

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1273

“Four groups of people, nineteen Dao-severing cultivators ... The first continent’s cultivators should have already been here!”

Tang Hao let out a sigh of relief after he lowered the bow.

With so many Dao slashes, he was also a little panicked. If they attacked together, he was afraid that he would not be able to stop them even if senior locust tree was here.

If not for the fact that he had made a breakthrough in his cultivation and had reached the half-step Dao severance realm, he would definitely not have been able to scare these people off.

“That guy’s spell ... Interesting!”

He frowned as he recalled the red-robed Daoist’s mystical spell.

It could freely pass through arrays without being discovered, and even the soul consciousness could hardly detect it. It could be called magical, but it was even more terrifying. If it wasn’t for senior locust tree, he probably wouldn’t have discovered it.

If he was ambushed in close combat, the consequences would be unimaginable.

“That old Daoist ... Is a huge problem!”

Tang Hao muttered to himself. He had many defensive treasures, but most of them were ordinary true treasures. There was only one Supreme treasure, which was the tortoiseshell.

Last time, in Kunwu, two Supreme armors had appeared. One was taken by Ji Wu, which was shattered by an arrow. The broken armor had escaped with Ji Wu.

He was not sure who had taken the other one.

The white bone void armor he was wearing was only a senior true treasure.

He was still a bit overwhelmed by the sneak attack of a Dao severing Almighty.

“I have to get a better armor. Since I can’t find it, I might as well make it myself ... However, it’s too difficult to make a Supreme treasure.”

“Generally speaking, one has to reach the half-immortal level to be able to refine a Supreme treasure. I’m only half a step away from Dao severance. I’m afraid it’ll be difficult!”

Tang Hao furrowed his brows.

“That’s right, since it’s so difficult to make one, why don’t we modify it and upgrade this white bone armor by one grade, making it go from high grade to Supreme grade?”

Although it was difficult, it was much easier than refining a new one.

“A Supreme treasure, materials, carved formations, and the soul inside. None of these three can be missing! This white bone armor’s materials are a bit lacking, the formations are also a bit lacking, and as for the soul, it’s even worse. There’s room for improvement.”

“I have a Suan NI’s remains, and it’s the best bone I have. It can be used to replace many other bones. This void bone must be kept and embedded in it.”

“Formations ... Are not a problem. I have already comprehended them and can improve on them.”

“As for the souls, I have quite a few flood Dragon Souls. I can refine all of them.”

He quickly came up with a plan.

Over the next few days, he focused on his research. After determining the method of refining, he began to refine it.

He sat down cross-legged and flicked his sleeve. One after another, spine bones flew out. He drew a line with his finger and carved golden patterns on the bones, forming a complex formation.

Then, he used this batch of bones to replace some of the original white bones.

The battle armor immediately changed its appearance. It was originally covered in white bones, but now it was shining with golden light.

With another wave of his hand, rays of light flew out and turned into the souls of flood Dragons. They circled the valley and let out earth-shaking roars.

“Get in!”

“Break!” Tang Hao shouted. He grabbed the flood Dragon Souls and stuffed them into the armor.

The armor trembled violently, and the soul of the flood Dragon struggled to escape.

“Hmph! Be good and stay inside!”

Tang Hao waved his hand and slapped Dao hun away.

Then, he grabbed another one and forcefully stuffed it into his armor.

Every time a soul was stuffed into the armor, it would shake, and its aura would increase.

After all the flood Dragon Souls were stuffed into the armor, Tang Hao took out a Lightning Pool and released the lightning water to refine the armor.

滋滋!

These were the Tribulation lightning of the nascent formation tribulation, and they were very powerful. Under the tempering of the Thunder water, the aura of the battle armor became even stronger, and it was stained with some of the power of the Tribulation lightning.

When the refinement was complete, Tang Hao refined the armor again.

After everything was done, there was a boom and the armor shook violently. A shocking pillar of light burst out and shot into the sky.

“The Supreme battle armor ... Is done!”

Tang Hao smiled happily.

With this armor, his combat power would increase a bit, especially his defensive ability. He wouldn't even be afraid of a sneak attack from the Dao crusher.

With a light wave of his hand, the battle armor disassembled and turned into streaks of light that flew over. With a few clanging sounds, it reassembled on his body.

His entire body was golden and resplendent, with wisps of lightning lingering around it. His appearance was even more heroic and domineering.

“Good armor!”

Tang Hao could not help but sigh. “I'll have to change its name. I'll just call it Supreme armor.” I'll use the ancient spine as the material and temper it with the Tribulation lightning. This armor will be the Supreme of the Supreme battle armors!”

“Right, let's take this opportunity to refine all the armors and treasures.”

Tang Hao sat down and continued making.

Previously, in Kunwu, he had obtained many materials, including all kinds of rare metals, spiritual materials, and the thousands of dragon bones. They were all top-grade materials for refining weapons.

He first refined his armor, then waved his hand, and huge flood dragon bones flew out.

With a thought, the flood dragon bones disintegrated into countless root bones.

Then, these bones flew towards him. He raised his hand and his fingers danced, carving talismans on the bones.

He didn't carve them one by one, but batch by batch.

When these bones were put together, they formed a ferocious bone armor.

As soon as the bone armor was formed, it shook and exploded into a shocking pillar of light, indicating that it was a Supreme treasure.

With Tang Hao's current cultivation and craftsmanship, crafting a low-grade Supreme treasure was child's play. It was completed in the blink of an eye.

In two days 'time, he had finished refining the battle armor. Then, he refined all kinds of treasures, including swords, seals, pots, rulers, and so on.

“With these treasures, I'll be able to rest easy once they reach the Dao seeking stage.”

He was already close to severing his Dao and would leave this place one day. What he was most worried about was naturally Kun Lun's safety.

After forging the treasure, he continued to cultivate and comprehend the reincarnation doctrine. The Dao fruit grew stronger and stronger.

On this day, he was sitting under the path-understanding tree when he suddenly felt something and opened his eyes.

Just now, a split soul in the first continent sent a message, saying that there was news of Ji Wu.

“Undying mountain? He actually went to such a place!”

According to the information from the split soul, Ji Wu had already entered the immortal mountain.

Tang Hao had heard of the undying mountain long ago. It was extremely famous. Not only was it one of the most dangerous lands on the first continent, but it was also one of the ten most dangerous lands on the Qi Yuan planet. It was as famous as the ancient Dao lakes.

In terms of the degree of danger, the undying mountain was even more dangerous, and almost no one dared to set foot on it.

“I’d like to see if there’s really an immortal secret treasure in the immortal mountain that can make people immortal!”

He stood up and put on his armor.

The next moment, the void in front of him rippled.

He stepped in and shuttled through the void several times. He soon arrived at the first continent.
