

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1320

“Spiritual light Peak, the third cave!”

When he reached the peak, Tang Hao saw a cave abode.

In front of the cave abode, there was a stone tablet with a few ancient words carved on it.

“Please!”

The man opened the door and led Tang Hao inside.

From the outside, the cave didn't look big, but once they entered, they found that it was extremely spacious and decorated in a classical and elegant way.

“Not bad! It's decided!”

Tang Hao paid the money and rented the cave.

Then, he cleaned the place a little.

He sat down in the main room and started to calculate.

He had been in this star field for about ten days, and he had a certain understanding of this star field.

In this endless starry sky, this place was just a small corner. In a more distant place, there were more star areas and countless stars.

“I'm only in the realm of one severing, so it's really nothing. There are too many experts in this starry sky. They've become Immortals, and there are even tribulation realm half-Immortals. Which one of them isn't stronger than me?”

“Why don't we develop here first? it won't be too late to leave after we've killed two or three.”

“And I have to keep a low profile! Cultivate in silence!”

In the past, when he was in the ninth and first continents, he had caused a huge commotion and was hunted down by the entire world. That kind of commotion was too big, so now he felt that it was better to keep a low profile.

If he was hunted down every day, how could he comprehend the Dao?

“And the problem of money ...”

Tang Hao furrowed his brows when he thought about that.

Now that he was being watched, he couldn't go out easily, and it wouldn't be easy to earn money. The money he had now would be spent one day.

“I have to think of a way to earn some money!”

Tang Hao was obsessed with money. He would not feel comfortable if he did not have a hundred thousand Yuan with him.

“Why don't we ... Open a shop and sell some medicine?” Tang Hao pondered for a moment. “I can also sell some talismans and precious items. Oh, right. I'll open a grocery store and sell everything!”

“You can make these things yourself, but it can't be too good, or it'll easily cause trouble.”

“Let's get some medicine first. The herbs here seem to be a little different. The same goes for the pills. They're a little different. I still have to do some research.”

Here, medicinal pills, refining weapons, creating talismans, formations, these systems were all slightly different from those at Qi Yuan's side. However, these differences were not big, and one only needed to study them a little.

Tang Hao immediately left the house.

In this city, there was a Street that specialized in selling elixirs and medicinal herbs. He strolled around and bought some books. Then, he went to various shops and familiarized himself with the types of elixirs and medicinal herbs.

Then, he went to the street of artifact craftsmanship.

In half a day's time, he had figured out all of this.

He bought some materials and returned to lingguang peak, where he began to study and fiddle with them.

Two days later, he went out again, carrying a big sack, and came to the square in the south of the city.

This was a place specially set up for stalls. Usually, many people would gather here. Some of them would take out things they didn't use to sell, while some of them would refine pills and tools to make some extra money.

"Yo! Isn't this the joke of that Qi yuanlai!"

Someone in the crowd recognized Tang Hao as soon as he arrived.

In an instant, many people turned around to look.

Recently, this fellow from Qi Yuan had become quite famous. First, he took the test in the star Hall and made a fool of himself. Then, he killed old ghost Wen and a group of other old monsters.

They had all heard of this.

"This is the joke! Can't you tell?"

Everyone was a little surprised.

Just from his appearance, one couldn't tell that this person was actually a cunning old demon.

Tang Hao could not be bothered with their gazes. He walked straight to an empty seat in the corner and took it.

He put down the sack, took out a piece of cloth, and laid it on the ground.

“Hey! Look, he’s going to set up a stall!”

“Quickly go and see what he’s selling!”

At that moment, many people gathered around to watch the show.

Tang Hao sat down calmly. He opened the sack and poured out the contents, then spread them out on the stall.

“There are pills, weapons, and even talismans ... Why is there everything? this is selling groceries!”

“Where did he get so many things?”

Everyone was a little surprised.

Then, they saw Tang Hao take out a number of signs and put them on the stalls.

“Magic enlightenment pills on sale at three Yuan each? F * ck! So cheap?”

“High-grade Dao artifacts are all cheap, 100 yuan! Oh my God! It’s too cheap!”

When the crowd saw this, they all cried out in surprise, somewhat in disbelief.

The law comprehension pill was a very common pill that could help one comprehend Dao, so it was a necessary pill for many Dao severing cultivators. However, it was very expensive, five pieces per pill, but this batch of law comprehension pills only needed three pieces?

This was clearly the price of cabbage!

There were also high-grade Dao artifacts. Generally speaking, a slightly ordinary high-grade Dao artifact would cost two to three hundred pieces. The more outstanding ones would cost a few thousand, or even tens of thousands.

A hundred Yuan?

F * ck! This wasn't just a cabbage price, it was a really low price!

Everyone's gazes immediately became fervent.

"It's so cheap!" Someone wondered. "Don't tell me it's fake!"

Hearing him say this, everyone was stunned for a moment before reacting.

That's right! Nothing good comes cheap-this was the truth!

"Who's selling fake goods? these are all real. The quality is guaranteed!" Tang Hao said indignantly.

"Al! Do you guys think that these are the things that old geezer Wen and the others have?"

Someone suddenly said.

Everyone was taken aback again as they thought to themselves, that's right! Didn't they say that old pestilence and the others were all tricked by this guy? Then these things must have been theirs, and this guy had taken them out to sell at a low price.

"This is a good opportunity! Hurry and snatch it!"

"Such a low price is a rare opportunity!"

Everyone was so excited that their eyes were shining.

It's so cheap, I'd be a bastard if I didn't snatch it!

“I’ll take all of those enlightenment pills!”

“I’ll take that refreshing pill too!”

“Give me ten high-grade Dao artifacts! Here, this is a thousand Yuan, take it!”

Everyone swarmed up and started fighting for it.

“F * ck! Don’t fight with me! Aren’t you very rich? why are you snatching from me?”

“Bah! If I don’t take advantage of you, would I be an idiot?”

Everyone’s faces turned red.

This money was not easy to earn, and they had to spend it piece by piece. Now that they had encountered such a Big Sale, they naturally had to fight for it.

As long as they managed to snatch it, they would have profited.

“Slow down! Slow down!”

“A! Take your things!”

Tang Hao was grinning from ear to ear.

In a short while, the things on the stall were swept clean.

“F * ck! No more?”

Those who didn’t manage to buy it were dumbfounded and regretful.

“Cough, cough! My fellow Daoists, don’t panic. I still have some in stock. I’ll take them out and sell them tomorrow. You can come over tomorrow.” Tang Hao said, waving his hand.

“That’s great!”

Everyone was overjoyed.

Tang Hao packed up his stall, pocketed his newly earned money, and returned to Lingguang Peak, feeling very satisfied.
