

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1606

“What is it called?”

“Li Daniu!”

In front of Tang Hao’s group was a burly man who was registering his name.

Behind the table sat an elder of the pill Palace.

“Where are you from?”

“Qing Ming star field!”

“How old are you? What grade is it?”

” 581! Seven cauldrons Alchemist!”

The burly man said as he took out a token and handed it to the elder.

The elder took it and glanced at it. Then, he picked up a mirror and looked at the burly man’s body. He nodded and said,“Not bad! Here, this is your token, take it well!”

He waved his hand and sent the big man away. Then, he shouted to the back,“Next!”

One of the people behind immediately stepped forward and registered.

“Only two left!”

He turned around to look and was left speechless.

There were truly too many people, even more than the number of people who were recruited by the equal heaven Department.

While he was waiting, he suddenly heard a commotion in the distance. Tang Hao turned around and saw that everyone was looking up at the sky, pointing and shouting.

“What’s that?”

“Heavens! That was a Dragon? It’s unbelievable!”

“Dragon? It must be fake! Is it a flood Dragon?”

The surroundings were in an uproar.

Everyone’s attention was drawn to the commotion and they looked up.

Tang Hao was also shocked when he looked at it.

In the distant horizon, a golden light swept over. Upon closer inspection, it was clearly a Dragon. It was not a flood Dragon, but a real Dragon. Tang Hao would never mistake that kind of pure dragon energy.

However, it was only a young dragon, and its body was the size of an ordinary flood Dragon.

But even if it was just a young dragon, it was still quite shocking. Tang Hao had never seen a real Dragon alive.

What a terrifying existence this young dragon would be when it grew up.

“Be good! There are even true dragons on the central sacred planet!” Tang Hao was speechless.

“Look, there’s someone on the Dragon, my God! What kind of light is that? it’s so blinding!”

“Who is that?”

Following that, the crowd exclaimed in shock.

On the back of the dragon, there was actually a person. His entire body was shining with golden light, and he was shrouded in resplendent immortal radiance. His entire person was like a god riding the dragon. His divine might was impressive, and his aura was shocking.

At this moment, he seemed to have become the center of the world, attracting everyone’s attention.

Everyone who saw it was shocked.

“F * ck! It’s so cool!”

“The others flew over, but he directly rode a true dragon. That’s simply awesome!”

Everyone let out a gasp of surprise.

“Hahaha! You country bumpkins are really ignorant. You don’t even know who Marquis Wutian is!”

“Let me tell you, this is the number one genius of our central sacred planet, Marquis Wutian of the DA Qi Dynasty!”

Many people from the central sacred planet sneered.

They looked at that person with pride.

He was the pride of the central sacred planet and the most outstanding genius of the sacred planet in the past 10000 years. Not only was he talented, but he also had an unparalleled Dao body. He was also extremely lucky and had many fortuitous encounters since he started cultivating.

He formed the nascent soul at the age of eighteen, asked the Dao at the age of nineteen, and severed his Dao at the age of twenty. After that, he spent another two years to successfully become an immortal.

After that, he spent another ten years to reach perfection.

After that, he spent another twenty years to become a saint and become the youngest Saint on their planet.

Only such a character could be called a true proud Son of Heaven, a Dragon among men.

“What? He’s Marquis Wutian?”

“Heavens! So it’s him!”

Many people suddenly realized and exclaimed.

Many of them had heard of Marquis Wutian’s reputation. He was a monster. He was so demonic that it made one’s hair stand on end. He had become a saint at such a young age. Furthermore, he had shocking divine powers and was extremely powerful. He had shaken the entire central star area.

They couldn’t help but reveal looks of admiration.

“Marquis Wutian?”

Tang Hao furrowed his brows. He had been on the sacred planet for almost half a year. He had heard of Marquis Wutian before. He knew that he was the number one genius on the central sacred planet, but he had never heard that he had a true dragon.

Tang Hao’s eyes brightened when he heard the people around him bragging about his achievements and how many treasures he had. He looked at the true dragon again, and his eyes grew brighter and brighter. He could not help but gulp.

This was another Supreme monster!

In terms of luck, he wasn’t as good as Ji Wu. Ji Wu was the son of luck, blessed by the heavens, and his luck was unreasonably good. However, this person was only slightly worse, and his luck was quite abnormal.

He had even more treasures on him. He had heard that he had many eighth tribulation weapons and even the treasures of the true Phoenix, which were on the same level as the treasures of the true dragon.

There was no need to mention the true dragon.

“What a big fat sheep!”

Tang Hao mumbled to himself.

Under everyone's admiring and shocked gazes, Marquis Wutian rode the true dragon and descended above the pill tower.

He stood on the dragon's back, and the light on his body faded a little, revealing a golden armor. The blood Qi around him was shocking.

"Greetings, master immortal Wu Tian!"

The elders of the pill Hall all stood up and bowed respectfully.

Although they were elders of the alchemy Hall and were all Masters of the alchemy world, they were still inferior to a Saint.

Marquis Wutian nodded indifferently.

"Master immortal, are you going to register?" An elder said.

"That's right!"

"It's my pill Palace's honor to have you participate. In fact, the palace Master had already anticipated that you would participate. He has already prepared a Jade token for you. It's number one!"

The elder bowed and respectfully handed over a Jade token.

"Very good!"

Marquis Wutian nodded and took the Jade token. "Please thank the hall Master for me!" I still have something to do, so I'll be leaving first. "

"Master immortal, take care!"

"Farewell, celestial sovereign!"

Everyone greeted him with respect.

"Let's go!"

"Let's go!" Marquis Wutian shouted. The true dragon under his feet let out a deafening dragon roar and soared into the sky.

"Riding on a Dragon, what an elegant style! He's simply the reincarnation of an ancient God!"

As expected of Marquis Wutian!

Everyone watched the golden light leave, their faces full of admiration.

"F * ck! This guy is too good at acting cool!" Tang Hao mumbled angrily.

After a long time, the crowd finally quieted down and the registration continued.

After the first two turns, it was finally Tang Hao's turn.

"What is it called?"

"Tang Dali!"

"I'm fine," Tang Hao said.

He had used this name before. It was when he was in Qiyuan, when he participated in the great ensemble.

"Where are you from?"

"Li Huo Starfield!"

Tang Hao randomly picked another one.

"How old are you? also, what's your grade?"

The elder lowered his head and quickly wrote.

"Forty-four! It doesn't have a grade!" Tang Hao replied.

"No grade?"

The elder was taken aback. He raised his head and looked at Tang Hao in surprise.
