

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1389

“Quickly come and take a look! A fresh soul descending pill! It’s a special offer of ten pills per bottle for only one immortal coin!”

“Blood-burning pills are on sale. Other people sell ten pills at a time, but I sell twenty. I’ll increase the number without increasing the price! Just one!”

All kinds of shouts came from all directions of the square.

The place was filled with dense and chaotic energy, like a vegetable market.

There were many disciples of the equal heaven Department who had set up stalls in all four corners of the square, and they were trying their best to sell their own things, including pills, tools, and all kinds of strange things.

“That’s fine too!”

Tang Hao looked around and was surprised.

“Selling things is a good way to make money, but it doesn’t seem to be very effective!”

Tang Hao looked around for a while, but he did not see anyone buying anything. Most of the people who landed went straight to the hall of missions without even looking.

He walked around for a while before entering the hall of missions.

The hall was extremely spacious, and many people were gathered inside. They all looked up at the sky, and there were countless spiritual lights floating in the air. They were scrolls.

From time to time, they would stretch out their hands to grab the scroll and check it.

Some of them shook their heads and threw the scroll back. Some muttered to themselves for a moment before taking the scroll to the side of the counter to register with an elder before leaving in a hurry.

There were three colors to the spiritual light, and just like in the third round of the examination, they represented heaven, earth, and man.

“Move!”

Tang Hao squeezed his way forward and grabbed a human grade scroll. He shook his head after examining it.

“It’s only one immortal coin to collect 100 burning flame Grass! This is too much of a scam!”

Tang Hao mumbled angrily.

The flaming grass was very rare and most of them grew in extremely dangerous places. Collecting 100 of them was really hard work and would take a long time.

After all this hard work, he only got one immortal coin in the end, which was really a scam!

He flicked his hand and threw the scroll back.

He would not waste his time on such a mission.

Then, he took out an earth grade scroll and opened it. It was even more of a scam!

“Capture ten purple spirit Martens? Such a perverted mission, and it’s only five Yuan?”

Tang Hao was speechless.

Not only was the purple spirit Marten rare, but it was also extremely fast and difficult to catch. It was not difficult to catch one, but it would be extremely difficult to catch ten of them. Who knew how long it would take?

“A trap! This is too much of a scam!”

Tang Hao cursed as he threw the scroll away.

He reached out and grabbed a heaven grade scroll. When he opened it, his face twitched and he almost spat out blood.

F * ck! Sure enough, there was no such thing as the worst, only worse!

Killing an old demon who had just cut five realms?

What a joke!

I've only F * cking cut two!

Even if it was an ordinary monster who killed three, it would be completely impossible to complete the task!

Also, the reward was only 15 yuan!

"What the hell is this!"

Tang Hao mumbled angrily. He threw the scroll back to the old man.

The surrounding disciples looked over and laughed.

"Kid, you're new, right?"

"Little brat, don't be so picky, everyone's like this! There's no easy and profitable mission. The elder who issued the mission isn't an idiot. He won't let us live so easily. "

"But that's too much!" Tang Hao said indignantly.

"Hey! He had no choice, he got used to it after being tricked for so long! You have to get used to it. Other than doing missions, you have no other choice!"

A senior brother said with a bitter smile.

The others chimed in.

“Is there really no other way?” Tang Hao said.

“No, I didn’t! Look at those people outside, they can’t be sold at all!”

The crowd shook their heads.

“Actually ... It’s not that there’s none, it’s just that it’s too difficult. You know, there’s a list in our heaven-equal Department. As long as you can get on the list, you’ll get a reward.”

Someone suddenly said.

When the others heard this, they all laughed and shook their heads even more.

“That’s too difficult. Those lists aren’t for humans!”

“It’s been decades. These rankings have not changed!”

As they spoke, they all sighed.

Tang Hao’s interest was piqued when he heard that. He asked, “What kind of rankings are there? How do we break it?”

Yesterday, those few elders only brought them to have a simple understanding and did not mention any ranking list at all.

“These rankings are very complicated. There’s the elixir ranking, weapon ranking, array ranking, and so on. There are also sub-categories below these rankings. For example, the elixir ranking is also divided into the grass and wood ranking and the elixir spirit ranking. The former tests herbs while the latter tests elixir refinement.”

“The formation ranking is the same. Some test formations, some test formations .....

“In short, there are many rankings! However, don’t think that it’s easy for you to be on the list. How long has our heaven-equal Academy been established? it’s been passed down from the ancient times. In the past tens of thousands of years, who knows how many amazing talents have been born? it’s not easy to squeeze any one of them out!”

They introduced Tang Hao to each other.

Tang Hao’s eyes brightened when he heard that. He thought that it was much more fun than completing missions.

“What about the reward?”

He asked hurriedly.

“What’s wrong? You really want to go?”

Seeing him like this, everyone couldn’t help but be startled.

“Hey! It doesn’t matter if you try.” Tang Hao said.

“That’s true. You can go and try to broaden your horizons. At that time, you will know that those people can’t be surpassed!”

Everyone nodded.

“If you can get on the list, the reward will naturally be very generous. As long as you get to the tenth place, you’ll get 1000 immortal coins. If you get to the ninth place, you’ll get 2000 immortal coins.”

“A ... A thousand?”

Tang Hao’s eyes glowed.

He did some calculations. Killing a top five executioner would only give him 15 pieces, but as long as he was on the list, even if he was only ranked 10th, he would still get 1000 pieces.

If he could get first place and break a few more lists, wouldn't he be rich?

Tang Hao's heart burned with excitement.

"First place? What's the first place?"

Tang Hao asked.

"First place? I don't know about that. No one knows. I don't know how many years it has been since someone broke the first place. I think it's at least 10000 or 20000, maybe even more."

"Hey! Don't even think about first place, that's simply impossible. Let alone first place, it's impossible to even be tenth."

The crowd shook their heads.

"There's no harm in trying!"

Tang Hao mumbled to himself. After he found out where the ranking was broken, he was ready to go and take a look.

At this moment, a group of people swaggered in from the entrance. They were none other than Lei zhentian and the other top geniuses.

"Yo! Isn't that sect fellow Shi?"

When they saw Tang Hao, they smirked and sneered from afar.

"What's wrong? Sect fellow Shi is here for a mission too! Let's see what kind of mission you have chosen!"

The genius of the Lin clan shrieked.

Then, he glanced at Tang Hao's hands and was a little surprised. "So sect fellow Shi didn't take anything! What, are you not satisfied with the task? Or...You can't make it!"

"I heard! These missions are all very difficult and not everyone can complete them. Many people can't even complete a single mission in a month and end up losing their cave abodes and being stranded in the barren mountains. That's really embarrassing!"

The Lin clan's genius spoke in an eccentric tone, not hiding his mocking expression at all.
