

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1309

The starry sky was vast and boundless.

Stars were scattered all over the starry sky, densely packed and uncountable.

The first time he entered the starry sky, Tang Hao felt that it was vast, so vast that he could not see the end of it.

Thinking about it, it had already been half a month since he left Qiyuan. He had been flying forward and had reached quite a few planets.

Most of them were dead stars with no spirit Qi or life. Only a few of them had life, and a few of them even had civilizations.

However, none of these cultivation planets were like Qiyuan.

Tang Hao didn't have a star map, so he didn't know his destination. He could only fly aimlessly.

The astrolabe turned into a meteorite, flying through the vast starry sky.

Soon, he passed by another star.

It was a star that was completely sealed in ice and exuded a bone-chilling cold. There was no trace of life on it at all. It was a dead star.

Most of these celestial bodies were not dangerous. In this starry sky, the most dangerous things were meteorites and stars.

To cultivators, stars were extremely dangerous existences. They couldn't get close to them.

Of course, there was no need to mention a killing weapon like the black hole.

"Where is it? Could they have gone in the wrong direction?"

Tang Hao was confused.

It had already been half a month, and he had not even seen the shadow of a cultivator.

However, he had no choice but to continue flying forward.

After flying for several days, he decided to meditate and let his soul clone control the astrolabe to avoid the meteorites.

On this day, his mind was suddenly moved. He sensed movement in the distance. He opened his eyes and activated his precious eyes to take a look. He saw that in the distant starry sky, a few rays of light were rushing over.

There were a few shuttle-shaped flying ships that were flying at high speed. They looked a little flustered, as if they were running for their lives.

“There it is!”

Tang Hao was pleasantly surprised.

These flying ships were engraved with talismans, which were obviously the products of artifact refining. They were similar to astrolabe, so the people inside must be cultivators.

He muttered to himself for a moment before changing his appearance to that of a man in his forties. Then, he flew over on his astrolabe.

“Hurry up! Faster!”

“That thing is about to catch up!”

At this moment, a group of cultivators on the flying ships were shouting in panic.

They kept turning around and looking back with fear on their faces, as if something extremely terrifying was chasing them.

As they ran, they were suddenly stunned.

In front of them, a ray of light was rushing over.

“What ... Is that?”

“It’s an astrolabe! F * ck! Which idiot! Is he blind?!”

When they saw it clearly, they couldn’t help but curse.

“Hello, fellow Daoists!”

A greeting came from the astrolabe.

“Good F * ck! Are you blind? Can’t you see that we’re running for our lives?”

“Don’t worry about him, run!”

The group of people cursed loudly and did their best to urge the flying boat to escape.

Tang Hao was shocked.

He had looked behind this group of people just now, but there was nothing!

“Strange!”

He mumbled to himself and took a closer look. His expression changed as well.

F * ck!

No wonder he didn't see it clearly just now. It was actually a star that was chasing after him. It seemed to be moving slowly, but it was actually very fast. In the blink of an eye, it had arrived in front of him.

"Mother of God!"

Tang Hao shrieked. He turned around and ran, catching up with the flying boats.

"My fellow Daoists, what is this thing?"

Tang Hao's face was pale, and his heart was pounding.

Good boy! It was really F * cking big!

He had never been chased by such a huge thing before. The biggest living being he had ever seen was that giant God Dragon count.

The one before them was as big as a star. It was too terrifying!

"F * ck! You don't know?"

The group of people were stunned.

They had already come to the starry sky, yet there were still people who didn't know about this thing? Which corner of the world did this weirdo come from?

"I really don't know!"

Tang Hao said, shaking his head.

"You ... Which star are you from?"

"Planet Qi Yuan!" Tang Hao said after a moment of hesitation.

“Qiyuan? Where did you come from? I’ve never heard of you.” The group of people were puzzled.

A moment later, one of them exclaimed and remembered. “I know, it’s Qiyuan! It’s that one, one of the old stars!”

“Old star? That’s right, I remember now, there is indeed such a place. A long time ago, I even met a guy from the Qiyuan era.”

Upon hearing this, some people remembered.

Then, they came to a realization.

Qiyuan star was an old star and had been abandoned a long time ago. It was rather dilapidated, and it was normal for a backward place to not know about this thing.

“So you’re from that place!”

“Oh,” they replied, not showing any contempt.

Although this Qi Yuan planet was in ruins, it had once been glorious. Moreover, most of the people who could come out of this place had some abilities and could not be underestimated.

“So it’s a fellow Daoist from Qiyuan, my apologies! I’ve been disrespectful!”

They laughed, and their attitudes became much friendlier.

In their hearts, they had a little thought.

People like him who came from old planets or other lower planets were all highly sought after and favored by many forces. They also wanted to make some connections to see if they could recruit them.

“Daoist, the thing we’re chasing is called the star Devourer. It’s the most terrifying beast in this starry sky. Not to mention that you’ve become an immortal, even an immortal tribulation stage expert would have a headache if he encountered this.”

“So, we have to run! This thing is powerful and can swallow a star in one gulp, but it has a weakness, and that is its slow running speed. We can still shake it off with the help of the star boat and the astrolabe!”

They explained to Tang Hao as they ran.

“I see!”

“Then ... Is this thing common?” Tang Hao asked.

“No, no, no! Of course it’s not common, it’s extremely rare. If it’s really that common, then it’ll be terrible!”

“We’re really unlucky this time. We met one by accident and provoked him. He caught up to us.”

They hurriedly said.

“Oh!”

Tang Hao sighed in relief.

Then, he exerted all his strength to activate the astrolabe and burst out with his fastest speed, fleeing with the group of people.

About an hour later, the giant beast behind them stopped.

“That’s great! This guy has lost interest in us!”

The group of cultivators said happily.

After running for some distance, they finally stopped when they could no longer see the giant beast.

“Fellow Daoist, I’m done! There’s no need to run anymore!”

They shouted at Tang Hao.

Tang Hao also stopped.

“Fellow Daoist, you’re new here and must be unfamiliar with the starry sky World. If you don’t mind, come with us!”

“We’re all together. I’m from planet jumen, and these few are from planet Gaoyang. We’re all very close!”

They greeted.

“Good! That’ll be troublesome!”

Tang Hao thought for a moment, then agreed and followed the group.
