

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1142

In the valley, Tang Hao sat still.

In his abdomen, in the void primal chaos, a small pool appeared.

Then, the pool expanded, turning into a lake.

Slowly, it became an ocean again.

In this sea, there were surging waves, which were Tao Energy.

The sea continued to expand, as if there was no end to it, the dao essence inside was also increasing.

After some time, the ocean finally reached its limit and stabilized.

At that moment, the golden Nascent Soul flew over and floated above the Dao Sea.

The spiritual energy of heaven and earth that was pouring in was completely absorbed by the Nascent Soul.

The Nascent Soul continued to expand, emitting a blinding golden glow. In the end, it transformed into a brilliant golden platform.

This Dao platform was shaped like a lotus and engraved with mysterious golden lines.

When this Dao platform appeared, the entire Dao sea immediately stirred up endless waves. Meanwhile, a rumbling sound also sounded from the sky, golden lightning surging, surging.

The Nascent Soul was a heaven-defying object. When it was formed, it would summon a world-destroying lightning. After it was formed, even the Heavens and Earth could not do anything to it.

However, now that the Nascent Soul had turned into a Dao platform, it was also a heaven-defying item. It was about to summon another world-destroying tribulation.

Only by overcoming it could he be considered to have successfully asked.

“What’s going on?”

Everyone looked at the rolling lightning in the sky in surprise.

They had never heard of someone attempting to break through to the Path Seeking Realm to undergo a Lightning Tribulation. Furthermore, there was something wrong with this lightning. Its aura was too terrifying.

“Retreat! Retreat!”

Afraid that they would be affected, the group retreated again.

Boom! Boom!

More and more lightning radiance appeared. Next to the original vortex, another lightning cloud vortex appeared. Golden lightning radiance accumulated within, the aura becoming more and more terrifying.

At that moment, a giant dragon charged out from the vortex, followed by giant golden Buddhas.

They descended from the sky and guarded the top of the valley.

Fizzle!

A bolt of golden lightning streaked across the sky and descended.

A golden buddha immediately rushed into the sky, facing this streak of lightning.

Boom!

An earth-shattering boom erupted as the golden Buddha and the bolt of lightning perished together.

After a moment of preparation, several streaks of lightning descended from the sky. Swoosh, swoosh, swoosh. Several golden buddhas rose up from the valley and charged forward, self-destructing to block this wave of lightning.

Following that, lightning continued to fall, and the golden buddha also rushed out in waves.

Boom boom boom!

Balls of dazzling brilliance exploded in midair, illuminating the entire world.

Lightning radiance continuously erupted, while the golden buddha exploded one after another. When the last golden buddha also exploded, the lightning radiance in the sky was still flourishing.

Tang Hao became serious. He had misjudged the power of this lightning tribulation. This time, it was even stronger than last time.

His spirit returned to his body and soared into the sky. With a wave of his hand, a streak of golden light soared into the sky, transforming into a huge lightning reservoir.

A wave of tribulation lightning fell, completely entering the reservoir

The lightning pool shook intensely, almost unable to endure it, about to explode. Fortunately, it stabilized, receiving this wave of tribulation lightning.

Before Tang Hao could catch his breath, another wave of tribulation lightning arrived.

This time, the lightning reservoir couldn't hold on any longer and directly exploded. The golden lightning water inside splashed in all directions, shocking Tang Hao enough to pull back and dodge in all directions.

Even though it was dangerous, he managed to block this wave.

Looking towards the sky, there were no more lightning bolts striking down from the sky. Those lightning bolts rolled about and gradually gathered together, as if they were preparing for the final attack. The power also became more and more terrifying.

Tang Hao's expression changed. With a wave of his hand, rays of light flew out. There was the Divine Void Banner, the Sky Sundering Spear, and the Moonshooter Bow. In any case, besides the Octottera Halberd, there was also the golden cauldron. He had taken out everything he could.

Then, the Lightningrod Robe flew out and was worn.

When he was ready, the terrifying lightning also struck down.

Tang Hao waved his hand and countless rays of light flew out. They were the corpses of the Lightning Beasts. They blocked the attack for him. Then, the Divine Void Banner, the Sky Sundering Spear, and other treasures flew up to anticipate the attack.

Boom boom boom!

As these treasures exploded, the power of the tribulation lightning continued to decrease.

However, the Dao lightning was too terrifying. Even though it had been weakened by several percent, it still possessed shocking power.

"Motherf*cker! Damn gods! Are they planning on letting me live!?"

Tang Hao cursed under his breath. Gritting his teeth, a hint of ruthlessness appeared on his face.
