Chapter 940 Wedding Favors

After admiring her newly acquired gift cards for a while, Arissa was finally ready to start work. Right then, Ethen walked in with some wedding favors.

“Mr. Graham, Mrs. Graham, here are your wedding favors.” Ethen placed them on Arissa’s desk, then reported to Benjamin, “Mr. Graham, I’ve distributed the wedding favors and gift cards to the employees. Everyone was very excited and sent their blessings to you and Mrs. Graham. They wished the two of you a long and happy marriage with many kids.”

Benjamin nodded with a faint smile. Arissa let out a chuckle. Many kids? We already have six of them! “Did you take some wedding favors for yourself too?” Benjamin asked Ethen.

“Yup. I kept some for myself.” Benjamin then gestured for the man to get back to work. Arissa looked at Benjamin while she unwrapped a candy. “Do you want one?”

“No, thanks.” Benjamin turned his attention back to the stack of documents on his table. Still, Arissa walked over with a piece of candy and held it near his mouth.

“Aren’t you having some of your own wedding favors?” She sounded sweet yet assertive. Benjamin gave her the side-eye in response. When Arissa saw that, she pushed the candy into his mouth.

A twinkle appeared in Benjamin’s eyes. He opened his mouth and ate the candy. “Is it sweet?” Arissa said, smiling. “Aren’t candies supposed to be sweet?”
