

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1344

High sun Star, Star City.

A ray of light descended and a person appeared. It was a tall and strong middle-aged man.

That person was Tang Hao.

After leaving the abyssal ring star, he had headed straight for the high sun Star.

As the saying goes, the most dangerous place is the safest place. Those people would never have thought that he would return to Star City on planet Gaoyang.

After he landed, he turned around and looked around. A year had passed and this place had changed a lot. However, it was normal. Back then, he had caused a huge ruckus and almost destroyed half of the city.

The streets of the city were bustling with people.

“This is so embarrassing! So many people went, countless one-, two-, and nearly a hundred three-, but in the end, they were slaughtered instead!”

“I heard that old long from Mount riyue fainted from anger on the spot! Ai! You’ve lost so much face that you’re about to become a joke!”

Those restaurants were also in an uproar.

The news had already reached this place and caused a huge commotion.

No one had expected that so many people would fail.

“That Shi guy is really cunning! He’s hidden such a move and tricked so many people!”

“This guy is cunning. Didn’t he also trick old ghost and the others? But he’s also quite powerful. He cut down two Supreme great DAOs in a row. It’s really incredible!”

Speaking of that Shi guy, everyone’s expression was different from before. They were all in awe.

They couldn’t help but admire such a shocking figure who could cut down two Supreme great DAOs in a row and fight against three powerhouses at the realm of two.

In their eyes, that person surnamed Shi was already an existence that could not be provoked.

They sat in the restaurant for a while, then Tang Hao left to buy a bunch of maps.

He had studied the treasure map, but it was not clear which star it was. It only had a rough terrain, so it was difficult to determine its location.

He could only buy a few more maps and match them one by one.

“I hope it won’t be a waste of effort!”

Tang Hao flew out of Star City and landed on a mountain range on the high sun Star. He took out a thick stack of maps and began to study them.

In this star field, there were more than a hundred cultivation stars, not to mention Wild Stars. There were also dead stars, which added up to more than ten thousand, most of which were dead stars.

However, generally speaking, it was impossible for a dead star to appear, as cultivators rarely visited such places.

Tang Hao checked the secondary planets, then the main planets, but none of them matched.

In the end, when he checked the abandoned planet, he had a discovery.

“Lioncamel star!”

Tang Hao picked up the map in his hand and mumbled to himself.

He wasn't very familiar with this star. It didn't belong to the region of planet Gaoyang.

"A second-grade Wild Star! It's almost the same as the spirit snake planet!"

After comparing the two, Tang Hao made another trip to Star City to find out more about the situation on Lion camel star.

Then, he set off for Lion camel star.

Five days later, he arrived at lioncamel star.

"This way!"

He released his soul consciousness to check and confirm the location.

A moment later, he arrived above a mountain range.

"It's here, there's no mistake!"

Tang Hao took out the map and compared it to the mountain range in front of him. It was exactly the same.

"The treasure ... Is here!"

Tang Hao's gaze shifted to the cross-shaped mark on the map.

He arrived after flying for a while.

A Valley appeared in front of him. The valley was filled with mist, and a lion's roar could be heard.

"It's the Lion's Lair!"

Tang Hao's expression changed slightly. He could sense a few extremely powerful auras in the valley in front of him. This was clearly an extremely powerful pride of lions.

"It's not easy!"

Tang Hao furrowed his brows slightly. The situation was tricky.

However, on second thought, this was a good thing. With such a powerful pride of lions, the treasures inside would have a chance to be intact.

"Let me explore first!"

Tang Hao sat down on a nearby mountain. A golden light flashed above his head. His divine sense left his body and sent out countless thoughts that turned into countless birds and flew toward the valley ahead.

Through the bird's eyes, he could clearly see the situation in the valley.

"Golden Lion? No, it's the descendant of the Golden Lion!"

In the valley, there were many huge Lions the size of small mountains. Their bodies were golden, and their skin glowed with the color of gold and iron. They were very similar to Golden Lions.

However, there were some differences. It wasn't the Golden Lion.

In the lion Clan, the Golden Lion was well-known. Its bloodline was extremely ancient, so in the first continent of Qiyuan, it could be ranked as one of the descendants of the chaos.

The one in front of him was only a descendant of his bloodline.

There was a huge cave in a corner of the valley. Tang Hao commanded a bird to fly carefully into the cave. The bird scouted around and soon found something.

"So it's a cave!"

Tang Hao found the entrance to an immortal's cave in the depths of the cave.

"There's also the formation. It seems to be in perfect condition. However, if we want to open it, we'll have to blast the formation apart, and that'll alarm the Lions!" Tang Hao thought for a while and came up with a plan.

He flew up and flew to the top of the valley, releasing his aura.

In an instant, a deafening lion's roar erupted in the valley.

Tang Hao drew his red bow and fired an arrow in the direction of the cave. "Sons of turtle, come out and accept your death!"

"Roar!"

An earth-shattering roar came from the cave. Then, a huge Golden Lion with thick manes rushed out and roared again.

The sound wave transformed into a corporeal ripple that spread out.

"My good boy!"

Tang Hao's expression changed. This great lion's strength was probably at the great circle of beheading three.

"If you have the guts, come and chase me!"

He gave the lion the middle finger, then turned around and ran.

The lion roared and gave chase.

The pride of lions also moved, and they all chased after him. As they galloped, the mountains shook and the earth trembled, their momentum incomparably shocking.

“Running after acting tough. It’s really exciting!”

After running for a while, Tang Hao turned around and was excited.

He continued to escape, luring the Lions away, and his split souls took the opportunity to rush into the cave.

“Brothers, hurry! Smash! The treasure is inside!”

Each of the split souls grabbed a Dao artifact and attacked with all their might.

BOOM! BOOM!

The sound lasted for two to three minutes before the array exploded, and a group of souls rushed in.

The cave abode was not big, and its interior was also quite simple. It was divided into three rooms, one for refining, one for cultivation, and the last one was like a warehouse, with a shelf with rows of boxes on it.

“They are all mystical materials! It seems like he’s a blacksmith!”

“Look, What’s this?”

In the room, there were many weapons arranged in a formation. There were a few swords, a pot, and seals. Judging from their auras, most of them were upper-grade Dao weapons.

At a corner of the shelf, there was a golden shuttle-shaped object. It was this object that had attracted the attention of the many split souls.

“Sky Thunder ship?”

“This is a planetary ship!”

After a careful inspection, they all exclaimed in shock.
