

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1322

As the days passed, the rumors in the city became more and more intense.

People were discussing this matter everywhere in the city. Every time they talked about it, their faces were full of jealousy and greed. They wanted to kill that guy immediately and take his belongings.

In the dark, there were many eyes peeking at the Shi Ji grocery store and the third cave of the spiritual light Peak.

Near these two places, there were people wandering around from time to time.

Due to the rules, no one could make a move in the city, so these people had to restrain themselves. On the surface, everything was normal, but in private, the city had long been turbulent.

Tang Hao could also sense that a storm was brewing.

He wasn't afraid and continued to do the same every day, ignoring the prying eyes.

First, there were rules in this city that forbade private fights, so these people wouldn't dare to rashly make a move.

Secondly, even if these people attacked, he had nothing to fear!

Just like that, another seven or eight days passed.

The rumors became more and more intense.

On this day, a piece of news suddenly spread.

"Al! Did you guys hear? that Shi fella seemed to have found an ancient cave abode on the spirit snake planet. "

"Really?"

“Of course it’s true. Two days ago, the shopkeeper of the treasure house revealed that the man surnamed Shi had been to his place and sold many things, many of which were ancient treasures.”

“Also, back on planet spirit snake, someone personally saw a person who looked like that guy coming out of a cave.”

This news was backed up by evidence and sounded very credible.

Very quickly, this news spread throughout the entire city, attracting the attention of many people.

An ancient cave mansion!

No one knew what kind of treasure would be inside!

What did that fellow surnamed Shi find in the cave?

An ancient pill? An ancient Dao artifact?

Everyone’s imagination ran wild, and they could no longer suppress the greed in their hearts.

The situation developed further, from a wave to a storm that swept the entire city.

“An ancient cave mansion?”

Tang Hao laughed when he heard the news.

He had indeed found many things on the spirit snake planet, but what ancient cave abodes and ancient secret treasures? He didn’t even see a shadow.

“This is a little troublesome!”

Tang Hao understood that the situation was a little serious.

In the blink of an eye, two days had passed.

Early that morning, Tang Hao came out of his cave abode as usual. He went down Lingguang Peak and walked all the way to the shop.

Along the way, Tang Hao could feel the peeking eyes from all over the city.

Tang Hao had been receiving such gazes since a long time ago, and he was used to it.

Tang Hao was surprised when he arrived at the shop. The road was deserted, and there was not a single person in sight. Usually, there would be someone waiting for him at the entrance.

But at this moment, there was no one at the door.

The door of the shop was open.

Tang Hao could sense three different auras from inside the store.

Tang Hao's expression changed.

His brows furrowed slightly as he revealed a somewhat vigilant expression. He stopped for a moment before he walked forward.

At the entrance of the shop, he looked inside and saw a young man sitting inside. He looked to be in his early twenties, with a pale face and a handsome face. He was wearing a golden robe embroidered with dragons.

His treasured clothing shone brilliantly and golden light seeped out, transforming into golden dragons that coiled around him, making this person look even more heroic and extraordinary.

He was sitting there with his legs crossed and holding a teacup in his hand, sipping the tea.

Behind him stood two figures, both wearing gold and silver robes. One side was embroidered with a scorching sun, and the other side was embroidered with a Cold Moon. The robes were shining with divine light and looked extraordinary.

Tang Hao's pupils shrank when he saw the Daoist robe.

This Daoist robe could be said to be well-known in this star field.

Sun Moon Mountain!

It was one of the nine main planets, the number one force on planet Jumen, a super force that shook the entire star field.

Tang Hao had heard of the Sun Moon Mountain more than once since he arrived.

A hint of fear appeared on his face. This Sun Moon Mountain was too huge, and there were as many experts in the sect as clouds. It was said that there were even terrifying mighty people at the level of immortal, and they were not to be trifled with.

He squinted his eyes and sized up the two of them.

It was the realm of severing one's Dao!

The young man was only at the peak of Dao seeking. Although he had a faint Dao ring on his body, he had yet to successfully sever his Dao. In terms of strength, he was weaker than the two.

However, at this moment, the two of them were standing behind him respectfully. It was clear that this person's identity was extraordinary.

He looked around and grinned.

"Honored guests, I wonder what business you have here!"

He stepped through the door and cupped his hands at the three of them.

The young man paused in his action of drinking tea and looked up.

His gaze was cold as he sized Tang Hao up and down. His face was filled with disdain.

He slowly put down the teacup and said, "You, are you that Shi guy?"

As he spoke, his tone was a little arrogant and his attitude was condescending.

This attitude ... He didn't come with good intentions!

Tang Hao mumbled to himself.

"It is!"

He replied.

"Then you should know why I've come to find you!" The young man said coldly.

Tang Hao laughed. "I really don't know what you're here for!"

"Hmph! Still acting! The young man sneered. "I heard from them that you're very cunning and that you're the kind of person with deep schemes. In the face of absolute strength, it's useless to play tricks!"

As he spoke, he revealed a mocking and mocking expression.

A mere one-hit good-for-nothing, and a guy who came from a broken place like Qiyuan. He had neither strength nor background, and he actually dared to play tricks in front of him.

Hmph! He didn't know what was good for him!

He snorted again and said, "I won't talk nonsense with you. I'm here today for the things on you. Money, and the things you took from the ancient cave dwelling. I want them all!"

“If you don’t hand it over, I think you know the consequences!”

He glared at Tang Hao coldly, then picked up the teacup, blew on it, and took a sip.

“You don’t know who we are, do you?”

On his left, the Dao-severing old man sneered at Tang Hao. “We’re from Mount Riyue, and this one is one of the nine great young masters of Mount Riyue. He’s known as young master Dragon and has the great reputation of being the little Dragon King!”

“Little Dragon King?”

Tang Hao was surprised. He looked at the man again, and his expression turned strange.

This title seemed to be a little too arrogant!

This guy is the Dragon King!

Tang Hao did not think much of this guy’s abilities, but he had a powerful background. Tang Hao had to be wary of him.

Tang Hao had heard of the nine great young Masters of the Sun Moon Mountain. They were the most outstanding nine among the younger generation of the Sun Moon Mountain. Each of them had outstanding talents and could be called monstrous.

They were also the top young people in this star field.

To be able to become one of the nine great young masters, this person’s position in the Sun Moon Mountain was bound to be influential.
