

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1230

Tang Hao turned around and saw a stone statue of a tall and sturdy man. He stood with his hands behind his back and looked up at the sky, his body exuding an aura of righteousness.

“This is the most ancient item in our sect. It has been here since the sect was founded. I don’t know how many years it has been,” the elder said.

Tang Hao walked over and stood in front of the statue. He looked at it carefully.

“Hey! Senior, this is just an ordinary stone statue. There’s nothing to see. ”

The elder walked up and waved his hand.

However, Tang Hao did not move. He stared unblinkingly at the stone statue.

At first glance, it did look like an ordinary stone statue. However, after staring at it for a long time, one could vaguely sense a wisp of faintly discernible aura lingering around it.

This aura was very faint, so faint that it was almost undetectable.

If one didn’t have a profound cultivation state, one wouldn’t be able to sense it if one didn’t sense it carefully.

“This should have been left behind by the founder of the Brahma sound sect, or by some powerful figure in the past. Otherwise, it would have been impossible for it to have survived until today ...”

‘Tang Hao thought.

He just stood there, motionless, and focused on his comprehension.

“Senior! Senior?”

The elder felt strange and called out in a low voice.

He was even more surprised when he saw that Tang Hao still did not move.

“Isn’t this just a broken statue ...” He also looked up and shook his head. He was even more puzzled.

However, he didn’t dare to shout. He stood at the side for a while and then retreated.

“Ai! What’s that person doing?”

“I don’t know! It seems to be staring at that stone statue. Strange, could it be that there’s something mysterious about that stone statue?”

“Hey! Even though this place is run-down, many old monsters have come here, but they didn’t see anything. Besides, it’s just an ordinary stone statue, what mystery could it have!”

The group of disciples looked from afar and were also a little puzzled.

More and more people gathered around, whispering and discussing. A few elders and the sect leader had all come. They looked from afar and were also extremely puzzled.

“Forget it, just let him see it! If senior likes it, then we don’t have to care!”

“Yes, yes! It was like this! Ai! Don’t just stand there, go do what you should be doing!”

After waiting for more than an hour, seeing that there was still no movement, the few elders called the disciples to leave.

Tang Hao still stood there, unmoving.

Half a day passed just like that.

Suddenly, his body moved and he retracted his gaze. In that pair of eyes, a silver light flashed and suddenly became a pair of silver eyes, emitting a dazzling brilliance.

“What’s that?”

Seeing the two beams of piercing silver light, the disciples in the distance exclaimed.

Those elders also cried out in surprise and were somewhat puzzled.

Then, an elderly elder seemed to have thought of something. His body trembled, and his face revealed a look of shock and disbelief.

“That ... Could that be our ancestor’s precious eye?”

He blurted out in shock, his expression extremely excited.

“The ancestor’s precious eye? Wasn’t it long lost? How is that possible?”

The other elders were bewildered.

The Brahma sound sect had a long history and was once very glorious. The founder of the sect had passed down many divine powers, spells, and treasures.

However, as the sect declined and its treasures were taken away, many of its divine abilities and techniques were lost.

Among these divine powers and techniques, there was a treasured eye called the void-shattering treasured eye. It could see through illusions and at the same time, it was also a kind of clairvoyance. Once the treasured eye was activated, one could see things thousands of miles away.

Thus, this treasure eye was also called the thousand li treasure eye.

Apart from that, the Brahma sound sect also had a unique technique called the heaven listening technique, which was equivalent to super hearing.

One had clairvoyance and the other had clairaudience. They were quite famous back then.

“That’s right, this really is the void shattering treasured eyes! Haha, our ancestor’s precious eyes have seen the light of day again!” The sect leader laughed out loud, overjoyed.

“Is this treasured eye really hidden in that stone statue? Ai! Why didn’t we find out earlier!”

One of the elders said regretfully.

The sect leader’s face turned solemn and he said, “Even if we know, I’m afraid we won’t be able to figure it out. Many old monsters have been here before, but they didn’t discover the mystery.”

“Also, look, he has already completely cultivated the treasured eye. How long has it been since he comprehended it? In such a short time, he has successfully cultivated a treasured eye. This level of comprehension, this level, it can be said to be terrifying!”

“This person is definitely not an ordinary person! It can’t just be nascent soul, it must be Dao seeking, and not just any Dao seeking.”

Upon hearing this, the elders all gasped. They had never expected that such a Big Shot would come to their Brahma sound sect.

“Senior, please don’t blame me! It’s US who have eyes but failed to recognize Mount Tai!”

They knelt down and paid their respects.

Before this, they had thought that he was just a nascent soul cultivator, so they were a little casual. But when it came to Dao pursuing, it was completely different, not to mention that this was no ordinary Dao pursuing.

Seeing them kneel, the other disciples followed suit.

Tang Hao turned around, his hands behind his back, and his gaze swept across the room.

“No need to be so polite! Speaking of which, I still have to thank you all!”

“Senior is too polite. It is senior’s fortune to be able to obtain this treasured eye.” The sect leader hurriedly said.

Tang Hao thought for a moment. “This treasure eye is useless to you. Why don’t you exchange it for something else? you can take these!”

With that, he casually threw out a ring.

“Thank you, senior!”

The sect leader said excitedly, suppressing his ecstasy.

“Let’s do this! I’m leaving!”

Tang Hao flicked his sleeves and left.

“Farewell, senior!”

Everyone bowed and called out in unison.

Far away from the Brahma sound sect, Tang Hao stopped in the air. A silver light flashed in his eyes as he looked forward. His vision expanded limitlessly, and he could see the situation tens of thousands of miles away.

Then, his ears twitched, and all the sounds in the world entered his ears.

“Clairvoyance and clairaudience ... With these two things, I can truly have eyes and ears everywhere. No one in the first continent can escape my surveillance.”

Tang Hao smiled happily.

Then, his body flashed and a split soul flew out.

“Fellow Daoist, have you learned it?” Tang Hao asked.

“I know! I know!” “Tang Hao” laughed. As he spoke, a silver light flashed in his eyes, and they turned into a pair of silver eyes.

Following that, many split souls flew out one after another, their eyes flashing with silver light. Each of them had cultivated a pair of clairvoyance and super hearing.

“As the saying goes, know yourself and know your enemy, and you will never be defeated. Intelligence is the most important thing. Let’s go now and find out the situation of our opponents. We must even find out what color their underwear is!”

Tang Hao said.

“Fellow Daoist, I understand!”

“Fellow Daoist, let’s go!”

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

One by one, the split souls flew up and turned into streams of light, rushing to various places on the first continent.
