

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1418

“Look, he’s set up another formation!”

Gasps of shock rang out from all around the herb garden.

Whether it was the young human or the giant primordial beast, they all looked puzzled.

They couldn’t understand why this guy had to set up an array, and two at a time?

“Could it be that he’s using a formation to break a formation? This is too difficult!”

There were also people who studied formations and saw some clues, but it was precisely because of this that they became even more confused.

It was very difficult to break an array with an array. It was a top technique of array Dao and only some array Masters could master it. Did Shi Ritian have such a technique?

“This is the formation of the Green Emperor mountain. It represents the peak of the ancient formation path. Even if he were to use a formation to break the formation, I don’t think it’ll be easy for him to do so with his strength!”

Some people shook their heads, they were not optimistic about Shi Ritian.

Even though Shi Ritian was an all-rounded genius and had amazing talent in arrays, it was still difficult for him to crack such an ancient array.

“If he can break it in half a day! That’d be a ghost!”

The Red Bird cackled with a mocking expression.

Tang Hao finished setting up the second formation. He turned around to look at the bird and smiled. “Half a day? I don’t think it’ll take that long!”

The bird was stunned for a moment before it laughed awkwardly. Kid, you’re quite confident! Who Do You Think You Are to break this array in less than half a day?”

“This kid is too full of himself! He broke the formation in less than half a day? It’s impossible!”

“This is too crazy!”

There was a commotion all around.

“Kid, tell me, how long do you plan to take to break this formation? How many hours do you need?” The bird cried.

“How many hours?”

Tang Hao chuckled when he heard that. “Why would I need a few hours to break this formation? the time it takes to brew a cup of tea is enough!”

His voice was clear and loud, but it was filled with strong confidence.

As soon as he said that, the four sides fell silent.

Whether it was the human tribe or the untainted land tribe, they were all a little stunned, and a dazed look appeared on their faces.

They wondered if they had heard wrong.

Breaking this ancient defensive array in the time it takes to brew a cup of tea?

This ... What kind of joke was this!

“Impossible! This is absolutely impossible!”

“This guy is too good at bragging! What super all-rounded genius? I thought he was very powerful, but he’s just a braggart!”

In the next moment, a commotion broke out from all four sides. Everyone revealed a sneer and a look of disdain.

“Little brat, I won’t submit to anyone but you. You’re really good at bragging! A cup of tea’s time? You still have the face to brag!” The bird laughed and jumped up and down in excitement.

Tang Hao’s expression did not change in the face of all the mocking.

“A cup of tea’s worth of time ... Maybe I don’t need it!”

He muttered.

The next moment, his expression turned serious. He turned around and gently raised his hand.

When he raised his palm to the highest point, the ground suddenly shook violently with a boom. In an instant, it felt like the earth was shaking.

In an instant, the mocking laughter from all directions stopped.

The faces of everyone and all the giant beasts froze.

BOOM! BOOM!

The ground trembled continuously, and a loud boom erupted. It was as if the entire ground was about to collapse.

“What’s going on?”

They looked around with bewilderment on their faces.

As the trembling intensified, their minds became uneasy. They were a little flustered and uneasy. The giant beasts that had been lying on the ground could no longer sit still and stood up one after another.

“What ... What is going on? Was the ground going to collapse? What have you done, you little brat?”

The bird flew up from the rock and let out an angry screech.

He looked around and was shocked to find that the ground had really cracked, and it was constantly collapsing and breaking.

With the herb garden as the center, the ground in all directions crumbled and huge cracks appeared.

“You brat, are you crazy?”

The bird flapped its wings and screeched in exasperation.

He was about to go crazy!

This kid wasn't breaking the formation, he was clearly destroying it and trying to collapse the entire mountain range.

"Hiss! What a big move!"

The young humans gasped in shock.

Setting up a formation and directly breaking the ground, this was indeed a bit scary.

"But it's still useless! "This won't destroy the formation base ..." One of them said with a frown, but he didn't understand why Shi Ritian would do this.

Even if the ground was shattered, it would not be able to break the formation base of the defensive formation. Shi Ritian's actions were in vain.

However, at that moment, white mist gushed out from the cracks. As it surged, it turned into Dragons that let out earth-shaking roars.

“This ... This is ...”

The man looked up and was instantly stunned. His eyes widened.

“Spirit ... Spirit vein ...”

In the next moment, he screamed out loud. His face was filled with shock, and there was even a hint of fear in his expression.

This Shi guy actually extracted the spirit vein?

Oh my God! How could this be possible?

How did he move the spirit vein? what kind of formation did he set up?

“Spirit vein?”

When the others heard this, their bodies trembled, and they were stupefied.

The bird’s eyes were also wide open. His eyeballs were about to pop out. He felt that either he had gone crazy or the world had gone crazy.

The ground was still shaking and breaking.

One after another, Azure Dragons emerged from the cracks in the ground, circling in the air and letting out earth-shaking roars.

“This is crazy! He’s completely crazy!”

Everyone muttered in shock.

Spiritual veins were spiritual. The spiritual vein in the Green Emperor mountain was the most powerful spiritual vein in the world. It contained a terrifying power. Even a heavenly Lord who had become an immortal was nothing compared to this spiritual vein.

But now, this kid, who was only in the realm of Dao severance, had activated the spirit vein and did not suffer any backlash. How unbelievable was this!

“This ... How is this possible?”

The human youths couldn't believe their eyes.

“I've heard that in ancient times, there were array Masters who were well-versed in array Dao. They could identify the location of spirit veins, set up an array, and draw the power of the Spirit vein for their own use!”

A disciple of the primordial chaos dojo seemed to have thought of something and suddenly shouted.

After he finished speaking, even he was stunned. He could not believe it.

He had always thought that this was just a legend. At least, he had never seen anyone with such ability.

And this Shi fellow had indeed activated the spiritual Meridian. Could it be that he had already reached the profound level in the Dao of formations?
