

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1367

“Al! Move aside!”

“Motherf * cker! Who stepped on my foot!”

The surroundings were extremely noisy.

There were simply too many people here. Tents stretched from one end to the other, connecting the sky to the earth. The people on the road were squeezed together, shoulder to shoulder.

Many of them were young people with extraordinary temperament and outstanding talents.

Those who could come here and participate in the entrance exam of the equal heaven Academy were all geniuses. Planet Dong Lin alone had a vast territory, and countless talents had been born on this celestial land.

There were another 3000 stars in the Dong Lin Galaxy, and they had also given birth to many geniuses.

Moreover, the people who came to participate in the assessment were not only from Dong Lin Starfield, but also many from other starfields.

In addition to the young people, there were many of the older generation. All of them had a deep aura, divine light in their eyes, and immortal radiance circulated around their bodies. They were all powerhouses at the immortal realm.

They were all here to escort the young people of their families.

In the outside world, these were all famous experts, but here, they were nothing. They could be found in large numbers, and all of them had restrained their aura, not daring to be presumptuous.

After all, this was the heaven-equal courtyard, the Supreme Pure Land, and no one dared to be presumptuous here.

Moreover, there were many hidden dragons and crouching tigers here. There were too many powerful figures and forces. If they accidentally provoked someone they shouldn't, they would bring a great disaster to their family.

They were all very careful, but those young people were different. All of them were showing off their abilities, and had already begun to secretly compete.

Tang Hao was in the middle of a line.

The line was very long, like a long Dragon.

There were many similar lines all around, and they were all the same length.

Even though the registration had started a long time ago and had been going on for more than half a month, there were still a lot of people. Moreover, because the registration was about to close, the number of people was even more than when it had started.

At a glance, they were all young people. From their appearance, most of them were in their twenties, and many of them were in their teens. There were even children who were eight or nine years old.

These weren't old monsters who had regained their youth, but real little kids.

"F * ck!"

Tang Hao was shocked when he first saw it.

These little brats were too young, with a childish face. He didn't know if they had been weaned yet, but they actually came to participate in the assessment.

Looking at these people's auras, most of them were Dao severing cultivators, and only a few of them were Dao pursuing cultivators.

Tang Hao was among them, so he did not stand out at all.

After waiting for a long time, it was finally his turn.

“Next!”

An old man behind the table in front of him shouted.

“Okay!” Tang Hao immediately walked up to her and replied.

“Come, fill in your name, place of birth, and cultivation level. These are all necessary ...” The old man didn’t even raise his head and threw a piece of paper over.

Tang Hao took it and quickly scanned through it.

“Name ... I’ll use the name Ritian, how domineering!”

Tang Hao mumbled to himself. He picked up the pen and wrote down three words.

“Shi ... RI Tian? F * ck! This name is cool!”

The people behind him took a glance and couldn’t help but tremble.

“RI Tian?”

When the surrounding people heard this, they were also shocked.

“Brother, your name is awesome!” Someone exclaimed in admiration and respect.

Someone burst out laughing and chided, “What kind of stupid name is that! Vulgar!”

The old man behind the table raised his head and looked at Tang Hao with a strange expression.

“I was born in ... Flowing Cloud Star area, Eastern meteor star!”

Tang Hao came up with a random lie.

“Flowing Cloud Star area? Where is this place?”

“I don’t know! Which corner did he come from? A country bumpkin!”

The people around them laughed with disdain.

To them, this kind of unknown star field was a remote and backward place with no sense of existence. The people who came out of it were all country bumpkins.

Tang Hao laughed when he heard that, but he did not care.

“Cultivation base ... Cut two!”

He picked up the pen and continued to write.

The surrounding people glanced over with calm expressions. There were many monstrous geniuses here, so it was nothing to lose two or one.

“Specialty?”

He moved his gaze down to the next item.

His expression became a little strange. Specialty? What special skills could he have?

“It’s about what you’re good at. Alchemy, weapon refining, and arrays. These are all considered!”The old man explained.

Tang Hao’s expression became even stranger. He knew all of these. That’s not good!

Keep a low profile! He had to keep a low profile!

He muttered to himself.

“If you don’t know any of these, then just write something down,” the old man added after seeing his hesitation.

“That ... Does it count if it can be eaten?”

Tang Hao said softly after a moment of hesitation.

“What?”

The old man was stunned, thinking that he had heard wrong.

“It can eat! I can eat a lot! This is also considered a specialty!” Tang Hao said.

The old man’s mouth opened into an O shape.

He was shocked!

He had been doing this job for so many years and had seen all sorts of weirdos, but he had never seen such a weirdo.

It can be eaten?

What kind of specialty is this!

The corner of his mouth twitched, and he was speechless.

The people around them were stunned at first, then they burst into laughter.

“Ahaha! Was this a fool?! It’s too strange!”

“He’s a foodie!”

The laughter spread and attracted even more attention. After learning of this matter, they couldn't help but laugh. Some laughed at this person's foolishness, some laughed at his weirdness, and some teased him. This was called true nature.

"Let me see what this strange bird looks like!"

Some people squeezed over and fought to watch.

They all felt that this matter was too interesting. When other people wrote about their specialties, which one of them didn't write about how good they were? for example, alchemy, how many Championships they had won, how many honors they had won, the more the better.

However, this fellow wrote 'can eat'. It was really too weird.

"This guy must be joking!"

Someone laughed.

"You really want to write it?" The old man asked.

"Can you write it?"

"As you wish! It's not something important anyway. If you were eliminated earlier, it's not important anymore." The old man said.

"Alright then!"

Tang Hao picked up the pen and wrote two big words: It's edible!

After some thought, he added another word-special.

All together, they were especially voracious!

The old man's face darkened and the veins on his forehead bulged.

F*ck! This kid is here to cause trouble, isn't he! Why did you have to add 'special'?!

He gritted his teeth and looked at Tang Hao. He did not like the kid at all.

"Forget it, who cares. This kind of person ... I'm afraid he won't even make it past the first round!" Very quickly, the old man felt relieved.

There were too many people who came to participate in the assessment, so it was normal for some oddballs to appear.

However, such a weirdo couldn't persist until the end. Only a few hundred out of a million people would be able to persist until the end and enter the equal heaven Department. All of them were outstanding talents, and they would never be such a weirdo.

He glanced at that place again and couldn't help but nod to himself. He was even more certain now.

The flowing Cloud Star area was a remote star area. This kind of warrior had no hope.

"Alright! This is your token, take it!"

He rolled his eyes at Tang Hao, then tossed him a token.

Then, he shouted to the back, "Next!"

Tang Hao walked away, and the team moved forward by another position.
