

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1683

Pangu continent was in an uproar.

The ceremony was still going on, and people were being transported into this world.

On this continent, there were countless clans, and all the surnames in the world could be found here. Every clan had an altar passed down by their ancestors, which could be traced back to the power of the blood source.

With the power of the altar, they searched the starry sky, looking for the best of their race.

The appearance of one genius after another caused a stir in all directions, and the atmosphere was extremely lively.

At this moment, in a corner of Pangu continent, in a great clan, several Almighty experts were sitting around an altar. With the power of the altar, they extended their consciousness to the four corners of the starry sky.

They shuttled around, searching for the bloodline of their race among the endless stars.

“Mm! Not bad! These are all good seedlings!”

They had found a few geniuses from the great Qin divine dynasty on the central sacred planet and successfully crossed over.

“Our Qin family is a big family. In this starry sky, there are countless descendants. Every grand ceremony, we can always find many geniuses. This year will not be bad!”

“That’s right! It’s a pity that we still don’t have a single son of Blood Origin!”

Around the altar, the elders of the Qin clan were all spectating and discussing in low voices.

From the beginning of the ceremony until now, they had found many geniuses, all of whom had pure bloodlines and could be considered rare geniuses. However, they were a little disappointed that no son of blood had appeared yet.

They had all heard that many clans had already found the sons of blood, and there were also many natural Saints. For some reason, there were many geniuses in this batch.

“I think ... This is another Golden Age!”

“I think so too. This generation of Pangu continent is full of monstrous geniuses. I didn’t expect that it would be the same in the starry sky outside. When the ceremony is over, all these geniuses will be transported here. It’ll be very lively then.”

They were even more emotional.

While they were discussing, a few more geniuses were being ferried over from the sky. They quickly went up to greet them while the higher-beings continued their search.

“Eh? What’s that place?”

A Supreme existence swept out with his will. In a corner of the starry sky, he suddenly discovered many dots of light. This meant that there were also descendants of the Qin clan there.

“This star is so backward!”

When he took a closer look, he was a little puzzled. This star was really too backward. Not only was the size of the star pitifully small, but most of the people on it were mortals and very few cultivators.

“No, this isn’t an ordinary star!”

A moment later, his expression changed. He could sense an unusual aura coming from the star, and it made him feel a little reverent.

It’s the ancestral star!

Suddenly, he came to a realization. This was the origin of everything, the legendary ancestral star.

“So this is the ancestral star, what a pity! I heard that the ancestral star is already destroyed, but I didn’t think that it’s really like that. It’s even more broken than the rumors say. There are so few people up there, and there are not many descendants of our race!”

This major character of the Qin clan felt a little disappointed.

The ancestral star had long been destroyed, and there weren’t many people left. Normally, the fewer people there were, the lower the chances of geniuses being born. With so few people, there probably weren’t any geniuses left.

Even though he thought this way, he still checked it out as usual. When he scanned it, he was stunned and somewhat in disbelief.

“This ... This is ...”

His heart was in turmoil, and he was extremely shocked.

“Heavens! This ... This is unbelievable!” He was so excited that his entire body was trembling, and he couldn’t believe his eyes.

In this broken ancestral star, he actually found a divine body!

He couldn’t tell exactly what divine body it was, but he definitely recognized it. It was a divine body.

At that moment, the divine body was emitting a blinding light that he couldn’t look at directly.

There was no mistake!

This was the mark of a God Body!

At this moment, he was using the power of the altar and the power of the ancestor's blood to identify the aptitude, so he was definitely not wrong.

This was a Supreme divine body!

"Heavens!"

He was so excited that he was at a loss for words. He had never thought that he would find such a genius in this broken land.

To the Qin clan, a genius with an unparalleled divine body was also an absolute monster. As long as he was nurtured, he would be another unparalleled expert!

"Hahaha! Our great Qin clan is truly blessed by the heavens!" He shouted excitedly. Then, he impatiently tore open the void and stretched out his hand to grab it.

A strong suction force instantly sucked the divine body in.

Very quickly, the news that the Qin clan had found a Supreme genius spread like wildfire across Pangu continent.

One Supreme genius was nothing much, there were already a few of them before this, but what surprised them was that this Supreme genius came from the ancestral star.

"This is strange! Wasn't the ancestral star crippled? even during the Grand ceremony of blood source, there weren't many geniuses there! Don't even mention the Supreme genius!"

"That's hard to say. After all, that is the ancestral star, the origin of everything. There must be something unusual about it that makes people respect it!"

Everyone was discussing about the ancestral star.

It had been many years since anyone had mentioned the ancestral star, but now, it was because of this genius that the ancestral star had reappeared in their sights.

After discussing for a while, everyone lost interest. After all, it was just a place that had long since fallen.

However, it didn't take long before another sensational news spread.

In the Zhao family, there was also a Supreme genius who came from the ancestral star!

The news was like a bolt of lightning that shocked the entire Pangu continent.

All the Saints were in a heated discussion. They all thought it was unbelievable.

It was already a miracle for a Supreme genius to appear in such a dilapidated place. How could there be two at the same time, and they both seemed to possess Supreme divine bodies?

“That’s weird! It’s really strange!”

“This is unbelievable!”

The mighty figures all cried out in alarm.

And this was far from over. Before they could recover, another piece of news arrived. Another Supreme genius had appeared, and he was in the ancestral star!

This was the third one, and it was also a divine body!

After hearing this news, all of the mighty figures were completely shocked.

They couldn’t believe it and almost thought that it was fake news.

After all, this was too absurd. How could three Supreme geniuses with divine bodies appear in a single place?

“This ... This is a miracle!”

The atmosphere was getting more and more heated, even a little crazy.

Even the 33 heavens above were shocked by this news.

“There are already three. One from the Qin clan, one from the Zhao clan, and one from the Shi clan. There won’t be more, right?”

Someone asked suspiciously.

“No way! There were already three! How could there be more? this is a Supreme divine body, not a cabbage. Where did you get so many of them?”

Most people shook their heads and firmly denied it.

The three of them were already a little crazy, how could there be more!

This was absolutely impossible!

But right at this moment, another piece of news arrived. The fourth godly body had appeared and he was also in the ancestral star.

This news stunned them.

The entire Pangu continent was in an uproar!
