

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1412

“Master! It’s really enough!”

“Not enough! Not enough!”

The group of Masters kept stuffing treasures into Tang Hao’s arms. He was almost stuffed full of treasures. The treasures were colorful and dazzled everyone’s eyes.

“This is cheating!”

“This is too outrageous!”

Everyone gritted their teeth in anger.

They felt a strong sense of injustice. Why did this guy have so many masters and so many treasures? they looked at themselves. F * ck, they were as poor as a bucket.

This was too unfair!

This guy with the surname Shi was simply a local tyrant, while they were a group of poor people!

He had to defeat this guy and take his treasure!

The desire in everyone's hearts grew stronger and stronger.

"Alright! It's time to leave!"

Elder Wang Yun shouted as he looked up at the sky.

The people from the primordial chaos Daoist sect moved first and entered the passageway in a single file. Following that, a group of giant apes walked over. They were the Golden Apes of the archaic species. They followed the people from the primordial chaos Daoist sect into the passageway.

Next, it was the heaven-equal courtyard's turn.

"Let's go! I wish you all good luck!"

Elder Wang Yun stood at the entrance of the passage and waved to the crowd.

Looking at this group of young disciples, he felt a little emotional.

This time, who knew how many people would die inside, and how many people would be able to show off their talents and shake planet Dong Ling?

That's right, there's also that bold brother.

"This little bastard!"

Thinking of this fellow, the veins on elder Wang Yun's forehead popped out. He just wanted to roar at the sky and vent his anger.

He was so angry that he vomited blood and fell to the ground!

This was the greatest humiliation in his life!

“Hmph! You little bastard, don’t let me find you, or I’ll press you to the ground and beat you up until you look like a pig!” He said viciously.

As he spoke, he narrowed his eyes and sized up this group of disciples again.

“It doesn’t look like it. This one doesn’t look like it either ...” He was so worried that his brows were furrowed into a knot.

“Elder Wang! Goodbye!”

Tang Hao followed the crowd to the entrance of the tunnel. He grinned at elder Wang Yun and waved at him.

“Al! Goodbye! You must be careful!”

Elder Wang Yun smiled and waved his hand enthusiastically. He thought to himself, “This child was so good and polite!

“My good disciple! Remember to be careful!”

The group of Masters waved their hands from behind.

“I know!” Tang Hao stood at the entrance of the tunnel. He turned around and waved at them. Then, he took out a bulging bag and patted it. “Don’t worry, Masters!” With so many treasures, who would dare to Rob me!”

“Aiyo! Hurry up and put it away!”

Elder Wang Yun was anxious.

Wasn’t this clearly telling everyone that he had so many treasures, and they had to quickly come and snatch them?

Although many people didn’t dare to make a move due to the reputation of the heaven-equal Department, there were still many bold people. After all, no one would know what happened inside.

“Elder, I’m fine! I’m not afraid! Who would dare to snatch it! If you dare, come!”

Tang Hao said heroically.

As he spoke, he turned around and looked around.

“Hahaha! This kid is too stupid!”

“What an idiot! Now, those who didn’t want to fight for it can’t hold back anymore. When the time comes, he’ll be the first one to suffer!”

“How could there be such an idiot in the heaven-equal Department? he’s indeed talented, but he doesn’t seem to know how to behave!”

Everyone laughed secretly, laughing at this guy’s stupidity.

“Hmph! What an idiot! I’m afraid you won’t even know how you died!”

Lei zhentian and the others snorted coldly and entered the passageway first.

“Hurry up and go in!”

Elder Wang Yun urged, but he thought to himself, “This child was still too innocent and didn’t know the evil of the human heart.

“I’m leaving!”

Tang Hao waved his hand, then entered the tunnel with the bag full of treasures.

“Let’s find that fool first and Rob him!”

Everyone’s heart was burning with passion. They followed behind and poured into the passage.

As soon as he stepped into the passage, he felt the world spinning around him. He fell head first into the passage and landed heavily on the ground. However, the entrance was in mid-air, and they would fall the moment they entered.

Ah!

A shrill scream came from the sky far away. Someone fell down and hit the ground hard.

Tang Hao dusted his clothes and stood up. He observed for a while and realized that everyone had fallen from the sky. The only difference was that their landing points were far from each other.

He looked around and found that he was surrounded by a dense ancient forest, which exuded a wild and ancient aura.

“Treasured medicine, Dao fire ...”

Tang Hao mumbled to himself. His eyes were burning with passion.

According to the elders' introduction, this place was a land of Supreme treasures and was filled with opportunities.

His figure moved, and he was about to sweep over to search for treasures.

Suddenly, a person fell from the sky with a whoosh. He landed not far away from Tang Hao.

Tang Hao was surprised.

That person yelped and raised his head. He was also stunned.

The two of them stared at each other for a long time.

“Hahaha! The heavens are really helping me!” That person jumped up, overjoyed. He was just about to find this fool, but he didn’t expect to meet him the moment he came down.

All the treasures are mine!

He was so excited that his entire body was trembling.

“B ... Brat ... Of ... Equal to heavens Department, w-if you’re wise, hurry ... Hurry up and hand over all the rarities!” He was so excited that he stuttered.

“You are ... From war god mountain?”

Tang Hao asked, sizing him up.

“Y-yes! I’m from the song clan, hurry up and hand over the item!”

He revealed a fierce expression and said fiercely.

At this moment, he was very confident that this man with the surname Shi only had some extraordinary talent in the three DAOs of elixirs, weapons, and arrays. His strength was nothing in the heaven-equal Department.

It was said that he was a country bumpkin from a remote star field. How could such a guy compare to an ancient race descendant like him?

No matter how many treasures this guy had, he would not be his match!

Tang Hao rolled his eyes. He stomped his foot, charged forward, and threw a punch.

“Woof! You want to compete with my war god mountain’s people in terms of physical strength? you’re courting death!”

The genius of the song clan snorted and his face was full of disdain.

“Brat from the equal heaven Department, I’ll beat you until you kneel and beg for mercy!”

He clenched his fist, and the surface of his body immediately burst out with a crystal-like glow. His entire body seemed to have turned into glass, and a shocking aura burst out.

This was the Golden body of the song clan!

He shouted in a low voice and threw a punch to meet the attack.

The next moment, there was a loud bang as the two fists collided.

Then, a few cracking sounds were heard. Under the horrified gaze of the genius of the song clan, his glass iron Fist was shattered and he was sent flying backward like a cannonball.

“This ... How is this possible?”

He was completely stunned!

In terms of physical strength, he was actually inferior to this fellow from the equal heaven Department?

What kind of joke was this!

What kind of golden body did this guy cultivate? or what kind of bones were embedded in his body?

However, before he could figure it out, the fist swung over and smashed into his face. His vision went black and he lost consciousness completely.
