

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1156

“Nope!”

“Me neither!”

The group of people aggressively released their soul remembrance to search around. However, after searching around, they found nothing. Other than them, there was no one else here.

“Did he go to the next world?” someone asked.

“That’s possible! Quick! We have to move faster, or else all the treasures will be gone!”

Everyone panicked.

“Let’s go over there. There’s a Spirit Gathering Wood there. It only grows once every fifty years. It should be mature by now!”

The group rushed out.

“Spirit Gathering Wood? Good stuff!” Tang Hao’s eyes lit up.

The fruit produced by the Spirit Gathering Wood was also known as the Spirit Gathering Fruit. It was a spirit fruit that could increase one’s cultivation base after eating it. It was nothing to people at their level, but to Golden Pills and Nascent Souls, it was good stuff.

He used the same trick again and released a soul tracer. This time, he even brought a ring.

His soul awareness rushed out with the ring and rushed towards the place where the Spirit-Gathering Wood grew.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

His soul remembrance turned into a pair of scissors, and with a flurry of clipping, all the spirit fruits on the tree fell. No matter if they were ripe or not, they were all stuffed into the ring.

There were not many Longevity Fruits just now. There were only fifteen or sixteen of them. However, there were many Spirit Gathering Fruits. They filled the entire tree and could fill several baskets.

“What a great harvest!”

With so many spirit fruits, Tang Hao became even more excited.

With so many Spirit Gathering Fruits, Xintong, Daoist Priest, and the others’ cultivation levels could rapidly increase by a notch, and they could nurture a group of Nascent Soul experts.

After snatching the Spirit Gathering Fruit, he did not return. Instead, he continued to run and search.

“Hmm? That’s the Heavenly Sun Wood? Good stuff! I’ll take it!”

“Eh? That’s a Golden Marrow Fruit? My god, there’s actually such a good thing? Snatch it! Snatch it all!”

Tang Hao darted around, snatching anything he saw.

The Spirit Qi here was extremely rich, and it was also a holy land for plants and vegetation. There were many well-known Spirit Wood and Spirit Grass growing here. Tang Hao had plundered them all along the way, and it was unknown just how many treasures were stored here.

He plucked all the spiritual fruits, uprooted all the spiritual plants, dug three feet into the ground, and didn’t even spare the roots.

If not for the fact that he was afraid of creating a huge commotion, he would have uprooted all the fruit trees and taken them away.

After he searched for a while, the group finally reached the Spirit-Gathering Wood.

Initially, the group of people had been prepared to snatch it, but when they got closer, they were all dumbfounded.

The tree was also bare and clean. Not even a fingernail-sized fruit was left.

The group of people stood there with ashen faces.

“How despicable!” Old Daoist Liu said indignantly.

“How inhumane! He’s even worse than me!” Heaven Devouring Elder cursed.

How depressing!

His reputation was well-known, and he could be considered quite a ferocious figure, but when it came to picking spirit fruits, he would not do something so overboard.

“Yeah! How inhumane!”

Tang Hao caught up, panting, and also cursed.

“Come on! Let’s go over there!”

The group continued to rush to the next location, but when they arrived, they were greeted by a bare fruit tree.

“How could this be!”

They were furious.

They cursed and rushed to the next location. However, the result was the same. A bare fruit tree stood there without anything left.

The group of old monsters' faces turned red with anger.

They took off and ran to the next location.

This time, facing the barren grassland, they finally could not take it anymore and vomited blood!

What a cruel fellow!

Not a single blade of grass was left within a three-meter radius. There was even a huge hole dug out. Not even a single root was left.

"So many spiritual fruits and spiritual plants... They're all gone!"

"Gosh! How did this happen?"

The group of old monsters wailed.

"He must have gone to the next world. Let's go. We have to find him and kill him together before we get the thing back!"

A group of old monsters rushed towards the entrance of the next world with surging killing intent.

At this moment, whether it was the Eighth Continent, the Ninth Continent, or the three great demons from the sea demons, all of them stood on the same side.

Their enemy was that cruel and inhumane bastard.

Passing through the tunnel, everyone entered the next world, the Weapon Realm.

The Ruins of Immortality was actually a legacy site of an ancient sect. It was divided into many realms, including the Wooden Realm, the Weapon Realm, the Alchemy Realm, the Beast Realm, and so on.

Most of the worlds had been explored many times, and there were no treasures left behind. However, there were some worlds that were more dangerous, and they had not been fully explored. There might be treasures that had been left behind.

Moreover, the wood world and the beast world were special. There were many rare spirit trees in the wood world. Every few decades or centuries, a new batch of spirit fruits would mature, attracting many old monsters to come and pick them.

There were many beasts in the Beast Realm, and some old monsters would come to hunt them.

This Weapon Realm had basically been completely explored. There was nothing left, and everyone was only searching for traces of the mysterious person.

After failing, they continued forward, entering the next world, the Alchemy Realm.

“Still no! Where is he?”

Everyone searched the place, but they still did not find anything.

“The way I see it, that guy has already run far away. I wonder where he went. Of course, we won’t be able to find him if we search like this. We’ll have to split up to find him.”

Someone suggested.

“That’s a good idea. We have so many people. If we split up, our chances will be higher. When we find that bastard, no one will be able to take all the Longevity Fruits for themselves. At the very least, we’ll have to split them!”

An old man from the eighth continent nodded.

Everyone agreed. They split up in the middle of the alchemy world and flew to various places.

“Kid, let’s not be in a hurry to leave. We might find something if we explore this Alchemy Realm!” said Ambushing Master.

The five of them stayed behind to explore the Alchemy Realm.

However, after searching through every nook and cranny, he didn’t find much. All he found were some useless pills, but he found quite a few pill recipes. Tang Hao was a little disappointed when he saw them, as none of them were good pill recipes.

“Kid, I’m sorry!”

The uncle felt a little guilty. Before he came, he had said that there were pills that could increase one’s Dao Energy here, as well as spirit fruits that could increase one’s lifespan, but the result was the same.

“I’m fine!” Tang Hao waved his hand.

The group of people sighed, heading towards the entrance of the next realm.

Just as they were near the entrance, something happened.

A crack suddenly appeared in the air, and a figure dashed out. With a monstrous demonic aura, a halberd thrust towards Tang Hao who was at the back.

This person was none other than the East Sea Demon Lord!

“Brat, hand over the divine halberd!”

The East Sea Demon Lord shouted with a thunderous voice.

With this halberd, an extremely terrifying demonic aura surged over, causing space to tremble.

Tang Hao's expression changed drastically. This was the full-power attack of a half sect master!

Before he could react, there was also movement from the other side. Swoosh! Swoosh! Swoosh! Three figures charged out from the valley below. The person leading them was Heaving Devouring Elder.

“Kid, I'm going to eat you!”

With a loud shout, Heaven Devouring Elder suddenly opened his mouth and a terrifying suction force appeared, pulling Tang Hao towards that direction.
