

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1358

The entire starry sky was silent.

Everyone's mouths were wide open, but their throats seemed to be stuck, and they couldn't make a sound.

They all raised their heads and looked at the peak of the mountain in a daze.

No one had set foot there for thousands of years. But now, a figure stood there, looking down at all living beings. He was dressed in white, with black hair and a peerless elegance.

"Tenth grade! This is a monster of tenth grade!"

Finally, someone shouted, his voice hoarse and exhausted.

Ten grades of Dao pillars and ten grades of Dao fruits. Only a person with the talent of twenty could achieve the tenth grade!

This was a legendary grade!

Every tenth grade was a heaven-defying figure!

There had never been such a monster in this star field.

"To be able to reach the peak of ten thousand Zhang, what is it if not tenth-grade!"

"This is too shocking! This Shi guy was actually such a heaven-defying monster! Hey! We've misjudged, everyone has misjudged!"

After the shock, everyone smiled bitterly and revealed a self-deprecating expression.

The perfected cultivators who had laughed at this person in high sun Star City had even more complicated feelings.

A heaven-defying tenth-grade genius was being mocked by them as a cripple. Thinking about it now, it was really absurd.

“A!”

In the camp of the firmament sword sect, elder Xie slapped his thigh and felt so regretful that his intestines turned green.

At this moment, he wished he could give himself a few dozen slaps.

He had missed a tenth grade heaven-defying genius just like that!

“I ... I’m really blind!”

“You called me cheap!”

The others were also full of regret, and some of them even slapped themselves a few times.

“Tenth grade? How is that possible?”

On the planetary ship of Mount Riyue, long tieya’s face was ashen. At this moment, not only did he feel anger and hatred, but he also felt a trace of fear.

A young tenth grade genius, what a terrifying existence. Once he grew up, he would never have the chance to take revenge. Their Sun Moon Mountain would be in danger.

The other elders were the same, their faces gloomy and worried.

“This kid is too terrifying. I have to kill him here at all costs!”

“Hurry up! Quickly inform the sect master that there must be a heavenly Lord to hold the line, only then will it be foolproof!”

Soon, a beam of light shot up from the planetary ship, quickly disappearing into the vast starry sky.

“A tenth rank monster! It was too terrifying! We can’t let such a person Live!”

“I must kill him!”

The other forces also had killing intent.

Then, beams of light shot out and headed to the main stars.

On the mountain peak, Tang Hao scanned his surroundings.

There was a thick fog in front of him, and he couldn’t see through it. However, he could vaguely see a Pavilion with a large bell hanging inside.

The body of the bell was made of bronze, and it exuded an ancient and boundless aura.

“What is this?”

Tang Hao furrowed his brows and walked over.

“That’s right. The bell that resonated in all directions earlier was this Bell, right?”

Tang Hao stopped in front of the bell and examined it.

He looked forward and saw a few graves.

He wasn’t in a hurry to go over. Instead, he studied the big bell and even tried to ring it.

Clang!

The bell rang and shook the surroundings.

“It doesn’t seem to be a good treasure!” Tang Hao shook his head disappointedly and was about to walk toward the graves.

However, at this moment, there was a sudden change.

Under his feet, the mountain trembled violently. Then, the ancient Bell started to shake. The bell kept ringing.

“What’s going on?”

Tang Hao’s expression changed slightly. He sensed a strange power coming from the ancient Bell and enveloping him.

The Dao pillars in his body started to shake uncontrollably. The reincarnation boat and the wheel of life and death rushed out and hovered above his head, shining with light.

In the starry sky above his head, a brilliant Galaxy gradually appeared. It turned into a waterfall and fell down.

The celestial River descended from the nine Heavens!

The celestial grade phenomenon appeared once again, illuminating the entire void.

“What’s wrong?”

When the bell rang, everyone was stunned and looked at the peak again.

However, the figure had already disappeared into the fog. This fog was not ordinary, so they could not see what was going on inside.

When the bell rang loudly and madly, they became even more bewildered.

“Look, what’s that?”

When they saw the strange phenomenon that suddenly appeared in the sky above the mountain peak, they were even more stunned!

Clang clang clang!

The bell continued to ring, once again resounding throughout the entire star field.

“Eh? Why did the bell ring again?”

On the main stars, the people all looked up at the sky, revealing doubtful expressions.

“What’s going on?”

On planet Gaoyang, within a deep and serene Palace of the green mist sect, a man sitting cross-legged opened his eyes. In an instant, a brilliant light burst out from his eyes.

He was wearing a green robe, his skin was like jade, and a divine glow flowed around his body.

This was immortal radiance!

This also meant that this person was a mighty immortal.

“Why did the law bell ring again?”

He furrowed his brows in confusion.

He naturally knew about such a big event as the opening of the Dao tomb.

After a moment’s silence, a ray of light suddenly shot down from the sky above planet Gaoyang. It fell straight into the green mist sect and directly into the underground palace.

He stretched out his hand and caught the light.

The next moment, his expression changed drastically, and he stood up with a bang.

“This ... How is this possible?”

He muttered to himself in disbelief.

Even though he was an immortal, he was still shocked by this sudden news.

“That guy ... He’s actually tenth grade! This ...”

His heart was already in turmoil, and it was difficult for him to calm down.

Tenth grade geniuses were extremely rare!

In a place like Qiyuan, there was actually such an astonishing monster!

Then, he laughed bitterly again. When he had attacked, that kid had said that he would return the favor one day. At that time, he had disdained it, but now, he had to take it seriously.

A tenth grade genius could really become an immortal.

“This kid ... Can’t be left alive!”

He muttered to himself as his figure flickered and suddenly disappeared. The next moment, he reappeared in the starry sky outside of the high sun.

He didn’t use the planetary ship. With his immortal realm, he could cross it with his physical body.

He turned into a ray of green light and headed straight for Dao Zhu.

At this time, on jumen planet, Mount riyue.

In a Palace, a man opened his eyes.

This person was dressed in a golden robe, and his skin was golden as well. His entire body was emitting a brilliant glow like the sun.

He was the master of Mount riyue, the rixiao heavenly Lord!

He was bewildered at first, then he received a message. His expression changed drastically, and he jumped up.

“Tenth grade! It’s actually tenth-grade!”

His face was ashen.

“It seems like I have to do it myself. Even if I have to give up my reputation, I will kill him and get rid of all future troubles. I will also take revenge for the disciples of Sun Moon Mountain!”

He muttered hatefully and stomped his foot. His body turned into a flash of lightning and shot straight into the sky.
