

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1737

“Master Hao has appeared!”

When the news spread, it shocked the entire medicine God mountain.

Who was master Hao?

This question could be said to be the most discussed question in the mountain during this period of time.

Ever since master Hao became famous, everyone had been looking for him. They had searched every mountain but they could not find a single trace of him. Master Hao's identity had always been a mystery.

But now, master Hao had actually appeared of his own accord.

“Where are they?”

“In the Sutra library! He just went there to exchange for the pill Scripture!”

All the alchemists were excited.

They couldn't wait to see master Hao and admire his elegance. If they were lucky, they might even be able to receive some guidance from master Hao.

Master Hao was a half-step alchemy Saint, and his alchemy skills were superb. He could beat dan Kuang and the other alchemy Masters. He was publicly recognized as the number one person below the Saint level. They would benefit greatly from the guidance of such an awesome person.

“Hurry! Hurry up and go to the Sutra library!”

Those who were sweeping the floor threw their brooms away and flew into the sacred storage Pavilion. Those who were planting herbs threw their hoes and kettles away and also rushed over in a hurry.

There were also some who were refining pills in their cave abodes. When they heard someone calling for Grandmaster Hao outside, their minds were distracted, and their furnaces exploded with a bang. However, they couldn't care about this anymore. With their faces all black, they rushed out in a hurry.

“Master Hao has appeared? F * ck! Why didn't you say so earlier!”

They wiped their faces and rushed to the Scripture chamber with all their might.

From each mountain peak, countless rays of light rushed out and gathered at the Sutra library. The scene was extremely spectacular.

Even the crowd from the pill waves Hall, Deacon li, and the pill maniac rushed out after hearing the news.

The entire medicine God mountain was in an uproar because of this news.

But to their disappointment, by the time they arrived, he was long gone.

“Why didn’t you say so earlier!”

The crowd was extremely disappointed and began to blame the pavilion Guardian elder.

This was the first time master Hao had appeared in the past few months. If they missed this opportunity, they might not have another one.

This master Hao was very mysterious. He had never shown himself, so he would definitely not stay on the medicine God mountain for long.

The pavilion Guardian elder was also depressed. How could he have known that this was the famous master Hao? when that fellow came in earlier, he was clearly ordinary and did not attract his attention at all. It was only when that person brought over a pile of alchemy Scriptures that he guessed that it was master Hao!

These pill Scriptures were extremely expensive items that required a large number of cauldron coins. Apart from Grandmaster Hao, there was no one else on the medicine God mountain who could exchange so many cauldron coins.

“Al! What was master Hao like? Why don’t you tell us!”

After grumbling for a while, the crowd began to ask about master Hao’s appearance.

Master Hao was too mysterious. They were even more curious about him. They wanted to know what he looked like.

“That’s hard to say!” The pavilion Guardian elder hesitated for a moment. “At first glance, he gave off an unremarkable feeling. His appearance was not shocking. Perhaps it was because he had changed his appearance! However, if you look closely, you’ll notice that he has a different temperament ...”

When everyone heard that, they all revealed fascinated looks.

This was what the master in their hearts looked like. Just like the pills he refined, they didn’t look amazing, but they were actually divine.

“What a pity! I didn’t even get to see the master’s grace!”

Many people beat their chests and stomped their feet in regret.

The group paced around the mountain for a while before leaving in disappointment.

Because of this incident, the mountain was in an uproar for a few more days before the atmosphere slowly calmed down.

Tang Hao stayed in his cave abode and studied the alchemy Scripture in peace. He also refined some pills and brought them to the pill waves Hall for auction.

The alchemy Scriptures that Tang Hao exchanged were all from the hands of the ancient alchemy Saint. After studying them, Tang Hao also gained a lot. The insights of the alchemy God were even more beneficial to Tang Hao.

Just like that, another half a month passed.

“It’s almost time!”

He had already exchanged for the elixir manual and some rare spirit herbs. Tang Hao had the intention to leave.

On this day, he went out to get some more spirit herbs, but he noticed that the atmosphere in the mountain was a little strange. It seemed to be particularly lively.

“What’s wrong, brother?”

He asked one of them.

“You don’t know?”

The man said in surprise, “the pill God Palace is about to open!”

“Pill God Palace?” Tang Hao was surprised again. What kind of place was the pill God Palace? He had been in the medicine God mountain for a few months and had never heard of it.

“You really don’t know!” The man looked at Tang Hao in disbelief. “The pill God Palace! Who doesn’t know about this place in our pill realm?”

“Brother, I really didn’t know. Is this place very powerful?”

Tang Hao smiled awkwardly.

“Hey! It’s already called the pill God Palace, how can it not be powerful? That’s a Dao Palace left behind by the ancient alchemy God!” That person said excitedly.

“The pill God Palace has always been under the control of the medicine God mountain. It opens once every 50 years and any Alchemist can enter. If you’re lucky, you’ll have the chance to get any peerless cauldrons, ancient treasure pills, or top-tier pill Scriptures.”

“I see!” Tang Hao looked enlightened. “It seems like the pill God Palace is a treasure trove!”

“Exactly! It’s the number one treasured land in our pill world! Haven’t you heard that the Enlightenment of our medicine God mountain’s alchemy God came from there?” That person said.

Tang Hao raised an eyebrow when he heard about the alchemy God's enlightenment.

The man continued,"it's said that in the elixir God Palace, the Enlightenment of the elixir God is nothing. The most powerful treasure is the cauldron left by the elixir God. It's a peerless treasure cauldron. Unfortunately, no one has been able to get it."

Tang Hao's eyes glowed with interest.

He had a few cauldrons with him. One of them was Marquis Wutian's eight tribulations cauldron. It could be said to be the top cauldron in the world. However, it paled in comparison to the cauldron of the alchemy God.

He immediately asked about the situation of the pill God Palace.

"There's still ten days! Then let's wait a little longer. We might be able to find something when we go to the pill God Palace."

Tang Hao was about to leave, but the news of the opening of the pill God Palace made him delay his plans.

He studied alchemy in the cave abode in peace, and ten days passed by quickly.

As the day of the pill God Palace's grand opening drew closer, the mountain became more and more boisterous. Not many people paid attention to him anymore. Even master Hao couldn't compare to the pill God Palace.

Everyone was talking about the pill God Palace.

"If you want to go to the elixir God Palace, you need to sign up. There are no restrictions. No matter what level you are, you can sign up and go to the elixir God Palace together!"

Deacon li set up a few tables in the square in the mountain and started to register.

The elixir God Palace was managed by the medicine God mountain. It opened once every 50 years and every time, it was a grand event of the elixir world. Anyone from the medicine God mountain could enter. What they could get depended on their own luck.
