

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1512

Tang Hao tidied up his things.

This time, his harvest was not small. He had obtained seven tribulation weapons from the ancient well, and after killing so many people, he had also collected many things, including quite a few tribulation weapons.

There were even more other miscellaneous items.

However, at his current realm, they were not of much use.

Among them, the most important ones were the few types of Dao fire, which allowed him to refine a true fire in one go.

He felt a little emotional. When he was at Qiyuan, he had already started collecting Dao fire. It was only now that he had truly refined a genuine fire. He had really spent a lot of energy.

However, it was all worth it. With the true fire, he had another powerful trump card.

“The true fire has been formed. Next, I’ll have to cultivate properly and try to reach the late stage as soon as possible!”

After recovering, Tang Hao deactivated the formation and soared into the sky.

As the crowd fled, the news of what had happened on Treasure Mountain spread everywhere.

After half a year, that brat surnamed Shi reappeared. His cultivation base had skyrocketed to the mid-stage immortal transformation realm.

Furthermore, he had even created true fire and killed countless heavenly Lords.

The entire planet Dong Ling shook once more.

They could still understand the sudden increase in his cultivation. After all, that kid had always been lucky. He might have obtained some kind of opportunity, which was why his cultivation level had increased so much.

However, the fact that the young man had condensed the flames of the way and refined a true flame in one fell swoop had completely shocked them.

The Dao fire could actually be refined into a true fire!

How unbelievable was this? even the primordial chaos Daoist field, which had a long history and was good at Daoist techniques, did not have such a secret technique!

They were all drooling over this secret technique.

However, none of the forces dared to act rashly. If it was before, they would still dare to chase after that brat. But now, that brat was in control of the genuine fire, and his strength was terrifying.

An ordinary late-stage heavenly Lord was no match for him. Only a perfected heavenly Lord would have a chance.

A perfected heavenly Lord couldn't be dispatched casually.

Some forces were even more afraid and were in a constant state of panic, afraid that the man surnamed Shi would come to their door.

Not only was that Shi fellow's combat strength terrifying, but he was also an array master with profound array Dao. Once you were targeted by him, you would be in trouble.

"That kid ... Heh! It was too incredible! I think the ancient clans and celestial sects, as well as the war god mountain, can't do anything to him!"

When people talked about it, their faces were full of admiration and even some respect.

In their eyes, that Shi person wasn't a junior at all. He could be considered a giant, an expert who could truly shake Donglin.

“He’s in the middle stage of cultivation and is an expert. With the primordial fire, he can kill a late-stage Lord of heaven. Such a person can definitely be respected in the immortal realm!”

“Revered? Si si si! This was too exaggerated! Is that kid’s strength really at the level of a sovereign?”

Not everyone was qualified to be called the Supreme expert. Only the top experts in this realm, who were recognized by the world, were qualified to be called the Supreme expert.

Planet Dong Ling was so big, but there were only a few people who were respected. Every one of them was an expert whose name shook Dong Ling.

“What are you exaggerating for? it will happen sooner or later! With that kid’s strength, he has done so many sensational things. Isn’t that enough to be respected?”

“Then what should we call it?”

In all parts of Donglin, countless people were discussing this matter. They came up with all kinds of names and were arguing endlessly about it.

“This Shi guy, no, no, no, I should call him heavenly Lord Shi! Look, Shi Tianjun is so cool and domineering, why don’t we call him the domineering venerable!”

Someone patted his head and thought of a cool and domineering name.

“Tyrant your sister! Believe it or not, if you shout, tomorrow Shi Tianjun will come to your mountain and chop you up!”

When everyone heard this, they all rolled their eyes.

Venerable mad tyrant?

It sounded very vulgar!

When it came to giving titles, one couldn't just do it casually, especially when it came to giving titles to such experts. It was very particular. If they didn't like it and came to settle scores, it wouldn't be good.

"Ai! Shi Tianjun was so young and so promising, he was a Dragon among men! Why don't we call him the venerable true dragon!"

Someone else thought of a name.

"Pei Pei Pei! It's still too vulgar!"

This name was quickly rejected, because there were too many titles like dragon and phoenix. In the eyes of the public, it was not high enough.

Everyone kept coming up with all kinds of titles. Some were cool and domineering, while others were fresh and elegant. After fighting for a long time, they finally came up with a simple title.

Revered flame!

"Revered flame, that's a good name! In the simplicity, there was a trace of extraordinariness. He even pointed out the divine Art of Shi Tianjun. In the Dao of fire, who could be compared to Shi Tianjun! He's the Paragon of flames!"

"What a great sovereign of flames! Wonderful! That's wonderful!"

Everyone carefully savored the taste and exchanged praises.

Just like that, the title of revered flame spread.

In the past, when people talked about Tang Hao, they would address him as the one with the surname Shi or the kid with the surname Shi. However, it was different now. They would address him as revered flame.

The ancient race's celestial sects and the two pure lands still hated him to the core. However, to the general public and a portion of the ancient race's celestial sects, things were different.

They were all in awe and admiration.

He was so young, but his cultivation was already unfathomable and powerful. Now, he had become the king of planet Dong Ling. How could they not admire such a person?

Those young people were full of admiration.

Shaking Donglin and commanding the wind and clouds was the dream of these young people.

The title of revered flame had even spread to other stars. All kinds of things had made the people on those stars exclaim and yearn for it.

This title naturally reached Tang Hao's ears.

"Revered flame?"

Tang Hao's expression turned odd when he heard that. It was the first time he had been given such a title.

"It's alright!"

Tang Hao thought about it for a while, then accepted the title.

During this time, he had been traveling around planet Dong Ling, planting herbs, carefully taking care of the herb garden, and growing the materials needed for the immortal condensing pill. At the same time, he collected all kinds of herbs and planted them in the herb garden.

This mobile immortal's cave was very large and could be planted with many medicinal herbs. He wanted to collect all kinds of medicinal herbs and cultivate them with celestial water to create the most perfect medicinal garden.

Such a medicinal garden was the dream of all alchemists.

At the same time, he also asked around to collect all kinds of useful cultivation techniques, elixir Scriptures, and weapon refining techniques.

One day, he heard of a force when he was traveling to a mountain range.

“The heavenly craftsmen faction?”

When he heard this name, his expression changed slightly. This name clearly indicated that they were skilled in refining weapons. After asking around, he developed a strong interest in this force.

“Interesting!”

He came out of the market and changed his appearance into that of an old man. Then, he went straight to the heavenly craftsmen faction.

There was one thing in the heavenly craftsmen faction that he was extremely interested in.
