

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 160

Everyone in the room exclaimed in surprise.

Senior Doctor Chen and the nurses were extremely emotional.

“Miracle! This is a miracle!” Senior Doctor Chen muttered incredulously.

There was no other word to describe the scene in front of him, other than a miracle.

Lil Xin'er's complexion was no different than a normal, healthy girl.

He felt as though he was in a dream. Was that really leukemia, the cancer of the blood, which made people shudder when they heard its name?

The Divine Doctor cured it in half an hour, just by feeding the patient a pill!

That was too amazing!

“You're incredible, Divine Doctor Tang!” Senior Doctor Chen said emotionally as he grabbed Tang Hao's hands.

The nurses also regarded Tang Hao with newfound respect.

Tang Hao smiled. “Don't be too emotional, Senior Doctor Chen. Let me perform another examination on Lil Xin'er.”

“Yes, yes!” Senior Doctor Chen immediately let go of his hands.

Tang Hao stepped next to the bed, then gently pressed two fingers on Lil Xin’er’s wrist. After a while, he breathed a sigh of relief.

“Alright, there’s no more problems!” Tang Hao smiled. “Lil Xin’er’s body is still weak. She just needs some nourishment and she’ll be out of the hospital in no time.”

“You’re amazing, Divine Doctor Tang! You’ve once again blown away my expectations!” Senior Doctor Chen said heartily.

Meanwhile, the atmosphere in the corridor outside the room was heavy and tense.

The doctors and the police officers waiting outside were starting to become impatient. They frequently looked at the closed door.

“It’s already half an hour!” Someone in the crowd mumbled as they looked at their watch.

“I don’t believe that he can cure leukemia!” Doctor Zhang smirked as he leaned against the wall and looked toward the door.

“I don’t believe it either. Cure leukemia by feeding a pill? That’s nothing but a fairy tale!” Another doctor chimed in.

“Right! That’s just too far-fetched!”

Many doctors agreed with them.

The police officers started to become apprehensive when they heard the doctors' discussion.

Just then, the door opened and Tang Hao stepped out.

The corridor immediately exploded with activity.

"How is it, Divine Doctor Tang?" Everyone asked as they crowded around him.

"Calm down, everyone!" Tang Hao said loudly as he waved his hands. "Everything went fine! Xin'er's leukemia is cured!"

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief when they heard that. Soon, cheers erupted.

Wu Lingfang, Xin'er's mother, was crying tears of joy.

Doctor Zhang felt a shiver run down his spine. He stood stiffly on the spot.

"How is that possible?" He tried to process the news as his face gradually turned ashen.

"I don't believe it! It's leukemia we're talking about! How is it so easily cured? Are you sure that you've cured it? We still need to run some tests!" He roared savagely.

The cheers immediately ceased. The atmosphere in the corridor was once again heavy.

"Right, how can it be so easily cured? This must be a scam!" Many doctors concurred.

Senior Doctor Chen came out of the room and said, "You can go into the room and witness for yourself if you don't believe it. We can run the tests later and see who's right!"

"Right! We'll have to look at the patient first! Then run some tests!"

The group of doctors rushed into the room. The older doctors were more nervous than the young ones.

They were all dumbstruck when they rushed next to the bed and looked at the patient closely.

They had seen the patient with their eyes half an hour ago. She looked thin and sickly. Just half an hour later, she had undergone a huge transformation. Her face was flushed with color, and she looked perfectly healthy.

"Oh my god! This is incredible!" The old doctors exclaimed in surprise.

Doctor Zhang squeezed past the crowd to see. He was immediately shocked and stood there like a block of wood.

His face turned pale in an instant. His body shook and wavered as though he was a leaking balloon, and he almost fell sitting down.

"How could it be..." He mumbled in a daze.

"Quick! Push her into the laboratory!"

Very quickly, the doctors came to their senses and rushed to work. They pushed Lil Xin'er out of the room to perform some tests.

The test results were soon released. Lil Xin'er was proven to be completely cured of leukemia, and she was on her way to full recovery.

"This is a miracle!" The doctors exclaimed as they pored through the test results. The police officers breathed a collective sigh of relief, then cheered happily.

"You're a Divine Doctor! This is the first time I've seen something like this in my many years of being a doctor!"

"What medicine did you use, young man? Are you interested in presenting at a conference?"

The doctors jostled among each other to shake hands with Tang Hao.

All their previous suspicions were gone, and they were now thorough believers of Tang Hao's skills. They also understood that they could not scientifically explain Divine Doctor Tang's medical skills.

Wu Lingfang, Xin'er's mother, came over and was about to kneel in front of Tang Hao.

Tang Hao urgently propped her up. "Please don't! I'm not worthy!"

Wu Lingfang was crying tears of joy. "Thank you so much, Divine Doctor! I don't know how to repay you! I don't have much money left, but I can still work to pay you the money as soon as I can."

"There's no need!" Tang Hao said urgently, "I don't need the money. Xin'er's father is a hero who sacrificed himself in the line of duty. I can't take your money!"

"But..."

“Aahh, don’t worry about it!” Tang Hao exchanged glances with Zhao Qingxue.

Zhao Qingxue understood what he meant. She pulled Wu Lingfang over to one side and said, “Let’s go look at Xin’er, Sis Wu.”

Senior Doctor Chen and the veteran doctors held Tang Hao back to chat with him.

Tang Hao finally extricated himself and prepared to leave.

“Hey! Wait!”

He was at the staircase when he heard Zhao Qingxue calling him from behind.

Zhao Qingxue quickly rushed up to meet him.

She was in her police uniform today. She was less charming but more gallant and still as beautiful as ever.

“What’s wrong?” Tang Hao said.

Zhao Qingxue’s gaze at Tang Hao was slightly different than before.

He had always thought that the guy was a lecher. However, her opinion about him seemed to have changed. He was not as bad as she thought!

Perhaps he did not do it on purpose back then!

She blushed when she thought about that.

“What’s wrong, Officer Zhao?” Tang Hao regarded her curiously.

“Ah!” Zhao Qingxue came to her senses. She looked slightly flustered. “It’s... It’s nothing! I just wanted to thank you!”

Tang Hao smiled and said coolly, “Don’t mention it! You can contact me again if you need my help!

“Ah, right! Officer Zhao, that’s how you should wear it!” Before he left, Tang Hao looked at her chest and said seriously.

Then, he walked down the stairs.

Zhao Qingxue’s face was bright red as she stood there.

She did not understand how the guy managed to discern it.

‘Unless... it’s really that obvious?’

She lowered her head to look at her chest, and her face became redder than ever.
