

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1598

“That treasure light was especially thick and eye-catching. It could be seen from half of planet South parting.”

“Now, the entire planet South parting has gone crazy. Everyone is rushing over there, saying that some peerless treasure has appeared. I think it’s the treasure of the Dragon King, because the place where the treasure light appeared is the famous Dragon King Mountain.”

In the restaurant, everyone was discussing this news.

Everyone was very excited.

Many people rushed out of their houses and hurried to planet South parting.

“Dragon King? It seems like he’s another ancient expert!”

Tang Hao mumbled.

He was quite interested in this news, so he asked in detail. He learned that the treasure light had only appeared yesterday. Because it was too sensational, the news spread quickly, and it arrived here today.

After asking for the location of Dragon King Mountain, Tang Hao set off.

He traveled at full speed, and soon, he arrived at planet South parting.

He didn’t want to go to Star City, so he flew directly to Dragon King Mountain.

Planet South parting was about the same size as the three other planets, Donglin, Beichen, and West Ocean. Their strength was also about the same.

At this moment, planet South parting was in an uproar.

On the way to the Dragon King Mountain, there were people everywhere, looking excited.

“Did you hear? someone over there found another Kalpa weapon. This is the third one!”

“Hey! I’ve heard that it’s a weapon of the second tribulation. Compared to the real treasure of the Dragon King, it’s just trash! Hurry, hurry up, the real treasure will be gone if we’re slow.”

They were in a heated discussion, and all of them burst out at their fastest speed.

Tang Hao learned more about the situation from the conversation.

The Dragon King Mountain was an ancient ruin. Most of it had been explored by people and there were no treasures. The main peak was surrounded by inhibition formations and all kinds of void turbulence. It was extremely dangerous.

Therefore, no one had been able to enter it, and the peak of Dragon King had been preserved to this day.

However, when the light appeared, half of Dragon King Peak collapsed. The inhibition formations and arrays around were all destroyed. Although there was still the turbulence in the void, it was relatively safe.

The Dragon Emperor mountain was similar to the Green Emperor mountain. It was the most ancient force with many treasures. That was why people were so crazy about it.

Soon, Tang Hao arrived at the Dragon King Mountain.

In front of him, a vast and boundless mountain range appeared.

This mountain range was even bigger than Qitian mountain range. Each mountain peak was hundreds of thousands of feet tall. The closer to the center, the higher the mountain peaks were. They all pierced through the clouds, and the top could not be seen.

From all directions, countless people swarmed over and headed towards the center.

Tang Hao also flew over. In the center of the mountain range, there was a particularly majestic mountain peak. There were signs of collapse on it, and black void turbulence could be vaguely seen around it.

People gathered around, trying to find a way to rush in.

“What a majestic mountain!”

“Amazing!” Tang Hao exclaimed as he landed.

“Hey! Wasn’t that so! This is the first peak of Nanli. ”

A burly man in front of Tang Hao replied.

“So it’s the first peak! No wonder!” Tang Hao sighed.

“Fellow Daoist, you still don’t know!”

The burly man laughed and turned around.

However, when he saw Tang Hao, his body trembled. The smile on his face froze, and his eyes widened in disbelief.

Tang Hao was surprised.

Why was this guy staring at him like he knew him? but he had never been to Nanli before! How could the people here recognize him?

Wait, something's not right. There's something wrong with this guy's gaze. It's like he's looking at an enemy.

But this was even stranger. He had never been to Nanli, so how could he have an enemy?

"That ..." Tang Hao wanted to clarify the situation.

At this moment, the burly man gritted his teeth and his eyes were filled with hatred.

"It's you!"

He shouted with a tone that was filled with monstrous anger.

Tang Hao was even more confused.

He felt that something was not right.

"Fellow Daoist, you recognize me?"

Tang Hao was confused.

"Hahaha!"

The burly man laughed in anger. "You're still pretending. You're quite good at pretending! Who are you? do you think I don't know you? You despicable thief, even if you turn into ashes, I will still recognize you! On this planet South parting, who doesn't recognize you!"

"You're so bold! You still dare to show up after doing such a heartless and detestable thing. Do you really think that the billions of cultivators on planet South parting can't do anything to you?"

The burly man rebuked angrily with an impassioned look.

Tang Hao's mouth fell open. He was completely stunned.

Despicable thief?

Heartless and angered by both man and God?

What the hell is this!

When the people around them heard the angry shout, they turned around. When they saw Tang Hao, they were stunned for a moment, then gritted their teeth in hatred. Many of them even rubbed the back of their heads.

"It's that little thief!"

"That little thief has appeared!"

They shouted, and in an instant, the surroundings were in an uproar.

“What? That little thief actually appeared? Alright! He still dares to appear. This time, we must capture him!”

“Where is that little thief?”

It was noisy all around, and angry shouts could be heard everywhere. The crowd was rushing towards them, all of them filled with anger and murderous intent.

Tang Hao looked around and panicked.

There were people everywhere, and their gazes seemed to want to swallow him alive.

“F * ck! What’s going on?”

‘Damn it!’ Tang Hao cursed.

“That ... Did you guys get the wrong person?” Tang Hao said.

“Hahaha!”

Everyone burst into laughter again.

“Look, this little thief is so good at acting. He’s acting like it’s real!”

“Little thief, stop pretending. It’s useless even if you pretend. I won’t dig for any treasures today. If I don’t kill you, I’m not a human!”

The commotion was getting bigger and bigger. Almost all the people in the mountain range were coming here. Among them, there were countless beams of immortal radiance across the sky, rushing over. They were all heavenly Lords who had become Immortals, and there was no lack of old monsters in the perfected stage.

“Should we ... Retreat first?”

Tang Hao mumbled to himself.

Seeing that he was about to run away, the crowd shouted angrily again.

They spread out and surrounded the place.

“Tang Ritian! Stop, don’t even think about running!”

“Son of a B * tch, you’re a despicable, shameless, and treacherous bastard! Hand over your life!”

The heavenly Lords who had become Immortals descended one after another and surrounded Tang Hao with furious roars.

As soon as they landed, they shot out countless spiritual lights that scattered in all directions, setting up layers of arrays.

Tang Hao furrowed his brows and mumbled, 'Tang Ritian? This is strange!'

He had never used the name Tang Ritian in the starry sky. When he was in Donglin, he used Shi Ritian. When he revealed his real name, everyone knew that he was Tang Hao, so he had never used the name Tang Ritian.

He had only used this name in Qiyuan, and it had been in the ninth continent.

Tang Hao came to a sudden realization when he saw the entire world hunting him down and the enmity between man and God.

"So it's an old friend!"

He mumbled to himself, and his expression became a little strange.
