

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1245

“Kill him! Take revenge for the head of the family!”

The elders of the Yushi family shouted and shot out beams of light.

Thousands of elders shot out tens of thousands of light beams that filled the entire sky.

This group of elders all asked. There were quite a few in the late stage, and there were even more than 30 people in the consummate level. With so many people joining forces, the momentum was extremely shocking.

Especially that group of Grand Supreme old monsters, they even worked together to activate the divine rain Bell.

Clang clang clang!

The sound of the bell reverberated through the world.

The wind and clouds in the sky changed, and a curtain of rain fell. One after another, the rain deity's clones were formed. They howled and raised their huge palms, blasting toward Tang Hao.

Other than the rain deity's clone, there were also all kinds of huge beasts formed from rain water. There were pythons, Tigers, flood Dragons, and they were all like living creatures, exuding a violent and bloodthirsty aura.

The Yushi family was a descendant of the ancient rain clan and was born with the ability to control water. In terms of Water-type techniques, they had always been the best in the first continent.

Some of the water was black and purple, but they were Spirit Water. Like the Dao fire, they were not ordinary things and had great power.

Tang Hao was unafraid of such a terrifying force. His dragon eyes glowed with a dazzling golden light. The rain around him stagnated and turned into giant Dragons that pounced in all directions.

At the same time, he donned his white bone armor and held the eight desolations halberd in his hand. The battle intent around him soared to the sky, and his divine might was awe-inspiring.

He used the Yu steps and his body flickered like a ghost.

There was a buzz.

As the halberd light swept across, a group of water beasts was split into two and exploded.

Then, the halberd light continued to cut through several layers of defense and cut an elder of the Yushi family in half.

Pfft!

In an instant, fresh blood spurted out like rain.

“Ah, Yingluo! You devil! I’m going to kill you!”

There was a burst of roaring.

The elders from all four sides were so angry that their eyes almost popped out of their sockets. They roared and attacked madly.

Tang Hao’s expression was calm. His body flickered and he appeared in front of another elder.

“Die!”

He pursed his lips and murmured in a cold voice. Then, he struck out with his palm.

Peng Peng Peng!

Under this palm, whatever light curtain or spiritual shield, they were all unable to withstand a single blow and crumbled layer by layer. This palm was unstoppable and shattered all defenses before it landed on the elder’s chest.

The elder's eyes were wide open. He could not believe it, and he was terrified.

He was at least at the late stage of Dao seeking, but he actually couldn't block a palm from this kid!

He didn't have time to Dodge and could only watch as the palm print came. With a bang, his body exploded like a watermelon, turning into a mess.

The Dao pillars and divine souls were also caught and crushed before they could escape.

"Next!"

Tang Hao's body flickered as he charged toward the next person.

Pfft! Pfft!

Clouds of blood mist exploded in midair, and miserable cries rose and fell.

The thick smell of blood permeated the air in the rain.

The rain was like a Shuraba, filled with blood and slaughter.

The figure in white bone armor was like a ghost or an Asura. Wherever he passed, he set off a bloody storm and reaped lives.

The armor was covered in blood, and it was surrounded by a strong killing intent.

"This is too terrifying!"

Many elders were already terrified.

"How could this be ... So many elders, why can't they do anything to that demon!"

In the distance, the disciples 'faces turned pale and their hearts trembled.

They couldn't believe their eyes. So many elders couldn't even defeat one person! The demon was like a god of death, terrifying and abnormal.

This wasn't them besieging the demon, it was the demon who wanted to massacre their Yushi family!

"Back then, when you were hunting me down, you probably didn't expect this day to come, right?"

"Die!" Tang Hao shouted coldly. He struck out with his palm again and crushed another person.

Fresh blood exploded and splattered all over him.

"This kid is indeed a monster!"

The group of Grand elders were also extremely frightened at this moment.

The guy in front of him was not like a young boy at all. This kind of power, this kind of means, he was clearly a peerless old demon with unparalleled fierceness.

"The family head is dead. Otherwise, we could've activated the killing formation and killed this kid!"

"What about the great defensive formation?"

"This won't do. The array base has already been destroyed by those split souls, and it can't be activated! This damn brat!"

"We can't go on like this, go! Go and invite that person out!"

One of the Grand elders said.

"This ..."

“What are you hesitating for? if this continues, everyone will die. At this point, The Guardian won’t blame us.”

“Yes!”

One of the Grand elders transformed into a streak of light and quickly left, charging towards a Dao Lake in the distance.

That was the forbidden area of the Yushi family, and even the head of the family was not qualified to enter it. Only in a life-and-death situation could one enter and summon The Guardian.

The Yushi clan had existed for tens of thousands of years, and had naturally given birth to many Dao severing mighty figures. Most of them had gone to the endless starry sky, but there would always be one person left behind in each generation to guard the clan.

“Guardian?”

Tang Hao’s expression changed.

He had also heard of the rumors about the Guardians.

“Let’s go!”

He made a prompt decision and retreated. With his current strength, he was no match for a Dao severing Almighty! If the Dao severance truly appeared, it would be very difficult for him to walk.

“Let’s go! Let’s go!”

Those split souls also received the news. After getting the last bit of profit, they all rushed to the sky.

“Stop him!”

The group of elders shouted and wanted to stop him.

Tang Hao split the group apart and broke out of the encirclement in the blink of an eye. He retrieved his split soul and left.

“Motherf * cker! This kid is running too fast!”

Everyone cursed in anger.

After cursing for a while, they lowered their heads and saw a barren plain below. They were so angry that they almost vomited blood. Many elders swayed and felt dizzy, almost falling from the sky.

It was too tragic!

As far as the eye could see, not a single brick or tree was left behind. Everything had been moved away.

Even the main hall below had been emptied, leaving only an empty shell. If they fought any longer, there might not even be a shell left.

“Great ... Great elder, bad news! The pill storage has been emptied, there’s nothing left!”

“Great elder, something bad has happened. There’s a hole in the Treasury, and there’s nothing left inside. There’s also a piece of paper that says ... It says ...”

“What was written on it? tell me!”

The first elder was furious.

“Yes...Yes...Thank you!”

“Thank you?”

The first elder’s eyes widened. Then, his face twisted and he spat out a mouthful of blood. He fell from the sky.

“First elder, are you alright?”

A group of people immediately surrounded him.

“Our ... Our Yushi clan’s ten-thousand-year reputation is going to be destroyed today ...” The first elder said in a trembling voice.

The clan head had died, and he had been forced into the clan to be massacred and emptied of the clan’s Treasury ...

There had never been a titled noble family or great sect that had suffered such humiliation!

From now on, the Yushi family would become a joke!
