

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1471

In the blink of an eye, half a month had passed.

The shockwaves from the battle of Qi Tian mountain had yet to dissipate. The people of the world were still fervently discussing it. At the same time, many people had joined in the search for that Shi brat.

After a long and fruitless search, the two great pure lands, the Yuchi ancient clan, and many other forces all issued bounties.

If he was alive, he wanted to see the person. If he was dead, he wanted to see the corpse!

The entire planet Dong Ling became extremely lively.

From the ancient clans and celestial sects to the small sects and itinerant cultivators, they all joined this team. They moved in groups and searched everywhere, wanting to find that kid.

They weren't only here for the bounty, but also for the treasures on that kid.

Although he had heard that the decree and divine blood were gone, that kid still had many treasures.

"That kid is really rich. I don't know how many immortal coins he has earned in the equal heaven Department, but they're all made of immortal Jade."

"This kid has robbed countless people. When he entered the Academy for the trial, he robbed countless people. At the cyan Emperor mountain, he robbed again. He has a mountain of treasures on him!"

"I heard that he also has a tribulation armor and a very powerful iron stick, which is also a tribulation weapon! In addition, he also stole many tribulation artifacts from the God's stomach."

Everyone couldn't help but drool at the mention of the treasures on that kid.

That brat had too many treasures on him. Even some ancient clans and celestial sects didn't have as many tribulation artifacts as him. He could be said to be rich enough to rival a clan.

“I’ll be rich when I find him!”

Many people dreamed of becoming rich overnight and worked even harder to find it.

However, with so many people searching day after day, there was not a single trace of them. They could not help but feel extremely depressed.

However, they weren’t discouraged. Planet Dong Ling was too big. Who knew where that kid died? it would take some effort to find him.

—————

Somewhere on planet Dong Ling, there was a desolate mountain.

This was a dangerous place with dangers lurking everywhere and few people.

On this day, ripples suddenly appeared in the sky, and a figure fell down and landed on the ground.

This was a dying young man. His body was cracked, but no blood flowed out. His entire body had collapsed, and he didn’t have much vitality left.

After he landed, he laid there, not moving.

The pair of eyes were open, but they were listless, as if they were dead.

A ferocious beast heard the commotion and walked over. It sniffed and left.

He just lay there, never moving. The tiny bit of life in his body was like a candle Flame in the Wind, wavering and could be extinguished at any moment.

The Dao pillar in his body was also broken, and it was dim.

Just like that, the days passed, and his life force grew weaker and weaker until it was completely extinguished.

Days passed, and the corpse lay there, battered by the wind and rain, covered in a thick layer of dust.

After an unknown amount of time, a wisp of life force emerged from the corpse's body. The flame of life was reignited and grew stronger.

His flesh and blood were growing, and his bones were transforming ...

He was undergoing Nirvana!

After his body experienced death, the flame of life was reignited and he began to reincarnate. This was the effect of the Nirvana Sutra.

At first, the blood that was born was blood-colored, but after the divine bones were dug out, his physical body degenerated. However, slowly, it turned golden and became thicker.

At first, it was a faint golden color, but it gradually became heavier, and finally turned into a bright golden color.

However, as soon as the blood appeared, it rushed toward his chest. There was a big hole there, and it seemed to contain something. The blood was gathering there and condensing.

Day after day, the situation was the same. All the blood had rushed here, and in this blood, a faint light gradually lit up.

It was a tiny piece of bone, crystal clear and shining with a seven-colored divine light.

It exuded an ancient and sacred aura, as if it was the aura of a God.

This was a piece of God's bone!

As the blood continued to flow, the bone continued to grow and fill the hole.

One day, two days ...

As time passed by, the bone grew more and more mature. A powerful pressure began to spread from his body. When the surrounding beasts sensed this pressure, they prostrated on the ground and shivered.

Then, they began to retreat, not daring to take another step into this area.

At the same time, a seven-colored light began to shine from his chest, becoming more and more resplendent.

This bone had been growing for three months. The moment it matured, it trembled violently and burst out with an extremely brilliant light. It turned into a pillar of light and shot into the sky.

In an instant, the ferocious beasts in all directions trembled violently. They prostrated themselves and whimpered as they trembled.

“Eh? What’s that?”

At the periphery of this mountain range, someone noticed this beam of light and looked up.

“Seven-colored? Could it be the treasure light?”

Many people’s eyes lit up, and they naturally thought of baoguang, their hearts becoming fervent.

Then, they noticed the strange movement in the forest, and their expressions changed.

“What’s going on?”

“It shouldn’t be some kind of treasure, right?”

They discussed in low voices, all somewhat puzzled.

They had never seen or heard of such a situation.

After a while, more people noticed this strange movement. They flew into the air and looked at the seven-colored brilliance with shock.

Many people were excited and wanted to rush over to find out what was going on. However, after they identified the direction, they hesitated. That place was famous for being dangerous and full of danger.

However, it was also because of this that they were even more certain that some treasure had appeared.

“Go! Let’s go take a look!”

Those forces began to gather their men and made some preparations. They entered the mountain range and headed towards the place where the light came from.

They were all a little excited. After all, such an opportunity was very rare.

However, not long after, the seven-colored brilliance disappeared, and they were dumbfounded.

“What’s going on?”

“Where did he go?”

This mountain range was vast and boundless, and the beam of light had rushed out from the deepest part. They were so far away that they couldn’t tell its exact location.

“Forget it! Let’s go over and take a look!”

They all increased their speed and headed in that direction.

There were countless forces of all sizes around the mountain range, and many rogue cultivators had rushed in to search for the treasure light.

However, when they reached the depths, they searched everywhere. They had almost searched the entire place, but they could not find anything. Not to mention treasures, there was not even a fart.

However, they did not give up and continued to search.

“Eh? What is this?”

A group of people swept over, and as they looked around, they saw a lump of something on the wasteland.

“Corpses! I don’t know which unlucky bastard it is!”

They glanced around and recognized that it was a corpse. They didn’t pay much attention to it. This was a dangerous place with dangers everywhere. Many people had died here.

They didn’t take a closer look and just passed by to continue their search.
