

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1174

“Why are you guys going to the Sixth Continent?”

Tang Hao asked.

The old man with the stick smiled and said, “Of course there’s good stuff. Otherwise, who would be willing to go so far?”

“Is it a cave abode, or is it some ancient ruin that has appeared?” Tang Hao asked.

“Neither!” The uncle waved his hand and said, “There’s a rain dragon about to transform into a true dragon!”

Tang Hao was startled.

Grandpa said, “It’s that old flood dragon king from the sixth continent. He finally couldn’t take it anymore and is about to attempt the Dragon Transformation Tribulation. A long time ago, he obtained a drop of true dragon blood essence. Once the rain dragon race consumes true dragon blood essence, they have a certain chance of transforming into a true dragon.”

“However, once a rain dragon transforms into a true dragon, it will bring about a tribulation. Passing through it will allow one to become a true dragon and soar into the sky. If one can’t pass through it, they will be struck by tribulation lightning and die.”

“This Dragon Transformation Tribulation is quite terrifying. It can be said to be a narrow escape from death. That old flood dragon had prepared for so many years before he dared to attempt it.”

Hearing this, Tang Hao wasn’t surprised. He had some understanding of the dragon race’s transformation.

However, he was somewhat puzzled. “What does that Rain Dragon King transforming into a true dragon have to do with us? Could it be that we’re going to plot against him?”

“F*ck! You brat, am I that evil? Even though I’m a little perverted, I’m still not capable of plotting against others to stop them from transcending their tribulations.”

Ambushing Master angrily said, “Besides, I don’t have any grudges with that old Rain Dragon King. Is there a need to scheme against him!?”

“Then why are we going?” Tang Hao was puzzled. “Running so far just to see him transcend his tribulation?”

“Sigh! Am I that bored?” The old man rolled his eyes. “I’m not that bad, but others do! Who knows how many people are eyeing this Dragon Transformation Tribulation!”

“Any old monster would be interested in a half-transformed dragon king’s corpse! This information was supposed to be kept a secret. In order to survive the tribulation, the old flood dragon king had invited many old monsters to protect him.

“It’s a pity that this news somehow got out. Now that the old monsters of several continents know about it, they will definitely take action.”

“Let’s go and take a look. If those old monsters make a move, then we’ll take advantage of the situation and act according to the circumstances!”

“I see!” Tang Hao suddenly understood.

“Hey, stop the chit-chat. Come with me!”

Ambushing Master stood up, grabbed Tang Hao, and jumped out of Ritian Valley. He took out his big boat and sped away.

“Let’s go find Old Liu first. He’s in the north region now, probably drinking at some restaurant. Then we’ll go find Fellow Daoist Liu...”

Speaking up to this point, he hesitated for a moment. “Fellow Daoist Liu has a strange personality. He likes to wander in the mortal world. As for Fellow Daoist Heartless, he is a cultivation maniac. He will always cultivate in his own cave abode.”

The ship flew over to pick up the three of them, then headed toward the sixth continent.

The sixth continent was quite far away. It took them five or six days to reach it.

After flying for a while, the boat stopped.

“Alright, let’s wait here. That lake over there is the territory of the old Rain Dragon King. If we go any closer, we will be discovered. That would be terrible.”

As he said that, the old man flicked his sleeves and waved a few array flags. They surrounded the boat and hid it.

“According to the news, the old Rain Dragon King will transform into a true dragon seven days later. At that time, there will be many old demon kings protecting him. Therefore, it won’t be easy for the other old monsters to attack him.”

“There are quite a few old demon kings in the sixth continent. Because they are demons, most of them are born with magical powers. Therefore, they are all quite powerful and are quite difficult to deal with.”

“We’ll wait. If those old monsters succeed, we’ll attack. If not, we won’t move.”

Seven days passed in the blink of an eye.

The sky ahead was abnormally calm. There was no movement at all.

“What’s going on? Isn’t it today?” Elder Liu asked in confusion. “Could it be that the old rain dragon king received the news and stopped transforming into a dragon?”

“This... is also possible!” Ambushing Master said, “That old rain dragon king is not stupid. If he knew that the news was leaked, he would definitely give up and not try again for the time being.”

“However, the possibility is not high. Let’s wait and see!”

Half a day passed.

Finally, in the distant sky, the wind and clouds began to change. Black clouds gathered and rolled.

“It’s starting!”

The old man’s eyes lit up, and he became excited.

“Don’t panic, let’s wait awhile before going over!”

Then, he suppressed his excitement and waited again.

More and more black clouds gathered in the distance, and lightning began to flash as they surged.

This was the omen of the lightning tribulation!

When the lightning accumulated and was about to fall, Ambushing Master withdrew the formation. The large boat moved and charged forward.

As he got closer, he saw a vast lake before him. There was a gigantic green dragon circling above the lake. It was over a thousand meters long and possessed a terrifying presence.

At that moment, the dragon was struggling with pain.

The scales on his body cracked continuously, and blood splashed out. The scales on the top of his head also cracked, as if something was about to drill out.

“The Dragon Transformation has begun!” the old man said. “When those dragon horns grow out, the tribulation lightning will fall. That will be the true beginning of the Dragon Transformation Tribulation.”

The large boat moved as fast as lightning, quickly arriving above the lake, stopping.

When one looked up, they could see several great warships flying over from all directions.

“Heh! Quite a few people have come!” Elder Liu said with a smile. “They’re all old acquaintances!”

Tang Hao looked up and recognized a few ships. There were a few groups of people from the Eighth Continent, Old Daoist Tiangang’s group from the Ninth Continent, and Heaven Devouring Elder’s group.

He did not know anything else.

“That one is from the seventh continent, and so is that one... As for the others, they are all from the fifth continent.” Elder Liu introduced them to Tang Hao.

These warships flew over and stopped by the lake, surrounding the entire lake.

The lightning tribulation had yet to officially begin, so they did not move either. They all stood where they were and watched.

“Wow, the fifth continent, seventh continent, eighth continent, and ninth continent, the four great continents are all here! That old rain Dragon King is probably done for!” Ambushing Master sighed as he looked around.

Old Daoist Liu sneered and said, “It’s not easy to snatch treasures! There are too many people!”

As the group arrived, the lake started to move. The surface of the lake started to move like something was trying to crawl out.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The water surface exploded, and figures rushed out.

In an instant, demonic aura filled the sky.

There were ten people in total, all of whom had different appearances. Some were burly men, some were skinny old men, and there were even beautiful women. All of them exuded shocking Demonic Qi, and were late Path Seeking Greater Demons.

“Ten old demon kings! How generous!”

The old man cried out in surprise.

Several cries of alarm sounded from the four warships.

There were only twenty old demon kings in the sixth continent, and half of them were here.. This was quite a big operation.
