

Su Yankai looked away from the screen and looked at Li with eyes filled with anticipation.

Li suddenly felt that he had a great responsibility.

He took the phone from Su Yankai's hands, then went through his colleagues in the PR department to find a way to contact these groups that specialized in making such attacks online and bought five thousand users.

Su Yankai watched as the comments that were against his mother were slowly replaced.

The netizens that Li bought were also pretty fierce, fighting against the other party so hard it resulted in a hundred replies back and forth, so much so that the other party didn't dare to reply anymore.

Su Yankai saw that person disappear and immediately smiled.

"Oh this is so fun, so fun!"

He suddenly felt that this sort of thing was really fun, and thought that he could find a way to write a program that could automatically make comments. So in the future, no matter who scolded his mother online, he could control several thousand IP addresses to fight back.

Li had no idea that his demonstration today had opened a new universe for the young man in front of him.

He had only thought of protecting his own year end bonus, and spent a few thousand to make the little boy happy.

Su Yankai was happy after he had defeated the other user, but after he thought about all the news that he had seen trending on Weibo, he started to doubt his identity again.

Could it be that he was really an illegitimate son? Was that why Papa didn't take him back home?

But if he went home with his Papa, then he would have to be separated from his Mama and he didn't want that. So it wasn't a bad thing not to go back with his Papa.

Su Yankai felt that his current living arrangement was pretty good. He had Mama by his side everyday and played with Papa every now and then.

If he had to live with Papa, then he would have to stay with his grandparents who kept trying to give him remote controlled toys, and he wasn't happy about that at all.

He really wasn't interested in remote controlled toys.

In any case, he was going wherever his Mama was going.

Once he had reached that conclusion, he began to miss his mother. He got up from the floor, patted his butt and waved at Li, who was much taller than him. "Let's go down."

His action was so natural that he seemed more like Li's leader rather than a child.

Li was so amused by Su Yankai's actions and felt that his boss' son was actually pretty adorable.

By the time they went back down, Su Meng and Shen Yu'an had already signed their contracts.

Shen Yu'an was no longer in a hurry to return to the office, and instead he instructed Li, "Go invite some media folks who are on good terms with the company to come to the hospital. I want to hold a press conference."

Li gasped and couldn't believe his ears. "Boss, it doesn't seem like the right time to hold a press conference at this point in time."

Shen Yu'an stared harder at him. "Go now!"

Those two words shut Li up.

He had just reached the door when Shen Yu'an called for him. Shen Yu'an looked at Su Meng, who was wearing the same simple hospital clothes as himself and looking at the sky with a bare face. He said, "Get a makeup team over as well, and bring some clothes for Miss Su to change into.”

Li felt that this request was very strange, but nodded anyway.

After Li left, Shen Yu’an called his parents, “Dad, Mum, come to the hospital for a while later, I have something very important to tell you.”

After he put down the phone, Su Meng was still on the phone with her mother, Hu Yang, and she looked like she was about to cry.

As per the plan that they had discussed, Su Meng called Hu Yang after she had reached an agreement with Shen Yu’an.

The moment the call was picked up, Hu Yang immediately started scolding her, “You still dare to call me?! I’m so embarrassed by you! I don’t have a daughter like you!”

Su Meng hung her head after being scolded and kept apologizing, “Mum, I’m sorry, I’ve dragged you into this. But I really have something very important to tell you today, so could you come to the hospital? Please?"

Hu Yang immediately refused without even thinking. "I'm not going, I don't want to be embarrassed further. The hospital must be full of reporters now, so if I end up on the news because of you, then I'll be really embarrassed. I'm not going, I'm not going."

Then she hung up.

Su Meng had no choice but to keep calling her, and Hu Yang only picked up after several redials.

Hu Yang's tone of voice became even nastier, "I said I'm not going. No matter how much you say, I'm not going. I can't afford to be embarrassed even more than I am now!"

Su Meng's tears were about to spill out and she pleaded, "Mum, I'm begging you. Could you come to the hospital, please?"

Hu Yang's words were firm and final. "I said I'm not going so I'm not going. I don't care how you plead with me, I'm not going."

Then she hung up again.

Su Meng held onto the phone and smiled bitterly as she said to Shen Yu'an, "I'm sorry, my mum probably won't come."

Shen Yu'an patted her shoulders to console her. "I'll make the call, I'm sure she'll come."

He took the phone and called Hu Yang. Hu Yang picked up and replied impatiently, "I told you I'm not going. Are you deaf in one ear or something? Why do you keep calling?"

Shen Yu'an's expression changed and he replied in a cold voice, "Hello, this is Shen Yu'an."

The moment she heard the three words 'Shen Yu'an', Hu Yang's attitude turned 180 degrees.

She was a little embarrassed as she said, "Oh dear, so it's CEO Shen on the line. I'm so sorry, I thought it was Su Meng."

Shen Yu'an replied, "I'm the one who asked Su Meng to call you to come over to the hospital. But I hear from her that you don't seem to want to come."

Hu Yang laughed hollowly and said, "I have to take care of my grandchildren and I really can't come, I hope you can understand."

"I have something very important to announce today and I've specially invited you to attend. Will you be attending?"

Shen Yu'an's tone of voice was extremely polite and cold, but it was precisely because he spoke like this, most would not dare to refuse him.

Hu Yang thought about whether being embarrassed was worse or offending Shen Yu'an was worse, and finally she clenched her teeth and nodded, "I'll come."

Shen Yu'an coldly said, "Then we will be waiting for your grand arrival.”

He then hung up the phone.

Su Meng’s eyes were all red as she looked anxiously at him.

Shen Yu’an handed the phone back to Su Meng. “Don’t worry, your mum will come.”

Su Meng breathed a sigh of relief and wiped the tears that were forming in her eyes. “That’s good, that’s good.”

Su Yankai felt that he had only gone to the rooftop garden for a while, and there was something different in the air between his Papa and Mama.

But he couldn’t put a finger on exactly what was different.

He could only turn to look at Su Meng, then looked at Shen Yu’an.

Su Meng noticed her silly little son’s actions. “Babe, what are you doing?”

Su Yankai held his face in his hands and said, "I feel that Papa and Mama is hiding something from me."

He thought that once he said this, his Mama would tell him the secret. But his Mama just smiled mysteriously and nodded in affirmation.

"That's right, you wanna know?"

Su Yankai hugged Su Meng excitedly and nodded his head vigorously as he immediately responded, "Yes!"

Su Meng looked at her son and said, "Babe, Papa and Mama are going to get married, are you happy?"

Su Yankai was so shocked by this news that he couldn't speak.

Su Meng thought that he was so happy that he was speechless and even called Shen Yu'an over. "Look at Kaikai, he's so happy after hearing that we're getting married that he's speechless."

Shen Yu'an gently looked at Su Yankai. "Kaikai, come live with Papa, ok?"

Chapter 162 The Sorrowful Yankai

Nobody expected Su Yankai to suddenly start bawling and large tears streamed down his face.

This was the first time he cried so loudly in front of Su Meng. He cried so hard and his mouth was open so wide one could see the back of his throat.

This outburst shocked Su Meng and Shen Yu'an.

"Son, what's wrong?"

Su Yankai cried and howled at the same time, "Mama, you're a liar! You agreed to marry me, so why are you marrying Papa now?! Shen Yu'an, I hate you!"

The more he thought about it, the more upset he became. He cried louder and louder, and his tears continued to stream down his face.

Su Meng and Shen Yu'an really wanted to laugh when they heard why Su Yankai was crying, but they also felt bad seeing how sad their own son looked.

Before they could think of how to comfort Su Yankai, he suddenly pulled out his phone and showed his mother his virtual wallet. "In order to marry Mama, I've even prepared the money for the dowry. Mama, don't marry Shen Yu'an, marry me, ok?"

Su Meng looked at the phone screen. She had no idea when Su Yankai had actually accumulated twenty thousand dollars inside his virtual wallet.

Shen Yu'an saw that twenty thousand and was very curious to know how his five year old son had earned this much money. He stretched a hand out to take the phone but Su Yankai slapped his hand away hard.

"You're a bad guy! Don't touch my phone! MAMA! Don't marry Shen Yu'an, ok?"

Su Meng didn't know what to do with Su Yankai. She hugged him and tried to coax him, but he refused to be coaxed.

His eyes were all swollen from crying and he narrowed his eyes to glare at Shen Yu'an. He thought he was being very fierce, but to Shen Yu'an, Su Yankai didn't look threatening at all, and Shen Yu'an felt bad for him instead.

"You're a bad guy! You snatched Mama from me! Go away! I'm not going to let you be my Papa anymore!"

Shen Yu'an grabbed Su Yankai from Su Meng's arms and whispered something into his ear.

Su Meng was too faraway to hear what he said.

But whatever Shen Yu'an said was obviously working. After hearing that, Su Yankai immediately stopped kicking Shen Yu'an and asked him in a pitiful voice, "Do you mean it?"

Shen Yu'an nodded. "When did Papa ever lie to you?"

Su Yankai nearly burst out crying again when he heard this. "You've lied to me! If I knew you were going to marry Mama, I would never have called you Papa."

Shen Yu'an held a hand up to promise him. "I swear I'm really not lying to you this time. If I lie to you, then I'm a dog. Woof woof."

After he embarrassedly barked a few times, he felt better inside.

He really hadn't lied to his son. He said that if he was lying then he would have to bark like a dog, and he had barked already.

It was still easy to fool Su Yankai at this age. When Su Yankai saw how Shen Yu'an had a serious expression on his face, Su Yankai nodded and believed Shen Yu'an when he said that even though he had married his Mama, Mama would give birth to a younger sister in the future and Su Yankai could marry his younger sister.

After a few years, Su Yankai's five year old younger sister would appear with a little boy that she liked and he would finally realize that his Papa lied to him.

He was never going to be able to marry his Mama nor his younger sister, so all that money he'd saved for getting married could only be kept aside and couldn't be used on anything he meant it for.

Su Meng saw that Shen Yu'an had successfully calmed Su Yankai down, so she asked him a little curiously, "What did you tell him?"

After Shen Yu'an told her what he said, she felt that Shen Yu'an was really a wily old fox.

He was impotent but he told Su Yankai to marry his younger sister. This younger sister was never going to happen.

Su Meng shook her head as she watched how Su Yankai was happily counting his money. A young fox couldn't outsmart a wily old fox no matter how smart he was after all.

The makeup team arrived the earliest. They appeared in the hospital less than half an hour after Li had left.

Shen Yu'an pointed at Su Meng. "You have one hour to doll this lady over here up."

Su Meng was like a puppet as these people quickly washed her hair, helped her bathe and got her to try on several different sets of clothes. They even permed her hair and put light makeup on her.

Exactly one hour later, a brand new Su Meng appeared in front of Shen Yu'an.

Chapter 164 Preparing for the Press Conference

This new Su Meng looked like a completely different person from who she was an hour ago.

An hour ago, Su Meng was still in hospital clothes. And because she hadn't slept well the night before, she looked very tired and looked like she was recovering from a major illness.

But after the makeup artist had applied her makeup, Su Meng changed into a plain white long dress that cinched her at the waist.

She was fair and tall with good body proportions, so the white long dress accentuated her fairness, her slim waist and her long legs. Her slightly permed chest length hair also made her look even more demure.

The makeup was very light, and was barely visible.

The stylist was a little nervous as she stood in front of Shen Yu'an. "We didn't have much time and didn't prepare a lot of clothes, so that's the best we can do for the time being.”

Chapter 164 Preparing for the Press Conference

He wasn't sure whether it was because he had signed that contract earlier, but when Shen Yu'an saw that this gentle and demure woman in front of him was going to become his wife, he suddenly felt his heart start pounding.

That long and fair neck was elegant, but...it seemed a little plain.

Shen Yu'an frowned and looked at Su Meng's equally bare wrists. "Aren't you going to pick some accessories for Miss Su?"

Su Meng walked over to Shen Yu'an and said, "No need for accessories. I'm supposed to be a patient lying in hospital in the first place, so it's too fake if I have accessories. This is just right."

She was in fashion design, so she was very particular about clothes. She stood in front of the mirror and looked at herself again and again, and she finally found where the problem was.

Chapter 164 Preparing for the Press Conference

She clutched the back of her clothes and suddenly exclaimed in enlightenment, "I was wondering why it looked so weird. The back is too large."

She got some sewing supplies from the stylist and hid in the bathroom for five minutes. When she came out, everyone felt that something about Su Meng had changed, but they couldn't really say what the difference was.

Su Meng was satisfied this time. She looked at herself in the mirror, then sat happily on the sofa.

She noticed that Shen Yu'an kept staring at her and touched her ears, which were getting a little hot. "Sorry, it's a habit I have from my job. The moment I see something wrong with the clothes, I want to make changes to it."

This was the first time Shen Yu'an had seen how serious and decisive Su Meng was at work. He looked Su Meng up and down carefully but still couldn't tell what she did to it.

Chapter 164 Preparing for the Press Conference

“Which part of the clothing did you sew? It doesn’t seem any different from before.”

Su Meng smiled gleefully and revealed her little sharp canines. She lifted her arm and pointed to the small pleats at the waist. “I made changes here.”

That pleat was folded in and was sewn onto the original seam of the dress, so it was impossible to tell.

Shen Yu’an understood what she did. He knew that he could never have done something so detailed, and he immediately gave Su Meng a thumbs up. “You’re amazing.”

After getting CEO Shen’s affirmation, Su Meng felt like she had been deeply encouraged.

The stylist also came with Shen Yu’an’s clothes.

But after Shen Yu’an had witnessed Su Meng’s true ability earlier, he looked at Su Meng and smiled, “I would like to ask – do I have the honor of having you choose a set of clothes for me?"

Chapter 164 Preparing for the Press Conference

Before Su Meng could answer, Su Yankai cut in. He threw Shen Yu'an a glance unhappily and then said to his mother, "Mama, I want new clothes too!"

Su Meng remembered that she had made a casual suit for Su Yankai before coming back to China. "Ok, Mama will get Uncle Li to get new clothes for you from our house, ok?"

Su Yankai was happy to hear that he had new clothes, but he still didn't want Su Meng to stand too close to Shen Yu'an. He held onto Su Meng's hand without letting go and refused to let Su Meng have any chance to speak to Shen Yu'an.

Shen Yu'an looked at how his son was glaring at him as if he was an enemy and felt sad for himself.

He really didn't hold any weight around his own son.

Li's work efficiency was pretty high. By the time the three of them were all dressed up, the reporters that he called had all arrived already.

In order to hold this press conference, Shen Yu'an even used one of the hospital's meeting rooms.

After some years, everyone in the country would think of this press conference and realize that a beautiful love story often happened in the strangest of places and times.

Once the clock reached 4pm and everyone who was supposed to come had arrived, Shen Yu'an held an arm out to Su Meng. "Let's go, Mrs Shen."

Su Meng took a deep breath, then reached out to take Shen Yu'an's hand instead.

She locked fingers with his.

Shen Yu'an stiffened slightly.

Su Meng looked strangely at Shen Yu'an beside her. "Why aren't you walking? You have a problem with walking out like this?”

Shen Yu'an found it hard to respond. "I think we'd better hook arms?"

Su Meng shook her head. "No, no. This way of holding hands is the way a couple walks together. We'll look too polite with one another if we hook arms and someone will see through us. Since you want to put on a show, then we have to put on a good show."

Her perfectionist side was put to excellent use here.

To her, if she wanted to do something, she would do her very best. Since she had agreed to be in a contract marriage with Shen Yu'an, then she was going to be the most perfect wife.

Shen Yu'an thought about it for a while and her words seemed to make sense to him. He could only try to hide the awkwardness in his body and in his heart. "Let's go then."

His large hand held her little hand, and her little hand held his large hand.

As time went by, their body temperature and smell was mixed together. They weren't sure who was perspiring, but the area where their skin touched was completely wet.

They were both a bit shy as they held hands and walked to the meeting room.

Shen Yu'an was used to hiding his own emotions, so there was no change in his expression. He continued to look as calm and expressionless as he normally did.

But after the conference, some of his fans circled how red his ears were, and this was hard evidence of how shy he was feeling.

Su Meng's shyness was even more apparent. The moment the conference started, she started thinking about how photos of her locking hands with Shen Yu'an walking hand in hand was going to be made public throughout the country. She became both nervous and shy, and she didn't dare to lift her head while walking.

Su Meng and Shen Yu'an entered the meeting room to be greeted with an array of camera flashes as well as the sound of camera shutters.

The flashes and shutter sounds faded only after the two of them had settled down in their seats.

Su Meng's heart had calmed down, but now that she saw dozens of people staring at her, her face started reddening.

Shen Yu'an's parents were seated by the side and they were equally shocked when they saw the two of them walk in holding hands.

Su Yankai had a sullen face next to Li and didn't care to look at Su Meng and Shen Yu'an in front of him. If he looked at them, he would feel sad about the dowry money he had saved.

Shen Yu'an could tell that Su Meng was very nervous, so he squeezed her hand to comfort her.

Su Meng took a few deep breaths and told herself over and over that since she had agreed to be the perfect Mrs Shen, she had to work hard and she must not be afraid.

She thought of the little tip that Shen Yu'an had taught her just outside the door earlier. She started chanting in her heart: everyone is a large cabbage, they're all just large cabbages, all large cabbages.

After chanting this several times over, she really started to calm down.

Shen Yu'an was telling everyone present about the 'love story' that they had agreed upon beforehand.

"I know that there has been a lot of reaction over my private matter recently, and this has even adversely affected Solare Technologies' share price, and I apologize for this. I have called for a press conference today because I wish to answer all the questions everyone has regarding my private matter, and I want to avoid any unnecessary speculations that others have about my family."

After that opening speech, Shen Yu'an placed the hand that was tightly locked with Su Meng's on the table. "As all of you have guessed, Su Meng and I are indeed a couple."

The moment their hands were placed on the table, the flashes and shutter sounds didn't stop.

After Shen Yu'an had said that one sentence, the flashes came even faster than ever, and Su Meng felt that she could see nothing but this brightness in front of her.

The flashes and shutter sounds finally faded after several minutes.

As for the live web broadcast, the moment Shen Yu'an and Su Meng's hands were placed on the table, comments filled the screen within seconds.

One was in shock: OMG OMG OMG is this is this an official statement?

One was in despair: I've fallen out of love!
T_T CRIES MY HUSBAND NOOO

One was envious: This Su Meng must have saved the Milky Way in her previous life right? How else would Shen Yu'an have become her boyfriend?

There were also those who were looking for the truth very seriously: I heard that Su Meng was with your husband five years ago and Su Meng wasn't divorced yet. Looks like he really went out with a married woman after all.

There were female fans of Shen Yu'an who immediately burst into tears when they saw this scene. So many people were updating their statuses online as 'I've fallen out of love'.

There were people who called 14 June 2018 the day the most number of people in China fell out of love as a joke.

There was plenty of gossip happening online, but Shen Yu'an and Su Meng were still reminiscing and didn't know anything.

Shen Yu'an followed the sequence that he had already run through in his mind and continued, "I know many of you have a lot of questions about her and about when we started. So I'll explain all this to you here."

First he took out Su Meng's certificate of divorce and got the staff to project it onto the big screen. The date was circled – 1 March 2013.

Then he took out Su Meng's plane ticket from five years ago, 3 July 2013. He also took out his own plane ticket from five years ago. He had departed one day before Su Meng, but both of them were headed for the capital of France.

The last thing he took out was a birth certificate, and the birth date was 31 May 2014.

After the three dates were clearly circled, Shen Yu'an then started to tell their love story according to what they had agreed on earlier.

Five years ago, Su Meng divorced from her husband, and she chose to leave for France to take a breather.

At the same time, Shen Yu'an had gone overseas for work. They had fallen in love at first sight there, and spent a wonderful time together in Paris.

But since they had only met by coincidence, they lost contact. Su Meng had become pregnant and eventually gave birth to her son, Su Yankai.

Shen Yu'an looked at Su Meng deeply and used an extremely gentle voice for the first time in public, "I love her very much and I also feel very guilty. I haven't been by her side or the child's side these five years, and did not fulfil my duty as a husband and father."

Then he dragged his injured leg and got down on one knee with the help of his assistant. He took out the ring in his pocket and continued, "So five years later, will you give me a chance to take care of you and our child for the rest of your life? Su Meng, will you marry me?"

All the reporters and photographers were going crazy. Some of them were clapping with teary eyes, and some were snapping pictures like no tomorrow.

Both Shen Yu'an's mother and Su Meng's mother were about to faint.

Mrs Shen was so angry she nearly fainted.

She didn't expect her own son to really fall in love with a woman who had been divorced before, and even wanted to marry her.

Hu Yang was so excited that she nearly fainted. She didn't expect that she could ride on this woman's glory and become the mother-in-law of the richest man in China.

She had really turned the tables this time round.

Everyone was either in shock or in joy, and only Su Yankai was making a face as he scoffed coldly at the adoring Shen Yu'an on one knee.

Shen Yu'an was so irritating! Su Yankai was determined to never give them his blessing!

The platform streaming the event live crashed.

There were too many people online and the server wasn't able to handle so many people logging in at the same time and crashed.

Countless netizens were cursing at the platform for making them miss the most important part.

Even though everyone knew that since he dared to propose in front of the whole nation, Su Meng would definitely agree to it. But everyone also felt indignant that they hadn't been able to witness it for themselves.

There were people clutching their heads in their homes, some in the office, or in the shopping center, or on the street and screaming wildly.

"MY GOD! I can't believe this! My husband!!"

There were people who cried as they watched the blank screen in front of them, crying, "My husband, how could you become someone else's husband! I'm so upset!"

Because of this news, Solare Technologies' share price went up instantly by 7%. It wasn't the best price it had ever been, but judging from the attitude the stakeholders had towards Solare Technologies, it was a matter of time before the share price returned to normal again.

The proposal was still happening in the hospital meeting room.

Su Meng had a hand over her mouth even though she already knew that Shen Yu'an was going to propose to her before even entering this meeting room. They had even practiced this part.

But when Shen Yu'an really went down on one knee and held a diamond ring out to her, she couldn't help but cover her mouth and feel tears come to her eyes.

She suddenly remembered that in her previous marriage, Zhao Zhijun had only offered her a cup of cola when he proposed, and his voice was as flat as talking about the weather when he said, "Let's get married."

Chapter 167 Proposal

She nodded her head in agreement.

She never knew that a woman could become so excited when a man proposed to her.

She kept trembling uncontrollably and managed to nod her head as her trembling lips said, "I do."

Her hand continued to tremble as Shen Yu'an put the ring on her ring finger.

When the cold and hard ring reached the end of her finger, Su Meng couldn't help but cover her mouth and cry.

Shen Yu'an was shocked by Su Meng's reaction and leaned over and whispered, "Are you alright?"

Su Meng shook her head and looked at Shen Yu'an through teary eyes, "Thank you."

Chapter 167 Proposal

When he went down on one knee to propose earlier, Shen Yu'an hadn't felt anything in his heart. He hadn't felt anything either when he put the ring on Su Meng, but when he heard Su Meng thank him, he suddenly felt something in his heart.

He didn't know what Su Meng was crying about, but he could feel that she was crying from happiness.

He thought about how Su Meng had told him outside the door that since they were going to put on an act, they should put on a really good show. So he decided to go along with what they had already agreed upon and held Su Meng as he gently used his hands to wipe away the tears on Su Meng's face.

The reporters who were invited were all so touched that their eyes teared up from watching this heartwarming scene in front of them. "It's so touching! The love between CEO Shen and his wife is so moving."

Photos of Shen Yu'an bending down to gently wipe Su Meng's tears became the biggest headline on all the newspapers, magazines and online news networks the next day.

The headline was: The Wealthiest Man's Five Year Romance

But the Shen family wasn't as overjoyed as the news reports.

The same day, Mrs Shen was sent to the hospital.

The news reported that she had fainted from happiness and was sent to the emergency room, but Shen Yu'an and Su Meng both knew as they stood outside the room that she fainted from anger.

Shen Yu'an sat on the wheelchair and looked at Hu Yang grinning away next to Su Meng. Then he looked at the firmly closed door in front of him and said to Su Meng, "You'd better not go in, I'll talk to my parents myself."

Su Meng thought about it, then pushed Su Yankai over to him. "Bring Kaikai along, I can tell your parents really like him.”

Su Yankai refused to bother with Shen Yu’an. He was still angry with him and refused to help him.

He turned and hugged Su Meng’s leg.

Su Meng hadn’t said anything, but Hu Yang started talking first. “Kaikai, why are you being like this? Your Mama wants you to go in with your Papa to see your Grandma, so you have to be obedient. If you’re obedient, your Papa will buy toys for you.”

Su Yankai rolled his eyes. “I don’t want any toys from him.”

Shen Yu’an did really want to bring his son in to lessen his mother’s wrath, but since Su Yankai wasn’t willing to go in, he didn’t force his son to either. “If he’s not willing, then forget it. Su Meng, you can go back to your room, I’ll deal with this side myself.”

They exchanged a knowing glance, then Su Meng brought Su Yankai and Hu Yang back upstairs.

Shen Yu'an made sure Su Meng went upstairs before finally knocking on the door in front of him.

Shen Yu'an pushed his own wheelchair through the door and was met with a pillow. "You ungrateful child, how dare you come and see me! You actually still remember you have a mother? How could you not tell us about something as important as getting married? And you even married a woman like that!"

Shen Yu'an was helpless as he picked up the pillow and put it back on the bed. "I'm telling you now, right?"

Mrs Shen couldn't believe Shen Yu'an dared to talk back to her at this time. "You've already announced it to the entire country and you dare to tell me you're telling me now? How did I give birth to such an unfilial son! I'm going to die from my anger!"

She noticed that her husband was just sitting quietly by the side and started trying to agitate him. "Shen, this is your son. You should say something and do something about this."

But Mr Shen was quite happy about Su Meng and Shen Yu'an getting married.

After hearing Mrs Shen, he slowly said, "Didn't you keep nagging about how your son wasn't married and didn't have children? Now you've gotten both things at one shot, so I don't know what else I should say."

Once Shen Yu'an heard this, he knew that his father was on his side. Things were easier to settle this way.

He exchanged glances with his father, and his father winked at him to tell him not to worry.

Mrs Shen was even angrier when she heard what her husband said. "Look at what kind of woman Su Meng is. She's been married before, so how can someone like her marry into our family?"

Mr Shen calmly replied, "Why not? She's got two eyes, two ears, a nose and a mouth, no health issues and she's even given birth to your lovely grandson. So why can't she be your daughter-in-law?"

Mrs Shen was seething from anger. She sat up and tugged at Mr Shen's clothes as she started railing, "Shen! What do you mean by this? You mean you really hope that your son marries that woman?!"

She turned and was ready to look for Shen Yu'an to scold but she only saw an open room door.

Shen Yu'an had made his escape when she was quarreling with his father

She was so angry that she clutched her head and fell back down on the bed. "Oh my god this is going to kill me, he will be the death of me."

In the room upstairs, Hu Yang pulled Su Meng to sit on the sofa and started to talk to her about her own way of being a good wife.

Su Meng realized for the first time how gentle her mother could be towards her, but her gentleness was so extreme it felt fake, and she could feel goosebumps all over her.

Hu Yang lovingly held onto Su Meng's hand and told her very seriously, “Mengmeng, I tell you, you’d better hang on tightly to Shen Yu’an. With a husband like that, you don’t have to worry about the rest of your life.”

Su Meng thought about that contract she signed and nodded as she mumbled, “I got it.”

Hu Yang saw how patronizing Su Meng was towards her and slapped Su Meng’s hand as she glared at Su Meng. “I’m being serious here, don’t take my words as a joke.”

She glanced at Su Yankai who was sitting at the side and playing on his laptop, then she leaned over and whispered into Su Meng’s ear, “Shen Yu’an is the richest man in China, so after you’re married, his money is your money and you’ll become a billionaire. When that happens, don’t forget about your mother and your Uncle Zhang.”

Su Meng was a little taken aback by what Hu Yang said to her.

Contract aside, even if she was truly getting married to Shen Yu’an, she had never thought of using the Shens to supplement her own family.

Besides, as far as Su Meng knew the Zhangs, they weren't so poor as to require financial help from others.

When she heard her own mother Hu Yang say something like that, she felt that something was strange about it. But she hadn't realized exactly what was so strange about it.

Su Meng awkwardly replied, "I draw a salary too and I earn enough for myself. I don't think I need Shen Yu'an for this."

Hu Yang glared at Su Meng and used a finger to poke Su Meng's head. "Why are you as inflexible as your father? Can your money be compared to Shen Yu'an's money?"

"Why not? Aren't they all money? Money is all the same, I don't see any difference."

Hu Yang was truly wondering how she had raised such a woodblock of a daughter. She wanted to say more to Su Meng, but Shen Yu'an came in and she stopped herself. She smiled as she got up and asked after Shen Yu'an, "How's your mother doing?"

She saw how Su Meng was still sitting on the sofa and used her knees to nudge her and was making eyes at her like crazy.

But Su Meng didn't get any of her hints. She continued to sit lazily on the sofa and asked Shen Yu'an, "How's she?"

Shen Yu'an didn't think Su Meng's attitude was strange at all. Instead he felt that Su Meng's mother, Hu Yang, seemed to be a little too nervous around him.

But for Su Meng's sake, he was polite towards Hu Yang. "Auntie, have a seat."

Hu Yang was full of smiles and even laughed when she heard this. "Anan, after today, I think you have to change this form of address."

The two words 'Anan' were too sweet sounding – Shen Yu'an nearly stumbled and there were goosebumps all over his back.

He smiled and replied, "Auntie, you're too polite. Just call me Shen Yu'an."

Su Meng smiled in embarrassment at him and mouthed, "Sorry, my mum's too excited."

Hu Yang was really excited about Shen Yu'an. The moment Shen Yu'an sat down, she immediately poured tea for him and was all ready to cut fruits for him even. She was really treating Shen Yu'an like a VIP.

She saw how Su Meng continued to sit lazily on the sofa and kept nagging at Su Meng, "Mengmeng, look at you. You're going to get married already but you're still lazing around. Why don't you bring Shen Yu'an to the garden for fresh air or something? He got injured because of you after all, you know?"

Su Meng responded lazily as usual.

Hu Yang saw that Su Meng was still sitting there, so she went over to pinch Su Meng secretly. She pinched her so hard that Su Meng nearly jumped up from the sofa.

Su Meng finally realized what was strange. As long as Shen Yu'an was around, her mother would behave very strangely.

She used her phone to text Shen Yu'an: As long as you're around, I can forget about having a peaceful day. Let's go to the garden?

Shen Yu'an nodded and Su Meng immediately hopped up and pushed Shen Yu'an along as she told Hu Yang washing the fruits in the bathroom, "Mum, I'm bringing Shen Yu'an to the garden."

Su Yankai was playing with his laptop, but the moment he heard Su Meng's words, he leapt up and said, "I want to come along."

Su Meng breathed a sigh of relief when she heard that Kaikai wanted to go too.

Perhaps it was because Shen Yu'an had just proposed to her earlier, but Su Meng felt very weird whenever she looked at Shen Yu'an now and didn't know what to say at all.

It was good to have Kaikai around to ease the awkwardness.

The three of them went up to the garden. Su Yankai continued to look nastily at Shen Yu'an as he insisted that Su Meng play the seesaw with him, and refused to allow Su Meng and Shen Yu'an to have any time alone.

This actually made Su Meng happier.

Su Yankai always liked to stay at home and rarely went out to play. Even in the kindergarten, he was cold and arrogant and rarely played the seesaw with the other children that he always labeled as crybabies and mucus monsters.

Playing the seesaw with Su Meng that day was actually the first time he was playing with the seesaw.

Initially he just wanted to make sure his Mama didn't get a chance to be alone with Shen Yu'an, but after a while, he found it to be really fun.

He sat on the seesaw and his bright laughter rang out in the rooftop garden, "Haha! It's so fun! So fun!"

Su Meng saw that Kaikai was having fun and couldn't help but laugh along with him.

Shen Yu'an sat on his wheelchair and saw how the mother and son in front of him were smiling so happily, so he took out his phone and took several photos of them.

Su Yankai was all sweaty as Su Meng held his hand and pushed Shen Yu'an back downstairs.

At first she just glanced at Shen Yu'an and didn't notice much. But when they reached the elevator lobby, she suddenly bent down to look seriously at Shen Yu'an, and he felt his heart skip a beat.

"Is my face dirty?" Shen Yu'an couldn't help but ask Su Meng.

Su Meng had played with Su Yankai for more than an hour and was as pink in the face as him. "No, not dirty. I just noticed that you're smiling. You look very gentle when you smile."

Shen Yu'an retorted, "I smile at other times too."

Su Meng was very observant. "But when you smile at other times, your eyes aren't smiling. Your eyes were smiling just now. You can smile more in the future too. You're so handsome when you smile, I'm sure you'll get more fans if those fans of yours sees this."

Shen Yu'an glanced at the ring on Su Meng's ring finger that matched his. "That won't do. I now have a wife and family, so all these fans have nothing to do with me."

When they reached the room, Hu Yang had left already. But this time she texted Su Meng to say that she had left to take care of the children at home.

Shen Yu'an brought Su Yankai to the bathroom to wash his hands.

After playing for some time, Su Yankai's mood had improved greatly and wasn't so against Shen Yu'an anymore.

He let Shen Yu'an help him to wash his hands as he instructed Shen Yu'an like a little adult, "Shen Yu'an, since you're going to marry Mama, then you'd better be good to Mama. If not, I'll chase you away and I'll marry Mama myself."

Shen Yu'an felt his stomach hurt from trying to hold his laughter back. He held it in and nodded, "Sure, I'll remember that and I'll definitely be good to your Mama."

Su Yankai sighed like an old man. "Since you seem so repentant, I'll just be angry with you for one day. From tomorrow onwards, I'll call you Papa again."

Shen Yu'an had finished helping him wash his hands.

But before Shen Yu'an could wipe his hands dry, he cheekily flicked the remaining water on Shen Yu'an's face.

After that he started laughing when he saw how helpless Shen Yu'an looked.

After laughing, he didn't forget to add a threat, "Don't you dare tell Mama what happened, otherwise I'm going to be angry with you for another 24 hours."

Su Yankai happily bounced out of the bathroom and he wiped away the water on his face. He couldn't hold his laughter anymore, so he burst out laughing while holding his stomach.

His low laughter echoed inside the small bathroom, so Su Meng followed the laughter and stuck her head in. "Did something funny happen? You're laughing so happily."

Shen Yu'an rarely laughed so freely. His lips were still curled upwards as he replied, "I realized that Yankai is simply too adorable."

Su Meng loved hearing others praise her son. She was even more excited to hear others praise her son than to hear others praise herself.

She proudly replied, "Of course, that's my son."

After she said that, she suddenly remembered that the man in front of her was Su Yankai's father. It seemed strange to praise her son in front of her son's father.

Shen Yu'an looked at the energetic Su Meng who was red faced from playing earlier and thought of the cheeky little Su Yankai and nodded in agreement. "That's right, he's your son alright."

If he was the one saying this, he would have been even more honest, or even more thick-skinned about it.

Su Meng mumbled, "Fine, he's your son too, since he got your intelligence and wit."

Their eyes met and suddenly they both burst out laughing.

Su Meng's eyes were closed from laughing. "It's like we're saluting each other!"

"Saluting each other?" Shen Yu'an really hadn't heard of this term before.
