

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1641

“White maple star?”

Tang Hao mumbled.

“This white maple star is also from the central astral. It’s a little far from the sacred planet, but it’s quite well-known in the central astral. Among the many stars, it can be ranked in the top 20.” The Qin Emperor introduced.

“Look, this is the location of planet white maple!” He took out the star map and pointed at it for Tang Hao.

“Take this token. It’s my token. Wherever the token goes, it’s as if I’m there in person!”

Then, he took out a golden token and handed it over.

Tang Hao took a look at it. On one side was the word ‘Qin’, and on the other side were nine golden dragons.

“Many thanks!”

Tang Hao said as he cupped his fists.

“Hey! Why are you being so polite?” The Qin Emperor laughed heartily.

He was in a great mood. He had thought that since it was a Saint grade pill, he could only make one at a time, but he didn’t expect brother Tang to be so awesome. He had refined two out of three sets of materials, which was really a pleasant surprise.

He admired brother Tang’s alchemy skills even more now.

Now, brother Tang definitely has the strength of a true alchemy Saint. Otherwise, it would be impossible to have such a high success rate.

He had felt a little heartache before, but now he felt that it was a good deal to exchange for two Bodhi spirit-nourishing pills and befriending an alchemy Saint with that little thing.

When the people who went to the Treasury returned, he gave Tang Hao more treasures.

“Qin Emperor, I still have some matters to attend to, so I won’t be staying any longer. Farewell!”

Tang Hao said goodbye.

“Brother Tang, take care!”

The Qin Emperor cupped his fists.

“Let’s go!”

Tang Hao returned the gesture, then turned to look at the flame immortal.

The flame immortal nodded, then followed Tang Hao.

He looked at Tang Hao from time to time with a complicated expression.

Not only had the Qin Emperor become a saint, but he had also reached a profound level in the alchemy Dao. After becoming an alchemy Saint, even a peerless figure like the Qin Emperor had to ask him to refine pills for him. He was very polite and enthusiastic.

Such strength and status left him in the dust.

He was also rueful. Back then, the two of them had come out of Qiyuan at about the same time, but now, the gap was so great. This person was already standing at the top, while he was still struggling bitterly at the bottom.

He then looked at the brand new treasured clothing on his body. Even his cultivation level had increased by a large margin. He was even more dazed.

Everything that had happened during this period of time felt like a dream. First, the head of the Tai-Shu family had been very polite to him and had given him many treasures. Even the Qin Emperor and the great Qin Marquis had been very polite to him and had given him many treasures.

In a short half a month, he had made a huge leap in his life. Now that he thought about it, it was really not very real.

This favor was too great!

He sighed in his heart.

After leaving the Holy capital, the two of them landed on a mountain.

“Emperor Qin, I, tai-Shu Li, will definitely remember your great kindness in my heart. I can’t repay you for the time being, but if anything happens to you in the future, I’ll definitely go through water and tread on fire without hesitation!” The flame immortal cupped his hands and said solemnly.

“You don’t have to be so polite.” Tang Hao smiled. “We’re all from Qiyuan. It’s only right for us to take care of each other. Oh right, what are your plans after this?”

“This ... I really haven’t thought about it yet. I was forced to stay in the Tai-Shu family in the past, and now that I’ve just regained my freedom, I want to go around and look for some opportunities so that I can reach the realm of perfection as soon as possible.” Yan Xian pondered for a moment and said.

“Alright!” Tang Hao said.

This flame immortal was quite talented. After all, the spiritual Qi of Qiyuan was so thin. Those who could break through to the Dao severance realm and come to the starry sky all had outstanding qualities.

This person had a Phoenix bone and also had the technique of refining genuine fire. As long as his cultivation was raised, he would definitely not be weak in the future.

“If you have any problems in the future, you can go to Donglin or the heaven-equal Department to find me!” Tang Hao said.

“Good! Qin Wang, farewell. Take care!”

The flame immortal bowed deeply, bade farewell, and turned to leave.

“Take care!”

Tang Hao watched him leave, then retracted his gaze.

“I didn’t make a loss this time ...” Tang Hao took out the items that the Qin Emperor gave him and counted them. Tribulation weapons, spiritual herbs, and spiritual materials were all piled up into small mountains. The colorful glow of the treasures dazzled Tang Hao.

“As expected of great Qin! You’re rich, and you have a lot of treasures!” Tang Hao mumbled. He was elated.

Other than some spiritual herbs and materials, he had no use for anything else. However, he could give them to Kun Lun’s disciples. In fact, the reason he wanted so many was for Kun Lun.

There was nothing he could do about it. Kun Lun’s Foundation was too weak. He had obtained quite a few treasures before, but he felt that they were still not enough. Now that Kun Lun had developed to planet jumen, it needed more resources to catch up to those powers in the starry sky.

“Al! It’s hard to be a master!”

Tang Hao sighed and put the treasures away.

Following that, he took out the star map, and his gaze fell on the White maple star.

According to the Qin Emperor, Xing Tong had been on the White maple star before, but now she was no longer there. However, he still wanted to go there and check out the specific situation. Maybe he could find some clues that could help him find Xing Tong.

“This girl ...”

Tang Hao sighed again when he thought of the star pupil.

He had always felt guilty about star pupil.

How could he not understand what she was thinking? However, he did not want to let her down!

He stood on the spot and sighed with emotion. Then, he turned into a beam of light and shot into the sky.

In his eagerness, he hurried on with his journey. It only took him two to three days to reach planet white maple.

“Star City, here ...”

He swept his gaze and quickly found Star City, landing there.

“The Qin Bao merchant Association ... This is it!” Tang Hao quickly found great Qin’s merchant Association and walked in.

“Who’s the manager?”

Tang Hao shouted as he looked around.

The people in the shop were stunned.

“Guest, you are ...”

The shopkeeper came out to greet him. He looked at Tang Hao suspiciously.

Tang Hao extended his hand and showed the token.

The shopkeeper’s body trembled, and his expression was one of shock. How could he not recognize this token? this was a token of the Emperor. Wherever the token went, it was as if the Emperor was in person.

He knelt on the ground with a thud and kowtowed several times towards the token.

“So it’s the Saint!”

When he stood up, he was already extremely respectful.”My surname is Xu, and I am the manager of this shop. I am also the General Manager of the great Qin Empire in this Galaxy. The reason why you came here is for that woman, right?”

Not long ago, there was news from the Imperial court that they were looking for a woman. He happened to find out and reported it. A few days later, the Holy envoy came. This was too much of a coincidence.

It was no wonder. That woman was so important, so the Imperial court must have attached great importance to her.

He thought to himself.

But then, he thought about it carefully and felt that it was a little strange. Last time, he had only reported the news of the woman's appearance. In the past few days, he had only found out more shocking news and had not had time to report it. Why had the Holy envoy come?
