

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1605

Tang Hao continued his shopping spree after Collecting the Divine Guard grass.

He was in a good mood. He was already quite satisfied to be able to find one.

“Other than the fruit of fortune, there are four more ... Forget it, there’s no rush. I’ll take my time to find them!”

Tang Hao strolled around the market and bought a lot of goods. The square was in an uproar.

The news caused a small commotion in pill cliff city.

Many people knew that a mysterious person had come to the city and spent hundreds of millions to sweep the entire market.

Tang Hao did not leave even after he was done with the shopping. He chatted with the people there and asked for information on the remaining four materials. He expressed that he was willing to buy them at a high price, even if they were dead or only had a few roots or leaves left.

He even had people spread the news to the entire pill cliff city.

There were countless alchemists here, and each of them had their own collection. Tang Hao believed that as long as the news spread, they would find something. Even if they could not find any medicine, they would find some clues.

He stayed in pill cliff city for half a month.

The news had spread throughout pill cliff city, and there were indeed some gains. Someone found Tang Hao and sold him the roots of a divine turtle herb, which was one of the four materials.

“Only three left!”

Tang Hao was overjoyed.

He continued to stay and went out for a walk when he had nothing to do.

A few days later, a piece of news spread in the city.

The Aeon pill gathering was about to begin!

“This Aeon pill gathering is the grandest event in the world of alchemy. It’s held once every hundred years, and it affects the entire starry sky. All alchemists can participate and compete for the title of number one in the starry sky.”

“If we can get first place, not only will we be able to obtain Supreme glory, but we will also be able to obtain a treasure bestowed by the pill Palace. Last year, it was a cauldron, a 7th tribulation divine cauldron. This year, it’s said that it’s a divine medicine. Those alchemists are going crazy.”

“Hiss! A divine medicine?”

Tang Hao was speechless when he heard that.

Godly medicines were extremely rare, and he had never obtained a single one. In the history of the heaven-equal courtyard, he had only obtained two.

The elixir Hall was actually going to take out such a divine item as a reward for the elixir gathering. This kind of generosity was truly shocking.

After confirming the authenticity of the information, Tang Hao could not help but be tempted. Who would not be tempted by a divine herb?

Moreover, after getting first place, not only would he get the divine medicine, but he would also get the title of number one in the starry sky. It would definitely be awesome.

“It’s worth it! It’s so worth it!”

Tang Hao decided to participate after some thought.

He felt his blood boiling. This elixir gathering would affect the entire starry sky, and all the true alchemy experts would come. At that time, he would be able to compete with these people.

Tang Hao was confident that he could compete for the first place with his current alchemy skills.

He had obtained so many alchemy Scriptures in the great void realm, and in Donglin, he had worshipped the top alchemy tyrants. He had worshipped more than ten at once, so his alchemy level had long reached the tyrants level.

After becoming a saint, he devoted himself to studying alchemy and studying the alchemy Scripture left behind by alchemy Saint Gu Xu. His alchemy skills had advanced by leaps and bounds. This time, he could take advantage of this alchemy gathering to meet the alchemists in the world and see his own standard.

However, he wasn’t in a hurry. The news had just come out, and it would take half a year before the elixir gathering would really start. The registration would also have to wait until five months later.

Thus, he rented a cave in pill cliff city and stayed there for a long time. As he inquired about the materials, he continued to study the alchemy techniques and prepare for the elixir Association.

As the news of the elixir gathering spread, the entire sacred planet was in an uproar.

It was a godly medicine!

That was a divine item that even Saints coveted!

“As expected of the pill Hall, they’re so awesome!”

“Al! It’s a pity that I don’t know alchemy, otherwise I would have gone to join in the fun. ”

Those who didn’t know alchemy were all envious and jealous.

As for the pill refiners with some skill, they started packing their bags and rushed to pill cliff city.

When the news spread through the elixir Palace, to the various branch palaces, and to the entire starry sky, all the alchemists were excited and hurried to the central sacred planet.

The news also spread to Donglin, Beichen, Nanli, and other heavenly realms, causing a huge sensation.

Of course, this news had also reached the heaven-equal courtyard.

“Another Aeon pill gathering ...”

“How many years has it been? I can’t even count them!”

The group of Masters felt a little emotional.

This pill gathering was held once every hundred years. In the previous gathering, a few of them had also gone.

“Al! Are you guys coming?”

“Hey! Go for what! Even if we go, we won’t be able to get first place. In the previous years, those people from the central planet took it all. I have to say that those old guys from the central planet are really capable.”

“Go, go, go, go, go! If I go, I’ll still be bullied, I’m not going!”

The group of Masters all shook their heads, not very willing to go.

“You’re really not going?” Wang Liang’s master asked. We don’t have to participate, we can just observe and observe!”

“Hey! What’s there to observe? I’m just bored!”

Wang Liang’s master laughed. “Think about it. The prize this time is a godly medicine. Who can resist such temptation? our good disciple won’t be able to. If he hears the news, he’ll definitely go. In his words, he’s a bastard if he doesn’t take the godly medicine!”

“Hey! That’s right! My good disciple will definitely go! With my good disciple’s level, there’s a good chance that I’ll take first place!”

“Hahaha! Wonderful! It was too wonderful! If we can’t get first place, we can let our good disciple take revenge for us! This is much better than taking revenge on your own!”

All the Masters were excited.

“My good disciple, the Masters are here!”

They immediately packed their bags, bade farewell to the headmaster and the others, and embarked on their journey to the central sacred planet.

There were countless lights flashing by pill cliff city every day. All of them were alchemists who came to participate in the pill gathering. There were young and old.

In this elixir gathering, not only would the first place receive rewards, but the other participants would also receive rewards. Moreover, there would be a ranking called the eternal elixir ranking. Many alchemists came for this ranking.

This list was updated once every hundred years. As long as one had participated, they could leave their name on the list.

With the arrival of these people, pill cliff city became more and more lively.

Tang Hao had gained something during the five months of waiting. When the two alchemists heard the news, they came to his door and asked him to add two more ingredients. Now, he only had two ingredients left.

One was the nature fruit, and the other was the star peony. It was also a rare spiritual medicine that had been extinct for many years.

Today, the registration finally began.

On the first day of registration, it was simply a sea of people, surrounding the pill tower until not even water could leak through.

Tang Hao waited for a few days before he went to sign up, but there were still many people. The queue was long and winding, circling around the city.

After a long queue, it was finally Tang Hao's turn.
