

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1388

“This peak ... Is called Jade Sky peak, and it has nine Shangyu caves.”

“This peak is called sky-filling, and it has 49 cave abodes.”

“This peak is called flying heavens ...”

A few elders took the lead and led the disciples through the mountains. From time to time, they pointed to the peaks in front of them and introduced.

These mountain peaks were all majestic and tall, towering into the clouds. Immortal mist enshrouded them, and multicolored light flowed. The spiritual aura was pressing, making them look like a paradise.

In front of each mountain, there was an ancient gate. Above it, one could see the Jade Sky, an ancient temple like the sky.

This was the residence of the disciples of the equal heaven courtyard, and there were more than 10000 cave abodes on this mountain peak.

The heaven-equal courtyard was huge, and it had over 10000 disciples.

“These cave abodes ... You can choose them at will. Of course, those who are ranked higher can choose first, but these cave abodes are all about the same, and there is no difference between good and bad.”

The leading elder introduced.

“I choose Yu Tian peak. I heard that it's the most powerful mountain peak. Many outer court first place disciples have emerged from there and successfully entered the inner court.”

Lei zhentian pointed at Yu Tianfeng and said arrogantly.

“I also choose Yu Tian!”

The genius of the Xiao clan followed with a fiery gaze.

He had heard of the reputation of the Jade Sky peak a long time ago. This was the place that all the disciples of the equal heaven courtyard dreamed of.

“Me too!”

Following that, quite a few people shouted out, all taking fancy on this Jade heaven peak.

The few elders were not surprised. It was like this every year. Yutian peak had always been the most sought after, and only the most powerful few each year had the qualifications to stay.

“There are only nine spots, so we’ll choose according to the ranking!” The leading elder said.

“I choose the fairy ...”

“I choose to cut the heavens ...”

The other disciples also made their choices.

“I choose Mi Tian!” Tang Hao picked one randomly. He had asked around before, and there was no difference in which mountain he chose.

“Mi Tian has forty-nine number plates. Take a look at these number plates and choose whichever one you like!”

One of the elders handed Tang Hao a bag of Jade tokens.

His expression was kind, and he even smiled at Tang Hao.

Most of the elders had a good impression of Shi Ritian.

Tang Hao looked at it and chose the number nine.

“The ninth cave? Not bad!” The elder nodded and handed over the Jade token.

After everyone had finished their selection, the leading elder said, “Everyone, I have to remind you that the cave is not free. There is no fee for the first month, but from the second month onwards, you will have to pay.”

“It’s not an ordinary money. It’s the currency circulated within our heaven-equal Department, called immortal coins. That’s it!”

As he spoke, the elder raised his hand and a pure white jade coin appeared in his palm. A brilliant light flowed on it, and it was dazzling.

“Ten immortal coins per month. If you can’t afford it, you’ll be taken back to your cave abode and left to live in the barren mountains.”

“You want to earn immortal coins? It’s very simple, you just need to complete a mission. For every mission you complete, you will receive a certain amount of immortal coins as a reward!”

“This is the only currency in circulation here. Not only do you need it to pay for the cave dwelling, but you also need it to go to places like the Sutra library and the treasure Pavilion. Without it, you will find it difficult to move around.”

“Therefore, your top priority is to earn immortal coins. With a certain amount of immortal coins, you can gain a firm foothold here.”

“Next, I’ll introduce you to the Sutra library ...”

As he spoke, the elder led the group of disciples and walked towards the Scripture chamber.

After visiting the Sutra library, he went to places like the treasure room and the cliff of enlightenment.

Along the way, they ran into many disciples of the equal heaven Department, all of whom had powerful auras and three or four Dao rings on their backs. Some even had five or six Dao rings.

When they saw this group of people, these disciples all stopped and cast their gazes over, discussing with great interest.

“Look! It’s this year’s newcomer!”

“Hahaha! There’s finally a new person, I’m a senior now!”

“That guy with a pair of golden eyes and looks very arrogant must be the legendary Lei zhentian! Hey! The potential to become a Sage, another monster has come!”

“Waa! A great beauty! Look, that’s the famous Yushi min!”

They swept their gazes across the crowd, sizing each and every one of them up.

“Where’s that bold bro? He disrupted the assessment, ransacked the herb garden, made elder Wang Yun so angry that he vomited blood, and caused a sensation in the entire heaven-equal Department. I really want to see such a cool, crazy, and domineering figure!”

“Such a person is truly a God! He’s a role model for our generation!”

When many disciples talked about big brother Dadan, their faces were full of respect and admiration. Many people even gave him a thumbs up.

When the few elders heard this, the veins on their foreheads throbbed as they roared, “Little brats, what nonsense are you spouting? Get lost! Be careful or I’ll beat you up!”

The group of disciples laughed and dispersed.

After taking a tour around the equal heaven courtyard, the elders led the disciples back to the immortal’s cave area. They then dispersed and went to their own immortal’s caves.

Tang Hao ascended sky-filling peak and arrived at the ninth cave.

“Not bad!”

He looked around. The surrounding environment was elegant and it was a good place.

The interior was very spacious and the spiritual Qi was extremely dense.

Tang Hao tidied up a little, then sat down and muttered to himself.

Now that he had successfully entered the heavenly Academy, he had accomplished his goal. With the heavenly Academy as his backing, it would be easier for him to mingle around in the future. Anyone who wanted to deal with him would have to consider his identity first.

Not only in the Dong Lin star field, but even in the entire great astral world, no one dared to kill a disciple of the equal heaven Department.

The reputation of the three great pure lands was not to be trifled with.

“Dao of slaughter ... I already have some progress. Next, I need to cultivate it well and form my Dao fruit as soon as possible. Only then can I close the cultivation gap with those guys.”

Tang Hao furrowed his brows when he thought of that.

Before that, he had a more important thing to do, which was to earn as many immortal coins as possible.

He found that the immortal coins were made of immortal Jade, and each small immortal coin contained an amazing amount of spiritual Qi. Not only could they be used for circulation, but they could also be absorbed directly.

“I’ll go to the hall of missions tomorrow and earn some money first ... Oh, and my precious medicine. I’ll go get it back.”

After coming out of the herb garden, he was afraid of being searched, so he gave all the things he had robbed to the split soul and hid them. He had to get out as soon as possible and swallow them all to avoid any trouble.

After spending an entire night comprehending the Dao of slaughter, Tang Hao changed into the uniform of the heaven-equal Department the next morning and headed straight to the hall of missions.

The hall of mission was located in a Valley to the left of the main peak.

On the way to the hall of mission, there were people everywhere, and it was unusually lively.

Soon, the hall of missions was within sight. Tang Hao landed with the rest of the group and arrived at the square in front of the hall.
