

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1334

“This sword is big, thick, and hard. It’s suitable for a real man like me!”

“Look, this sword ... It’s not that ugly. It’s a wild and unruly style. If you look at it more, you’ll find it more and more beautiful.”

Ever since the swords became popular, there were people crowding at the door every day, pointing at the swords in the shop.

In the past, they were all ridiculed, but now, they were all words of praise.

Tang Hao felt that her tone was a little nauseating.

“Forget it, I’ll sell them all!”

Tang Hao had no choice but to sell all his goods, shut the door, and cultivate. He would open the shop again in half a month and throw out a few handguns to shut the mouths of those people.

But who knew that even so, his shop would still become more and more popular.

There was a sword forging master at the foot of purple Luo peak.

The news spread like wildfire throughout the cultivation world of the heavenly South.

More and more people came to buy the sword, and every time he opened the door to throw the sword, there would be a burst of crazy snatching.

Tang Hao was too lazy to care about that. To him, it was just a small accident.

He sat under the path-understanding tree every day, holding the life and death monument and comprehending the great Dao.

On this day, he opened his eyes and seemed to have understood something.

His eyes blinked, and suddenly, his pupils changed into black and white. The black one exuded a heavy aura of death, while the White one was full of vitality.

This was the eyes of life and death!

One white and one black, representing life and death.

It looked like yin and yang.

In this world, everything has two sides, yin and yang. Life and death are the same. They seem to be opposite, but they actually complement each other. Life is death, and death is life.

Tang Hao closed his eyes and tried to comprehend the feeling.

After a while, he opened his eyes again and frowned.

Cultivating the eyes of life and death meant that he had taken a huge step forward in the Dao of life and death.

However, he was still very far away from comprehending it thoroughly and bearing a Dao fruit.

He estimated that it would take a few more years.

“That’s too long!”

Tang Hao shook his head.

“The Dao of reincarnation is actually more illusionary and harder to comprehend than the Dao of life and death. This is because reincarnation is very difficult to personally experience. A reincarnation cycle is too long.”

“If it wasn’t for the help of the reincarnation pill, I wouldn’t have been able to comprehend it!”

“However, life and death are different. Life and death are more tangible. You can see them everywhere. Every blade of grass, every tree, every living thing in the world is alive and dead!”

Tang Hao mumbled to himself. He suddenly had an idea.

“Maybe I shouldn’t be sitting here. The Taoist connotation in the life and death monument is dead after all, not alive. I don’t have a deep understanding of it. I should go out and see the life and death of this world.”

Tang Hao suddenly understood.

He suddenly stood up and left.

“Al! Master, where are you going?”

“Let’s Go Travel!”

“Wandering?”

“Right! I want to walk around the world and see the life and death of this world!”

Tang Hao closed the door and left.

“Life and death? F * ck! Why is it so mysterious?”

“What’s mysterious? Was Grandmaster’s brain damaged? Life and death, how do you see it!”

Everyone was stunned and confused.

What life, what death, they really didn’t understand.

Tang Hao left purple Luo peak. He concealed his aura and transformed into a mortal. He entered the mortal world.

He walked around. First, he walked through the state of Zhao. Then, he went north and walked through the South.

Life and death, war, plague ...

He had seen too many life and death situations.

One month, two months ...

Five months passed by quickly. Tang Hao had traveled half the continent, and his understanding of the world grew deeper.

“Not enough! It was still not enough! I want to try to reverse life and death and control life and death!”

“Right, practice medicine! I’ll help the world and cure everyone in the world!”

From then on, there was one more miracle doctor on this continent.

This Divine Doctor was nameless. He was dressed in coarse linen clothes and looked unkempt, but his medical skills were almost profound. In this world, there was almost no illness that he could not cure, and there was no person that he could not save.

But he had his own rules, and he would never save those who deserved to die.

His footprints were all over the continent, and he had saved countless people. Wherever there were wars and plagues, he would be there.

His name had spread far and wide across the entire continent, and there was no one who did not know him.

Wherever he went, the people of the world welcomed him and knelt on the ground in worship, completely treating him like a god.

He had countless followers behind him.

As he traveled, he compiled many medical skills and passed them down, benefiting the people. This also pushed his reputation to the extreme. In the mortal world, no one's reputation could be compared to his.

Finally, one day, after this godly doctor had cured a group of patients, his expression suddenly changed and he entered a state of meditation.

Then, he laughed out loud.

"I've understood! I've been enlightened!"

He mumbled to himself as he walked forward step by step. His slightly hunched figure became taller and bigger as his body bloomed with a dazzling brilliance.

Two rings of light appeared behind him. One was bright and solid, while the other was faint.

The two halos made him look like a god.

"He's an immortal! The godly doctor is really a God!"

"The immortal has descended!"

The mortals all knelt on the ground and shouted in unison.

The light from the figure grew brighter and brighter, illuminating the entire sky.

He rose into the air step by step and disappeared.

On the ground, the crowd still knelt for a long time.

From then on, the legend of the nameless Divine Doctor had been passed down on this continent.

He traveled through the void and landed on a barren mountain.

He checked and saw that the branches and leaves had grown again on the Dao platform in his body, covering the entire platform.

And in the branches and leaves, there was a tiny Dao fruit.

“I’ve finally comprehended it!”

Tang Hao laughed again.

This was the life and death Dao fruit, his second Dao fruit!

Next, as long as the Dao fruit ripened, he could cut it down and advance to the realm of two cuts.

At that time, he would no longer be afraid of those slash two and slash three.

Furthermore, this was the life and death Dao, another Supreme great Dao. The power that the reincarnation Dao and the life and death Dao could unleash was something that he was looking forward to.

“Hahaha!”

He laughed out loud and returned to the foot of Zi Luo peak.

“The master is back!”

The market was in an uproar.

In the blink of an eye, another month had passed.

Tang Hao continued to study the life and death Dao. The branches and leaves in his body continued to spread and become more and more luxuriant. The Dao fruit also grew healthily, growing larger and larger by the day.

“Soon! It’s almost there!”

At this rate, it wouldn’t be long before he could attempt to sever this Dao fruit and break through to the realm of two cuts.

That would be the time for him to leave purple Luo peak.
