

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1714

“This guy really overestimates himself!”

“He wants to compete with our Qing clan?”

Someone from the green clan sneered.

“Al! We don’t need to panic and will accompany him to the end. I want to see what kind of treasure he can take out!” The Saint from the Qing clan laughed. He was waiting to see a joke.

“This treasure of mine isn’t ordinary,” Tang Hao said with a smile. “I don’t think you’ll reject it.”

“Hey! You’re quite arrogant!”

The crowd laughed again.

This guy’s tone was really too big.

However, in the next moment, their laughter came to an abrupt end, and their faces instantly froze.

The large venue suddenly fell into a deathly silence.

Everyone’s eyes were frozen as they stared at the man’s hand. In his palm, there was a ball of dazzling light.

“Immortal ... Immortal ... Immortal crystals ...”

Someone shuddered and stammered.

His eyes were wide open, filled with shock.

He couldn’t believe his eyes. That was an immortal crystal?

Someone actually took out immortal crystals to pay for the crystals?

This ... This was such a luxury, such a waste!

Gulu!

Then, in the deathly silent venue, there was a loud sound of swallowing saliva.

The crowd was also in disbelief. Many of them thought that they were seeing things and kept rubbing their eyes.

After they confirmed it again and again, they burst into an uproar. The entire venue was in an uproar, and a deafening clamor broke out.

“Immortal crystals! They really were immortal crystals! It’s a big piece!”

“Motherf * cker! Was he crazy?! Give me immortal crystals in exchange for crystal stones!”

Everyone exclaimed in shock.

“This ...”

In the sixth room, the green clan members’ eyes were wide open, and they were somewhat shocked.

“They really are immortal crystals! The purity is quite high!” The Saint from the Qing clan was dumbfounded.

On the stage, venerable Bao Yuan’s mouth was wide open, and he was completely speechless.

Immortal crystals?

F * ck! They were actually immortal crystals!

He roared in his heart. What kind of wastrel was this guy to take out immortal crystals to pay for it!

A moment later, the commotion in the hall gradually died down.

“Immortal crystals are precious, but it doesn’t seem to be worth 3.5 billion, right?”

Someone said.

Everyone was so shocked because they had never seen anyone use immortal crystals to pay for crystal stones. However, in terms of value, this immortal crystal was far from 3.5 billion.

Previously, the second tribulation flood Dragon Pearl was only sold for over 90 million.

Compared to the Dragon Pearl, the immortal Qi contained in an immortal crystal was much lower, but immortal crystals were easier to absorb. They could even be used to become Immortals or even cut off Dao, so their value was higher. Each one was worth at least 100 or 200 million.

This was only a theoretical price because no one would exchange immortal crystals for crystal stones. Even if someone found it, they would take it for themselves. Those major powers with immortal veins didn’t need to worry about crystal stones at all, so they wouldn’t sell them.

But now that this guy had taken it out, this immortal crystal was at most 200 million crystal stones, not even 3.5 billion.

“This guy is really generous!” The Green Race Saint sneered. “However, how can a mere immortal crystal be worth 3.5 billion crystals?”

“Fellow Daoist, this immortal crystal of yours is estimated to be 200 million Yuan at most according to its appearance and purity. It’s far from being worth it!” Venerable baoyuan frowned.

“One isn’t enough, but what if I have a few more?” Tang Hao said.

Hearing this, venerable baoyuan laughed. One piece would be 200 million. If he wanted to offset 3.5 billion, he would have to pay 18 immortal crystals!

18 immortal crystals!

What kind of concept was this?

Even the people from the ancient countries and the top sects couldn’t take out 18 immortal crystals at once!

“My fellow cultivator, You must be joking!”

Venerable baoyuan laughed.

“Is that so?”

Tang Hao raised his hand and waved his sleeve. Beams of light flew out and hovered in front of him.

His face stiffened and he stood there in a daze. His eyes widened and his expression was distorted from extreme shock.

“One, two, three ...”

He was practically trembling as he counted the balls of light.

Everyone was also in the same state, all of them dumbfounded and extremely shocked.

Just now, they were shocked by one immortal crystal. Now, there were 18 immortal crystals, which completely shocked them.

“Exactly 18, you guys count them!”

Tang Hao pointed at the eighteen immortal crystals in front of him and said.

“It’s really 18. Who is this guy?”

“He’s definitely not an ordinary person, to be able to offer 18 immortal crystals at once. Could he be someone from other places?”

The people from the ancient nations were all shocked.

To exchange 18 immortal crystals for crystal stones at once was a huge deal.

With a few gulps, venerable Bao Yuan swallowed his saliva and was at a loss for words.

Extravagant! It was too F * cking extravagant!

In his heart, he was constantly roaring.

“How is it? this should be enough, right?” Tang Hao looked at venerable baoyuan.

“This ...” The Lord Bao Yuan hesitated for a moment, then nodded and said, “we don’t accept ordinary treasures, but since they are immortal crystals, then there is no problem. According to the valuation of 200 million per piece, 18 pieces will be 3.6 billion!”

“Honored guest number six, this fellow Daoist has bid 3.6 billion. Are you still going to follow?”

In the sixth room, the green clan didn’t respond, and their faces were all ugly.

They had never thought that this seemingly unremarkable guy would take out 18 immortal crystals and surpass them in one fell swoop.

“3.6 billion is already somewhat not worth it!” The Green Race Saint mumbled, “however, I think 18 immortal crystals is his limit. I can beat him with 100 million more.”

After pondering for a while, he shouted, “I’ll add another 100 million! 37!”

Then, he looked at Tang Hao. “Follow me if you dare. The green clan will keep you company until the end!”

“Alright! No matter how many times you call, I’ll call!”

Tang Hao wasn’t weak either. He threw out an immortal crystal.

With a whoosh, the venue once again boiled over.

Everyone was even more shocked.

Another immortal crystal, 19 in total!

Moreover, the way this guy threw the immortal crystals was too calm, as if these immortal crystals were not precious at all in his eyes. This made everyone even more curious about his identity.

“This guy ... Who is he?”

The Qing clan Saint was shocked for a moment, then his expression turned ugly. He stared at Tang Hao.

“Another 100 million!”

He decided to take a gamble.

“I’m with you!”

Tang Hao flicked his hand again, and another immortal crystal flew out. His tone was even more casual.

The Saint from the Qing clan was stunned, and his face turned livid.

How could this damn guy have so many immortal crystals?

It was really like seeing a ghost!

He cursed in his heart and felt that it was unbelievable.

Ordinary saints regarded immortal Qi as their life, so they wouldn't have so many immortal crystals.

After hesitating for a long time, he snorted angrily and didn't say anything else. He had given up on this strange Scripture.
