

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 115

Tang Hao thought for a while, then said, "Can you tell me exactly what's going on, Captain Zhou?"

"It's a murder case, but it's a little mysterious. Before I met you, I would've never believed that it can be caused by supernatural forces, but now that I've seen it, I need a master like you to help me!

"It's hard for me to tell you the details over the phone. I'll send someone to fetch you!" Captain Zhou said.

"Alright! I happen to be free now!" Tang Hao agreed to it. "I'm at the entrance of Azure Sky Gardens."

"Alright!" Captain Zhou ended the call after his reply.

Tang Hao kept away his phone, then went back to the booth at the entrance to chat with the security guards.

About ten minutes later, a police car appeared on the road outside.

The police car drove toward them at an incredible speed like a maniac, then the brakes screeched loudly as it stopped at the entrance of Azure Sky Gardens.

The few security guards were shocked when they saw that.

"F*ck! Are they late for something?" One of the security guards mumbled.

A police car door opened, and a beautiful figure walked out.

The security guards were dumbfounded when they saw the person. Their mouths went agape and the cigarettes in their mouths fell out.

The two younger security guards looked at her unblinkingly, as though their souls had been charmed.

They could not be blamed for such a reaction. The female police officer was too beautiful. She had the sculpted face, and her eyebrows were perfect as though they were drawn. Her lips were fiery red and her skin was as fair as snow.

Her body was slim though it curved at all the right places. Her fitting police uniform gave her a heroic charm and was seductive to people with certain interests.

“M... Masterpiece!” The two young security guards looked like idiots.

Tang Hao was surprised when he saw the police officer. ‘Isn’t that the hot-headed police officer, Zhao Qingxue?’

Then, he frowned as he felt a headache creep into his head.

That police officer had always been prejudiced toward him. Why did Captain Zhou send her over?

Zhao Qingxue walked away from the car. Her brows were slightly furrowed and her expression was as cold and detached as a glacier.

Her eyes scanned over the area, then her face darkened when she saw Tang Hao and the security guards.

She was extremely reluctant to fetch Tang Hao, despite Captain Zhou’s orders to do so. That guy might be extremely powerful, but he was still a lecher in her eyes.

He had violated her dignity in their first encounter. There was no need to mention their second encounter. She still gnashed her teeth whenever she remembered it.

“This bastard!” Zhao Qingxue gritted her teeth and mumbled, then headed toward Tang Hao with a sullen face.

“She’s coming! She’s heading here!” The two young security guards were becoming more excited than ever. Their eyes were transfixed on that voluptuous body.

“Tang Hao...!” Zhao Qingxue yelled coldly as she got near.

The security guards regarded Tang Hao with shock and amazement.

“Did you do something wrong this time, Lil Tang?” One of the security guards asked him.

Looking at the police officer’s expression, he thought that she was there to arrest Tang Hao for some crime.

“Wow, what a beautiful police officer! Cuff me up too!” One of the younger security guards said, infatuated.

“Idiot!” The middle-aged security guard slapped his head.

“Don’t worry, Uncle Guo, she’s here to fetch me,” Tang Hao said as he stood up, “I’m friends with her captain.”

The security guards were shocked as they looked at Tang Hao with incredulity.

All of them knew that Tang Hao was only a delivery boy just two months ago. They were already envious of him when he was hitched to Boss Qin. How was he suddenly acquainted with a police captain too?

Not only that, but a police car also came to fetch him! His relationship with the captain must have been beyond mere acquaintances!

They regarded Tang Hao with respect and fear. In their eyes, Tang Hao had become scarily unpredictable.

“I’ll be going, Uncle Guo!” Tang Hao waved at the middle-aged security guard before walking toward Zhao Qingxue.

Zhao Qingxue lifted her head to look at the boy walking toward her. Suddenly, her eyes flashed with surprise.

She almost could not recognize Tang Hao in the trim business suit. She had to admit that he looked almost noble.

Soon, she harrumphed and thought, ‘But he’s still a lecher!’

“Hey, walk faster! Why are you dallying? The captain is waiting for you!” She rolled her eyes at Tang Hao, then walked toward the police car.

Tang Hao scratched his head. ‘She still doesn’t like me,’ he thought.

“I say, Officer Zhao, it’s not good to be so hot-headed!” Tang Hao said.

“None of your business!” Zhao Qingxue said angrily. She sat into the car, then slammed the door shut.

Tang Hao opened the car door at the back and sat inside. “Officer Zhao, are you having any problems with that part of your body, and that’s why you’re so easily irritated?”

“Which part of my body?”

After a beat, Zhao Qingxue realized what he was referring to. Her face immediately turned red and she said angrily, “You... You filthy lecher, you’re the one who has problems!”

“I’m telling the truth, Officer Zhao, I can see that you’ve been stressed lately. Your complexion isn’t fantastic, and your period is affected by something. That’ll affect your emotions and you’ll easily get irritated,” Tang Hao said.

“It’s... It’s none of your business!” Zhao Qingxue’s face was bright red. She turned around and glared at Tang Hao.

“How about I concoct a potion for you? I guarantee that it’ll solve all your bodily ails,” Tang Hao said.

“Hmph! There’s no need!” Zhao Qingxue started the ignition and drove the car.

“Oh, right! Officer Zhao, um... I don’t know how to put it, but I think you’ve picked the wrong bra size. It’s too tight. That’s not good; you’ll fall sick easily,” Tang Hao said.

Screech!

The car came to an emergency stop.

Zhao Qingxue was almost going mad as she gripped the steering wheel.

“You Tang kid!” She squeezed the three words out of her gritted teeth. The words were filled with killing intent.

She did not understand how that guy could have known that just by seeing.

She indeed had some problems with her period lately. Not only that, ever since the last incident, she realized that her colleagues had regarded her somewhat differently, ogling at her breasts when given the opportunity. That was why she wore a bra of a smaller size so that they were not as eye-catching.

Those were all her secrets. She became frustrated and angry when Tang Hao somehow knew them all.

Tang Hao immediately shut his mouth and retreated into a corner.

The atmosphere in the car suddenly became awkward and oppressive.

“Just drive. I’ll just keep my mouth shut!” Tang Hao said cautiously.

“Hmph!” Zhao Qingxue said. Her emotions gradually calmed down, then she said a little bashfully, “Do... Do you really have a cure?”

Tang Hao was shocked. “I do! It’s not hard at all.”

“Then... can you concoct a potion for me, please?” Zhao Qingxue said with a blushing face.

She had heard before that the guy knew some amazing medical skills and had cured the Secretary's son.
He might have a cure for her problems.

The car started moving forward again.
