

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1313

“We’re missing one out of five. One more, and we’ll be leaving immediately!”

“Quickly send a powerful fellow Daoist over. He must be reliable and not a scammer!”

As they neared the square, a series of shouts could be heard.

Tang Hao was surprised. Why did he find the scene so familiar?

After walking down another street, the scene in front of them suddenly brightened up. They had arrived at the city’s North Square.

On the wide square, people came and went, and it was very lively.

Looking at their auras, they were all Dao severing. Dao rings appeared behind many of them. The colors were different, representing different Dao fruits, but they were all the same size.

In the crowd, there were quite a few people gathered in groups of three to five, shouting at passersby.

From time to time, some people would stop and chat with them. Once they reached an agreement, they would fly up and leave together.

Those who didn’t come to an agreement dispersed and continued to shout.

This scene was extremely similar to forming a team!

Tang Hao’s expression turned strange when he read the message.

He stood at the entrance of the square and watched.

After watching for a while, he also figured out some things.

There were many stalls set up by various Chamber of Commerces around the square in the north of the city to collect all kinds of spiritual materials and medicinal herbs. It had also become a gathering place for many treasure hunters.

The places that Dao-severing cultivators could go to to search for treasures were all extremely dangerous places, so most of them would go in groups.

Some of the places they mentioned were on planet Gaoyang, and some were on other planets, such as planet Guwang and planet spirit snake.

Tang Hao did not know much about these stars.

He had been standing at the entrance of the square for a while, and someone had already noticed him.

“Hey! Fellow Daoist, where are you from?”

“Tang Hao!” Someone shouted at Tang Hao.

However, he could tell from this person’s curious expression that he was definitely a newcomer.

His interest was immediately piqued. Here, newcomers were quite popular. Newcomers did not understand the situation and did not know anything, so they would not have any bad intentions.

Among a group of old foxes, he was considered a rare kind and simple person.

Moreover, it was precisely because the newbies did not understand the situation that they could be cannon fodder when necessary.

He walked over with a warm smile on his face.

He wasn’t the only one who noticed Tang Hao’s presence. There were quite a few others whose eyes lit up.

“My fellow cultivator, is this your first time here?”

“Fellow Daoist, come to my place! I’m just missing one. I’m going to Guwang to pick some herbs. There’s no danger.”

They also rushed over to surround him.

Noticing this situation, the people further away were startled and revealed eager expressions as they surrounded him.

“There’s a new person?”

“Where did you get it? let me see!”

They were a little excited.

These people crowded over. They were so enthusiastic that Tang Hao was confused.

Newbies were so popular?

He felt strange.

“Hey! Isn’t this the joke of that Qi yuanlai!”

Suddenly, someone in the crowd shouted.

In an instant, the original noise disappeared, and everyone was stunned.

“What? He’s that guy?”

“So it’s him!”

Everyone’s expression changed.

The joke of Qi yuanlai! They had all heard about this just now and had laughed at him. A guy with a defective Dao fruit was half a cripple in their eyes.

“So it’s this guy. Forget it, don’t look anymore. If we really look for him, then wouldn’t we be bringing a burden!”

Immediately, someone sneered and left.

“Let’s go! Let’s go!”

Then, more people lost interest and turned to leave.

However, there were still quite a few people who stayed. They all had some evil thoughts. To them, it was better to be crippled. They were not a threat. They could be used as coolies in normal times and cannon fodder when necessary. They were very useful.

“Fellow Daoist, ignore them. We’ll take you! You came from such a far place like Qiyuan, so you must be very unfamiliar with it! You need someone to guide you!”

“That’s right!”

They were still enthusiastic.

Tang Hao could tell what they were thinking, but he did not say anything. Instead, he grinned and said gratefully, “Many thanks, fellow Daoists!”

His acting skills were already at the point of perfection. That simple and honest expression, that gratitude, it was displayed just right, completely like a genuine expression from the heart.

When the group of people saw this, they were stunned at first, but then they were amused.

Yo! This was a rarely seen honest person, who else could she fool if not him!

They immediately became even more enthusiastic.

“Fellow Daoist, follow me. I’m the most loyal person! I definitely won’t steal your stuff!”

“Fellow Daoist, don’t listen to him. He’s very sinister. Join me!”

They began to fight over it.

“Well ...” Tang Hao looked to the left and then to the right. “Thank you for your kindness, but ... There are too many of you. I don’t know which one I should choose. How about ... I just pick one!”

After he finished speaking, he closed his eyes and pointed at a random person.

When everyone saw this, they were all stunned, and their expressions instantly became extremely strange.

“F * ck! Why is old man plagues so lucky!”

“This guy ... His luck is too bad! How unlucky must he be to pick the darkest one among us?”

They muttered to themselves.

The guy who was pointed at was known as old man plagues. He could be considered the darkest guy here. He cheated, scammed, and robbed people of their treasures. He did everything. Over the years, countless people had been tricked and harmed by him.

On the other hand, old ghost Wen was ecstatic and laughed, “Fellow Daoist, we’re really fated!”

Then, he looked Tang Hao up and down, his eyes shining.

“Yup! We’re really fated!”

Tang Hao smiled too. It was a bright smile.

“Come, come, come, fellow Daoist, let’s go!” He greeted Tang Hao enthusiastically.

“Fellow Daoist, have you bought the star map yet? No, I didn’t! Come, I have it here, take it! What money? this is free!”

“Fellow Daoist, have you understood the situation here? Here, take this book. It describes all the stars in this star field. Why are you talking about money again? It’s hurtful to talk about money!”

He asked as they walked, stuffing things into Tang Hao’s arms from time to time.

Tang Hao accepted them one by one. He was elated.

Originally, he had wanted to earn some money and then buy the star map. He didn’t expect this guy to directly give it to him.

What a good person!

Tang Hao sighed in his heart.

“Sect fellow Shi, let’s go to the spirit snake planet. This spirit snake planet is a famous Savage Planet. It’s a very dangerous place for us Dao severing cultivators, and there are many powerful fierce beasts on it!”

“But don’t worry, we’ll protect you!”

Old man Wen brought Tang Hao to meet the other three and introduced them to each other.

“Greetings, sect fellow Shi!”

The three of them looked at Tang Hao with a smile.

After exchanging a few pleasantries, the five of them flew up together. After leaving the high sun Star, they summoned their star ships and astrolabe and flew into the deep space.

After six to six hours, a huge dark blue Planet appeared in front of them.

“Sect fellow Shi, we’ve arrived at the spirit snake planet!”
