

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1071

Tang Hao sprinted all the way to a mountain.

The mountain was ten thousand meters tall, and it was surrounded by clouds and mist. It looked otherworldly.

That was where the dragon's nest was. The golden dragon, the strongest creature on the second level, was residing within it.

Behind Tang Hao, countless people had come to spectate.

"Get out here!"

Tang Hao shouted at the top of the mountain.

A moment later, a heaven-shaking dragon's roar came from the top of the mountain. The clouds swirled, and a huge golden dragon swooped down amid the clouds.

The scales on its body were dazzlingly brilliant. Golden lightning crackled around it.

Tang Hao's expression became grim.

That was a terrifying sight! No wonder it was known as the supreme overlord beast.

"He's no match for it!"

In the distance, the spectators shook their heads and sighed.

That dragon was too powerful. No mortal human could possibly fight against it. That Qin guy might be able to defeat the ten overlord beasts, but it was impossible for him to defeat the supreme overlord beast alone!

"Let's do this!"

Tang Hao gritted his teeth. He was filled with battle intent.

A supreme overlord beast represented a Shard of the Path. He would want to slaughter that beast even if he risked his life.

His entire body trembled, and his qi aura exploded as he charged forward.

The golden dragon roared disdainfully, and rays of golden lightning struck out at Tang Hao. Tang Hao was forced to retreat, and the lightning inflicted open wounds on his body.

'F*ck!'

Tang Hao cursed inwardly. There was nowhere to hide in that sea of lightning bolts.

He made up his mind and decided not to dodge. Instead, he braced himself and charged forward to engage in close combat with the dragon.

“Damn! How ferocious!”

Everyone was dumbstruck.

Some people had also challenged the dragon in the past, but they were killed after being struck by a single bolt of lightning. Meanwhile, that guy was charging forward while taking hits from the lightning. That was indeed quite ferocious.

The dragon was also furious. It attacked Tang Hao with its sharp claws.

The fierce battle was still ongoing, and everyone was enjoying themselves watching it.

“Ahh!” Suddenly, Tang Hao was struck in the chest by a claw and died on the spot.

Everyone was stunned and did not react for a long time.

“Whoa!” Suddenly, they exclaimed together.

“Sigh! As expected, he’s no match for the dragon!”

“It’s not bad to be able to last for this long!”

Everyone discussed for a while and was about to leave when the dragon grunted and swung its tail smugly.

That two-legged pest was indeed quite powerful and was different from the previous ones. However, a pest was nonetheless a pest, and no matter how strong he was, he would not be a match for it.

It happily circled around the mountain and was about to return to its nest to have a good nap.

At that moment, in the distant sky, a beam of light shot over like a meteor.

It was a young man with a gloomy and murderous expression.

Everyone was stunned again.

“F*ck! He’s not giving up?”

The dragon was also stunned. Then, it became furious. How dare that pest challenge it again? It wanted to slap him to death again.

It roared angrily and pounced over.

The man and the dragon collided, and another fierce battle broke out.

After fighting for more than an hour, Tang Hao died again.

“Damn it! Again!”

In the real world, Tang Hao opened his eyes, cursed, and climbed up again.

‘Damn! Again?’

The dragon was furious. It had never seen such an annoying pest. It bared its fangs, brandished its claws, and pounced at Tang Hao.

“Ahh!”

Two hours later, Tang Hao was exhausted and killed by a bolt of lightning.

Phew!

The dragon heaved a sigh of relief and felt cathartic.

That pest had already died three times, so he should not have come again! As it thought to itself, it swung its tail and flew up the mountain.

Back up the mountain, it lay in its nest and had barely closed its eyes when it heard shouts and curses coming from outside.

“Get out here, you beast!”

The golden dragon was livid. ‘Would that pest ever give up?’

It roared and pounced out with murderous intent. After a fierce battle, it finally smacked the pest to death.

Not long after, another shout came from outside, “I’m here! Get out here quickly!”

When it finally killed that pest once more, it heard, “I’m here again!”

It jumped out of its nest. The despicable pest was driving it crazy.

That hateful pest was driving it crazy.

The people who were watching outside were also stunned.

How persistent was that guy?

He had died so many times, but he was still full of fighting spirit and even getting stronger and stronger. At first, he could only hold on for ten minutes, but gradually, he could hold on for half an hour. Now, he could hold on for almost two hours.

As for the dragon, it became more and more irritable, as if it was losing its mind.

Its wounds became more and more, and its qi aura became weaker and weaker.

Finally, after the twelfth battle, which lasted for two or three hours, the dragon was completely exhausted. It fell from the sky and crashed heavily on the ground.

“Whoa!” The crowd exclaimed.

“He won! He won!”

“Oh my god! He really killed the supreme overlord beast!”

Everyone’s faces were filled with shock and excitement.

It was an incredible feat to kill a supreme overlord beast by himself.

“It’s finally dead!”

Tang Hao let out a sigh of relief and landed on the ground. He cracked the dragon’s skull and took out a rainbow shard.

He gently held the shard in his hand and could not contain his joy.

Boom!

An explosion was heard in the sky as the clouds split open, and a rainbow-colored light shone down.

“The supreme overlord beast on the second level of the First Region has died, and the cycle of reincarnation has begun once again. In a hundred years, the supreme overlord beast shall be born again.”

The ancient voice rang out, echoing throughout the entire Void Realm.

What happened next was the same as what happened in the Ninth Region. All wild beasts disappeared. After that, new beasts appeared, and the cycle of reincarnation began once again.

After Tang Hao exchanged the rainbow shard for a Shard of the Path, he left in a hurry.

Those people were envious, but they dared not go after him. Even if Nameless Qin was injured, they might not be able to stop him.

After returning to the real world, Tang Hao sat cross-legged under the epiphany tree and began to meditate.

The shard contained the Path of True Wood. It took him almost ten days to comprehend it. After doing so, it replaced the previous wood-type nascent qi.

After gathering the nascent qi, Tang Hao stood up and muttered, "It's time to prepare the Nascent Transformation Pill!"

He slowly descended the mountain.

"Valley Master!"

Along the way, he met many medicine farmers. They all bowed respectfully to him and looked at him with admiration.

Tang Hao smiled and nodded at them.

The surroundings had changed greatly. Originally, the circle of mountains nearest to Goldenglow Mountain had farmland for medicinal herbs. Now, almost the entire mountain range had been turned into farmland.

Originally, each farmer was in charge of an entire mountain, but as the number of medicine farmers and apprentices increased, there were now several people on one mountain.

With the protection of the Pill Ministry and the medicine-making factions, Divine Herbalist Valley became more and more prosperous. Its reputation spread to the neighboring nations. Some medicine farmers came from thousands of miles away to seek refuge in Divine Herbalist Valley.

Tang Hao went to the Jiubao Merchant Guild branch in Bramble City and met Steward Liu Quan.

"Hey! What a rare guest!"

Steward Liu cupped his fists and said with a smile.

He had not seen that Divine Medicine Farmer Tang for a long time. It was said that he had been cooped up on the mountain, cultivating in seclusion and studying the art of growing herbs.

After sitting down, Steward Liu said, "Valley Master Tang, what brings you here this time?"

Tang Hao took a sip of tea and said, "I've been thinking of planting something special recently, and I want to ask you for your help."

"Oh? What is it?"

Steward Liu was surprised.

"Nascent Transformation Tree!" Tang Hao said seriously.
