

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1155

With a flash of the soul tracer, he flew thousands of meters in the blink of an eye, leaving the group of old monsters far behind.

This group of old demons were gritting their teeth and using all their strength to charge forward. No one noticed this small soul remembrance.

“Hurry! Charge! The Longevity Fruit is right in front!”

“This fruit only appears once every five hundred years. Each time, it can only produce about ten fruits. We must not miss it. Once we miss it, we can only wait another five hundred years!”

All the old monsters’ eyes turned red.

Who would complain that their lifespan was not long enough? Even if they had sufficient lifespan now, they had to plan ahead and leave a way out for themselves.

There were too many examples of people who stopped at the peak of Path Seeking and died from the exhaustion of their lifespans.

And at this moment, Tang Hao followed Ambushing Master and the others as they charged forward. At the same time, he controlled that thought to quickly rush forward.

This realm was extremely large, vast and boundless, ancient forests everywhere, quite a few vicious beasts living within.

His soul remembrance turned into a bird that flew past and quickly searched this area.

A moment later, he made a discovery.

In the valley ahead, a tall ancient tree appeared. Mist curled around it, and one could vaguely see huge spiritual fruits hanging between the branches and leaves. They looked like babies, shining with a hazy light.

“Longevity Fruit!”

Tang Hao’s mind moved, and his soul tracer immediately flew out.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

His soul fragment changed, turning into a golden scissors that flew around and cut down all the spirit fruits.

“Mine, all mine!”

Tang Hao was incomparably excited. His soul remembrance transformed into a waterfall that spun around and captured all these spirit fruits.

He did not forget to cut off a branch.

This Ten Thousand Lifespan Wood was not as good as the Epiphany Tree, but it was also one of the wondrous trees of this world, extremely difficult to raise. Tang Hao had the root of the plants, so raising it wouldn't be a problem.

However, it was quite difficult to get results.

Once this fruit was harvested, it would be five hundred years, and it had to be in a place where the spiritual qi was extremely dense. Tang Hao's little bit of plant essence really couldn't activate the fruit many times.

However, this kind of strange wood could be nurtured first. If he missed it, it would be gone.

With a bunch of spirit fruits and a branch, Tang Hao ran away. He ran to the right, to the far side, and circled around half a circle before coming towards him.

At the same time, he pretended to be weak and slowly moved back to the last person.

"Haha! Look, that newcomer from the ninth continent is really useless!"

"Sigh! It's already difficult enough for him to keep up with our speed. He's only at the early stage! Is there no one else in the Ninth Continent? Where did we find such a noob?"

When the people of the eighth continent saw this, they all roared with laughter.

"Hey! Newbie, you can do it! Give it your all!"

Someone even teased.

Hahaha!

The laughter grew louder.

Daoist Tiangang and the others turned around and frowned.

"He's still too young! His methods are not as good as ours, and his cultivation is also not as good!" Daoist Tiangang mumbled.

"Little Brother Tang! Do you want big sister to take you!" Daoist Hongling waved at Tang Hao and shouted enthusiastically.

Xu Sansheng said with a smile, "That's already not bad. Have you all forgotten his age? At his age, we're nothing! But now, he can even sit on the same level as us."

“That’s true!” Daoist Tiangang nodded.

“This brat... ha!” Heaven Devouring Elder also turned around and sneered.

Ambushing Master and the others looked over and frowned.

“Kid, I’ll take you!”

The old man shouted and was about to rush over.

“No! No need! How can I drag you down! You don’t need to care about me. Hurry up and rush over. You must get the Longevity Fruit!” Tang Hao refused righteously.

That righteous and sincere look made the old master’s heart twitch.

What an upright young man!

Grandpa was very touched.

“Ah! What a good young man!” Elder Liu was especially touched. “Kid, don’t worry. If Brother Liu manages to get two, I’ll definitely give you one.”

With that, his speed increased drastically, and he ran to first place.

The other old monsters were unwilling to fall behind as well, all of them displaying their divine abilities, chasing after each other, the competition becoming even more intense.

As for Tang Hao, he was getting weaker and weaker, falling behind by quite a distance.

At this time, no one cared about him. Everyone rushed forward. Tang Hao secretly retracted his soul remembrance and quickly put everything into his ring.

With the treasure in hand, Tang Hao was in a great mood, but he still had to pretend to be out of breath and giving chase.

Just like that, the group arrived in front of the Longevity Fruit Tree.

“Hahaha! I’m first! All the Longevity Fruits are mine!”

Heaven Devouring Elder was the first to arrive. He laughed loudly and was extremely pleased with himself.

He was the first to arrive, and the treasures were all his. There was no reason for him to give them to others.

He laughed loudly and was about to execute his divine art to pluck the spirit fruit.

But then he froze, and the smile on his face froze, gradually turning into a blank expression.

“Haha! Heaven Devouring Elder, what’s wrong? Are you possessed? If that’s the case, I won’t stand on ceremony!”

The second person was an elder from the eighth continent. He laughed loudly and rushed over. When he raised his eyes, he was also stunned.

“Hmm? What happened to these two?”

When the people behind saw this, they all felt a bit strange. When they rushed over to take a look, they were similarly stunned.

The group of people stood in front of the fruit tree, motionless.

“Where’s the spirit fruit? Where’s my spirit fruit?”

Heaven Devouring Elder’s face twitched as he roared ferociously.

He was about to go mad from anger. There was not a single spirit fruit left on the tree. It was completely bare.

Logically speaking, there should have been a batch of ripe fruits on the fruit tree, and there should have been a batch of young fruits the size of walnuts. They would only mature after a few hundred years, but they were gone now.

“Which bastard is it!”

The old man from the eighth continent also roared angrily.

This is too inhumane!

What a waste!

Everyone was furious.

“F*ck, where did this bastard come from? This is too much, at least leave the fruit behind!”

“This bastard, don’t let me find him, or I’ll kill him with a hoe!”

Even Daoist Liu could not help but raise his hoe and berate angrily.

“Aiya! This is too much, too heartless! Who did this!”

Tang Hao caught up. He looked up and pretended to shout.

“He must be an extremely vicious and inhumane fellow!” Elder Liu said indignantly.

“This can’t be right! The Sea Eye has been sealed by us. We need the Eighth Continent, the Ninth Continent, and the Demonic Beasts to come here together. Only then can we open it. No one can come in early.”

“Also, look, these marks are new. They must have just happened!”

Daoist Tiangang went forward and checked the traces.

As he spoke, he looked around suspiciously.

“Old geezer Tiangang, it can’t be us. If someone did something to us, do you think we won’t be able to discover it?” said Heaven Devouring Elder angrily.

“That’s true!”

Daoist Tiangang nodded and said, “That could only mean that a mysterious expert snuck in and stole our treasure.”

“Yes! That must be it!”

Everyone thought about it and agreed.
