

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1048

In the next few days, the First Continent was very lively.

Jiang Tianwu had suffered a crushing defeat!

Nameless Qin was the kid with the pot, and he was in East End Nation!

Every piece of news was earth-shattering.

Over the past few days, beams of light streaked across the sky, which caused heated discussion everywhere.

The beams of light were all heading east.

“The Great Allheaven Sect has set off, led by a Path Seeking expert. There are countless Nascent Soul cultivators in their delegation, not to mention that Path-Chosen! I’ve heard that they’ve piled seven or eight supreme treasures from their vaults on him.”

“Heh! That’s nothing. Haven’t you heard? The Yin-Yang Sect brought out over a dozen treasures, including a dozen yin-yang grenades. They’re sparing no expense!”

“A dozen yin-yang grenades? Wow, they’re really going all out to kill that kid!”

“That’s right!”

Similar conversations played out all over the First Continent.

The people were talking about the size and might of the delegations that set out to hunt down the supervillain.

The more they discussed, the more shocked they became.

Ten major sects and another ten conferred families had already set off. All of them were led by Path Seeking experts.

Their prodigies were armed to the teeth with treasures.

The other sects and families did not want to be outdone, and they sent out their delegations. Almost any faction that was worth something had joined in the hunting party.

Among those factions, there were several Path-Chosen who were fully equipped with treasures.

Such a spectacular scene was unprecedented.

Apart from those factions, there were also many unaffiliated cultivators who joined the hunt for fun.

“That kid is definitely going to die!”

Someone lamented.

With such a grand line-up, it would be ridiculous if that kid did not die!

That was the opinion of most people, but some held the opposite view.

“Heh! It’s not going to be that easy. That kid is an exceptionally daring eternal monster. He had probably fought against an even bigger army!”

“He’s an extraordinary character to be able to survive for so long. It’ll be difficult to catch him, and those people will have made that trip in vain!”

The people who had that opinion were mostly elderly seniors.

Someone audacious enough to eat primordial scions would not get caught that easily. If that kid were slightly less capable, he would not have survived until today.

The kid might be audacious, but he was not reckless. On the contrary, he must be as meticulous and cunning as a fox.

“Tsk! He’s only a kid. How powerful can he get?”

Many people did not believe it.

“Ha! We’ll see about that!”

Those elderly seniors said smugly.

East End Nation was getting livelier and livelier by the day.

The kid with the pot was Nameless Qin, one of the seven eternal monsters. The news shocked countless people.

“So it’s him! No wonder! I heard that he is a ruthless character who even dares to slaughter sect leaders. He’s the supervillain who has killed the most people in the Void Realm!”

Everyone understood immediately.

A day or two after the news spread, people from neighboring nations came over to search for the kid and caused a commotion.

Following that, the factions from other nations arrived one after another.

Beams of light streaked past the sky of East End Nation. Every famous figure or faction caused heated discussion.

People in Bramble City were also discussing fervently.

“Hah! Those people are stupid to look around here. If I were the kid with the pot, I would’ve already run far away. I’m not going to stay here and let them catch me!”

“Exactly! Some time ago, the Lui family and the primordial scions searched everywhere. They almost turned the entire East End Nation upside down, but they could not find him!”

Many people found it funny.

“That’s not true. What if the kid put on a disguise?” Some people retorted.

Every day, groups of people flew over the sky of Bramble City. Some powerful figures scanned the entire area with a soul-scanning technique as they passed the city.

Tang Hao sat quietly on the Ninth Mountain. He let the soul-scanning technique sweep over him.

With the Myriad Transformations Technique, he could successfully hide his appearance and qi aura unless the opponent used a supreme technique like True Sight or a supreme treasure that revealed disguises.

Therefore, he was not afraid of the soul-scanning at all.

“Who lives in those mountains? Are there any suspicious characters or any newcomers?”

Some of them landed in the city and carefully investigated everyone.

“Newcomers? There are so many!”

“Who are they?”

“They’re all medicine farmers who want to join Divine Herbalist Valley. Heh! Let me tell you about the amazing Master Tang Chuan. The minister of the East End Pill Ministry has given him the title of Divine Medicine Farmer.”

“Divine Medicine Farmer? Pah! He’s still a medicine farmer!”

The people who had heard were disdainful.

To those people, medicine farming was the lowliest job. So what if someone became a master medicine farmer? They were still useless.

No one would waste their time studying medicine farming instead of cultivation!

Naturally, they ignored the so-called Master Tang Chuan.

Many groups of people entered Divine Herbalist Valley and searched around. Some even scanned the place with mirrors.

“F*ck! They’re all trash!”

They sneered after looking around.

There was not even a Golden Core cultivator among all those people. As expected, medicine farmers were trash.

“Let’s go! That guy isn’t going to hide in this place.”

Those people left after finding no useful results there.

Several people also came to the foot of the Ninth Mountain. They wanted to visit Tang Hao, but when they heard that he had gone into seclusion, they left without protest.

Tang Chuan’s herbology skills surpassed a level-six pill maker. He could not have been Nameless Qin.

Nameless Qin was cool, savage, and domineering. He would not stoop to farming!

Almost a thousand factions had arrived at East End Nation, but they could not find a single clue.

“He must have escaped!”

They began to spread out their search to the north, west, and south nations. Some even went to the sea to search in the islands.

However, they still did not find anything.

The search area continued to expand further and gradually covered the entire eastern region.

The dozens of nations in the eastern region were all bustling with activity.

Another half a month passed. Even the cultivators from the farthest nations had arrived.

They scoured the entire eastern region but did not find anything.

Countless people cursed Nameless Qin’s name in public, but there was not a single response.

Nameless Qin seemed to have completely disappeared.

Everyone was confused. After mobilizing so many people and traveling thousands of miles, they found nothing.

“Dammit! That b*stard!”

They cursed in frustration.

The young prodigies were even more furious.

After searching for a few more days and finding nothing, they gave up on the search. The people gathered from the dozens of nations in the eastern region and prepared to hold a conference to discuss countermeasures.

Tang Hao also heard of the news.

“It’s time to teach those people a lesson!”

Tang Hao went down the mountain and headed toward Forest Nation, where the conference was to be held.
