

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1276

“Brat, don’t waste your energy. You won’t be able to break it without at least two hours!”

Through the layers of light, North Gate grinned at Tang Hao.

“Is that so?”

Tang Hao laughed coldly. He put away the halberd and took out the red bow.

“By the time you break it, that Ji brat would have already refined this divine stone,” North Gate mocked. “Do you know what this is?”

As he spoke, he raised his hand and pointed at the five-colored divine stone, his face revealing a bit of pride.

“I really don’t know!”

Tang Hao said coldly.

“Swish!” Beimen Yi sneered and said, “I don’t think you know either. There are only a few people in this world who know about this thing. It’s called the heaven and earth embryo, a spiritual object born by the heaven and earth.”

“This stone is an ancient divine stone. After ten thousand years, it has been nourished by the essence of the sun and the moon. The birth of a fetus inside it is the birth of the heaven and earth.”

“Once this fetus is born, it will be born with nine apertures and eight holes. It can communicate with heaven and earth. It is a Supreme creature and is also known as a divine fetus.”

“As long as little Ji refines this divine stone and occupies this fetus, he will have an extraordinary physical body. Killing you will be a piece of cake, and there will be no obstacles for him to become an immortal and pass the Tribulation.”

Tang Hao was shocked when he heard that.

Such a spiritual item was truly shocking.

His eyes brightened as he stared at the divine stone. His eyes were burning.

How could he let Ji mo take such a good thing? it had to be his so that he could use it to refine an avatar.

He had many split souls, but not a single clone.

If he could obtain this embryo and refine it into an avatar, his strength would increase by several times.

“Ji, that’s mine. Don’t move!”

Tang Hao roared, his eyes shining.

“What do you mean by” you “? you little brat, you’re so shameless! We were the ones who discovered this Godstone first! It’s ours!” Bemen Yi was furious.

“If I say it’s mine, then it’s mine!”

“Fire!” Tang Hao shouted. He pulled the bowstring, and a Golden Arrow was shot.

“Kid, don’t waste your energy!” Beimen Yi sneered again.

Tang Hao did not say anything. His body shook, and a Dao ring appeared behind him.

In his body, the Dao pillar trembled slightly and emitted a bright light.

In an instant, the aura on his body rose sharply.

Once the Dao fruit was formed, he stepped into the half-step Dao severance realm. His strength had already increased by several times compared to when he was at the perfected Dao seeking realm.

“This is ...?”

Seeing the ring, Beimen Yi’s body trembled and he was dumbfounded.

“You ... You’ve achieved Dao fruit?”

He had used all his strength to shout this out.

His face was slightly distorted from the extreme shock.

“Break!”

Tang Hao’s lips quivered, and he let out a cold mumble.

Whoosh!

The arrow light tore through the void and shot forward.

Bang Bang!

The second light screen was broken, and the third light screen shook.

“Hiss!”

Beimen Yi gasped in shock.

“Not good!”

Then, he cried out, revealing a somewhat panicked expression.

This kid’s strength had increased so much that these arrays wouldn’t be able to hold on for long. They wouldn’t be able to last until kid Ji completely refined the divine stone.

“Ji brat, hurry up, there’s no time! Let’s take the divine fetus and I’ll stop this kid!”

He shouted at Ji Wu and waved his hand. Rays of light flew out. They were sets of formations and various defensive treasures.

“Old man, let’s see how long you can last!”

“Hmph!” Tang Hao grunted coldly. He drew his bow again and fired another arrow.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

One arrow after another, the layers of light screens shattered one after another, exploding into balls of bright light.

He held the precious bow in his hand, and his eyes shot out divine light like two blazing Suns. His divine might was magnificent, as if an ancient God of War had descended.

As for Beimen Yi, he was flustered and in a sorry state.

He kept throwing out treasures to strengthen his defense, using this to block the terrifying brat.

However, in the face of the godly bow, no treasure could withstand it. They were crushed and killed like dried weeds.

“No! I can’t hold on any longer! Little Ji, hurry up!”

Seeing that it was about to be breached, the north gate roared.

Ji Wu was also a little anxious. He couldn’t care about anything else. His divine soul flew out and split into two. One half went into the divine stone, and the other half returned to his body.

His physical body opened his eyes, but his gaze was a little dull.

This was a split soul. His main soul had already entered the divine stone and occupied his origin core.

The divine stone trembled, and the five-colored light brightened. The stone also became somewhat transparent, and one could see a baby-like object inside, which was gradually growing larger.

In a short while, he turned from an infant to a child.

“Senior, I’ll give you a hand!”

His original body, which was now a clone, jumped up and shouted.

“Die!”

Tang Hao pulled the bowstring back and fired another arrow.

Bang Bang!

One by one, the defensive treasures were pierced through and exploded.

Tang Hao had poured all his strength into this arrow, and it was unstoppable.

Ah!

With a scream, the north gate exploded. When the smoke gathered again and took the shape of a human, his breath was extremely weak, as if it could be blown away by the wind at any time.

Then, there was another scream. The clone was also sent flying, and blood spurted out.

“Old man North Gate, die!”

Tang Hao drew his bow again and shot another arrow at the half-immortal soul.

To him, this was the greatest threat. He had long wanted to destroy it.

“Stop!”

The clone roared and attacked madly.

Bang!

The five-colored divine stone exploded, and a golden pillar of light shot into the sky.

In the light beam, a figure leaped up. He looked like Ji Wu, but slightly younger, like a teenager.

His entire body glowed with a golden light, and his body exuded a shocking might. It was as if the might of the heavens and earth was vast and mighty.

“Qin brat, you’re looking for death!”

“Die!” He shouted and stretched out his palm. The five-colored fragments in the air gathered together and instantly turned into a battle spear, which attacked.

The aura on his body had completely reached the level of Dao severance.

Tang Hao was shocked and quickly retreated.

He looked around and made a prompt decision to change the direction of the arrow and blast it at the clone.

He had to destroy this body and cut off a part of Ji Wu’s combat strength.

Bang!

The arrow light hit the target. The clone screamed and exploded. His body, Dao pillar, and divine soul were all crushed into powder.

“Don’t be scared!”

Ji Wu screamed in anger.

With a thought, he wanted to recall his ring. It contained all his savings from all this time, including his gains from the undying mountain.

“Hmph! Don’t even think about it!”

Tang Hao stretched out his hand and clenched it in the air. The space around him began to twist.

The moon scooping magical power was instantly activated!

The ring suddenly disappeared, passing through the void and falling into his palm.

“Many thanks!”

He clenched the ring and grinned at Ji Wu. His smile was very bright.