Creation Breed fey's body.

But from Mystic Moon's explanation, Lin Yuan now knew how important the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core was for Endless Summer since it even concerned the possible elevation of its bloodline.

Since the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core was so beneficial to Endless Summer, Lin Yuan was definitely going to obtain it.

The increase in Endless Summer's power would also increase Sky City's fighting power.

When Lin Yuan had arrived, he had asked this old woman what kind of villain she wanted to become.

If the old woman had said that she was going to attack the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer, Lin Yuan would have asked Mystic Moon to take down the old woman. He would not even have given the old woman a chance to plead for mercy.

Killing only led to an endless cycle of further killing. This principle had held true since the start of time.

Lin Yuan had allowed the old woman to live this long because she had decided against attacking the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer in the end.

At that moment, the silver-haired old woman lifted her head. Her sweat-covered face made her look rather pathetic.

“Young Lord, I went through much trouble to get my hands on the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow’s tree core, and I’ve held onto it for decades. It’s the most precious treasure in Cage of Brahma Insects,” said the old woman with utmost respect.

Mystic Moon scoffed and said, “Why am I unaware that you’re a member of the Radiant Moon Palace? Otherwise, what gives you the right to call him Young Lord?”

Mystic Moon’s cold eyes made the old woman’s expression shrivel up.

Ever since Mystic Moon had released his terrifying aura, the Dominate Sky Snake Dove had not dared to move a muscle. It was unknown what level of Creation Breed Mystic Moon had reached. Maybe, he had even reached a higher level.

The old woman anxiously stammered, “L... Lord, I didn’t attack at all. I only came to retrieve the Kill Food Worm that had escaped. The Sky-Covering Weeping Willow’s tree core is my way of apologizing for my careless provocation. I’m willing to take full responsibility for the Kill Food Worm causing the Trial of World Creation Cloud to release the second attack prematurely. You can have the Kill Food Worm and deal with it as you see fit.”

The old woman’s voice had been rather hoarse due to her heartache and fear.

The Kill Food Worm had been the old woman’s most precious treasure. If she could not use it to seek the Moon Empress’ disciple’s forgiveness, Cage of Brahma Insects would punish her severely for her mistake.

If the Moon Empress caught wind of this incident and became enraged, Cage of Brahma Insects would immediately be pushed out of the ranks of the top three top factions that it had been occupying for the past century.

There was even a chance that they would fall so low that they would become stuck between the level of veteran faction and top faction like Condense Fairy Orchard.

Despite being one of Cage of Brahma Insects’ Elders who had seen it being built from the ground up, she would become a sinner in their eyes.

All the glory she had worked hard her entire life to achieve would have been flushed down the toilet with her own two hands. The anguish would be worse than actually dying.

At that moment, the young man stretched out his bony hands to receive the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow’s tree core from her.

He tossed the tree core to the tree that was undergoing the Trial of World Creation and shouted, “Endless Summer, try to use the Liform Sacrificial Fire to temper the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow’s tree core and combine it with the tree cores in your body. If it's possible, try to unlock the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline during the Trial of World Creation and use your own bloodline to absorb the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline."

Endless Summer had been devoting all its energy to gathering the spliced Enlightenment Law. It could feel all the vitality in its body seeping out, making it weaker with every passing second.

It had not been paying attention to the silver-haired old woman and Mystic Moon's words.

But when Endless Summer heard Lin Yuan's shout, it managed to force itself to catch what he said, and it saw a tree core with overwhelming plant energy sailing over to it.

Endless Summer manipulated its roots to shoot out of the ground and caught the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core.

Endless Summer's body that had almost been split in half shook as it summoned the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire tree core and its original tree core.

It pressed the three tree cores together and used the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire tree core to cover the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core.

The moment that the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire tree core came into contact with the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core, the pinkish-purple leaves turned to ash and limitless vitality radiated from Endless Summer's withered branches.

At that moment, the Trial of World Creation Cloud released its second attack.

At the same time, bright silver patterns appeared all over Mystic Moon's forehead, face, and palms. His eyes turned dark silver, and an enormous silver beast soon stretched across the sky.

Chapter 898: Silver Dragon Pearls

Countless stars should be decorating the cloudless sky in the dead of night, .

However, the Trial of World Creation Cloud was blocking all the stars, exposing the lonely silver moon that hung in the sky.

An enormous silent silver beast stretched across the sky.

The silver light glinting off the large silver beast's body that intermixed with the silver moonbeams gave all who saw it a feeling of absolute nobility.

The main dragon-species fey aura that radiated from the giant silver beast suddenly swelled.

The huge silver beast opened its mouth and spewed out spiritual energy that seemed strong enough to shatter the earth.

Lin Yuan and the Mother of Bloodbath were terrified when they sensed the immensely powerful spiritual energy. However, they were unaffected by it, unlike the silver-haired old woman.

A silver pearl materialized within the immense spiritual energy, and the bowed old woman collapsed to the ground. The Dominate Sky Snake Dove that was crawling on the ground looked like a dove that was about to be roasted.

A putrid stench entered Lin Yuan and the Mother of Bloodbath's nostrils, and they could not help but frown.

When Lin Yuan looked toward the direction of the stench, he could not help but be rendered speechless. Mystic Moon had pressured the Creation Breed Dominate Sky Snake Dove into immobility.

This was too embarrassing!

Given the old woman's current state, Lin Yuan knew that the silver pearl that Mystic Moon spat out was a deadly weapon that he had spared Lin Yuan and the Mother of Bloodbath from.

The old woman mumbled to herself, "I can't believe Lord Mystic Moon has reached the level of being able to produce dragon pearls!"

It was clear that the old woman was dumbfounded.

This was the first time that Lin Yuan had heard of dragon pearls.

The most valuable part of main dragon-species feys was their essence blood. Lin Yuan had never heard of them being able to produce dragon pearls.

In a previous conversation with the Moon Empress, Lin Yuan had discovered that Mystic Moon was a fey instead of a human.

Could the dragon pearls result from a special change to Mystic Moon's bloodline?

Genius was almost done learning all the Class 4 Fey Observer, Spiritual Ingredient Analyst, and Scholar knowledge.

According to Genius' knowledge, Lin Yuan did not see anything related to dragon pearls.

The Mother of Bloodbath was currently staring at the enormous silver beast gliding in the sky. When it sensed Lin Yuan's look of curiosity, it said, "Legend has it that once a dragon-species fey's bloodline reaches the level above main dragon, its essence blood can be turned into pearls. I always assumed that it was just another legend, but I can't believe it's true! It looks like Lord Mystic Moon has surpassed the level of Creation."

While the Mother of Bloodbath was giving Lin Yuan the explanation, it became acutely aware of how weak it was.

The Mother of Bloodbath had always been extremely proud. But ever since it became Lin Yuan's Path Protector, it had been humbled time and time again.

This person by Lin Yuan's side had already surpassed Creation, yet it was not only leagues away from Creation Breed. It was not even Myth III yet.

Lin Yuan inhaled sharply. He looked up in disbelief at the giant silver beast in the sky and instinctively used True Data to check Mystic Moon's true form.

What he saw floored him.

In previous occasions where he had tried to check on Creation Breed feys, Lin Yuan could always see how many exclusive skills they had even though he could not see what their abilities and exclusive skills were exactly.

The kneeling Dominate Sky Snake Dove and the two light green snakes outside the Moon Stable had four exclusive skills.

Lin Yuan could tell if a fey was truly Creation Breed from the number of exclusive skills it had.

However, Mystic Moon's True Data information turned out completely blank.

At that moment, Lin Yuan was sure that Mystic Moon was not just a Creation Breed fey.

However, Lin Yuan had no clue what level Mystic Moon had reached.

Mystic Moon's powers had exceeded Lin Yuan's expertise.

All he wanted to know now was whether the Moon Empress was stronger.

Lin Yuan felt that he had been underestimating the Moon Empress's powers.

Suddenly, the huge silver beast with silver dragon pearls flying around it coughed lightly, and the collapsed old woman started vomiting blood.

The blood was dark, and it was clear that it was the result of an internal injury.

The seriously injured old woman realized that she had made a mistake by daring to check on Mystic Moon's abilities.

A faint smile spread across her pale face as she sensed her injuries.

She knew that although Lin Yuan had not said anything, his acceptance of the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core was his way of saying that he had forgiven her.

Although Lin Yuan had forgiven her, it did not mean Mystic Moon had done so as well.

From Mystic Moon's attitude toward Lin Yuan, it was clear that Mystic Moon did not just adore Lin Yuan as his Young Lord but also as his junior.

This was because there was a hint of warmth on top of respect in Mystic Moon's voice as he spoke to Lin Yuan.

Her instinctive action of checking on Mystic Moon's abilities should not have led to such serious consequences.

In other words, Mystic Moon's attack served as a punishment for overstepping her boundaries and offending Lin Yuan.

Now that she had been attacked, this matter was put to rest. She would not need to worry about Mystic Moon pursuing this matter in the future.

A dragon roar rang out as Mystic Moon launched dragon pearls at the crimson Trial of World Creation Cloud. It shook the heavens and made people feel as though they had been plunged into a desolate area.

The Trial of World Creation's second attack looked like a red millipede next to the silver dragon pearls' silver light.

As the silver dragon pearls continued to circle the silver dragon, Mystic Moon turned back into its human form.

The captured second attack of the Trial of World Creation appeared in his palm with a wave of his hand.

He did not immediately break down the attack for Endless Summer as he intended on waiting until after Endless Summer finished absorbing the plant energy from the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core.

At that time, Endless Summer would not need to use all its energy to gather the broken Enlightenment Law and would be able to use the Trial of World Creation's attacks to temper the Enlightenment Law.

Chapter 899: The Evolution of Endless Summer's Bloodline

The healed Endless Summer would be able to use the Trial of World Creation's energy to temper the Enlightenment Law while gathering the spliced Enlightenment Law.

The groundwork was laid for Endless Summer to have a smoother journey.

The Lifeform Sacrificial Fire tree core lit up with green flames that burned the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core.

The plant energy in the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core flowed out copiously, and a green spot appeared in Endless Summer's tree branch that had almost been split in two.

A sprout grew from the green spot.

Endless Summer's withered branches seemed to be nurturing the sprout by continuously squeezing what little nutrients they had out of them into the newly grown sprout.

Soon, Endless Summer turned into ashes that scattered all over the ground.

The tiny sprout was growing rapidly.

1 meter, 10 meters, 30 meters, 50 meters, 100 meters, 300 meters, stopping only when it reached 500 meters.

Previously, 30 Lin Yuans would be able to wrap their arms around all of Endless Summer's branches.

But now, not even 100 Lin Yuans would be enough.

The 500-meter tall giant tree was full of fresh foliage, and the leaves ranged from the size of a sesame seed to the size of a palm.

The tree branches spreading out of the tree were the breath of spring that contrasted against the desolate ground.

The leaves were countless, and summer was endless.

Spots of purple appeared amongst the lush green freshness.

The flower buds dotted the bows, and hundreds of small flowers bloomed all over the tree in the blink of an eye.

All the flowers weighed down heavily on the branches.

The fallen flowers rained down on Lin Yuan and the Mother of Bloodbath.

When Mystic Moon saw Endless Summer's verdant state, the silver dragon pearls in his hand spun and drew out a scarlet lightning bolt that shot toward Endless Summer.

Endless Summer hurriedly used its flowers to defend against the scarlet lightning bolt.

The flowers detached themselves from the branches and made contact with the scarlet lightning bolt.

Now that Endless Summer was flourishing again, it could gather the broken Enlightenment Law and defend itself.

When he saw Endless Summer in defensive mode, Mystic Moon hastily said, "Don't defend yourself. The Trial of World Creation that I've separated out won't hurt you. You should use these bolts of energy to temper the Enlightenment Law. It's the only way that you'll be able to repay the Young Lord for coming all this way."

Endless Summer maneuvered out of the defensive stance and allowed the scarlet lightning bolts to strike itself.

Although this attack from the Trial of World Creation would not harm Endless Summer, it did cause a wave of flowers to fall and bury Lin Yuan underneath.

The Mother of Bloodbath hurriedly plucked Lin Yuan out of the avalanche of flowers.

Lin Yuan awkwardly scratched his head as the Mother of Bloodbath carried him out of the flower pile.

The silver-haired old woman leaped up into the air and looked at Endless Summer with envy.

She did not believe that there was a fey in the world that had an easier time evolving to Creation Breed than Endless Summer.

Mystic Moon was using his overwhelming power to help Endless Summer.

Every time the scarlet lightning bolt struck Endless Summer, a rain of flowers fell.

With each rain of flowers, more flowers bloomed on the tree.

Time flew by as Endless Summer continued to temper the Enlightenment Law. Each time the scarlet lightning bolt struck Endless Summer, it took three minutes for it to absorb the energy.

However, the Trial of World Creation did not wait for them. By the time Endless Summer tempered the Enlightenment Law for the 10th time, the Trial of World Creation's third attack suddenly struck.

Mystic Moon did not even glance at the third attack as he waved the silver dragon pearls in his hand.

The third attack was like another scarlet millipede that was pulled toward the dragon pearls.

Endless Summer had become accustomed to the crimson lightning bolts. As such, Mystic Moon increased the rate that the crimson lightning bolts were released.

Three minutes became 2.5 minutes, which became 1.5 minutes until it finally shortened to 30 seconds.

Now that Endless Summer could hold out against more lightning bolts, it could sense that its spliced Enlightenment Law was linked.

The linked Enlightenment Law turned into a world full of the power of enlightenment.

Mystic Moon nodded in acknowledgment of Endless Summer's talent.

As Endless Summer continued to use the power of the Trial of World Creation to temper the Enlightenment Law, Mystic Moon said, "There should be 300 more lightning bolts of the Trial of World Creation. It's a waste for you to use this power to temper the Enlightenment World. Why don't you try using this power to temper the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core into your own tree core?"

Endless Summer tried to direct the power of the Trial of World Creation toward the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core.

Previously, Endless Summer had been using the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire to extract the plant energy inside the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core in order to weaken the strength of the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline. This would make it easier for Endless Summer to consume the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline.

As a plant-type fey, Endless Summer could sense that the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline was much stronger than its own. Thus, it would be a struggle for it to consume the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline.

The power from the Trial of World Creation's 300 bolts would be its best chance to do so.

Endless Summer was extremely careful. First, it used its own tree core and the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire tree core to envelop the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core.

Next, it used the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire tree core to increase the power of its original tree core so as to counter the power of the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline.

The bolts of energy from the Trial of World Creation slowly broke down the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline. Endless Summer absorbed a small amount of the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline each time.

Endless Summer planned on using the 300 bolts to absorb the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's entire bloodline.

This was a smart decision as the plan was feasible and easy to carry out.

Endless Summer's body started to grow again.

From 500 meters, it became 600 meters, then 800 meters, until it finally reached 1,000 meters.

At this point, Endless Summer's growth rate slowed, but it still continued to rise.

Endless Summer's original branches had been tightly spaced together, and its leaves clustered together.

Even though Endless Summer used to be 500 meters tall, its tree crown had not been very large.

But after consuming the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's bloodline, Endless Summer's branches extended far and wide.

The elongated branches made Endless Summer's tree crown look three times larger than it was before.

Chapter 900: Arrival of the Creation World Ley Line

Besides the main branch that was thick and sturdy, the other branches were all more slender and pliable.

It looked just like a gigantic weeping willow.

Endless Summer was now 1,200 meters tall, and each hanging vine was at least 800 meters long.

These swaying vines had pinkish-purple flowers blooming up and down their entire lengths.

Previously, Endless Summer seemed to be able to sustain an eternal summer. But now, it could sustain an endless thriving summer.

The swaying vines and delicate flowers that gently drifted down created a romantic scene.

Lin Yuan knew that as long as Endless Summer circulated its spiritual power, every soft pinkish-purple flower would turn into a deadly weapon.

The Sacred Sword Wielding Queen sensed the overwhelming world power radiating from Endless Summer. Lin Yuan was thrilled by this because Sky City had finally gained a thearch-class expert.

Previously, Sky City was just a lamb that happened to be sitting on a pile of resources. But now, Sky City was a lion that could properly protect its resources.

The appearance of the Enlightenment World indicated that Endless Summer had evolved to Creation Breed, and Lin Yuan would no longer be able to check on it with True Data.

After absorbing the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core, Endless Summer was much more powerful than before.

Lin Yuan turned to look at the silver-haired old woman who dared not heal herself despite being seriously injured. Lin Yuan waved his hand, and a green pillar of light landed on the old woman to heal her injuries.

The silver-haired old woman suddenly found her wounded organs being healed by the green pillar of light to the point that she no longer felt any pain.

She gazed at Lin Yuan with gratitude as she thought, He truly is the Moon Empress' disciple! What magnanimity! Given his status, he could have let me off without healing me.

Talent and luck were things that one was born with, although it could also be said that power was the product of hard work.

However, this world was extremely pragmatic.

The disciples of rising factions were always more powerful than the disciples of regular families, while the disciples of veteran factions were always more powerful than the disciples of rising factions. One skilled disciple from a top faction should have no problems taking on four or five skilled disciples from veteran factions.

Power was what defined strength, but it was not representative of how worthy the person was of being respected.

Magnanimity and class were completely separate from power.

This young man seemed to be overflowing with magnanimity and benevolence. At the very least, he was a bright, kind, and calm person.

Nonetheless, he could also be someone who frequently did good deeds and would never stroke his ego.

Frankly, Lin Yuan did not think much of his decision to heal the old woman.

She never had any intention to attack Endless Summer and the Mother of Bloodbath. Moreover, as much as the Kill Food Worm that had escaped had caused trouble for Endless Summer's evolution to Creation Breed, the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow she had provided in compensation had also been of great help to Endless Summer.

It was extremely rare to find such a beneficial item at Endless Summer's level.

The old woman was also willing to hand the Kill Food Worm over to Lin Yuan as a show of sincerity.

Lin Yuan was not an ungrateful person. But once he finished healing the old woman, he went back to watching Endless Summer.

Endless Summer had finished going through the Trial of World Creation. The Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core, the Lifeform Sacrificial Fire tree core, and Endless Summer's original tree core surrounded Endless Summer's branches.

It was clear that the Sky-Covering Weeping Willow's tree core had also become a part of Endless Summer's triple-core cycle.

Lin Yuan held his breath as he waited for the Creation World Ley Line to arrive.

He had heard from the Moon Empress that feys would not be able to finish absorbing the World Cleansing and World Cleansing's ley lines. A bit would be left that would fall to the ground and nourish the lifeforms that were present.

Naturally, Lin Yuan would not fight over Endless Summer's Creation World Ley Line.

However, he intended on using the Pure Land of Bliss to collect the leftover Creation World Ley Line.

If he had not arrived, Endless Summer and the Mother of Bloodbath would be dead, and the other lifeforms in the area would have also been turned into ash.

Now that he had arrived, every one of Endless Summer's flowers contained concentrated vitality and plant energy.

The fallen flowers nourished the ground and benefited all the lifeforms present. Thus, Lin Yuan did not feel guilty at all about collecting the last vestiges of the World Creation Ley Line.

He had already injected the Source Sand deep into the ground and instructed it to dig a deep trench around Endless Summer for the Pure Land of Bliss to appear underground later.

Endless Summer, the Mother of Bloodbath, Mystic Moon, and the old woman had all seen what Lin Yuan had done.

The Mother of Bloodbath, Endless Summer, and Mystic Moon knew that he was Black.

It would be too ostentatious for the Pure Land of Bliss to appear aboveground, but it would be unnoticeable if it appeared under the Source Sand.

Both the Mother of Bloodbath and Endless Summer had seen the Pure Land of Bliss, and it was fine if Mystic Moon also found out.

However, Lin Yuan did not want the silver-haired old woman to see because she was an outsider.

Lin Yuan did not know if the old woman would connect the Source Sand to Black, but he was not worried because even if she made the connection, she would never dare to spill his secret.

It was also likely that the old woman would take the initiative to shush other people who were suspicious of Lin Yuan's identity for fear that she would be blamed for the leak.

It had taken a long time for Endless Summer to finish using the Trial of World Creation to temper the Enlightenment Law.

When Lin Yuan had arrived, the moon was still hanging high up in the sky. But now, the sun was rising in the east.

The golden rays lit up the horizon as the sun slowly rose toward the middle of the sky and consumed the last residual darkness.

At that moment, the Trial of World Creation Cloud dispersed to reveal a golden light brighter than the sun.

Lin Yuan felt that this golden light resembled a gold spine that seemed to be able to evolve the ley line of a mountain.

Lin Yuan knew that this was the Creation World Ley Line.

If the Creation World Ley Line was buried in a law world, the law world's evolution would be improved.

Just as the golden ley line was about to descend on Endless Summer's tree crown, Lin Yuan activated the Pure Land of Bliss..
