

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1065

The plaza was dead silent.

All the people were dazed and confused.

They could not believe that the supreme prodigy of the First Continent had lost completely. Furthermore, all his treasures were almost stripped away.

Boom!

A loud sound came from the sky.

The clouds split open, and a beam of light shone down at the center of the plaza.

A figure clad in pitch-black armor stood there with a golden cauldron in his hand. He looked domineering, just like an ancient god of war.

The light landed on his forehead.

In an instant, the Mark of the Void lit up dazzlingly.

The third star lit up.

Everyone was shocked when they saw that.

No one could have believed that Nameless Qin, the underdog in the Coronation Battle, would defeat two eternal monsters and lead by a wide margin.

At this rate, he would most likely be crowned King!

Eternal King Qin! What an awesome title!

“That can’t be!”

Many people in the crowd were unwilling to accept that.

“Four to go!”

Tang Hao touched his forehead and muttered.

Then, he seemed to have thought of something. He suddenly turned his head and glared at Yao Tian.

“Let’s duel, Yao!” He shouted loudly.

Yao Tian was so scared that his face trembled. He was a little flustered.

He did not give any excuses this time. Instead, he turned around and ran away.

That guy was too big of a freak. Even Ji Wu was defeated, so he was not a match for him. He had to go back and train, and he would fight when he felt confident.

“Hey, don’t run! How are you going to keep up with your reputation like that?” Tang Hao cursed.

“Reputation? What’s that? Can I eat it?” Yao Tian shouted as he ran.

Everyone was dumbstruck. After all, Yao Tian was ranked number two in the First Continent. He actually ran away without a fight.

However, they turned to look at that Qin guy and instantly understood. If it were them, they would have run too!

As Yao Tian ran, he summoned the nine-colored deer, climbed onto its back, and flew away.

Tang Hao could not catch up with him in time. He felt a little depressed.

That Yao guy had a lot of treasures on him. He had been coveting them for a long time.

He stood there, took out a small notebook, and checked a box.

“I’ve successfully robbed the Ji guy and the Jiang guy. Only Yao guy is left!”

Tang Hao muttered as he checked the boxes.

When the crowd heard that, their facial muscles twitched uncontrollably.

‘Damn! That guy even keeps a notebook! What a freak!’

After checking the boxes, Tang Hao put the notebook away. He looked around, and his eyes were suddenly transfixed on someone.

In the crowd, Duan Shaolong was so scared that his whole body trembled, and he almost jumped up.

He tried to hide during the battle so that Tang Hao did not catch him. Now, he was obviously being targeted again.

He jumped up and was about to run away.

“Don’t run, Duan!”

Tang Hao stomped his foot and activated the Fleetfoot Stride to chase after him. At the same time, he threw out a spear.

“That’s enough, Qin!”

Duan Shaolong shouted angrily while he was blown away.

Tang Hao grinned. "What are you going to do about it?" As he spoke, he charged forward and stripped that guy clean.

That guy was the Path-Chosen of the Great Sanqing Sect, so the treasures he had were quite good.

"I swear that I'll kill you, Qin!"

Duan Shaolong struggled to get up with a humiliated look on his face.

"I know! I know!"

Tang Hao muttered and threw his cauldron at him.

Thud! Duan Shaolong's eyes glazed over, and he passed out.

Tang Hao sighed as he looked at that guy. Duan Shaolong must have had it tough. He was bullied by Tang Hao on Earth, and he was bullied again here. How pitiful!

"Never mind. Seeing how pitiful you are, I'll let you keep your clothes!" Tang Hao said sympathetically.

Then, he turned to look at the others.

Everyone was so scared that their faces turned pale.

"Oh my god! Run!"

Someone shouted, and the crowd moved at the same time. Everyone rushed toward the exit in panic.

"Don't run! Hand over your treasures!" Tang Hao shouted.

When the crowd heard that, they ran even faster.

Taking advantage of the chaos, Tang Hao rushed into the crowd and changed his appearance and qi aura. He pretended to panic and ran down the mountain with the crowd.

"That kid... is quite cunning!"

A burst of laughter came from the top of the mountain.

Countless people were gathered at the foot of the mountain. All of them stood on tiptoe while looking past the mountain gate.

Most of them were people from various sects who had accompanied those prodigies. There were also some who had come purely to watch the show.

"Haha! That Qin guy is finally dead!"

The crowd was filled with cheers and laughter.

Everyone was in high spirits.

They had noticed the weird weather phenomena on the mountain earlier. Someone must have exposed that Qin guy and fought him.

The three eternal monsters were on the mountain. Killing that Qin guy would not have been a problem.

They also saw the ray of light fall from the sky, which meant that someone had won. It must be either that Yao kid or that Jiang kid.

In any case, that Qin guy was finally eliminated!

“How cathartic! Hahaha!”

Everyone felt extremely happy.

They were cheering for a while when they heard a commotion from the mountain. Following that was a series of panicked shouts.

The people at the foot of the mountain were startled and looked over.

What they saw caused them to be stunned.

Countless people rushed down the mountain path. They were the prodigies, and their faces were pale with fear.

They were instantly puzzled.

‘Didn’t we win? What’s going on with them?’

When they heard the shouts, they were all stunned!

All the Path-Chosen had lost!

The Jiang kid and even Ji Wu had lost!

How... was that possible?

Then, more shocking news came. That Qin guy was the great thief from before!

Everyone was stunned again. Then, many people turned pale.

“Ah! So it’s that b*stard! I want to cut him into a thousand pieces!”

Furious roars tore through the sky.

The prodigies were not the only ones who were looted. Some of the elders were looted too.

“Where’s that little b*stard? I want to kill him!”

They roared and rushed up the mountain.

“He’s behind us! He’s still chasing us, and he wants to steal our treasures!”

Some young men shouted.

“Yes, yes! He’s right behind us! That guy is too despicable!”

Someone was shouting loudly among the crowd. He was none other than Tang Hao in disguise.

He ran to the foot of the mountain together with the crowd. Following that, he continued to run away. Once he was out, he dashed away.

He could imagine that the major sects and conferred families would be hunting him down after the news spread.

Moreover, with so many treasures in his possession, it was likely that everyone on the First Continent would hunt him down.
