

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1611

Tang Hao was well aware that with his current results, he had no problem ranking among the top, but it was impossible for him to fight for first place.

This was because there were too many experts. There were all kinds of tyrants of the older generation and pill Dao geniuses of the younger generation. They were not weak, especially those of the older generation. Many of them had participated in several pill gathering and were very experienced.

And this was only his first time participating in it.

Up until now, he had only started a good game and laid a good foundation.

If he wanted to stand out and take first place, he would need to plant higher grade plants.

“Next ... Which one should I plant?”

There were so many choices that Tang Hao hesitated.

“Heaven yang grass? Five-colored Lotus? Or spirit-gathering wood ...”

All of these plants were of a higher grade than the hemlock Dragon fir.

“No! You shouldn’t be planting these. Since you want to plant them, you should plant the highest grade ones, such as the green Lotus and the fruit of fortune. These are all God-grade plants and plants, legendary existences. ”

Tang Hao was excited.

He decided to give it a shot and aim for the highest.

There was no doubt that the risk was high. However, if he succeeded, he would be far ahead and have a chance to take first place.

Moreover, he was quite confident. He was familiar with the top plants, especially the green Lotus. He had obtained one before and was now growing it in Kunlun’s field.

As for the creation fruit tree, he had been thinking about it every day. He couldn’t be too familiar with it.

After making up his mind, he did as he said.

He sat down cross-legged, took a few balls of essence, and fused them together.

If he wanted to evolve a divine level plant, a ball of essence was far from enough.

He closed his eyes and began to imagine the appearance of the green Lotus.

Soon, the essence in his empty palms began to change and gradually turned into the shape of the green Lotus.

If someone else was here, they would definitely be shocked.

It had only been a month, and it was still in the early stages. Normally, no one would dare to evolve such a divine level herb. Not only was the consumption huge, but it was also very easy to grow to death. Many people chose to grow it in the later stages, which was less risky.

“Not enough, far from enough!”

Tang Hao mumbled to himself. With a single thought, balls of essence energy flew out from all directions and fused into the green Lotus.

The green Lotus was also becoming more and more solid.

In the end, when almost all of its essence was exhausted, the green Lotus was finally formed.

The moment it was formed, it released a dazzling brilliance that illuminated the entire world.

The Lotus leaf trembled slightly, and an aura spread out. The entire world seemed to be different, and it was filled with immortal spirit Qi.

“Eh? What’s going on?”

Tang Hao also noticed the situation.

Because of this Green Lotus, the surrounding environment was different. Could it be that a divine level herb had such a magical effect?

“It’s just that the cost is a bit too high!”

Tang Hao’s heart ached. This Green Lotus had used up all the essence he had saved up.

“Hurry up and plant it!”

At this time, the lake that he had dug previously came in handy. He planted the green Lotus in the lake.

In an instant, the lake was different. It was covered in spiritual light and dense fog, as if it was an immortal realm.

“As expected of a Supreme divine object, Green Lotus!”

Tang Hao complimented her and stayed behind to take care of her.

Soon, the green Lotus came to life. On the second day, it produced a ball of essence. It was different from the ones in the past. Its color was particularly deep, far surpassing the essence produced by plants like the iron Dragon fir.

He collected all the essence and calculated that he could evolve another divine level plant.

“This time, I’ll evolve the divine Tree of fate!”

Tang Hao began to evolve the divine Tree, and it went smoothly. He planted the divine Tree in a Valley and arranged for his split soul to take care of it.

With the planting of this Divine Tree of fate, the land seemed to have changed again. The immortal spirit Qi was even thicker, and even the soil had changed.

Affected by this, the growth of the other plants was even more gratifying.

In such an environment, it was undoubtedly easier to plant herbs. He could even plant some of the more delicate plants.

After discovering this change, Tang Hao’s passion for divine rank plants grew even stronger. He wanted to plant more divine rank plants and turn the entire land into a land of immortals. By then, it would be even easier to plant them. Whatever was planted would live, and it would be easy to take care of them.

“Next, Mystic Fairy Flower!”

The mystic Fairy Flower was on the same level as the Azure Lotus and the divine Tree of creatures.

This time, things went smoothly as well. Tang Hao had successfully died.

Following that, he planted God-tier plants like crazy. At first, he would plant one a day. Later on, when he had enough essence, he would plant two a day. There was the spiritual Zoysia grass, longevity bamboo, heaven-reaching bamboo, mountain sea bamboo, instant Demon Flower ...

As long as he wanted to get it, he had derived it, and he had succeeded in everything.

This was also due to his profound knowledge of plants and vegetation. There was not a single divine level plant in this world that he was not familiar with.

Furthermore, he had taken into account the knowledge of plants and vegetation from both eras, so he was more familiar with plants and vegetation. He had an advantage over all the alchemists here.

Those people might not know what he knew, but Tang Hao definitely knew what those people knew.

As the number of divine level plants increased, the land underwent a huge change. Immortal Qi filled the entire place, making it seem like a paradise.

He continued to plant until he had planted all the God-tier plants. Then, he started to plant the essence guard Divine Grass. The Heavenly Star peony and other herbs were rare plants that were only second to God-tier.

With so many divine rank plants and vegetation, he was completely not lacking in essence.

He cut out even more split souls and began to plant low-level plants. He planted them in large patches.

At the same time, he began to expand crazily. The land under his feet grew bigger and bigger day by day, constantly expanding into the vast expanse in all directions. From a small broken place of only a dozen mu, it became a majestic continent.

On this continent, there were all kinds of landforms, and vegetation was everywhere.

Tang Hao was still not satisfied.

“Big! Bigger!”

“I want to create a star and plant it with vegetation. There are tens of millions of vegetation in this world, and I want to plant all of them. And I can’t just plant one, no matter if it’s high grade or low grade, I want to plant a field of each kind.”

Tang Hao stood on the highest peak and looked down at the land with pride.

He had always been like this. If he wanted to do something, he had to do it big.

He continued to expand. One time, two times ... The continent continued to expand.

In the vast expanse, the figures of other people began to appear.

In the distance, there was a piece of land that was about tens of thousands of acres in size. It was like an Island in the middle of the vast expanse. There were all kinds of terrains on it, and all kinds of plants were planted on it, blooming with spiritual light of all colors.

“Hey! Heyyo!”

A burly man was working hard to loosen the soil with a hoe.

“It’s so F * cking tiring!”

After a while, the burly man stood up, wiped his forehead, and panted heavily.

Looking after so many plants by himself was quite tiring, but looking around and seeing this thriving scene, he was extremely satisfied.

“Eh? What’s that?”

Unconsciously, his eyes swept forward and he discovered something.

The vast expanse in the distance was originally empty. Why did a dot appear now?

He couldn’t see clearly even after taking a closer look because he couldn’t cast any spell techniques at the moment.

He didn't pay much attention to it and continued to work.

The next day, he looked over and realized that the dot seemed to have become a little bigger.

"What's going on?"

He was puzzled.

On the third day, the dot seemed to have grown a lot bigger and was closer to him.

Just like that, the days passed, and that thing grew bigger and bigger, closer and closer.

Finally, one day, he saw it clearly and was shocked!

The hoe on his shoulder fell to the ground with a clang, and the kettle in his hand fell out of his hand, spilling water all over the ground.

He just stood there in a daze with a dumbfounded expression.