

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1493

“Ai! Fellow Daoist Wang ...”

“Tang Hao!” A heavenly Lord called out to him.

“Aiya! No need to thank me! It’s just a small matter!” Tang Hao turned around and grinned at him. “I’ve always been a helpful person!”

The heaven monarch’s face twitched when he heard that.

F * ck!

‘Thank your sister! Who wants to thank you! And you’re happy to help others? you’re clearly here to snatch the treasure!

He really wanted to curse, but he couldn’t. After all, the beast was really killed by this guy. It was reasonable to collect the body at the same time, and he couldn’t find any fault with it.

However, why did he feel so aggrieved?

His face twitched and gradually turned red. After a while, he snorted angrily and went to find a new target.

Tang Hao carried the sword and went on snatching. The heavenly Lords were all scared. They trembled when they saw him coming and tried to stop him.

“Ai! Fellow Daoist Wang, no need! No need! I can handle this!”

“Fellow cultivator Wang, you don’t need to worry about this. Quickly go over there!”

Looking at the sword-wielding man with green eyes, they broke out in cold sweat.

Tang Hao only stopped after killing seven or eight immortal realm giant beasts in a row. There were no more giant beasts left. The remaining few were all in the middle stage, and they were fighting intensely with the few middle-stage heavenly Lords.

After ten minutes or so, the battle was over, and the wave of giant beasts had been completely annihilated.

They didn't have it easy either. Many heaven monarchs were injured, and some of them were quite serious. They had to sit down to regulate their breathing and take some healing elixirs.

The others also sat down and rested for a while.

"This place is indeed dangerous. If I came alone, I'm afraid I would have died here!" Ling Tianjun looked around and said.

"Yup! This place ... Is really dangerous!" The other heaven monarchs chimed in.

Tang Hao sat there for a while, then stood up and walked around to check out the situation.

After walking around for a while, he frowned as he noticed something strange.

The vegetation here was all abnormally tall and luxuriant, and the vitality was unbelievable.

There were also so many rare poisonous insects and immortal beasts ...

The Dong Lin Holy planet was known as the Holy Land. The spiritual Qi here was extremely dense, but this place was even more so. It was even more powerful than the Green Emperor mountain.

"There's something strange!"

Tang Hao mumbled.

Along the way, they had passed through hundreds of spaces, but none of them had such an exaggerated amount of spirit Qi. Only this space was so different.

“Is it because of that immortal tomb? The corpse of a 6th tribulation or 7th tribulation expert definitely doesn’t have this kind of magical ability. It seems that there really is some kind of treasure in this place, and it’s very powerful.”

Tang Hao’s eyes brightened when he thought of that.

After resting for a while, everyone continued to move forward.

“Guys, look! It’s over there!”

After traveling for a distance, Reverend nine bags raised his hand and pointed to a place in front of him.

Everyone looked over and saw that there was indeed immortal Qi soaring in the distance. Upon closer inspection, they could see that it had come from a Valley.

As for the valley, it was enshrouded in mist, and he couldn’t see through it.

“Al! I say, old man, how do you know that it’s a tomb?” One of the heaven monarchs frowned.

It was a black-robed old man with a thin face and a cold expression.

Tang Hao remembered that this man’s human name was Dong Hua. People called him Taoist Dong Hua. He was an itinerant cultivator and a mid-stage heaven Lord. He was very powerful.

“This ...” Daoist nine bags hesitated for a moment before saying, “I also subconsciously thought that it might be a tomb. Besides the corpse of an immortal tribulation eminence, what else could emit such astonishing immortal Qi?”

“That’s true!”

Daoist Donghua nodded.

In this world, there were not many things that could emit celestial Qi. Even the celestial Lords and ordinary tribulation artifacts didn’t have this kind of celestial Qi. Only the Almighty cultivators in the celestial tribulation stage could emit celestial Qi. After their death, their bones would naturally carry celestial Qi.

“There might not be a tomb, but at least there’s a skeleton.” “That’s even better. If there’s really a tomb, it’ll be troublesome,” perfected jiu hai added.

While they were talking, the group of people quickly flew away.

Soon, they were close to the valley.

After the fog was dispersed, the valley was revealed to everyone.

“This is ... A Lake?”

When everyone saw it clearly, they were all stunned. The valley in front of them was extremely wide, and there was actually a huge Lake inside. The lake water was deep, so deep that the bottom could not be seen.

And the immortal Qi was coming from this Lake.

“It seems like the corpse is at the bottom of the lake?”

“Eh? There’s something wrong with this lake water, my God! What an amazing amount of spiritual energy!”

The group of people slowly descended and soon discovered the extraordinariness of the lake water. The spiritual energy contained within it was extremely astonishing.

“There must be a great treasure in this Lake!”

Everyone’s expression changed. Many heaven monarchs were eager to enter the lake.

At this moment, the water in the lake suddenly began to move, setting off huge waves that crashed toward everyone. Then, in the center of the lake, the water surged up violently, as if there was a giant creature that was about to rush out.

There was an uproar!

In the next moment, the surface of the lake exploded, and an indescribably huge flood Dragon emerged from it. Its entire body was pitch-black, and it was covered in ferocious scales.

His body was also emitting a terrifying aura.

Feeling this aura, everyone's body trembled and their faces changed drastically. This was clearly a late-stage immortal transformation realm flood Dragon!

“Quickly retreat!”

Daoist Jiubao roared.

The crowd withdrew and retreated.

At this time, the flood Dragon let out a long roar and swung its tail. Its speed was so fast that even if everyone had become Immortals, they couldn't react in time.

Peng Peng Peng!

In an instant, three people were hit. Under this terrifying physical strength, the spiritual shields and light screens protecting their bodies all exploded.

Pfft! Pfft!

They spurted out blood, and their bodies flew backward like cannonballs.

“Be good!”

“It's a Dragon!” Tang Hao exclaimed inwardly. He was speechless when he saw the Dragon.

After retreating a certain distance, everyone finally stood still, their expressions extremely grave.

This flood Dragon was quite terrifying. It was a late-stage immortal cultivator, and the strongest among them was only in the middle stage. With it blocking them, it was very difficult for them to enter the lake.

However, they were unwilling to retreat just like that.

There was definitely a peerless treasure in the lake. How could they be willing to retreat?

“Fight! Let’s fight it out with this beast!”

“Right! It’s just an animal, we have to grind it to death!”

Everyone gritted their teeth.

“That’s good! Let’s fight it out! Let’s attack together and exhaust its strength first, then slowly grind it to death!” Daoist Jiubao shouted.

Under his lead, everyone rushed out and used their own means to kill the Dragon.

Tang Hao followed. He drew his ancient sword and attacked.

In an instant, a fierce battle erupted.

They didn’t want to fight the flood dragon head-on, so they all attacked it with their treasures from a distance. They kept moving around, trying to consume the flood Dragon’s strength as much as possible.

But even so, there were still people who were injured from time to time and were sent flying by the flood Dragon. A few early stage heaven monarchs were hit, and their bodies exploded, causing them to be seriously injured.

There was also one person who was swallowed by the flood Dragon. He was obviously dead.

Everyone gritted their teeth and held on, using all their means. They were about to use up all their underwear, but in the end, they still managed to hold on. The flood Dragon, on the other hand, was constantly being exhausted and becoming weaker.

More and more injuries appeared on its body, and its blood continued to spill out, dyeing the lake red.

It was obvious that the flood Dragon was about to die.

It wanted to rush back into the lake several times, but it was forced back by everyone. After another half a day of struggling, the flood Dragon finally couldn't hold on and fell down with a loud bang, smashing into the lakeside.

The rest of the people were overjoyed and couldn't help but cheer.

But at this moment, the atmosphere changed.

The flood Dragon was no longer able to make it, so the final obstacle was gone. Next, it was time to obtain the treasure!