

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1705

Tang Hao returned to the thatched cottage and stood on the futon.

The immortal vein's branches were right below his feet, and this immortal vein was the most precious thing in the thousand spirit sect.

His goal was this immortal Meridian!

Although this was the lowest grade of immortal Meridian, it was still an immortal Meridian. It was impossible to move the entire Meridian away because it was too huge and contained a terrifying amount of energy.

However, he could use this branch to draw more immortal Qi from the main vein and weaken it.

Before, Tang Hao had been very careful. He had only secretly absorbed the immortal Qi to avoid being discovered by the thousand spirit sect. But now, he could freely steal and continuously absorb the immortal Qi.

Tang Hao immediately began to set up the formation. When the formation was set up and activated, the speed of absorbing immortal Qi immediately increased by several times.

If it had been a small stream before, it was now a large river. Through this array, immortal Qi was constantly being absorbed and poured into the valley.

"There's too much immortal Qi!"

Soon, Tang Hao discovered that he had absorbed too much immortal Qi. It filled the entire Valley.

It was impossible to absorb all of the immortal Qi in a short time by meditation, and the space of the mobile immortal's cave was limited, so it could not hold much immortal Qi.

"What do we do?"

Tang Hao muttered to himself. He had to think of a way to deal with the immortal Qi. He could not waste it.

"By the way, should I use this immortal Qi to make immortal crystals?"

All of a sudden, an idea came to Tang Hao's mind.

Immortal crystals were crystals condensed from pure immortal Qi. Back then, there were four immortal crystals on the body of the pure yang immortal venerable.

Most of the immortal crystals were naturally formed, but they could also be man-made. The method of making them was not complicated, and Tang Hao knew how to do it.

"We'll do it this way!"

Tang Hao was a little excited. An entire immortal vein like this should be able to produce a lot of immortal crystals. With these immortal crystals, it would be equivalent to having an immortal vein with him. He would not have to worry about immortal energy for a long time.

“We don’t have much time. We have to hurry and make as many as we can!”

Tang Hao immediately got to work. He started to make magic formations and molds.

He was very fast, and it was done in half a day. He then set up the array in the thatched cottage, and the immortal Qi was directly drawn into the array, began to condense, and finally poured into the mold.

As the immortal Qi continued to condense and compress, it would crystallize and turn into a crystalline object.

If he continued to compress it, he would get immortal crystals in the end.

After half a day’s effort, Tang Hao finally condensed the first immortal crystal. He picked it up and saw that its color was a little lighter, but it was far from the four immortal crystals he had found on the pure yang immortal venerable.

The other four pieces should be natural and of a higher quality.

However, this one was much worse. After all, he was a newbie and didn’t have much experience in making immortal crystals, so the things he made were naturally very rough.

“Not bad!”

Tang Hao examined the immortal crystal in his hand. He was quite happy.

After all, they were immortal crystals, treasures. Even on Pangu continent, the lowest grade of immortal crystals was a treasure.

“Half a day for one piece? that’s too slow. No, I have to speed up!”

Tang Hao didn’t have much time. The people from the thousand spirit sect would arrive in a few days. Moreover, they would find out sooner or later that he had stolen the immortal Qi. He was no match for venerable ten thousand spirit at the moment.

He continued to make a few more arrays to speed up the absorption of immortal Qi. At the same time, he separated the immortal Qi and directed it into a few arrays to produce immortal crystals in batches.

With that, he could make five immortal crystals in half a day.

When the five pieces were out of the furnace, he held six immortal crystals in his hand and his mind was burning.

“No, I have to be faster!”

This was a God-given opportunity. Once he was discovered by the thousand spirit sect, there would be no more opportunities in the future. He had to take advantage of this opportunity and go crazy. He would move as much as he could. The more he moved, the more he would earn.

“Move! Move them all away!”

Tang Hao wished that he could turn the entire immortal Meridian into immortal crystals and move it away.

He started to make arrays and molds like crazy.

Soon, he set up a series of arrays. At the same time, the speed at which he absorbed the immortal Qi rose again and again. Previously, it was a River, but now it had become a huge River, surging violently.

In half a day's time, he could make more than ten immortal crystals.

Even at this speed, he was still not satisfied and was still expanding the scale.

He collected all the herbs in the herbal field and set up an array. He also called out a group of clones and souls to help. Soon, his speed increased again, from more than ten herbs in half a day to more than thirty.

At the same time, the quality of the immortal crystals had also improved a lot, and the immortal Qi contained in each immortal crystal was denser.

This also meant that he would need to consume more immortal Qi for each immortal crystal he made.

His crazy absorption had naturally affected the main immortal Meridian. After all, it was not a high-grade immortal Meridian, but the lowest grade one, and the immortal Qi it contained was limited.

The more immortal Qi He absorbed, the less immortal Qi there was in the trunk. Soon, the immortal Qi in the thousand spirit sect was affected.

“Al! Don't you feel that there's something wrong with the immortal Qi today? it's a lot fainter. ”

An elder had discovered it, but he wasn't sure, because it was impossible for this to happen. The immortal Qi absorbed from the immortal Meridian had been gathered, and only the Saint level elders could use it.

Even when they meditated, they could not absorb much immortal Qi every day. The immortal Qi's concentration had always been stable and would not decrease.

“That's impossible! There's no difference!”

“You're thinking too much!”

The other elders all laughed.

The immortal vein was the thousand spirit sect's lifeblood. It was well-protected, so how could there be any problems?

"Maybe!"

That elder was also somewhat uncertain.

After another one or two days, the concentration had dropped a lot again. This time, many elders could feel it.

"The immortal Qi is really much fainter now. What's going on?"

The elders were all shocked.

The immortal Meridian was the foundation of the thousand spirit sect, and nothing could go wrong with it.

"Could it be that the formation sealing the immortal Meridian was broken, causing the immortal Qi to leak out?" An elder guessed.

However, when they went down to check, the array was fine. There was no problem at all. This time, they were dumbfounded. If there was no problem with the immortal sealing Meridian array, then what was the problem?

What made them even more anxious was that after a day, the immortal Qi had become much thinner. It had completely plummeted, and compared to before, it had dropped by half.

The severity of the situation had far exceeded their expectations and caused a wave of panic in the sect.

Soon, even venerable myriad spirit was alarmed. After learning of the situation, he was shocked and anxious.

"Let me go down and take a look!"

His origin soul immediately left his body and burrowed into the ground, heading straight for the immortal vein.

"The formation ... Is indeed in perfect condition. There's no problem at all!"

He examined it and found that the formation was intact, so there shouldn't be any problems. But why was the immortal Qi lacking? what exactly was the problem?