

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1308

Time flew by.

In the blink of an eye, a year had passed.

Westridge region, celestial Foothill gardens.

Tang Hao was packing his things into gift bags.

He was going to leave soon. This time, he would not be able to come back to visit as he had in the past. According to his estimation, it would take at least a few years. So, before he left, he was going to meet everyone he could and give them something.

“This ... Is for Liu Dajun.”

“This ... Is for uncle li.”

Tang Hao had prepared a lot of things, and he had given them to many people.

Naturally, Liu Dajun and the others could not forget it. Uncle li had helped him in the past, and he had never forgotten his kindness.

“Lil Tang, who’s this for?”

“How about this?”

Beside him, Qin Xiangyi was also helping to tidy up.

In this one year, Tang Hao had raised her cultivation to Dao seeking, and she now had a lifespan of several thousand years. Because she had taken the youth retaining pill, her appearance had not changed at all. She was still beautiful, charming, and youthful.

After he was done, Tang Hao sent them over.

He went to many places, dragonrock village, Tang village, Stonegate town, and many other places.

These places had changed a lot over the years.

People had changed a lot too. Many of his acquaintances had gotten married and had children. Their lives had been full of ups and downs. Tang Hao felt emotional when he saw that, especially his college classmates.

Some of them had a smooth career, bought houses, and got married. Some of them were still struggling.

They were all surprised to see Tang Hao.

It was as if Tang Hao had disappeared for the past few years. He never showed his face again.

Now, there were very few people who remembered him, and there were not many people discussing him on the internet. The entire screen was filled with young hunks.

Tang Hao didn't say much to them. He left after exchanging a few more pleasantries.

After a round, he returned to Westridge.

"Lil Tang, remember to be careful and come back safely!"

"Also, remember not to flirt around with other women. You have enough of those little lovers! You have to remember that I'm your only official wife!"

"Also, you have to remember that you still owe me a wedding. When you come back, we will have a grand wedding!"

As Qin Xiangyi spoke, she took out a red booklet and showed it to him.

That was their marriage certificate, and they had already collected it.

“Don’t worry!” Tang Hao quickly nodded.

He had always felt sorry for sis Xiangyi. The love debt he had incurred back then could not be cut, and he did not dare to provoke her again.

“That’s good!”

Qin Xiangyi pursed her lips and smiled.

She leaned over and tidied Tang Hao’s clothes.””Alright, let’s go!”

She leaned against the door frame and watched Tang Hao leave.

He took a plane to Kun Lun, then passed through a tunnel and returned to Qi Yuan.

A year had passed, and planet Qi Yuan had also changed a lot.

The ninth continent was becoming more and more prosperous, and it had become the center of the world. The first and second continents were in a fierce battle. The first continent was still fine as the Feng clan and the sacred flame sect were still around.

But in the second continent, it was amazing. Everyone wanted to be number one.

Before he left, Tang Hao walked around. He went to many places before he finally returned to Kun Lun.

“Kid, be careful! This starry sky is boundless and full of danger. It’s still very dangerous for someone who has severed their Dao. Only those who have become Immortals can freely travel through it, so you must not be careless!”

There were many people gathered on the main peak, including the system.

“That’s right. We must be careful. Many people have gone out for so many years, but no one has ever returned. No one knows what’s going on outside.” Old Daoist Liu shouted.

“Don’t worry! I know!”

Tang Hao nodded.

“Let’s go!”

Daoist priest horizon waved his hand and felt a little sad.

“Everyone, I’ll be leaving now. See you again!”

Tang Hao took a few steps back and cupped his hands in salute. He waved his hand again, and an astrolabe flew out.

Only immortal cultivators could travel through the starry sky freely. Dao severing cultivators needed astrolabe.

On Qi Yuan planet, there were many astrolabe. Many of them were in the hands of the major sects and the major titled families. They had specialized people in charge of the astrolabe and would go out to explore the starry sky from time to time.

Of course, these people’s cultivation wasn’t high because traveling through the starry sky was risky. Those with high cultivation wouldn’t take the risk.

These people rarely left the ancestral star, and the places they had been to were limited. The ancestral star was the furthest they had been, so there were very few records about the outside world.

Tang Hao obtained a lot of relevant information after destroying the organizations, but it was basically useless. The people who had gone out a few times had not even met the cultivators from outer space.

Tang Hao grabbed the astrolabe and charged upward.

Soon, a beam of light shot up from the main peak of Kunlun and into the sky.

Such a commotion attracted countless people from all directions.

“What’s that?”

They looked up at the sky and exclaimed.

“It must be the King of Qin! I heard a while ago that the King of Qin is leaving!”

“It should be him! Ai! With Qin Wang gone, our Qi Yuan planet will have one less awesome person!”

“Hey! The King of Qin is the pride of the ninth continent and the entire Qiyuan. Once he goes out, he’ll definitely be able to make a name for Qiyuan and shake the starry sky!”

The crowd discussed animatedly, all extremely excited.

In this lively atmosphere, the light rose higher and higher, and then disappeared.

Coincidentally, at this moment, on the other side of planet Qi Yuan, on a certain continent, a figure stood on a mountain.

He was dressed in black and had a belt tied around his waist with a Tiger’s head drawn on it.

Behind him, a Dao ring appeared.

“Wahaha! I, Liu heihu, have finally made it!”

“Dao crusher! I’ve finally reached Dao severance! From now on, the sky is high and the sea is wide, I will roam freely!”

“Goodbye, Qiyuan, goodbye, my hometown!”

He looked into the distance, his eyes deep and teary.

No matter what, this was his hometown. When it was time to leave, he was still a little reluctant.

He wiped his tears and looked up at the sky, revealing a happy expression.

The starry sky was so vast that he no longer had to worry about running into that bastard surnamed Tang. To him, the vast starry sky was a paradise of freedom. It was a place he wanted to go even in his dreams.

“Goodbye, Tang kid! No, we will never meet again!”

He looked in the direction of the ninth continent and waved his hand with a smug smile.

In fact, he was quite proud of himself. Among the geniuses of the younger generation, Ji Wu, Jiang tianwu, and all the other powerful ones were all killed by that Tang guy.

Only Liu heihu had survived and even successfully severed his Dao.

“Let’s go! Free world, here I come!”

He flicked his hand and an astrolabe flew out.

With a light leap, he stepped onto the astrolabe. The astrolabe opened up and turned into a huge meteorite, soaring into the sky.

The meteorite broke through the sky and entered deep space, flying toward the vast starry sky.

Two meteorites, two trajectories, rushed in two different directions.
