

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1474

“Heavens! This aura, just what ...”

“Who is he?”

Everyone was shocked and confused.

“God! It’s like the aura of a God!” Suddenly, someone shouted, “when that God descended, I went there and saw the aura of a God.”

“The aura of a God? It can’t be!”

Everyone was in disbelief.

Could the person in front of him be a living God? This was too unbelievable!

They didn’t dare to move. They just watched as the figure stepped into the air and gradually disappeared from their sight.

For a long time, they could not come back to their senses.

After a long time, the place began to boil.

The crowd was in an uproar, exclaiming and shouting.

In the next few days, the mountain range was still in an uproar. Everyone was discussing fervently, guessing the identity of the mysterious figure.

Some said that it was an ancient Almighty being who had been seriously injured and had been sleeping in the mountains until now.

Some said that he was a God.

Everyone was arguing endlessly, unable to come to a consensus.

After the news spread, it attracted even more people. They all flew to the place where the incident happened to investigate the situation. Many ancient clans and celestial sects were alarmed and sent people to investigate.

However, they didn't manage to find anything.

And that mysterious person had never appeared again after that.

Gradually, everyone forgot about this matter.

This place was only a small corner of planet Dong Ling, so what happened here wouldn't cause much of a stir.

In the blink of an eye, another three months had passed.

During this period of time, planet Dong Ling was not peaceful.

It had been more than seven months since the battle on Qitian mountain. The heaven-reaching Academy was still hiding in the ancestral land and had not shown itself. Now, people would shake their heads and sigh when they talked about the heaven-reaching Academy.

In their eyes, the powerful heaven-reaching Academy had already fallen out of the ranks of the pure lands.

All the ancient clans that had ties with the heavenly Academy had issued statements to draw a clear line between them and the Academy, and had their young men withdraw from the Academy.

The Thunder clan, the rain clan, the Lin clan, and many other forces jumped out one after another after waiting for a few months. They announced that they would break off relations with the heaven-equal courtyard and join the embrace of the other two great pure lands.

Although war god mountain and primordial chaos dojo had lost many people, they still had a strong influence, just not as before.

The whereabouts of that boy surnamed Shi was still a mystery. No one had found him yet.

As for the Yuchi clan, they had been extremely glorious during this period of time. A Saint had led the entire Yuchi clan to rise.

The Yuchi clan had only been in the top 100 among the 3000 ancient clans, similar to the Xiao clan. However, with the appearance of their Saint, they had rushed to the forefront and become one of the most powerful ancient clans.

Ever since the battle on Qi Tian mountain, the Yuchi ancient clan's Gate had been broken through. All the forces, big and small, as well as many independent cultivators and experts, had all prepared their gifts and went to pay their respects to the newly-advanced Saint.

The Yuchi ancient race's sphere of influence had increased by many times in the past few months. Many small and medium-sized forces were fighting to the death to join the Yuchi race.

The prestige of the Yuchi ancient race had almost reached its peak.

"That forefather Yuchi is quite the character! A few hundred years ago, he went missing in the trial grounds and encountered danger, but in the end, he managed to overcome it. Moreover, he profited from the disaster and his strength rose to a higher level."

"After that, he focused on becoming a mortal and finally succeeded. He overcame the immortal tribulation in one fell swoop and became a Saint, shocking the starry sky all around!"

"Because of him, heaven-equal Department was broken through. He's also a shrewd and cunning man ..."

Everyone was talking about the new Saint, the forefather of the Yuchi race.

There were only a few Saints in the Dong Lin star field. Every time a new Saint appeared, it would cause a commotion.

And recently, the topic of discussion wasn't just this old ancestor, but also the exceptional genius of the Yuchi race, Yuchi Xuan, who had an inborn divine bone.

“This Yuchi Xuan was born with a piece of divine bone, and she’s extremely powerful. Previously, in the heaven-equal Department, she had always been the undisputed number one of the outer court. It was only when that brat surnamed Shi appeared that someone could compete with her.”

“It’s a pity that the kid is dead. Also, I heard that the fourth form of the true dragon Bone has fallen into the hands of the Yuchi clan and was given to Yuchi Xuan. As long as she devours this bone, I think no one in the younger generation of Donglin will be her opponent. In time, she will become another Saint, a sect with two saints. It’s too terrifying!”

“It’s not ‘seems’, it’s true. Recently, the Yuchi clan has released news that Yuchi Xuan has successfully devoured. In addition, the Yuchi clan has also collected many bones for her to devour. There are almost fifty to sixty of them in total. Her inborn divine bone has already reached the level of indestructibility and can be called an indestructible bone! Who else in the younger generation can be her match!”

As people discussed, they were all shocked and envious.

That girl from the Yuchi clan, the heavens really doted on her too much. Not only did they give her unparalleled beauty, they also gave her such a demonic talent.

In their hearts, this Yuchi Xuan was already the number one of the younger generation.

Her name slowly spread across planet Dong Ling.

A few days later, news spread from the Yuchi ancient clan. In a month’s time, they would be holding a grand ceremony to celebrate the birth of a monster with the undying bone in their Yuchi clan.

This news shook the entire planet Dong Ling.

The two pure lands, various immortal sects, ancient clans, and many famous rogue cultivators had all received invitations from the Yuchi clan to attend the Grand ceremony.

In an instant, the reputation of the Yuchi ancient race had soared once again. It had almost reached the peak of what the ancient race could achieve, second only to the two great pure lands.

“This Yuchi race is quite something!”

“They’re holding this grand ceremony to announce to the world, to spread the prestige of their Yuchi clan!”

Some people praised, while others were jealous.

“A grand ceremony?”

Somewhere on planet Dong Ling, a figure sat cross-legged in a barren Valley.

He suddenly opened his eyes and muttered.

On his chest, there was a faint seven-colored radiance. Behind him, there were nine huge Dao rings shining with shocking light.

“Hmph!”

He squinted, his eyes filled with a murderous intent. “Yuchi clan, what you owe me, I will take it back little by little. That bone ... I will also take it back!”

After saying that, he stood up. After a while, rays of light flew from all directions and entered his body. They were the split souls that he had placed in all directions to inquire about the situation.

After collecting his split soul, he stomped his feet and soared into the sky, speeding towards the Yuchi ancient race.
