

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 129

Han Yutong stood there with an icy expression.

“Luo Feng, where I choose to live and work is none of your business. I’ve already told you to never look for me. Can’t you understand?”

Luo Feng’s expression stiffened. “Yutong, why can’t you appreciate what I’m doing for you? I am wholeheartedly devoted to you. Can’t you see that?”

Han Yutong furrowed her brows and assumed a disdainful expression.

“Please return with me, Yutong. You wish to work? Sure, you can pick whatever position you want in Luo Enterprises. Isn’t my Luo Enterprises a hundred times, no, a thousand times better than this run-down company?”

Everyone exclaimed in surprise when they heard that. The people around them looked shocked.

“Oh my god! Luo Enterprises?” The people exclaimed incredulously.

Luo Enterprises was one of the biggest business conglomerates in Province Z. It was renowned throughout Huaxia and was a behemoth compared to any company in the district.

“Luo Feng? Right! He’s the second son of the head of Luo Enterprises,” someone shouted.

The crowd went wild again.

The females in the crowd looked at him with eager eyes.

He was so handsome and cool, and he was one of the heirs to Luo Enterprises. He was the Prince Charming in many women's dreams.

They looked at Han Yutong with envy.

Tang Hao raised an eyebrow when he heard the discussion among the people around him.

He naturally had heard of Luo Enterprises before. It was renowned in the province and was as big as Tai An Group.

"Are you done with making a fool of yourself, Luo Feng? I don't want anything to do with you. Also, in my eyes, your Luo Enterprises isn't any better than the company I'm in now," Han Yutong said coldly.

Luo Feng was shocked, then broke out laughing. He pointed at the building behind Han Yutong and said, "Haha! How can a small building like that compare with my Luo Enterprises?"

"What a joke! Run-down companies like this one are nothing more than ants in my eyes. I can crush a few of them with my finger.

"If you don't want to leave with me, then I'll go look for your boss and ask her to fire you. I'll see how you can continue surviving here." Luo Feng's face darkened and turned sinister.

"Save your breath. I've already prepared to resign," Han Yutong said coldly.

"Good timing! You can follow me home then!" Luo Feng reached out to grab Han Yutong's arm as he spoke.

Han Yutong took a step back and evaded him.

She was livid. "Luo Feng, I'll never follow you."

Luo Feng gritted his teeth. "You're not following me back? Fine, then don't ever think of working again. Whenever you get a new job, I'll ruin you. I'll see how you can survive."

"You... Luo Feng, you're shameless!" Han Yutong said angrily.

"Shameless? It's nothing!" Luo Feng smirked. "I suggest that you resign your current job now. Otherwise, I'll look for your boss and ask her to fire you!

"If she doesn't, then I'll wreck her company. The company will go bankrupt and shut down."

Luo Feng's handsome face flashed with viciousness.

Tang Hao was livid when he heard that.

'Is this guy overdosing on idiot pills? Why is he being such an arrogant douchebag? He says that my company is run-down, and now he's threatening to shut me down.'

How could he tolerate that?

Muttering angrily, Tang Hao pushed his little three-wheeled motorcycle and went to Luo Feng. He pointed a finger at him and started cursing.

“Hey, you bastard! Yes, I’m talking to you! What’s wrong with you? Do you have a hole in your brain? Can’t you see that she doesn’t like you? Do you have any self-respect left?”

“And what’s up with those empty threats? Are you still a man? Tsk tsk, you look like a man but behave like a dog.”

Luo Feng was stunned when he heard someone talking to him like that. He stood on the spot with an incredulous face.

With his status, no one had dared to talk to him like that. Those were unusually harsh words, too.

Even the crowd around them also looked incredulous.

They knew that Luo Feng was the Second Young Master of Luo Enterprises. Was that guy crazy to cross himself with him?

Han Yutong turned to look at who was speaking. She was stunned too.

“You... You dare speak to me like that?” Luo Feng finally came to his senses. He was trembling with anger and his face was ashen.

“Yes, I’m talking to you! You’re harassing my assistant. Don’t you have any self-respect?” As he spoke, Tang Hao pushed his little three-wheeled motorcycle next to Han Yutong.

Luo Feng was taken aback, then he said, “What do you mean by ‘your assistant’? What are you saying, you poor loser?”

He looked at Tang Hao with abject disgust.

The person in front of him was dressed so shabbily and rode on a shabby three-wheeled motorcycle. What was he, if not for a poor loser? How was he related to Han Yutong?

“President Tang!” Han Yutong called.

Luo Feng was stunned when he heard that.

How is it possible?

That shabby kid with a three-wheeled motorcycle was Haotian Co. Ltd.’s boss? What a joke!

A poor kid in shabby clothes could not have been the boss of a company, no matter how small or run-down the company might be.

His expression changed drastically.

Before this, Han Yutong had always worked at companies with female bosses. Why was it a male this time?

“He’s really your boss?” Luo Feng asked sternly as he looked at Han Yutong.

“So what if he is?” Han Yutong said coldly.

Luo Feng’s facial muscles twitched and contorted. “How shameless can you be to work under a guy like that?” He cursed as he pointed at Han Yutong.

“You too. You’d better fire her and leave her alone. Otherwise, you’ll see what I can do to you!” Luo Feng pointed at Tang Hao and yelled.

Tang Hao chuckled. Then, he roared, “Who the hell are you to ask me to fire her? Why should I listen to you? Let me tell you, she’s an employee of Haotian Co. Ltd. now. I’d like to see you try laying a finger on her.”

“You...” Luo Feng’s face was red with anger.

Han Yutong was taken aback. She looked at Tang Hao in a daze.

“President Tang, I...” She was about to speak.

“Don’t say anything!” Tang Hao waved his hand. “I’ll settle this matter for you. You don’t have to worry!”

Luo Feng’s face was vicious. “Don’t you know who I am, you son of a b*tch? I’m the Second Young Master of Luo Enterprises. Have you heard of Luo Enterprises before? I can crush your company like an ant,” he roared.

“If you dare cross me, I’ll bankrupt you and that’ll be the end of you.”

He roared as though he was a maniac.

Tang Hao was unmoved. Instead, he looked mockingly and said coldly, “You’d like to bankrupt me? You can try that. I’d like to see what tricks you have up your sleeve.”

Luo Feng became angrier. He pointed at Tang Hao and yelled, “Just you wait. I’ll get your company to shut down now!”

Then, he took out his phone.
