

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1738

"I was there when the pill God Palace opened last time. Look, I got this third tribulation cauldron from there."

"I was unlucky that time and only got a few pill recipes. I wonder what my luck will be like this time!"

The medicine God mountain became extremely lively because of the news of the pill God Palace's opening.

The square in the mountain was packed with alchemists who had come to sign up. Most of them were high-level alchemists, and low-level alchemists were relatively rare.

Tang Hao was in the middle of the group as they slowly moved forward.

"Tenth-grade?"

When the alchemists saw him, they couldn't help but frown.

There were very few low level pill refiners here, and tenth grade pill refiners were even rarer.

"What's wrong? Can't tenth-grade go?!"

Tang Hao rolled his eyes at them.

"Yo! This guy has quite the temper!" The group of high-rank alchemists was stunned. When low-rank alchemists saw them, they would be very respectful. This guy actually dared to talk back to them.

"Alright! Of course! However, with your skill level, I'm afraid you won't be able to gain anything even if you go. Do you really think that the things there are so easy to pick up? If you don't have some strength, you won't even be able to pick up a single hair. "

Someone sneered.

They laughed for a while and then ignored Tang Hao. After all, he was only a tenth grade, the lowest existence in the medicine God mountain.

"Tenth grade?"

When the person in charge of registration saw the token on Tang Hao's waist, he was surprised. Tenth ranks who came to register were rare.

However, according to the rules, all alchemists, regardless of their tier, were qualified to register. Even if it was the lowest tenth tier, he could not refuse.

"What's your name?"

"Oh! His surname is Tang, and his name is Dali!"

“Tang Dali?”

That person was stunned again. This name was really quite unique.

He tried his best not to laugh out loud, but the people around him couldn't help it.

“Hahaha! Tang Dali, what a vulgar name!”

They laughed loudly.

Tang Hao ignored them. After he received the token, he left.

Three days later, it was time to set off.

On this day, the mountain was particularly lively. Many alchemists packed their bags and came out of their cave abodes, gathering at the square in the center.

“This time, I'll definitely find a good treasure!”

“May the heavens bless me, I must be blessed with good luck!”

Their faces were all red and they were full of ambition.

Tang Hao had finished packing. He was going to the elixir God Palace and would not come back.

“Pill God Palace, here I come!”

Tang Hao was full of ambition and enthusiasm.

He had heard that there were many treasures in the elixir God Palace. Since they were treasures, there was no reason to let them go.

He carried his luggage and came to the square to meet up with the rest.

“Waa! So many people!”

The square was already packed with people. There were at least 50000 to 60000 people, and there were still people coming in from all directions.

The medicine God mountain had more than 300000 alchemists. It was said that one-third of them had signed up, which meant that there were more than 100000 people.

With so many people squeezed together, it was a spectacular sight.

“Look! It's that crazy tenth rank rookie!”

When Tang Hao walked over, someone noticed him and pointed at him. It was the person he had bumped into during the registration the other day.

The others also looked at him, and when they saw the token on his waist, they all frowned, more or less revealing a bit of contempt.

“Who’s a noob!”

Tang Hao walked over and said casually.

“Who else could it be other than you? Look, we are all high-level, at least fifth or sixth-grade. Look at yourself, a mere tenth-grade and you dare to go to the pill God Palace. Aren’t you afraid of losing face?”

Someone scoffed.

“I’m thick-skinned, I’m not afraid!”

Tang Hao stood next to them.

“Oh! He’s really quite arrogant!”

“I’d like to see what kind of treasure you can find in the pill God Palace, Tang kid. It’ll be a joke if you come back empty-handed.”

“Return empty-handed?” Tang Hao chuckled and mumbled, “you guys better pray that I don’t empty out the elixir God Palace!”

When everyone heard this, they were all stunned.

Then, he burst into laughter.

“Aiyo! This guy is really funny!”

“Empty the pill God Palace? Hahaha! I’m dying of laughter, Who Do You Think You Are! Empty the pill God Palace! That’s the pill God Palace, it’s been there for God knows how many years. It hasn’t been emptied yet. Do you think you can do that?”

They only found it laughable. They looked at this fellow surnamed Tang as if he was an idiot.

A mere tenth-grade dared to say that he would empty the pill God Palace. What was this if not a joke?

The sound of laughter spread and caused a commotion in the square.

Soon, everyone knew that there was a very arrogant tenth-grade here who threatened to empty the elixir God Palace, causing a roar of laughter.

He waited in the square for more than an hour before he saw beams of light flying toward him from the first peak. A group of people appeared in front of him. Tang Hao recognized many of them. They were dan Kuang, the alchemy addict, and the others.

The leaders were not them, but two white-robed old men.

Seeing the two of them, the square fell silent. Then, everyone bowed and called out, "Greetings to the two pill Saints!"

The two white-robed elders were two of the alchemy sages from the medicine God mountain.

The elixir God Palace was of great importance. Every time it opened, there would be an elixir Saint. This time, it was these two.

"Everyone, there's no need to be so polite!"

The two elders waved their hands and smiled kindly.

"It's getting late, let's board the ship! We'll leave soon!"

An old man waved his sleeve, and rays of spiritual light flew out, turning into giant boats that stopped above the square.

Everyone flew up and boarded their respective ships.

After a while, when almost everyone had arrived, the giant ship started and flew away at high speed.

The elixir God Palace wasn't near the medicine God mountain. It was far away. They flew for a day and a night before they arrived at their destination.

A vast mountain range appeared in front of them.

The ship slowed down and finally stopped in the middle of the mountain range.

"Where's the pill God Palace?"

Tang Hao looked around and was stunned.

There was not even the shadow of a Palace in the four directions.

"It hasn't appeared yet, it should be a few hours away!" Someone replied.

As he spoke, he looked up at the sky. "The elixir God Palace is there!"

Tang Hao raised his head and looked at the sky.

He didn't see the shadow of the palace, but he saw a dazzling spiritual light flying over from the distant sky.

“What’s that?”

Very quickly, this spiritual light attracted everyone’s attention.

A moment later, the spiritual light approached and slowed down. It could be seen that it was a giant boat. On both sides of the boat, there were two large characters, “medicine.”

“It’s the Yao clan!”

“The Yao clan has arrived!”

Everyone from the medicine God mountain exclaimed.

“Yao clan?”

Tang Hao was surprised. He was familiar with the surname Yao. There was an ancient clan called the Yao clan on planet Dong Ling.

However, he had never heard of the Yao clan after he came to the ancient wilderness. It did not seem like a clan from the ancient wilderness.
